ANOTHER SHOCKING MURDER. - The Another Shocking Murder.—The tollowing particulars of a fearful crime were brought to light on Saturday morning. Upon the farm of Dr. Tiedeman, of this city, situate near Gwynedd, along the line of the North-Pennsylvania Railroad, some time ago, was tound the dead body of a German named Julius Worhele, evidently murdered. It now looks as though the murderer has been discovered.

Worhele came from Wurtemburg to Philadelphia in the year 1865. He was young, and of good character and presence—by trade a book-good character and presence—by trade a book-binder. Shortly after his arrival here he made the acquaintance of an unknown man, and during last winter left his last place of employment in Philadelphia, in company with him. A short time afterwards Worheie's dead body was found as above described. An inquest held at the time by William Forman, Esq., justice of the peace at Montgomery Square, clearly established the fact that the deceased had been murdered. His head was smashed in. It was also proved that he was enticed to said place, which was then unoccupied, and left in the care of a man, who at that time gave his name as Jacob or Joseph Haddop, and who shortly afterwards disappeared also.

During April last W. L. Kiderlen, Esq., Con-sul of Wurtemburg in this city, received infor-mation from his Government that a letter had found its way directed to the relatives and guardians of the said Worhele, at Rosenfeld, the native place of the same, and apparently written by Worhele, in which letter the guar-dian was informed that Worhele was in distress, and asked to be furnished money, the pretended Worhele informing the family that he at that time resided in Reading, Pa., and requesting that the money might be rent, payable to a letter of exchange, the answer to be directed, "Julius Worhele, care of Reading, P. O." This letter was at once declared by the relatives of Worhele to be a forgery.

Upon this information, the consul, Mr. Kiderlen, sent a decoy letter, directed "Julius Worhele, care of Reading P. O.," enclosing a draft of 100 florins, payable at the Consulate of Wurtemburg at Philadelphia, and requested the recipient of the letter to have his signature achieves before a potary public.

On the 1st of this month a German notary public of Philadelphia, Julius Wolff, Esq., acting representative of the consulate of Wurtemburg representative of the consulate of Wurtemburg at Philadelphia, received a letter from the President of the First National Bank at Allentown, enclosing the atoresaid decay letter of exchange, and requesting the consulate to pay said draft, which had been signed and acknowledged by the alleged Julius Worhele before a notary public at Allentowa, to the order of said bank. The President and the notary at Allentown were of course manyer of the circumstances of this of course unaware of the circumstances of this case and acted strictly in good faith.

Upon receipt of this letter by Mr. Wolff, the arrest of the pretended Julius Worhele was caused forthwith by Justice Forman, the justice of the peace aloresaid, and it was now ascer-tained that the pretended Julius Worhele was nobody else but the identical Jacob or Joseph Haddop, with several other aliases, who, as above stated, had been formerly employed at Dr. Tiedeman's farm, and evidently was the murderer of the real Julius Worhele. The incentive appears to have been the possession Worhele's patrimony in Germany, a sum that will amount to some thousands of florins. The accused, who is twenty-ave years of age, and a native of Baden, will be tried at the next term of the Montgomery county Criminal Court, while the charge of forgery will also hang over him in the county of Lehigh, Pennsylvania.

REGATTA ON THE SCHUYLKILL.—The annual regatta of the Schuylkill Navy came off on Saturday afternoon, and was witnessed by thousands of persons. The hills and walks on the Schuylkill side of Fairmount Park were the Schuyikill side of Farmount Park were filled with ladies, gentlemen, and children, and the entire scene was a brilliant one. The skeleton outrigger "Wink," of the Undine Club, opened the concest at 4½ o'clock, and as there was no rival, all the crew had to do was to row over the course and claim the champion flag for boats of the first class. At 5½ o'clock came the race between the outrigger berges "Atalanta," belonging to the Undine Club, the "Fauch-a-Ballagh," owned by the Philadelphia Club, and "Flus." owned by the Philadelphia Club, and "Hra-watha," belonging to the Maita Club.

This contest was quite exciting. The "Atlanta" came in first, the "Faugh-a-Ballagh" second, and the "Hiawatha" last. The next contest was be-tween the barges "Thistle," of the Quaker City Club, "Falcon," of the Pennsylvania Club, Club, "Falcon," of the Pennsylvania Club, "Vesper," of the Washington Club, and "Minnehaha," of the Malta Club. The "Thistle" took the lead at the start, and won an easy victory, coming in three hundred yards ahead of any of her competitors. The other boats came in in the order in which they have been mentioned. This closed the regatta. The Undine Club holds the championship flags for boats of the first and second classes, and the Ouaker the first and second classes, and the Quaker City Club-the championship flag for boats of the third class. The next regatta will take place in

A FORTHCOMING REGATTAON THE DELAware.—Preparations are now complete for the grand regatta which takes place June 19, from Federal streef terry, Camden, N. J. The regatta is free to all boats and yachts. The fleet will be divided into four different classes, and sailed ac-cording to the rules and regulations of the Delaware Yacht Club. All yachts and sail boats to be entered on or before the 18th. The prizes are beautiful, and valued at three hundred dollars, and are to be presented to the winning yachts by the members of the Delaware Yacht Club. It is the intention of the Commodore and members of the Club to make this one of the gala days of the season, and all owners of yachts and sail boats are cordially invited to enter, irrespective of size or model. The prizes will be on exhibition at the Arch Street House, and all information may be had of Captain John Lex, at the Club room, Federal street ferry, Camden, where a list may be seen of the entries; and all captains and owners are requested to make early application, so that the boats may be properly classified in time for the regatta.

ACCIDENT TO JUDGE ALLISON.-We are sorry to record—though we are glad it was no more serious—that Judge Allison met with an accident on the Pennsylvania Railroad on Wednesday evening, while coming from Pittsburg to Philadelphia. The 4'20 atternoon train reached Gallatin on the upper ridge of the mountains at about half-past 9. A few minutes after passing the station the forward wheel of the description. ing the station the forward wheel of the sleep-ing-car broke, and the car and contents were rolled over a distance of forty feet down the pre-cipitous sides of the track. The interior of the car was one mass of rubbish, but, strange to say, no lives were lost. Of course, very many were seriously bruised, and their escape is doubtless due to the deadening effect of the mattresses of the berths. Judge Allison and lady were in the car. Both escaped with a few bruises about the head. The Judge reached his bome on Saturday.

HOSPITAL ITEMS .- The following named persons were admitted into the Pennsylvania Hospital yesterday, with injuries caused by acci-

Paul Loane, while engaged in hoisting a box at the Market Street Gas Works, on Saturday, had his nose broken and jaw injured by the box falling upon his face, in consequence of the rope breaking.

Patrick Murray, residing in Holmesburg, had his face and body burned by the premature explosion of a blast in a quarry at that place.

George Mangen, aged six years, had his arm fractured by falling from the steps of his parents' residence, No. 1219 Filbert street.

Harriet Boydly was injured internally, yesterday, by being run over in St. Mary's street by a carriage.

Daniel Clark had his right arm broken on Saturday, by the kick of a borse which he was Egyptian Hieroglyphics.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERIES PY LEPSIUS. The London Athenaum publishes the following extract from a letter written by M. Lepsius, under date of 21st April, 1866, giving an account of the discoveries he has recently made in

"On leaving Port Said one of the engineers of the Isthmus told me he had seen a short time before a Greek inscription in San, which i very soon found out. It was the corner only of an inscription, the body of which was still covered with masses of old rubbish. A part of this, as well as the rubbish, had by accident fallen down twelve or fourteen days before we arrived there, and had revealed the corner of the inscription. I employed some boys to clear the rest of the stone from the rubbish which lay above, and had the good fortune to discover to be a great bilingual inscription, in a periect state of preservation. The hieroglyphical inscription has thirty-seven, the Greek no less than seventy-six lines of considerable length, than seventy-six lines of considerable length, in small letters, containing much more text than the inscription of Rosetta.

"It is also found that the demotic inscription on this monument was ordered to be added by the priests, 'on a stone or brass stele, in the sacred writing of the Egyptians and in Greek characters.' This is unfortunately wanting; but it is evident how precious the other two texts, every word of which is perfectly legible from the beginning to the end, must be for hierogly-phical studies. The contents of the inscription are not less interesting. It is dated the 2th year the 7th Apellaus—17 Tibi, of the reign of Euergates I. The priests of Egypt came together in Canopus to celebrate the birthday of Euergetes I on the 5th Dios, and his assumption of the royal power on the 25th of the same month, when they passed the decree here published. They enumerate all the good deeds of the king, amongst them the merit of having recovered amongst them the merit of having recovered in a military expedition the sacred images carried off in former times by the Persians, and order great honors to be paid in reward for hi-

SCTVICES. "One of these rewards is a feast to be cele-brated in honor of the king and queen on the day of the rising (or coming forth perr) of the shaa (or crowns) of Isis, which the priests call the first day of the year; and another honor is a s econd feast of the same gods, introduced every fourth year between the Epigomena and the first Thoth, in order, as it is clearly stated, to a void henceforth the inconvenience that some of the great feasts relating to the summer were by the wandering of the civil year, celebrated in the winter, and others in the summer which belonged originally to the winter.

"Thus we have the whole theory of the two years—one in use amongst the people, the other known by the priests, as I had stated in my 'Chronology,' and against which a new theory had been started by M. Brugsch in his nevertheless interesting 'Materiaux.' As the stone was not excavated by M. Mariette, whose kind reception and whose full permission to study and to work in the Museum at Bulaq I have to acknowledge. I am sure that it is entirely with his consent that I shail publish this important inscription as soon as possible after my return

"At the Isthmus I found a series of Persian monuments of the time of Darius to commemo rate his work of the canal between the Red Sea and the Nile; two of them were hitherto called Serapis and Cambyses, the third was only lately removed by the engineer of the Isthmus. It is remarkable that on one of the blocks near Shatuf, made known by M. de Roziere, of the French expedition, the name of Darius is written in concitorm characters, but in a cartouche of entirely Egyptian form. M. Mariette, at whose order, on the request of M. de Lesseps, the blocks were laid open, will publish these trag-ments in the July number of the Revue Archeo-Eastly, I have to tell you that I believe we tound the runs of Hauaris (Avaris) on the spot where we pitched our tents for a night in the neighborhood of Pelusium, and where it had been always expected to be found."
