Commodore Vanderbilt's Response.

flovernor Seward having, by direction of the President, transmitted to Commodore Vanderbilt the gold medal unanimously voted him by Congress in acknowledgment of his generous gift to our country, in her hour of darkest peril, of the steamship Vanderbill, worth $1,000,000. Mr. Vanderbilt responded as follows:-

New York, May 8, 1866—Sir:—Your communi-ention of the 17th of April, informing me that the Congress of the United States had, by their resolu-tion of the 28th of January, 1864, tendered to me their thanks for the gift of the steamer Vanderbitt, and requested the President to cause a gold medal to be struck and forwarded to me in commemorato be struck and forwarded to me in commemoration of the gift, has been placed in my hands.

I have also received the medal, together with an attested copy of the resolution, in compliance with which you have caused it to be transmitted.

You have been p-cased to express the hope that the medal wou d be acceptable to me, with your consider I cannot fail to cherish of having, by the act which its presentation commemorates, rendered a service to my country at a critical period in its history.

Permit me, sir, to return my acknowledgment for this national recognition or the act referred to, and to express the satisfaction with which I have re coived this generous token of remembrance. It may not be mappropriate for me to refer to the transaction which gave rise to the resolve of Congress which your department has now so gracefully executed.

About the year 1856 I formed the design and commenced the work of a steamship for the purpose of aemonstrating that individual enterprise could, without the aid of Governmental encouragement, place upon the ocean steampships equal at least in magnitude, power, and speed to any which had been constructed under Governmental patronage and protection in any part of the world. An expenditure of $1 (00,000 produced the steamship Vanderbilt, which carried the flag of our country across the sea in a less space of time than any national banner had been hitherto berne.

On the 16th of March, 1862. I received at my residence in this city a letter from the War Department, inquiring if I would undertake to prevent the Coninquiring if would indertake to prevent the Con-legerate steamer Merrimac from coming out of the harbor of Noricik, and urging my immediate atten-tion, as the danger was most imminent, and "there was no time to lost." I answered by telegraph that I would go to Washington the next day. On the morning of the 17th of March, I called at the War Department, where I saw for the first time 4r. Stan-ten, the Secretary of War. He requested me to ac-Department, where I saw for the first time Mr. Stanton, the Secretary of War. He requested me to accompany him to the Executive Manion, where I was introduced to Mr. Lincoln, to whom I was then personally a stranger. The President asked me if I thought I could, with the aid of my steamships, do anything to prevent the Merrimac from getting out of Hampton Roads. I replied to him that it was my opinion that if the steamer Vanderbilt was there, properly manned, the Merrimac would not venture to come out; or, if she did, that the chances were ten to one that the Vanderbilt would sink and destroy her. Mr. Lincoln asked would sink and destroy her. Mr. Lincoln asked me to name the sum of money for which I would undertake the service. I replied to him that nothing would induce me to become a speculator upon the necessities of the Government, and that I would not mention a sum as the value of her charter, but that I would make a gitt of her to the Government for the service proposed. The President replied, "I accept her." I left him, promising that the Vanderbill should be at Fortress Monroe, properly equipped and officered, under my directions, within three or four days at furthest, and she was there within the time. The requisite instrument of transfer was sub-sequently executed by me, and transmitted to the War Department.
The resolution of Congress, of which you have informed me, truly states that I have in no manner sought requital for the stift, and the recognition of which, in the discharge of your official duty, you have siven me, was altogether unsolicited. I shall proudly preserve the splendid token of appreciation which you have transmitted to me, and it is my hope that those who come after me, as they read the inscriptions of the medal, and are reminded of the event in their father's life which caused it to be struck, will inflexibly resolve that, should our Gov-ernment be again imperilled, no pecuniary sacrifice is too large to make in its behall, and no inducement sufficiently great to attempt to profit by its necessi-ties. I am sir, your very obedient servant, C. VANDERBILL,

Hon. W.m. H. Seward, Secretary or State.

THE GLORIOUS VICTORY. The Fairmount Vidette says:-

"We congratulate our Union friends on the glorious result of last Thursday's contest. The Rebel battalion has been routed horse, foot and eragoon. The victory was easier won, more complete, and disastrous to the Rebe's than any of us anticipated. We have taken a great many prisoners, whom we shall treat kindly. On the eve of battle, a great many, including some officers, deserted the Rebel battalion, came into our ranks, and fought on our side. Of course, we think they did right, and we heartily thank them for their assistance; but, at the same time, we can't help but think they were very foolish to have enlisted under the Confederate banner when it was first flung out. Their experience in the past ought to serve as a valuable lesson for

There is more improve-ment going on at the present time than any time previous.

AMUSEMENTS.

AMERICAN A CADEMY OF MUSIC -Mr. Mordaunt's tenefit drew the linest audience that has ever been assembled for a dramatic representation at the Academy. The Colleen Bawn was admirably played demy. The Comern Batton was admirably played, being in all parts in excellent hands. Mrs. Mordann's "Shelah'" is really a most capital performance most especially natural, full or humor and spirit. Miss Price tooked unusually pretty, and acted with much wiracity; she was brilliantly dressed. Mrs. Worn will's costumes were magnificent. She played, 'Mrs. Cregam' with great feeling and power. Mr. Mackay's 'Wather Tom' was a perfect pleture in make-up. Mr. Hitton's "Danny" was much applanded Mr James' fine voice sounded to much applanded Mr James' fine voice sounded to great advantage in the vast arens of the Academy. Mr. Chester gave all the importance possible to "Kyyle Daly." Miss b seeme de Marguerittes won all hearts by her pathetic and simple performance of "Eilt O'Connor." The "Cruiskeen Lawn" and a sweet little Irish ballad, "Eileen Acon," were sung with the greatest taste and effect. After a shower of bonguets all at once two doves, guided by blue and white ribbons, descended from the balcony and flew on to the stage, where they were received by the "young star." This is a pretty testimeny et admission never before displayed here, and produced a charming effect. Mr. Mordaunt, we trust, realized a reward for his trouble and exertions. In presenting "HYGIENIC WINE" to the notice of In presenting "HYGIENIC WINE" to the notice of the public, we beg modestly to call your attention to the lollowing true statements, viz.:—Ist. HYGIENIC WINE is used by the better classes of people throughout Europe. 2d It is approved by the most eminent physicians of America. 3d It is approved by numerous "schools of Medicine," especially by the Imperial School of Medicine of Parls. 4th. It is not a secret preparation, but a scientific one, the instredients of which are known to our most eminent physicians and is prescribed by them in all cases for which it is recommended 5th. It contains no Alcohol or Whisky, but has for its base one of the finest of pure Wines. With such recommendations it will will its way into the layer of the American people. We rest on its merits alone. Its name implies its purposes. Hygienic Wine regulates the system throughout, imparting a healthful motion to the blood, and soothing the nerves. For LADIES it is just the thirg. It possesses a pleasant taste, a rich, delightful flavor, and imparts strength in all cases of weakness. As an appetizer it is unequalled, and nothing is so gental to the senses as its gently stimulating effects in assisting digestion. We warrant that, upon trial, HYGIENIC WINE will be pronounced the best tonic known in the country. Ask your druggist for Hygienic Wine.

MEDICAL PLECTRICITY. STEAM ENGINE PACKIN

Wenderful Scientific Discovery DR. S. W BECKWITH'S

ELECTRICAL INSTITUTE No. 1220 WALNUT STREET,

For the Treatment of Acute and Caronic Discuses.

Electrical investiga ion has proved that the human body acts on the principle of the galvanic battery. The brain mucous and serous membranes, the skin, tissues and fluids, constitute the negative and positive forces. Every action, whether mental or physica, is the result of these antagonistic forces. Digestion, respiration, circulation, secretion, and excretion are due solely to Flectrical influence. There is a polar action established throughout the nervous system walch connects with every part of the body establishing and preserving a preser ba ance or the electrical element. which constitutes health, and a disturbance of which causes disease. There are strictly but two conditions of cisease-one of inflammation, or positive; the other weak, debritated negative; and as Electricity contains these two conditions in the action of the positive and negative currents, all we have to do is to neutralize the disease and restore proper healthy action.

We do not wish to convey the impression that we cure all diseases in all conditions. We cannot cure consumption after the lungs are all destroyed; yet we do assert, and are prepared to practically demonstrate, that hundreds or cases of almos: every ferm of chronic diseases, pronounced incurable by the best medical practitioners of the country, have been radically CURED some of them in an incredibly short time by our Electrical treatment. Its great superiority over other practice in the cure of disease is also attested in the fact that, within the past ove years, over FOURTEEN THOUSAND patients have been treated at this office. suffering from a most every form and condition of disease common to humanity, and in nearly all cases a benefit or perfect cure has been effected. Pa sy, deaf ness, blindness, rheumatism, dyspepsia, cancer, and dil the old knotty diseases that are a physician's curse, as it proves his inability to eradicate, are by our scientific method comparatively easy of cure. Specimens of tumors of larke growth extracted by means of Electricity alone, with out pain, without the use of the kinic ligatures, or any o her means, may be seen at our office by those interested. Therefore, with these facts to prove our theory and treatment of disease we are withing to undertake any of the following diseases, with every nobe and prospect of success, with very many others not here enumerated:—

1. Diseases of the Brain and Nervous System.—
