CITY INTELLIGENCE

[For Additional Local Items see Third Page.] THE STABBING AFFAIR AT SMITH'S

ISLAND.—The tollowing are additional particulars of the stabbing affair at Smith's Island yesterday afternoon. It appears that Moriarty and Adams got into a difficulty with a German waiter or bartender named John Hoernor about paying for some beer. After a wrangle, Moriarty said "I'll fix you yet." The two defendants then ceme over to the city, and Moriarty purchased a knife, and returned in about two hours to the Island. He then, in a deliberate and coldblooded manner, advanced up to Hoerner, and without any previous intimation of the act, plunged the knife in his breast, the blade glancing off on a bone, or Hoerner would most likely bave been killed on the spot. Moriarty and Adams were then a rested, and will be sent to prison by Recorder Eneu for a further hearing on Tuesday next.

WANTED-SHELTER FOR THE LITTLE ONES .- One of the most interesting spectacles connected with the flag presentations on the coming Fourth of July will be the pre ence in the city of over a thousand of the orphans of our Pennsylvania veterans. They come from distant counties, and will therefore be thrown upon the hospitalities of the city during their stay. The boys are already provided for, but it is desired that the girls—four hundred and fifty in number, and from nine to sixteen years of age shall receive accommodations in the private houses of our citizens. This simple appeal should be sufficient to open to them every door in the city. Those who are willing to receive these little ones as their guests from the 3d to the 5th of July, can learn the particulars from an advertisement elsewhere, entitled "Soldiers' Or-

FLAG RECEPTION.—At a meeting of the Committee of Arrangements for the Reception of the State Flags, held in Select Courcil Chamber yesterday, the sub-committee on parade, route etc., was instructed to appeal to the citizens of Philadelphia for the use of their private car-riages on the Fourth of July next, for the purpose of carrying in the parade the temale orphans of the soldiers. Conveyances will be required for four hundred and fity to five hundred children. Those citizens who have vehicles, and who desire to place them at the disposal of the committee for this purpose, are requested to notify the undersigned by 2 o'clock P. M. on the 27th. J. W. PURSUIT AND ARREST OF A WATCH THIEF. — Yesterday afternoon a man named Joseph Hafmyer stole a watch from the pocket of a vest which was hanging in the kitchen o Montague's lager beer saloon, Futeenth and Turner's lane. A girl saw him in the act of Futeenth taking the watch, and giving the alarm, the thief ran off. The Twentieth Ward police started in pursuit, when Hafmyer was seen to run into private residence on Broad street, above Jefferson, and getting up stairs, hid himself under a bed, when he was arre ted and taken before Alderman Fitch, who committed him to CAPE MAY .- This noted summer resort is still unrivalled in its attractions for the wearied denizens of the city. Since the completion of the railroad lines to the Island it has become even more attractive than or old, by reason o its ready access every day in the week. ARREST OF A COAT THIEF.-William Kelly was arrested last evening, charged with the lar-ceny of a cloth sack coat, valued at $25, the property of Thomas McKee. It appears that McKee got intox cated a few days tince, and when in the neighborhood of Sixth and Chesnut atreet, Kelly stole his coat and marched off with it. When arrested, he was wearing the stolen property. Recorder Eneu committed him in lefault of $800 bail.

To THE SEASHORE.-Almost every one can spare at least one day from the heat and toil of the city, and to such the Camden and Atlantic Railroad presents unusual facilities, The journey back and forth, a good dinner, and erand dip in the salt sea can all be achieved between the rising and setting of the sun.

OLD ENOUGH TO KNOW BETTER.-Last evening, an aged individual, whose white looks indicate, and whose own statement verifies the fact, that he has passed ninety-two years of existence on this sublunary sphere, was arrested by the police in a very disreputable state of intoxication. He stated that he was a tailor by trade, and belongs to Lancaster city.

AN ALLEGED HARNESS THIEF .- Charles Swartz was arrested at Front and Coates streets, last evening, charged with the larceny of a blanket and set of harness. He was offering them for sale when arrested. It is believed the articles were stolen from New Jersey. Swartz was committed by Alderman Toland.

INTO THE COUNTRY.—Those who desire to take a short tour inland will find on the route of tke North Pennsylvania Railroad all that they can desire in the way of romantic scenery and charming little country towns, wherein they can while away a day, or a week, or a month, in the

AN AMUSING STORY. By One who Vistted the Colton Dental

Association. "Alighting from the omnibus which has brought us up through Broadway's hurrying throng, which seem ever pursuing some mocking phantom that cludes their grasp. we ascend the marble steps of the 'Cooper Union.' It is all very fine' to enter tals pleasant reception room, but the studio beyond the folding doors-'ay, there's the rub!' But as the kindly face and pleasant voice of the Professor greet us, our errand seems shorn or half its terrors. Yet we cannot forbear asking, as we present our credentials and look timidly up at the compassionate dark eyes so far above our own diminutive stature, 'Will t kill us?" A pleasant laugh and an assuring word convince us that our time has not yet come; and we comply with the invitation to enter the operating room, with our two secompanying triends the fair race of one assumes the hue of griven snow), with very much she feeling that the fly accepted the proffered hospitality of the spider. "Ere aware of it we are scatedlin the dreaded chair, engaged in a pleasant conversation. Suddenly we find a prop insinuated between our jaws, and the mouthpiece of a villanous looking black bag between our lips. Two pair of hands, so gentle in their manipulations as to almost lead one to doubt their owners belonging to the mascu the persuasion, hold our mouth upon the pipe that the inhalation of the gas may be more perfect, while the owners of the aloresaid hands speak gentle words or encouragement. The soft hand of a lady assistant is laid assuringly on our own, and we can almost feel the suppressed anxiety of the two beloved companions behind the chair. A buzzing sound, as of myriad swarms of bees! Anon comes floating by, in grand measures and long-drawn cadences, a sweet old triumphal hymn, such as those may sing who, having left all of earth behind them, enter into the glory of the Lord; and mingled with this, a wild symphony of cashing waves, ringing their 'censeless never more." Yet how strange! that last word of the hymn gave us a slight twitch, followed by two more, which partook of the nature of a strong ye; pain-less wrench. 'Your teeth are out,' say three kind voices, less wrench. Your teeth are out, say three kind voices, But we have not come down yet to this sublunary world sufficiently to comprehend their meaning, until the assurance is repeated by one of the familiar voices behind the chair. We rise a new being and leave at the feet of the kind operator flitten moders and incisors—a tribule to the greatest discovery of the age. "MARY N. ROCK WELL."

TESTIMONY FROM DR GRISCOM.

Having coasion recently to undergo a minor surginal operation of much severity, I embraced the opportunity to try the anasthetic effect of nitrous exide gas, administered by Dr. G Q. While looking for the incisions to begin, I found they had all been done.

FROM WASL TINGTON THIS P. M.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO LVENING TELEGRAPH.] W. TINGTON, June 26,

The Freedmen in A 'aryland, General Howard, of the Fra dmen's Bureau has just received a report from . Captain S. N. Clark, an Inspector of the Bureau, o. its opera tions in St. Mary's and Calvert countie, ', Maryland. Captain Clark reports matters in a very unsettled condition. The most encourage ug ature is the fact that a considerable number of colored people residing in the above-named counties are owners and lessees of lands. The wages paid laborers are, for women $5 per month, for men $18 and $12, with rations and quarters. Notwithstanding the negroes work well, yet a bitter feeling still exists between the two races. No schools for the freedmen have yet been established, the white citizens being unwilling to countenance them. The most general complaint among the freed people is concerning the loose manner in which their children are bound out.

Over 500 children have been apprenticed since last November, and some planters have as many as ten children bound to them. A Mrs. R. D. Sellars, living in Calvert county, has three colored children bound to her, one of whom she hires out to a doctor, receiving compensation for its services. The provisious of the Civil Rights bill are entirely disregarded.

Judge William H. Tuck, at the May term of the Criminal Court of Calvert county, sentenced five men to be sold into slavery for periods ranging from six to eighteen months. Isaac Skinner, one of the five, was charged with stealing a pocket-book valued at one dollar He was sentenced to be sold into slavery for a period of one year. Oliver Smith and Ben. Mackall were charged with stealing a lot of tobacco, and were sentenced to be sold into slavery for a term of eighteen months. The others were charged with similar thetts.

On the 28th of last May the sentences of the Judges were carried into effect, the five colored men put upon the auction block, and sold by the Sheriff to the highest bidder. Skinner was bought by one John Hodord for $54. On the 26th of last March a colored man, named Philip Forbes, and his wife Harriet, got into some difficulty with their employer, one John H. Farmer, who shot and mortally wounded Forbes, and seriously wounded his wife. Farmer escaped, but afterwards delivered himself up to the authorities. He was put under $300 bail, and when he appeared at court there were no white witnesses against him; so he was set free.

Burralo, June 26 .- During the tornado vesterday afternoon, the schooners Mazeppa and G. O. Shawk broke from their moorings, and ran into the canal-boat Monitor, killing a Mrs.

Mallory, wife of the steersman. A man was killed at Black Rock by a car on the track being blown on him. Another man was fatally injured, it is supposed by a brick from a falling chimney on the Kremlin block,

The roof of the west wing of the Foundling Asylum on Edward street was blown in, and three children who were in the play-room at the time, were almost buried in the debris-but none were seriously injured. A heavy beam found its way to the root of Captain Dobbins' house on Niagara street, which it crushed. The cupola of school-house No. 1, on Seventh street, was carried away; the skylights on the Board of Trade rooms were broken. Nearly halt of the upper roof of the Niagara Falls Railroad Depot gave way to the storm; the tower on St. Joseph's Cathedral was damaged, and the wood-work of St. Joseph's Church tower was swept almost entirely away. #### LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

COURT OF OTER AND TERMINER AND QUARTER SESSIONS-Judges Pierce and Ludlow.-Fortunately for all parties, the intense warmth of the court-room will not be made more oppressive by a crowd. There was an attendance of people of a respectable size, but not too great.

An application was made, requesting the Court to have the case of Captain James S. Clark, charged with assault and battery, keeping a ferocious dog, and carrying concealed deadly weapon, presented to the Grand Jury, and tried at the earliest possible time. The defendant is a captain of a vessel, and wishes to sail soon. It was stated by counsel that if the case was not disposed of soon, the Captain would be detained till the August term, and all his mercantile engagements broken off.

The application was granted. The case of the Commonwealth vs. William Geliche, charged with murder in the killing of Noah Mh. k. on the 3d of November, 1860, which was comes, used and left ununished yesterday, was resumen this morning.

The present ion was represented yesterday by Mr. Dwight. Their witnesses were all exammed, the substance of whose evidence we briefly give:—On the $d of November, 1860, a party of men, of whom Golche," was one, met at a tavern on the corner of Second and Dickinson streets, kept by William Simons.

The party at once commenced drinking freely and becoming somewhat fude'led by the fumes of the liquor they began to discuss politics, and other current topics, in the excited lashion of most intoxicated men, when offense is easily taken, and as easily forgiven. After having talked over various subjects, they finally took up that of wrestling.

The deceased wrestled with a man, and then challenged defendant to wrestle; but defendant declined. The parties became angry, and took a drink to mend the matter. Deceased then started to leave the house, when detendant ap-proached him and said—"Do you still consider me an enemy to you?" Deceased said "yes."
Then defendant said, "Take that, damn you!" and suiting the action to the words, knocked him down and kicked him once. Deceased lay motionless on the floor, and defendant escaped from the rear of the house. When those present examined the deceased they found him

The defense was commenced by proving that defendant has served in the United States naval service for the last sixteen or seventeen years. He served in the navy all throughout the late war, and acted most nobly and gallantly. His good reputation was substantiated by the testimony of a great number of witnesses. Many of the witnesses had known him since boyhood, and all stated that up to the making of the charge, they had never heard or saw anything that would in any way bring his character into question. These other witnesses were shipmates of his during all the war. He shipped as a mere subordinate engineer. By his gallantry and good behavior he worked his way up into the tavor and good opinion of his superiors, and got the honorable position of chief e-glacer of the gunboat Commodore. It was stated by witnesses, that he was so highly esteemed by those around him, that the officers were, one and all, proud to associate It was also proven that as soon as defendant eturned from a long cruise in one of the United States ships, he sent his father for an officer of justice, and upon the arrival of the officer he quietly surrendered himself into custody.

The defense also allege that Golcher was repeatedly and constantly annoyed by Mick, who persisted in bandying insulting speeches intended for Golcher, and in bullying in a very offensive and argravating manner; that he aroused the snger of Golcher, who was then considerably under the influence of liquor. Also, that the blow was struck in self-defense. When Mick answered yes, he considered Golcher an enemy to him, he fiercely turned round and raised his hands as if about to strike a violent w; that then Golcher, from the great strength and dangerous character of the man, having good reason to fear for his own safety, struck the blow. Also, that it has not been clearly proven by the Common wealth to the jury that the death of deceased did truly and in fact result from the blow inflicted by Colcher, since the able and experienced physician, Dr. Updegrove, who held the post-mortem examination, said clearly and distinctly that he could not say what caused the death-that it might have resulted from the blow, and that it might have resulted from a wielent shaking or some sudden and powerful action of the body. Not yet concluded. Long and elaborate speeches were made by counsel: Mr. Dwight for the Commonwealth, and Messrs.

Brooke and Cochran for the defense. Latest Markets by Telegraph. New York, June 26 — Stocks are dull. A RARE BIT OF GOSSIP. A Young Wife Deserts an Old Husband

-She Will Return for $20,000. One of the richest bits of gossip which has found its way to our sanctum for many a day comes up to be recorded this atternoon. Few of our citizens have forgotten a fashionable and extravagant wedding which occurred last winter between a wealthy January and blooming, beautiful May, setting Dame Rumor up in business for many weeks.

The masculine partner of the ill-assorted firm was one of the most wealthy and respectable pointed in several previous attempts to secure permanent domestic telicity by the death of as many wives, at length became enamored of a most bewitchingly beautiful girl in the lower walks of life, and wooed and won her. Nothing that extravagant taste could suggest, or ample means gratily, was denied the fair young bride, and the honeymoon was characterized by lavish display of costly robes, rare lewels, and gratified ambition.

She was the envy of half the marrisgeable ladies in town, and her wondrous beauty and lascinating ways most effectually set all the young men by the ears. A brace of liveried Alricans attended her every motion, eagerly running devotionally to do her bidding. What more could a very Venus want?

Winter wore away in parties and robes. pring bloomed out in rides, roses, and laces, and now, ere the summer is hardly begun, we are called upon to chronicle the denouement. Early this week the bridegroom awoke one morning to find himself "Alone, alone; all, all alone."

The bird was not in the nest. All that was left to remind him of the few brilliant months during which she had gladdened his heart and drained his purse, were several "little bills," amounting to some three thousand dollars, handed in by tradesmen from whom she had purchased an elegant outfit for her prospective ourney, and a note staring that the trip of her fairy feet should again echo through the hails, and her lovely countenance illumine the man-sion, provided ner liege lord would settle upon her, in her own right, the mere pittance of $20,000 or so.

We say nothing was left to remind him of her that was gone, because she had prudently spirited away all the costly robes and diamonds, together with a good round sum of money which was in the house. Whether the bereaved husband will accede to her modest conditions, or pine in solitude over the checkered past, remains to be seen. If he remains drm and unrelenting, perhaps the truant spouse will circle back ere many months, and disconsolate at his heartless conduct in refusing to again take her under his protection, wail out in the language of the poet .-

Must I then leave you? Must I needs forego and So good, so noble, and so true a master?
