THE SEA-SIDE SHAWL.—It may perhaps not be generally known that there is in Philadelphia a manufacturer of shawls in seamy and a Berlin wool, that rival in its delicacy and beauty the productions of the looms of France. On account of their appropriateness to watering places they have been christened "The Sea-Side," and the name is suggestive of the fact that they are adapted to the heated air of summer, when persons are enjoying their otium cum dignitate in their "Cottage by the Sea." They are of great variety of color, ranging from simple simplicity to the most ornate and elaborate style. As specimens of Philadelphia manufacture, they are worthy of inspection. It strikes us that they are destined to take the place of the opera cloak, when they are sufficiently well known. After making a minute examination of all the different varieties, we must say that the more tasteful has ever been furnished to our market.

THE CANADIAN ACCOUNT. TORONTO, June 2, 12 25 P. M.—Last night the forces at Fort Colborne were augmented by the arrival of the Toronto University Company. Early this morning the troops took the train to Ridgeway. They are under command of Colonel Baker, Colonel Dennis having gone on an expedition down the river. Three miles from Ridgeway Station, the Fenians were found encamped in the bush. The column at once attacked them, the "Queen's Own" firing the first shot. The fight now became general, the volunteers driving the Fenians. A number were killed on both sides. The volunteers behaved splendidly, rushing at and pressing back the Fenians with the utmost gallantry. It is thought the volunteers will at least hold their own until the arrival of the British regiments and artillery. BUFFALO, June 2, 12 M.—It is understood that the patrol boats fired on and opposed several boats last night trying to reach the Canadian shore. We learn that an intended proclamation from the Fenian leaders to the people of Canada is now in the hands of gentlemen of this city, and was expected to have been issued yesterday, if affairs had warranted. Accounts from Canada represent that the Fenians will find themselves very much disappointed in the expected aid from their brethren and friends in Canada. WASHINGTON, June 2.—The Fenian headquarters for the sale of Irish bonds in this city has closed for want of patronage. A hundred Fenians or more left Washington this week for the scene of war, and an additional number are prepared to follow. THE NATIONAL CAPITAL Special Despatches to The Evening Telegraph. WASHINGTON, June 2. Pardon of General Simpson. The Rebel Brigadier-General J. R. Simpson has been pardoned by the President on the recommendation of various prominent persons. Whiskey in Washington. The Agent for the Freedmen's Bureau in Alabama reports terrible destitution among the people of that State, and the necessity for immediate relief to keep them from starving until the crops are gathered. An Important Arrest. This morning Leonard Huyck, President of the Merchants' National Bank, which failed lately, was arrested on the charge of embezzling, abstracting, and misapplying the funds of said bank, and also with issuing orders, bills of exchange, etc., contrary to law. He will be held to bail to appear at court. The affidavit on which the warrant for his arrest was issued was made by Hon. Freeman Clarke, Comptroller of the Currency. The arrest has caused great commotion amongst brokers here. Markets by Telegraph. NEW YORK, June 2.—Cotton is firm at 39 1/2c for Middling. United States District Court.—Judge Cadwalader.—Sentence was pronounced on the following parties this morning, who have been convicted of passing counterfeit United States notes or fractional currency for having the same in their possession:—Lawrence King and Oscar King were sentenced the first to two years and the latter to one year, in the Eastern Penitentiary. Philip M. Hartman was sentenced to two years in the Eastern Penitentiary. George Manson was sentenced to four years in the Eastern Penitentiary. Massachusetts Froze was sentenced to eight years in the Eastern Penitentiary. Daniel Yeager convicted of presenting a fraudulent claim on the Government, was sentenced to fifteen months in the Eastern Penitentiary. Court of Common Pleas.—Judges Ludlow and Pearce.—In the following cases judgments were entered this morning: Cordes vs. S. Germain. Rule to open judgment made absolute. Opinion by Ludlow, J. F. Fisher vs. A. Armstrong. Motion for special injunction to restrain defendant from the use of a certain alley. Motion refused. Opinion by Ludlow, J. Payler vs. Smith. Petition and rule for redemption of property sold under a municipal claim. Rule absolute on payment of costs. Opinion by Pearce, J. Court of Quarter Sessions.—Judge Pierce.—The Court sat to-day for the purpose of transacting miscellaneous business. THE ERA OIL CASE. E. K. Eaton, J. B. Wilcox, and E. B. Wrigley were brought before the Court on business, and an application was made for their discharge under the two-term act; in other words, it was contended that having been in prison during the whole of two terms of the Court without a trial, they were entitled under the law to be discharged. These defendants it will be remembered, were concerned in the getting up of the Era Oil Company, and are charged as being the authors of some pretty sharp operations in the stock of that bogus concern, by which several third street brokers were made to suffer large pecuniary losses. At the instance of these brokers the defendants were arrested, and, after a hearing before a committing magistrate, were committed to the county jail to answer to a charge of conspiracy to cheat and defraud. After argument upon the application, by G. W. Rice for the defendants, and Cassidy for Commonwealth, the Court refused to discharge the prisoners, and they were remanded. The Commonwealth vs. relation Mrs. Jane Reiter vs. John Smith.—This was a habeas corpus for the custody of a child. The prosecutor alleged that about three years ago the child was placed by its mother, Mrs. Reiter, to be boarded with defendant. It was an illegitimate child, and the father was in the army. Since that time there have been three applications made by Mrs. Reiter to defendant for the child, but defendant refused to deliver it up until he had been paid for the board and the doctor's bill of the child. The mother said she was at the time unable to pay the money, and the father refused to do so. The mother is now married, and thought by witnesses for the prosecution to be competent to take care of the child. The case is not yet concluded. FENIAN PROSECUTIONS.—"Needles' Compound Camphor Troches" control and cure first symptoms. Note—"Prevention is better than cure."

POISONING BY LEAD. Additional Details of the Walkhill Valley Ammunition Damages Against the Miller who Made the Poisoned Flour—A Subject for the Board of Health. Our informant on Thursday made a visit to the mill at Philadelphia, and conversed with the miller, Mr. Thomas March, by his mill is situated on the right bank of the Walkhill river, and at the bottom of a valley of surpassing loveliness. The surrounding country is beautiful, while the immediate vicinity of the mill is charming, every-thing being kept with the most scrupulous care and taste. Hatching our horse under a shed, we reached the mill door just in time to meet Mr. March, and, on stating to him the nature of our business, he at once assured us that he would gladly furnish all the data he could in reference to the sad affair. At first it was thought that some persons had, through malice, poisoned the flour or wheat, but as soon as it was positively known that the flour was the cause, the set of stones containing lead were at once stopped, and every effort was made by Mr. March to call in all the flour which had been ground on that stone. This amounted to sixty-ton lots, which were sent, we are informed, to Captain Corwin, the Middlefield agent of Mr. March, with instructions to distribute it to such manufacturers in the city of New York. Mr. March is unable to state positively that the flour had been used for that purpose, as it was sold at about 50¢ per barrel. It is possible that it may have been so used, and may be at this time being sold for XXX family flour, and it may be well for the Board of Health to make a further inquiry into the facts of the case. There are now several cases of lead-poisoning in New York, and the afflicted persons are known to have purchased flour from the same mill. It is thought these barrels should be traced from the mill either to the starch-factory or to the store-owners, and great care should be taken that it does not fall into the hands of numerous parties who would sell it for eating purposes. While our reporter was conversing with Mr. March a deputy sheriff drove up and commenced a process in a suit for damages which had been instituted against him. Without counting this there are suits now pending against him to the amount of $100, and more are coming. The sheriff's object in the matter is most frantic, for between the talk of the country for miles around, and the suffering of hundreds of human beings, he has been obliged to be made on his purse. He says—"I am ruined for life; it is pressing on my mind, and I cannot accept of any I am innocent of, and I am doing a wrong, and many of the sufferers are my best friends. The work of years is undone, and I scarce know what to do or how to appease the anger of the people." There can be no doubt but that money and honor has been his god, and he regrets to part with it. Yet from all we can learn or see, he is anxious to do what is just in the matter, and his weight of broken up, and only one set of stones are running to-day; yet, he says, many of his old customers are coming back, although the majority distrust him. All testify that he made a superior brand of flour, which was marked thus: PHILLIPSBURG MILLS. FAMILY FLOUR. From Selected Wines Wheat. Thomas March. Had March put in new stones, and not used the old ones until they required such extensive repairs, probably the terrible injury would have been averted, yet a new stone was lying at the door, which had on its face a hole, to fill which with lead would require about half a pound of lead. The hole was as large as a hen's eye, and Mr. March assured me that after it had been in use for a time there would be many just like that one, and that millers in general throughout the country were in the habit of using lead as a cement for grist stones. If this be true, measures should be at once taken to prohibit the use of such mills. A family named Brundage, some of the members of which worked in the mill, have been seriously affected, and Mr. Brundage's daughter, MARY MARIAN, youngest daughter of the late William Swan, of Island Creek, County Antrim, Ireland. No cards. (New York and Irish papers please copy.) MARRIED. FAULK-SWAN.—On the 31st ultimo, at the Church of the Resurrection, by the Rev. Mr. Davis, GEORGE A.
