FAIRMOUNT PARK—RECENT IMPROVEMENTS.—Fairmount Park at the present time is the great center of attraction for thousands of our citizens. The green grass and the grateful shade of the numerous trees scattered all over the Park afford a delightful retreat to those whose business prevents them from seeking the sea breezes or the comforts of other watering places.

Two handsome walks have also been made to the fountain, and the old unsightly footpaths which distinguish the ground covered with sod. Yesterday the work of staking out the ground on which a stone wall is to be erected along the river front of the Park was commenced. This wall will commence at Turtle Rock, near the house of the skating club, and terminate in front of the boat-house, a distance of 500 feet. It will be seven feet high, including four feet under water, and two and a half feet wide, and when backed in with earth, it will add about five acres to the area of the Park.

BOARD OF GUARDIANS.—The Guardians of the Poor met yesterday afternoon, President Ercy in the chair. The House Agent reported the census of the house for the week ending Saturday last, at 2662; same time last year, 2514; increase, 148. The admissions since last report were 214; births, 7; deaths, 34; discharges, 156; placements, 62; indentured, 1; worn out, 1; returned, 37; colored men's do, 25; colored women and ward, 39; insane department, 591; number of men employed, 363; healthy males under 60, 132. Total males, 1298. Total females, 1594.

The steward reported the house receipts for the last two weeks at $71.00. The outdoor agent reported collections for support cases at $331; emigrant tax, $728. The Treasurer reported having paid into the city treasury $2505.90.

A communication was received from Mr. George Remsen, accompanied with the gift of a number of volumes for the Insane Department. A resolution of thanks for the same was adopted by the Board.

The Stewards' requisitions were approved. The resignation of Mr. Taylor, a member of the Board, was read and accepted.

A PRETENDED DETECTIVE.—Recorder Eneen yesterday held in $1500 bail a man named John Moore. A gentleman named J. P. Hays, living at No. 1365 Vine street, preferred the charge. A few weeks since a gentleman named Bethel disappeared. A liberal reward was offered for his discovery. Moore applied to Mr. Hays and requested permission to undertake the search. He stated that he was a detective, acting under the authority of the Mayor, and was experienced in the business. His proposition met with a ready assent. He pretended to institute inquiry in the course taken by Mr. Bethel. He traced that gentleman to West Philadelphia, to Pitsburg, and finally to New York. Then he demanded Mr. Bethel's money to continue the search. This led to his arrest. It is stated that he has been operating in this manner for a long time. Detective Franklin testified that he had been annoyed for the past two months by complaints against the pretended detective. Recorder Eneen held Moore to answer.

FIGHT AT SMITH'S ISLAND.—WATER STABBED.—Yesterday afternoon a difficulty occurred between a waiter at Smith's Island, and a man named James Moriarty. It is stated that Moriarty refused to pay for a glass of beer, and also used some opprobrious words, which so incensed the waiter that he resorted to a fight. Moriarty then left the island, and it is said he came to the city, purchased a large pocket-knife, and then returned to the island, making threats of what he intended to do. On reaching the grounds he saw the waiter, and aimed a blow with his knife, but fortunately his arm was caught, and the force of the blow was broken, but not sufficiently, however, to prevent the knife entering the waiter's side. The wound inflicted is a very one, but it is not considered dangerous. Moriarty was arrested, as well as a companion of his, and both were locked up at the Central Station to await a hearing to-day.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—A monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association was held at the Rooms last evening. It was the first meeting since the return of the delegates from the National Convention recently held in Albany, New York, and Mr. Waungaker gave an account of the proceedings, and spoke of the warm reception the delegates had met with from the people of Albany. The delegates were spoken of with great interest by Mr. Waungaker and others, and as likely to be productive of good to the cause of religion. One of the speakers alluded to a trip made by some of the delegates to Montreal and Quebec, and said that as the Convention will meet next year in Montreal, an opportunity will be afforded the members and friends of the Association to enjoy a most delightful excursion.

PROTECTING THE SQUARES.—On Sunday last fourteen young men were arrested in Franklin Square, on a charge of insulting females. Mr. Dixey, the Commissioner of City Property, being determined to put an end to the nuisance, called upon the Mayor and he has instructed his officers to arrest all parties found guilty of the offense.

FACTORY ACCIDENT.—William Prestville, while at work yesterday at the Lackawanna Print Works, had an arm broken by having it caught in the machinery. He was taken to the Episcopal Hospital.

THE RITE OF CONFIRMATION.—The Right Rev. Bishop Lee, of Delaware, will administer the rite of confirmation this evening at the Church of the Messiah, Port Richmond, in this city.

Sketch of a Well-known Railroad Man.—"Truxton," the correspondent of the Fishkill (New York) Standard, in a recent letter, gives the following sketch of Mr. William H. Gatzmer. Those of our readers who are acquainted with that gentleman will readily recognize the description:—William H. Gatzmer, the manager agent and financial officer of the Camden and Amboy Railroad Company, is one of those leading and superior men that control and regulate the business and commerce of the country. He was originally from Somerville, Somerset county, New Jersey. When quite a lad he came to New York in search of fortune, and was employed in 1829 by Messrs. Robert L. John C. and Edwin A. Stevens, as clerk on board of the first three masted schooner River steamer "World Wanderer." After the Messrs. Stevens sold her and their other boats on the Hudson,

Mr. Gatzmer was transferred to the Baritan River boats, belonging to the same partner, who afterwards discovered his intelligence, his courtesy, honesty, and integrity, could only be equaled by his wonderful mathematical and financial talent; and he was taken from the steamboats about 1835, and placed as chief clerk of the Camden and Amboy Company in Philadelphia, where he still remains, having been appointed in 1840 to the principal agency. Mr. Gatzmer is of small, but wiry frame, being nothing but a bundle of sinews, as it were, capable, however, of great mental and physical exertion. His economy is his temper, (with such responsibilities and the often perplexing questions arising from the very nature of such a high concern with all its branches over the State of New Jersey, and part of Pennsylvania) is never destroyed, or is never entirely disturbed. He recuperates his physical powers by retiring to his elegant country-seat at Tacony, on the Delaware, eight miles from Philadelphia, every afternoon, and returning to his office in the morning buoyant and refreshed. There are in Philadelphia but few men who possess such business facilities, such a just and generous nature, and who seldom comes in collision with others, being held in the highest esteem by all with whom he has dealings or connections, official or socially.

Maximilian's Heir.—There is no American man or woman who would not hail with pleasure news of the enforced departure of Maximilian from Mexico, to which our consumption even sympathetically would surely tend. But their gratification would be as nothing in comparison with the joy which such intelligence would convey to one American lady; as she might have been for a speedy reunion with a lover and only child, from which she is not explicitly separated, but surely tenderly missed. Their gratification would be as nothing in comparison with the joy which such intelligence would convey to one American lady; as she might have been for a speedy reunion with a lover and only child, from which she is not explicitly separated, but surely tenderly missed.

As the facts in regard to this matter have been generally understood in this country, and have been the subject of much ignorant and more or less malicious misapprehension, we propose to briefly review some of the attending circumstances in this extraordinary case. The child was already a great favorite with many of the oldest and best families—the loyalists of Mexico. Maximilian was not. The adoption of white children, therefore, his best would be, he conceived, be a powerful element in strengthening his waning cause, and would enable him to form a native party friendly to his interests. Whether the idea originated with Maximilian or Napoleon we do not know, but it was promptly acted on. Extraordinary means were used to get the parents consent to part with the child. The father steadfastly persisted in his opposition to the scheme throughout; but the mother, overcome by the promise of a brilliant future for her son, urged by her husband's brother (Augustin Turbide), and others of the family, yielded by the intimidation that the child would be taken, with or without her consent, and that the Emperor would lead to her immediate separation from it, reluctantly signed a document giving her consent. She thought her child would have a mother's care; but at least until she could be sent to Europe to be educated. Her horror and grief on receiving the news of her son's adoption of the child, no action could be taken. Resolved to leave no stone unturned to accomplish the one object she had in view, she proceeded to the Emperor to allow her return to Mexico, or to the United States, to her mother, or to the United States, to her mother, or to the United States, to her mother.

A Dreadful Calamity—Two Young Ladies Found Dead in a Vault.—One of the most shocking and lamentable casualties we were ever called upon to chronicle, says the Louisville Journal of the 19th, occurred yesterday afternoon. About half past 2 o'clock, Miss Jennie Brown, daughter of Dr. W. W. Winkler, residing on Madison street, a few doors below Eleventh street, together with Miss Saline Hart, a young lady spending the day with her, left the parlor, and their absence was not noticed by Mrs. Brown until a lady caller, about an hour and a half subsequently, went to the parlor, and, entering, told Mrs. Brown that there was no floor in the out-house. Mrs. Brown immediately suspected the dire calamity that had befallen her daughter and friend, and gave the alarm. As soon as possible, and after cutting through the door, the bodies of the unfortunate young girls were taken from the horrible pit in which their happy lives were sacrificed. Miss Brown was eighteen years of age, and was to have been married very soon. Miss Hart was a year older than her friend, and boarded with her mother at Mr. Moore's, on Broadway. Mrs. Hart was absent from the city on a day's visit to a friend living a few miles in the country. Both were prepossessing young ladies, and great favorites with their circle of associates. Coroner Meade, on an inquest upon the bodies, and a verdict was returned in accordance with the facts. The dreadful fate of these young girls points a moral which should carry horror to every household in the city, and which should invite the most careful attention to the investigation of the safety of a thousand structures similar to that in which this tragedy occurred. This out-house was a common weather-boarded thing, set over a circular bricked-up vault some thirty feet in depth, and about half filled in rainy weather. The vault used to fill up and then overflow into the cellar of the house. This, however, had not long since been remedied by the proprietor of the premises. The floor of the house rested upon a thin board, just resting upon the side of the vault, and about half filled in rainy weather.
