SATURDAY, JUNE 2, 1866.

Have We an "Inquisition" Among Us? The Southern journals are terribly exercised over the horrid torture to which President Davis has been subjected. That he has been proved to be well fed, clothed, carefully tended, and allowed the privileges of literature, is, we are assured, rather an aggravation than an amelioration of his condition.

Those who have made the torture of their fellow-being a profession and a study, know full well, that the victims of the "holy inquisition" were invariably well supplied with food and stimulants. There were various kinds of torture practised by the assistants of the Grand Inquisitor. The coarsest and most brutal forms were the "rack," the "boot," the "iron glove," the "wedge," the "aridion," and the "cairon."

The desire of the editor of the Times to show his extended literary accomplishments is an excusable one; but does he mean to assert that the "dropping" system has been practised upon "President" Davis? If the Times does make such an assertion, and has grounds for it, why does it not publish a sketch of the great Jefferson, with his head shaved, placed in an iron block, and the drops slowly coursing down his attenuated face?

VOLUME FOR 1865.

THE ANNUAL CYCLOPEDIA, AND Register of Important Events for the Year.

In presenting to the public a new volume of the Annual Cyclopaedia, containing the record of another year, no effort has been spared to secure its completeness and accuracy.

The work was commenced in the year 1851 and published in one volume annually, in the same style as the "New American Cyclopaedia." Each volume is intended to be a Cyclopaedia of the material and intellectual development of the year, and embraces the civil, military, and social affairs of all countries; important Public Documents; Biography; Statistics; Commerce; Finance; Literature; Science; Agriculture; Mechanical Industry, etc.

The portions of each volume devoted to the United States embrace the operations of the armies, step by step, and day by day, and the causes and consequences of their movements; also, their organization, numbers and condition. The debates of Congress on all important questions; the Messages of the President and Public Documents of the Government; Finances; Commercial and Diplomatic intercourse; Emancipation, Peace, etc.; the internal affairs of all the States, their military enterprise, industry, and prosperity.

Under Foreign Affairs, all those countries are noticed which have attracted attention during the year. The progress of those destructive maladies, the Cholera and the Typhoid, are not overlooked, nor the peculiar features of the disease in swine. Those branches of natural science in which progress has been made are noticed each year, and the developments fully brought out.

The condition of the principal religious denominations, with their branches, membership, numbers, views on civil affairs, and the spread of their opinions among the nations, is presented.

The geographical explorations and discoveries are stated. The record of literature and literary progress is carefully examined. Nor is the large mortality among distinguished men overlooked.

The contents are accompanied by a most extensive and complete Index. Price and Style of Binding of each Annual Volume, 1861, 1862, 1863, 1864, and 1865.

Medical Electricity. Embracing Electro-Physiology and Electricity as a Therapeutic, with special reference to Practical Medicine, showing the most approved apparatus, methods, and uses for the medical uses of Electricity in the treatment of various diseases. By Alfred C. Garratt, M. D., Fellow of the Massachusetts Medical Society, etc. etc. Third edition, revised and illustrated. 1 vol. 8vo. $4.00.

Mosaics of Life. Illustrations of the various Epochs of Human Life, Betrothal, Wedded Life, Family, Youth, Single Life, Old Age. By Mrs. Elizabeth A. Thurston. 12mo. $2.00.

Roba di Roma. BY WILLIAM W. STORY. 2 vols. 12mo., cloth. $3.00. The title "Roba di Roma" will be intelligible to every one who has been in Rome. Mr. Milhouse, in his dictionary, defines "Roba" to be "goods, wares, things, articles, property, chattels, estate, stuff, lumber, a robe, gown, dress," etc. This definition extensive as it is, is inadequate. We have no term so comprehensive as a English, "Roba" is everything from rubbish and ruffian to the most exquisite product of art and nature.

Hidden Depths. 1 vol. 12mo. $1.75. "This book is not a work of fiction in the ordinary acceptance of the term. If it were, it would be worn, and useless, for the 'Hidden Depths' of which it reveals a glimpse are not fit subjects for a romance."—Puff-blower.

"We are inclined to look for something beyond the common in all that Mrs. Oliphant writes and we find it here in her masterly delineation of character in the perfect keeping of her personages, whose consistent changes naturally with the natural growth and decay of their ruling passions."—Lond. Daily News. "Mrs. Oliphant's books are always characterized by thought and earnestness—some purpose makes itself manifest from beyond that which is strictly literary or her readers, or gaining their attention for a moment."—Lond. Daily News. "Some deep scenes have no power of growth; they reproduce themselves with more or less success, but others, the kind human nature, improve instead of deteriorating. There is no living novelty in whom this improvement is so marked as Mrs. Oliphant."—Lond. Daily News.
