MATTERS OVER THE RIVER.

A HUMANE INSTITUTION .- The Camden Home for Friendless Children, which is now a little more than a year old, is an institution which has accomplished a great amount of good, and the managers have spared no pains good, and the managers have spared no pains to perfect its usefulness. At the present time there are thirty parentless children in it, who are kindly provided with the comforts of a home, and those necessaries which are requi-site for their condition. The increasing applica-tions during a for months past have compelled tions during a few months past have compelled the managers to enlarge the accommodations, and consequently they secured a lease on the building adjoining the Home, and have appro-priately fitted it up for that purpose. The new apartments will be sufficiently large to accommodate some twenty-five or thirty more of these friendless little ones; but it is the design of the managers, in due time, to erect a new and more convenient building, on a lot which has been donated to them by the city for that purpose, at the northwest corner of Fifth and Plum streets. About twenty children, who were admitted into this Home, have been provided with good places in the country, where they will be carefully and properly taken care of and educated for the future duties of life. Mr. Matthew T. Newkirk, and Hon, A. G. Cattell, the President and Vice-President of this institu tion, have been very zealous in promoting the success of the enterprise, and now have the pleasure of seeing their labors bear good fruit.

On Wednesday evening a set of chairs and a handsome Bible were voted for as presents to the Fire Company polling the largest vote. The chairs were awarded to the Shifler Hose Company, and the Bible to Fame Encampment, No. 25, 1, 0, 0, F.

At Tuckahoe a fine celebration will come off. The "Mountain Partridge" used to drum down there extensively on the Fourth, but his drumming season at that place is over, he having sought further and found more congenial companionship.

The rye and wheat crops are also well advanced, and will soon be ready for gathering. AN EXTENSIVE HAUL OF VALUABLE CLOTHING AND SILVER-WARE-A WARNING TO FANILIES LEAVING TOWN-Fhe Central Police Station presented a rather novel speciacle this morn-ing. The fact that these families were absent, and that a very profitable 'crack' was perfectly feasible, entered the noddles of two young professional gen-tlemen named Ashron and Vincent, and said 'crack'' was soon an fait accompi. In other words, the residence of Mrs Sate le and Mr Mc-Grath were enter d and a splendid haul made, as enumerated above enumerated above

HOW A SELECT COUNCILMAN LOST HIS WATCH -A few days since, Select Councilman Frederick A. Van Cleve representing the Four-Prederick A. van Cleve, representing the Four-teenth Ward, entered a passenger car on Eighth surget, for the purpose of making a short ride. After emerging from the car Mr Van Cleve, desiring to know the time, teit for his repeater, when lo and behold, it was non est. The disagreeable supposed fact that somebody had "gone through him" to the extent of a handsome god wasken and chain, valued at $200, stared the discomfited Councilman in the face. Application was made at once to the Detective Department, and parties from there were put on the scent, but the detectives were at fault for once. Their investigations could throw no light on the important Investigations could throw no next on the important question "who was the knuck," and Mr. Van Cleve began to despair of ever regaining his time-plece. Yesterday, however, as a sort of forlorn hope, the loaer jumped on car No. 23, of the Fourth and Fighth street line, and mistaking the conductor for the one having charge of the car in which he lost his watch, asked him if anything had turned ap in relation to it. Air. Conductor asked Mr. Council-man to take a ride to the depot. which Mr. Councilman did, and then and there the watch was returned to the gratified owner. It was then explained that in leaving the car Mr. V. dropped the watch from his pocket, which was picket up by a lady and handed to the conductor, and by him taken to the Superintendent's office to be kept until called for.

A MISSING MAN COMMITS SUICIDE AT SEA.- Hervey J. Batchelor, of Boston, Mass., re-sided in this city for six months prior to the 29th of May last. He boarded at the Eagle hotel, Third street, above Race, but was misled on Tuesday, May 29, and no clue could te obtained to his where-abouts. A reward of $1000 was offered through Chief Detective Frank in for any information that would give a clue to his whereabouts, living or dead. He was closely described by small dead. He was closely described by small handbills which were distributed around, but not the slightest trace or bin could be obtained until last evening when Chief Franklin received a despatch from New York, statuse that Mr. Batchelor sailed for Europe some where about the 1st of June, and when within about two days sail of Liverpool, he wrote a number of letters to different parties, and gave instructions with regard to the delivery, etc. He then placed all his movey and other valuables in charge of the Purser of the steamer, and after making some other arrangements, delicerate y jumped overboard and was drowned. Mr. Batchelor was 37 years oid, of very sentlemanly manners, and otten spoke of his residence in Paris.

ARREST OF HIGHWAYMEN. - About 2 o'clock this morning, two young men, hailing from New York, stopped a farmer's wagon at Thirty-fifth and Bridge streets, West Philadelphia, and were about jumping on for the evident purpose of committing a robbery. On getting into the wagon they discovered another man there, and thinking the odds too much for them they beat a hasty re-treat. The owner of the wagon proceeded a sort distance, and securing the services of Officers Pritn-r and Clark, returned and arrested both of the would-be high waymen. They were examined, and a brace and bit, a "jimmy." a large knite, and other burglarious implements were found on thom. Alderman Allen committed them to prison. THE TEETH COLTON DENTAL ASSOCIATION.

AN AMUSING STORY, By One who Visited the Collon Dental Association.

"Alighting from the omnibus which has brought us up through Broadway's hurrying throng, which seem ever pursuing some mocking phantom that eludes their graspwe ascend the marble steps of the 'Cooper Union.' It is 'all very fine' to enter tais pleasant reception room, but the studio beyond the folding doors-'ay, there's the rub!' But as the kindly face and pleasant voice of the Professor greet us, our errand seems shorn of half its terrors. Yet we cannot forbear asking, as we present our credentials and look timidly up at the compassionat dark eyes so far above our own diminutive stature, 'Will it kill us?' A pleasant laugh and an assuring word convince us that our time has not yet come; and we comply with the invitation to enter the operating room, with out two accompanying triends (the fair tace of one assumes the hue of driven snow), with very much the feeling that the fly accepted the proffered hospitality of the spider.

"Fre aware of it we are seatedfin the dreaded chair, engaged in a pleasant conversation. Suddenly we find a prop nsinuated between our jaws, and the mouthpiece of a villanous looking black bag between our lips. Two pair of hands, so gentle in their manipulations as to almost lead one to doubt their owners belonging to the mascu line persuasion, hold our mouth upon the pipe that the inhalation of the gas may be more perfect, while the owners of the aforesaid hands speak gentle words of encouragement. The soft hand of a lady assistant is laid assuringly on our own, and we can almost feel the suppressed anxiety of the two beloved companions behind the chair. A buzzing sound, as of myriad swarms of bees! Anon comes floating by, in grand measures and long-drawn cadences, a sweet old triumphal hymn, such as those may sing who, having lett all of earth behing them, enter into the glory of the Lord; and mingled with this, a wild symphony of aashing waves, ringing their 'ceaseless never more.' Yet how strange! that last word "ceaseless never more." Ist how strange: that last word of the hymn gave us a slight twitch, followed by two more, which partook of the nature of a strong yet pain-less wrench. 'Your teeth are out,' say three kind voices, But we have not come down yet to this sublunary world sufficiently to comprehend their messing, until the assurance is repeated by one of the fami is voices he huns the chair. We itse a new being, and leave at the jeet of the kind operator fitteen motirs and inclusors - a tribute to the greatest ulscovery of the age.

In this case the charged with conspiracy to cheat and defraud certain parties, and obtaining money

The allegations of the Commonwealth were the following:-In 1865 a gentleman bought a tract of land in Western Virginia, containing 1869 acres. These defendants, with some others, formed a plan of buying 685 acres of this land and starting an oil company. They at once commenced the business and went about canvassing. They represented that the land was fine in all respects; that there were numerous sait springs in it, and that oil could be seen dripping from the recks; and that the timber on the place would bring more money than the place would cost. They stated that if great expedition would cost. They stated that it great expedition was used--as the land was hable to be bought up any day-they could buy it for $60,000, and they wished to divide into 60 shares at $1000 per share The $60,000 were raised from different parties, and it was thought that all things would go along as easily and smoothly as oil. But the shareholders discovered that they had been duped, and that the evicinetry had been duped, and that the originators had paid only $30,000 for the land, and were poing to divide the remaining $30,000 among themselves. That as soon as complaints were themselves. made, they paid shares to certain members of the or-ganization-to those who were influential, and might cause trouble. At suggestion of the Court, it was announced that, as there was a great deal of ness before the Court, that for the present the case would be carried on no further. The defense has not

Latest Concerning the York County Tragedy - Arrest of the Murderer-Statement of His Mistress.

From the Harrisburg Telegraph of last evening. A man named Charles Wilkes, alias Henry Myers,

A man named Charles wikes, and there algorithm and the second sec not be learned.

The prisoner was a traveller, accompanied by a woman who gives her name as Mary Ann Pontel. She says Wilkes committed the murder, and makes the following statement:—She first became ac-quainted with Wilkes at the Poor House, in Lan-easter, and is at she atterwards met him at the Cum-berland Connty Poor House. They started from Carlisle on Sunday, June 10th, begging monsy and victuals on their way. On last Sunday morning they were in York. On the aftern on they passed the house in which the murder was committed She went in and got ten cents and a piece of meat and bread. After coming out of the house he asked what kind of folks lived there, when she told him an old man and woman, and a young woman an old man and woman, and a young woman They passed on some distance, where they stopped until about 9 o'clock in the evening, when they returned to the house. He tried to force her to assist him in robbing it, but she refused, and went into the stable close by. He went in by himself, and, after some time, returned with blood on his hands and pantaloons. She assisted him to wash the blood from his hands and clothes, after which they went heat into the stable where they remained until back into the stable, where they remained until early on Monday morning, then they started for Wrightsville, and crossed the river, landing at Columbia. They then took the direction of Litiz, staying over night in a barn near that place, on Monday night. On Tuesday they went to Manheim. Whether the story of this woman is true it is difficult to tell. Her mind seems to be slightly affected though she speaks intelligently and gives a satisfac tory account of the circumstance, and what took place subsequently. On a few minor points, how-ever, there is a slight contradiction in her story. The woman has a so been commuted to prison. She is about fifty years of age, and bears a number of marks on her person, which she says were inflicted by the prisoner. Wikes is a German, about twenty-seven years of age. Neither of the prisoners had any money when arrested.
