HORRIBLE MURDER IN MISSOURI.

The Assassin Lyached by the People. From the St. Louis Republican of Wednesday.

On Sunday afternoon one of those diabolica was perpetrated at the place known as Columbia Bottom, a short distance across the river from Carondelet, by which a well-known citizen of Carondelet lost his life in a sudden and horrible manner. The circumstances of the murder were as follows:- In the morning of the day mentioned, John Augustine, a citizen of Caron delet, went across the river with a friend to transact some business, and proposing to go hunting when done with his business matters, took a gun along with him. In the afternoon the two men when returning to Carondelet, passed a saloon known by the name of Fort fonroe, and one of them proposed to go in and take a drink. When approaching the saloon they heard an uproar inside, and Mr. Augus-tine's friend tried to dissuade him from going in, but he, not suspecting any violence, entered the saloon. Some drunken rowdies were inside and were engaged in a general meice, having broken the glass and furniture. On finding this state of things, Augustine retreated as quick as possible, but one of the rowdies ran after him, and using profane and threatening language. attempted to take his gun away from him. This Augustine resisted, but finally Lane wrenched the gun from him, and struck him violently on the head. Augustine ran away, but Lane followed, and overtaking him struck him a terrific blow with the butt of the gun on the neck, kill ing; him instantly, when the rowdes ran away from the scene of this horrible and cold-blooded murder. Some time afterwards a Dr. Payne coming up the road, found the bloody corpse of Augustine lying on the dusty road, and having examined the body and bound that the man was dead, immediately gave the alarm. A crowd of people collected, and the facts of the murder becoming known, a party of men immediately started in pursuit of Lane, and, after an hour or so of chase, they captured the villain a mile or so from the scene, and brought him to Colum-bia, where one of the Justices of the Peace took him in charge, and committed him to jail in Waterloo, to await investigation. Lane requested the Squire to furnish a strong guard, as he feared the rage of the infu-rated people. This was done, but, as it was generally believed by the people of the vicinity that Lane was the same man who, some two years ago, murdered a woman and child, they were determined he should not escape them and five or six hundred men collected, and overcoming the resistance of the guard, seized on Lane, and carried mm off to the stern and summary tribunal of Judge Lynch; they dragged the pale and trembling wretch through Colum-bia, and hanged him to a tree about half a mile from the village. When he was dead, they cut him down and buried the corpse in a grave two feet deep, and laid a pile of stones on top. A lew dollars were found in his pocket, which were buried with him, and thus the murderer, with the warm blood of his victim still on his hands, met a doom more terrible and as sudden as that which he had causelessly meted out to an unoftending man. Augustine leaves a wife to mourn his sudden and tragic death. Considerable excitement was created yesterday in Carondelet by the murder, and various reports reached this city, in one of which a Mr. Smith and another man were reported killed, but all such rumors are false. The real facts of the case, obtained through courtesy of Dr. Hill, of Carondelet, are as stated above.

What It Costs to Get into Parliament. In the course of a recent speech in the House of Commons, Mr. Lowe cited the statistics of an official report, showing what it costs to become a member of the British Parliament. The expenses of the election for Stafford were£5400; Stoke-upon-Trent, [£6200; Sunderland, £5000; and Westminster, £12,600. These were the aggregate expenses of all the candidates. Mr. Lowe added:

"I wish to call particular attention to the case of Westminster, not for the purpose of saving anything disagreeable to my honorable triend (Mr. Mill), for we know he was elected in a I will say lar enthusiasm. That was honorable to him and honorable to them, and I have no doubt that in the course of the election all that could be done by industry and enthusiasm was accomplished—gratuitously; and I am sure that my honorable friend did not contribute in any way to swell any unreasonable election expenses. His election ought to have been gratuitous; but mark its cost-£2302. I believe it did not cost him sixpence. He refused to con tribute anything, and it was very much to the honor of his constituents that they brought him in gratuitously But look to the state of our election practices when such an outburst of popular feeling could not be given effect to without that enormous sacrifice of money.

"I will now call attention to two or three counties. The subject has not been sufficiently awelt upon-but it bears materially upon the question before us to-night. I will take the southern division of Derbyshire. The election wost (£8500, and this is the cheapest I shall read. The northern division of Durham cost South Essex cost £10,000, and North Essex £16,000. West Kent cost £12,000; South Lancashire, £17,000; South Shropshire, £12,000; North Staffordshire, £14,000; North Warwickshire, £10,000; South Warwickshire, £13,000; South Wilshire, £12,000, and the North Riding of Yorkshire. £27,000. Now, I ask the House how it is possible that the institutions of this country can endure, if this kind of thing is to go on and increase?"

Origin of a Famous Quotation.

The following note appears in the Richmond Va.) Dispatch :-

"In your issue of Saturday last you correct a statement previously published by saving that Richard Henry Lee, and not Chief Justice Marahall, was the author of the celebrated sentence— 'First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen.' This sentence originated with neither of these distinguished men, and first becurs neither of these distinguished men, and first occurs in the resolutions announcing to Congress the death of Washington, offered on the 17th December, 1709, by Chiel Justice Marshal, then a member from the State of Virginia. In his life of Washington, Chiet Justice Marshall states that the resolutions in question were prepared by General Henry Lee, who, not being in his seat, had requested Judge Marshall to present them for him. The same centence is also found in the oration upon the character of Washington delivered by General Henry Lee, who had been selected by the Virginia de exation for that ington delivered by General Henry Lee, who had been selected by the Virginia de egation for that purpose, the only change being the substitution of 'countrymen' for 'leilow-citizens.' General Henry Lee was the father of Robert E. Lee, who was somewhat distinguished in one or two actions resulting from the efforts of the United States authorities to suppress the late 'Rebellion' against the best Government the world ever saw,

"Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

"Fitzhugh Lee,"

"FITZHUGH LEE." It is generally supposed that the "efforts" of which Mr. Lee spoke were successful.

A FLAG FOR GARIBAVDI.—A number of ladies of New York will present a flag to Garibaid, and one hundred young men will be chosen as the bearers of it. Each member of this special committee will be expected to furnish his own outfit and to defray his own expenses. The banner, which will be finished on Saturday morning, is to cost $350. It will be the flag of Italy. On one side the coat of arms of New York will be embroidered, and on the other the Italian coat of arms. The committee will tart for Europe probably on Saturday.—New York Express. A FLAG FOR GARIBAYDI. - A number of ladies

-Professor Dall' Ongaro has written a patri-etic hymn, "Il canzone d'addio," dedicated of course to Garibaldi; who, in consequence, writes

"Dear Friend: -Your hymn is splendld; worthy of you and the hour which inspires you; but you are too exclusive. You say, Garibaldians, to us the honor.' I should have preferred an appeal to every youth in Italy. G. GARIBALDI."

English papers announce the death of Charles Hewer Wright, well known for forty years in the lake district as a guide and geologist.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

-The Russian Government is doing its part towards the progress of geographical knowledge. Not long ago an expedition explored the Kalmuk steppes, and especially the valley of the Manitch. The report is now being published. The plain of the Manitch has been found to be a sait desert which can never be made inhabitable. The Kaimuk steppe is divided into two zones; the highest is adapted for agriculture, while the other resembles the Manitch valley. A scientific expedition has also been organized by the Russian Government to proceed to the river Tchui, in order to continue the scientific researches begun in 1864. It is numerous and well pro-vided with instruments, and is divided into two sections—mathematical and physical. The for-mer is under the direction of M. Charles Strave. director of the Pulkova Observatory, and will make astronomical and topographical observa-tions. The latter will collect statistics of the industrial resources of Turkestan.

-Commodore Rogers communicates to the Navy Department information that the United States steamer Vonderbill arrived at Acapulco on the 30th of May, with the Monadnock, after a passage of 84 days from Panama. The town, he says, is occupied by the French with a single versel, the Luciter, of 8 guns, lying at anchor before it. The shores of the bay are beleasuered by the Liberals, so that the cocoanut groves within cannon shot of the town cannot safely be approached. The coal agent desired the protection of the American flag in giving coal to the Monadnock. We shall, he says, probably be detained here for this purpose three or four days, after which I shall proceed to Sau Franciseo, stepping at Magdaleua bay to transter coal from the Vanderbit to the Monadnock. The average number of knots run per hour by the latter vessel has been 64, the greatest distance run in one day being 154, and the least 147

-Commander Worden, of the United States steamer Bienville, in a communication received by the Navy Department, dated Aspinwall. June Il, gives the particulars of the fire at Mayaguez, Porto Rico, by which 200 houses were destroyed. At the request of the Military covernor and the Mayor of the town, Commander Worden despatched a force in charge of the executive officer to the assistance of the inhabitants. He encloses copies of two letters from the authorities saying they will ever hold in most grateful rememthe important and humane services rendered by the crew in the extinguishment of the fire.

At the anniversary meeting of the Royal Geographical Society, held on the 28th of May, the founder's gold medal was given to Dr. T. Thomson, for his labors in the Western Himalayas and Thibet, and the patron's, or Victoria gold medal, to Mr. W. Chandless for his exploration of the Purus river. A testimonial of one hundred guineas was presented to Mr. P. B. du Chaillu, and a watch valued at twenty-five guineas to Moola Abdul-Mediid, for his journey over the Pamir steppe in Central Asia. The in-come of the society for the last year was £4905 8s. 3d., the expenditure £9307 4s. 5d. There was spent in expedicions £800 8s, 3d.

-Isaac Sheen writes to the Chicago Tribune in relation to the widow of Joseph Smith, the original Mormon "Prophet:"-

"That Mrs. Smith is a firm unbeliever in Brig-bam Young Mormonism there is no doubt. The True Latter Day Saints' Herald, of May, 1869, shows on pages 104 and 196 that she united with the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, under the presidency of her son Joseph, on the 6th of April, 1869. She has continued to be a firm (not 'stubborn') member of said Church to this time. All her sons are active ministers of the same Church.'

-General Lersundi, the new Captain-General of Cuba, has issued a circular to the Governors and Lieutenant Governors of the different dis-tricts, declaring that the African slave trade must be stopped.

—Mr. G. W. Carleton is now running four presses on Dr. J. J. Craven's "Prison Life of Jefferson Davis," and is far behind the orders for the work, which promises to be the sensation book of the season.

-Gustave Dore's new edition of "Les Fables de La Pontaine" is to be published in Paris by Hachette in weekly numbers, at fifty centimes each. There will be about three hundred illus trations. -Bierstadt's picture, the "North Branch of the Platte River," was painted to order in 1861 for $1500. It was sold a few days ago, at the Dusseldorf Gallery, for $7000. -M. Drouyn de Lhuys has been decorated by the King of Penmark with the Order of the Elephant, which has been conferred upon only two Frenchmen outside of the Imperial family. -The Emperor Alexander, since his escape from the assault of the intended assassin, has been moved to issue a rescript in regard to cer-tain dangerous tendencies of the day.

-The hoop is, after all, no novelty. In 1753 the sex were reproached for making Their petticoats short, that a hoop eight yards wide hight decently show how their garters were ded."

-Leutze is engaged on a new historical picure, the subject of which is a passage in the life of Mary Queen of Scots. —A. T. Stewart has purchased Kelloga's "Princess after the Bath," said to be a marvel of coloring, for the nice little sum of $25,000. The urn and sixth volumes of the German translation of Byron, by Otto Gudemelster, have just appeared, containing "Don Juan."

-Memphis is excited by a rumor that John H. Surratt was recently in that city, on his way from Northern Texas to Missouri.
