THE DAILY SYMBING THINGRAPH PHILADELPHIA . SATULARY SHIPS

A Great Cabinet Warehouse.

In glancing over the manufacturing statistics of our city, the reader will find that the production of Cabinet Furniture forms a conspicuous item. Not only in the aggrerate amount of this feature of our productive industry do we excel, but in the superiority of our workmanship. This well-known reputation has been sustained by several times prominent among whom it is by several firms, prominent among whom is the house of P. P. Gustine, northeast corner of Second and Race streets. The latter has, indeed, perfected an establishment which, for extent and completeness in all its details, will bear comparison with any other in the world, Mr. Gustine commenced business some fifteen years ago in a portion of the premises which he now occupies, and after achieving a success at-tained by few, under the necessities of an increasing trade purchased and fitted up in ap-propriate style his present immense business editice. The latter has a front of fifty-five feet on Second street, with the depth of a hundred feet on Race street, together with all of the adjoining building on the north side above the tirst story. The whole of this spacious structure is occupied by Mr. Gustine as manuacturing and salesrooms, in connection with a four-story building on Front street, above Vine, which is exclusively devoted for manufacturing.

It has always been Mr. Guscine's arm to popularize his business, and his success is happily attested in the great establishment which we are now describing. We doubt it there is another house in the United States in which the extremes of elegant and costly cabinet ware are combined with so extensive an assortment of ower-priced grades.

On entering the house the great show room on the first floor forms a capital index to the whole, where specimens of nearly every description of his wares are arranged in systematic profusion. Ascending to the floor above, we are ushered into a scene of cabinet-ware luxuriance, in which the most fastidious connoisseurs at housefurnishing can feast their fancy, and, it they have the wherewitaal, grafify their tastes in adorning their homes. Articles of wa nut, rosewood, and mahogony; articles upholstered with velvet, plush, satins, reps, and hair-cloth; suits for the drawing room, suits for the dining-room, suits for the parlor, suits for the chamber, in every variety and grade of richness, are here displayed, together with a large snits, wardrobes, book-cases, etageres, easy arm and fancy chairs in large variety, and every other imaginable article connected with this branch of manufactures. The beauty and novelty of Mr. Gustine's designs, no less than the exquisite finish of his work, are rapidly attracting to his establishment the very best attracting to his establishment the very best trade, not only of our own, but of the cities throughout the West and South. The fact that Mr. Gustine manufactures goods second to no other maker in the country, and sells them at proverbially low prices, has largely contributed to this result. In the article of chairs, which for many years, we believe, he has made a specialty, his facilities are probably unequalled.

In passing through the upper stories we were amazed at the perfect chair-wilderness which they contained. We may here state, that for the purpose of giving additional celebrity to his work, Mr. Gustine has left no stone unturned. The various improvements which he has introduced in the process of finishing, the scrupulous regard which he observes in the selection of materials, and bis reputation for employing only first-class workmen, are all well known. Among the hands in his establishment, numbering about seventy, there is probably not one who has not been made a more thorough and efficient mechanic under Mr. Gustine's superior regulations and discipline.

The basement of the building contains an im mense stock of lumber and finished work of the lower-priced grades. The establishment here referred to is one in which the humble dweller in the most remote rural cottage, the proprietor of the largest hotel, and the merchant prince who resides in a palace, can have their wants promptly supplied. In fact, in the manufacture of cabinet furniture, Philadelphia may safely challenge the world; and to carry the figure a step fuither, Mr. Gustine may as safely chal-

A MURDER DOWN TOWN-ESCAPE OF THE MURDERER.-Last evening a tatal affray took

THE MURDERER.—Last evening a latar alray took piace in the lower section of the city, of which the following are the particulars:—

Arnola Gilhouse was a German aged about forty years, a shoemaker by trade, and resided at No 723 Passyunk road, below Fitzwater street. Gilhouse was acquainted with an Irishman named James Desceney who reconcility visited Gilhouse's house. was acquainted with an irishman named James Deveney, who frequently visited Gilhouse's house, and who, report states, was acquainted with Mrs. Gilhouse before her marriage. This led to some teeling on the part of Mr. Gilhouse, and a too close intimacy between the twain was suspected by the husband.

Last evening Deveny, who had been indulging rather freely in liquor, went as usual to Gilhouse's residence, and there met Mr. Gi house, who had also been imbibing rather freely. Some words passed between them, when both went out for the ostensib'e purpose of getting something to drink at a beer house near by. When Gilhouse left the heuse he carried with him a kitchen utensil, called a skillet, and when on the other side of the street the two got into a fresh quarrel, when Devenly obtained possession of the skillet, and struck Gilhouse on the head, son of the skilet, and struck Gilhouse on the head, telling him to the ground.

Gilhouse was taken up and conveyed to his residence, where he died this morning about half-bast 8 cicles. After knocking Gilbonse down, Devenly ran down

Monroe street, out through a court, and jumping over a tence, made his way into Shippen street, and succeeded in effecting his escape. The deceased leaves a wife and two children. At the latest accounts Devenly had not been arrested.

INBANE DEPARTMENT OF THE ALMSmouse.—Quite a number of individuals have responded to the suggestion to contribute books and magazines for the use of the insane at the Almshouse, one party recently contributing about seventy bound volumes, besides a large amount of magazines, unbound books, and pamphlets; all which will add greatly to the means of alleviating the sorrows of the immates. A few more contributions of the same sort will enable the Superintendent to entirely rearrange and catalogue the library for the daily use of the patients under his charge. for the daily use of the patients under his charge.

No. 89, at Third and serman streets, and by Minerva Lodge, No. 224 at National Guards Hall. Both of the celebrations were admirably managed, and all present were edified and delighted,

Harris and snother man went into the store and commenced pricing goods. The prunes were purchased and tied uo, and while his accomplice was engaging the storekeeper in conversation, Harris made off with the trunes. Suit Against the Merchants' Bank. Suit has been instituted in the Equity Court by the Receiver against the stockholders of the defanc Merchants' National Bank, to recover an amount equal to their subscription, and to prevent the transfers of stock which were made after the failure of the Bank from being held valid.

Death of Colonel Seaton. Colonel Seaton, so long connected with the National Intelligencer, died this morning of cancer in the face, in the 82d year of his age. A meeting of the City Councils has been called to take action in regard to the inneral.

Libel Suit. In the libel case of McGhen against Clephane, in the District Court, Secretary Stanton appeared this morning to answer to a subpæna to produce an original letter, alleged to have contained libellous matter against Francis McGhon, plamber, said letter having been written to the War Department by Lewis Clephane, Collector of Internal Revenue.

The letter charged that McGhon was disloyal, and, in consequence of the charge, McGhon lost some profitable jobs with the Deparlment. Secretary Stanton made an affidavit stating that he is advised by the Attorney-General that such communications ad' dressed to the head of a Department are privileged, and that their evidence against the party making them is not required by law.

If, in the opinion of the Court, the production of said paper is not a legal obligation but rests on his official discretion, then he dec ines to produce it or testify concerning it, believing that the production of such papers from Department files would be a serious public injury, would promote strite and titigation and disturb the public peace and tranquillity. The question of requiring the Secretary to produce the original letter is being argued at length by Counsel.

Personal. Major-General Canby bas arrived in town from

New Orleans. CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, June 16.

Mouse of Representatives: Immediately after the reading of the journal, Mr. Morrill (Vt.) stated that he believed this would be the last day of the session that would be devoted to general discussion, and he hoped that members would make the most of H, and that they would be prepared to work every other day of the session, which he hoped would now be very short. Mr. Garneld (Ohio) gave notice that he would next Monday offer a resolution directing the Committee on Mileage to examine and report what discrepancy, it any, there was between the amount of mileage received by members of the last Congress and the amount claimed by them, and directing the Committee to allow no more mileage in future to a member than is claimed by him.

He explained the reason why he wished the resolution to be adopted. On looking into Executive document No. 125, showing the pay and mileage of members for the last Congress, he found himself set down as being paid for 2740 miles of travel, being for 685 miles four times, whereas he had only claimed, in answer to the circular sent him by the Chairman of the Committee on Mileage, 565 miles as the distance from his home to Washington; that, multiplied by four, would make the number of miles for which he should have been paid, 2260; so that he was paid for 480 miles more than he had claimed. Drawing his mileage in sums of fitty and a hundred dollars, he had not noticed the discrepancy, and it was only on referring to the document that he became aware of the fact. He found now, on inquiry, that other members from Ohio, and perhaps from all parts of the country, had been allowed more mileage than they had claimed. The gentleman from Cleveland (Mr. Spauld ing), claimed for only 510 miles, and was allowed 634, and his colleague (Mr. Schenck) claimed for only 689 miles, and was allowed for 812. The letters in which they stated the number of miles travelled, in reply to the circular of the chairman of the Committee on Mileage, he found in the room of the Sergeant at Arms, indorsed with the increased number of miles "Approved—J. W. W." (The initials of Mr.

White, of Ohio, chairman of the Committee .-Reporter.) In the case of his colleague (Mr. Schenck), he had discovered the discrepancy on being paid the balance due him on the last day of Congress, and had declined to receive the increased amount. It appeared that the Committee on Mileage had in this way got up a scale of distances utterly unknown to the members, and now the whole thing was published to Congress and the country, and members were set down as having received a very considerable amount more than they had claimed.

He therefore gave this notice that he would, on next Monday, ask unanimous consent to offer the resolution directing the Committee on Mileage to inquire into the matter.

Mr. Davis (Kv.) suggested jocularly that the extra mileage allowed may have been for the distances travelled by members in passing between the tellers when voting. No business being in order, except general debate on the President's Annual Message, Mr. Julian (Ind.) made a speech in favor of the Congressional plan of reconstruction.

The case of Mr. William McElwee, City Pastor, was before the Court. Mr. McSlwee was charged with the embezzlement of certain money entrusied to him for the redef of the neary families of soldiers. As appeared in the newspapers some time last month, it was stated that $81 50 had been sent by contribution for the relief of a Mrs. Hannah Dowell, the wife of a dasabled sodier, who was in Very distressing circumstances; that he, Mr. McEl vee, paid her only $60, retaining the rest. In a letter to the public, published in the Daily Press, he solicited contributions for the relief of Mr. Dowell, and promised to use immediately, for this praisewo thy purpose, all money entrusted to him in the case.

Mr McElwee con had the gratification of being able to acknowledge in the Press the receipt of $81 50 for Mrs. Dowell $30 in food, fuel, etc., and retained the rest for future need. A witness for the prosecution soon afterwards came upon the pastor, and asked him if he acknowledged all the receipts published in the Press—a copy of which he had with hm. The pastor replied that he did. Then the witness said that Mrs. Dowell was entitled to $51 50 more, since there were $31 50 in her name.

The Pastor rand he had raid her $30, and that he would act at his own discretion about it, and not be dictated to by others. The press to did the Pastor that he believed he integrated the conditions that he action in the pastor. As appeared in the newspapers some time last month it was stated that $81 50 had been sent by dictated to by others. The witness told the Pastor that he believed he intended to defraud the woman, and gave his reasons. It was stated that the Pastor became very much excited and after some warm became very much excited and, after some warm talk on both stags, ordered witness to loave.

He said that he would not pay Mrs. Dowell any more money as long as this man was acting as her agent; that the affair was left in his hands, and he intended to do what was right. The witness then went out, and the Paster paid Mrs. Dowell $30 more. There was then left a balance of $21 50 due her. He stated that he would pay her this it she ever needed it, and, it not, he would use it to aid other sufferers with. Mrs. Dowe I was not present. District Attorny Mann said that this was a very serious affair, one in which too much care could not be taken to see that injustice was done to no one, and therefore asked the Court to continue the matter till next Saturday, in order to have the attendance of Mrs. Do well. It was accordingly continued till Saturday next.
