What the Friends Have Done for the Freedmen.

Wirn characteristic unestentation, the Society of Friends of Philadelphia, of the Orthodox persussion, have been working to aid the freedmen. Debarred by the articles of their taith from par ticipating, or even openly countenancing the war, they have attested their patriotism by watching with tender solicitude the wants of the African as he passed half blinded into the light of freedom. Their annual report, copies of which have just been printed, exhibits a liberality to us unexpected. When we remember the limited extent of the Friends, we must give them great credit for generosity. The report se's forth that they have raised within a twelvemonth $53,718, of which $34,056 came from our city and $19,661 from Great Britain. The Executive Board remarks:-"It is gratifying to be able to state that, notwithstanding the large calls upon us for funds, the Board has at no time been embarrassed for want of means; we have not felt obliged to refuse any proper application for assistance, but have largely extended our operations,"

We had no idea that any class of foreigners ielt sufficient interest in our affairs to voluntarily contribute such a sum as has come the Friends in England. In addition to cash received from abroad, clothing and blankets, valued at $27,000, have come to hand. Determined to turn the means to practical advantage, the Society has established schools for the education of the freedmen at Greensboro, Hillsboro, Oakridge-Danville, and thirteen other points, and the total number under daily instruction amounts to 4370. In addition to these, there are farms and temporary schools which keep under tuition some 5000 more. The report well remarks:-"The good that all these humble schools are doing among the untutored negroes is beyond estimate. It nearly ten thousand have received direct instruction in them, how will it leaven the whole mass with whom they come in contact! The appreciation of education for the freed people appears to be somewhat on the increase among the whites of the South. The opening of a school in a rural district at once renders it easier for the planters to obtain laborers there, the freedmen being averse to leaving towns and cities where their children can go to school, to settle in neighborhoods where there are none. It is very cheering to observe, also, that within a short period, in several instances, planters have applied to the various Freedmen's Associations for teachers to conduct schools upon their plantations, thus evincing an interest in the improvement of the condition of the colored people, and an appreciation of the fact that an educated is much more valuable than an ignorant class of laborers."

We have no space for further extracts, but must add that the evidence alduced shows that, without display, our quiet Friends have been en. gaged in a noble work, and one on which the blessings of Deity will rest, as well as the grateful remembrance of the recipients of their

Not "Rich Enough"

THE following paragraph has been going the rounds of the press, and is at the same time so unmerited as to deserve notice:-

"Two men have been found in one year and one continent who are rich enough. ELIAS Howe, Jr., is the possessor of a sewing machine patent, out of which he has coined a million and a haif of dollars. that he shall not apply for its renewal, as he has made money enough. The Mayor of Brooklyn Hen. Samuel M. Booth, has a salary of $3930 which the Brooklyn Council have just raised to $5000, and Mayor Booth returns the bill with his veto, with his objections to an increase during his term at office. There is no reason to appreciate term of office. There is no reason to apprehend that these shining examples will be very extensively followed; but in the midst of such a 'heat-d term' as the present, it is very refreshing to learn that there are two American citizens who are content with what they have; the one with his little million and a hall, and the other with his modest and doubt-less very insufficient stipend or three thousand a year."

If either Mr. ELIAS Howe or Hon. S. M. BOOTH deserved the least praise for their actions, we would be among the first to give it to them; but while we regret to indict pain, yet justice compels us to tell our contemporary that the two men who are "rich enough" have not as yet been found. The patent of Mr. Howe was issued under the date of September 10, 1846. It ran its full term, extending to the same day 1860. He then secured its reissue for the remaining seven years, and has worked it during the entire time which it could be covered by law. Should be desire to extend it further, he must get the assent of Congress, and the Committee on Patents would hardly be in favor of allowing him the continuance of a privilege out of which he has already realized over a million and a balf of dollars. Whatever may be his ideas of a sufficiency, we do not doubt that the Committee would think that he is "rich enough." The fact that he is not satisfied is attested by his building an immense factory for the manufacture of his machines, in order to enter into competition with the very firms who, by paying him a liberal percentage for his invention, have amassed for him his vast fortune.

In repard to the Hon, S. M. Boots, who we are told was so self-denying as to veto an increase of salary, we have only to say that the laws of all cities, including Brooklyn, prevent any such increase going into effect until atter the expiration of the term of office for which the present incumbent has been elected. Unless Mr. Boorn is possessed with a confident belief that he can secure a re election, we do not think he deserves much credit for cutting his successors off from an advance of $2000 per year. Whenever the sufficiently rich man appears we will hail his entrance, but we must postpone his welcome, as neither Mr. Hows nor Mr. Boots can be said to be the man.

A Most Necessary Reform Broached.

MB. BROWN, of Missouri, yesterday offered, and the Senate adopted, the following resolution: -"Besolved, That the Committee on the Judic ary be instructed to inquire into the expediency of providing by law for such a reorganization of the civil service, and especially of the Post Office, freasury, and futerior Departments, as shall secure appointments to the same for specific terms, after previous examination by proper boards; as shall provide for promotions on the score of me it or seniority, and authorize dismissal under the safeguards of trial or resignation; as shall officer each branch of the service with well-trained experts in the details of the business and as shall assimilate them all more hearly to those conditions and regulations which govern the en istrent and efficiency of the army and navy of the United Stalvs, and which have successfully precluded the latter from being used morely as reservoirs of political patronage or ordinary apphances of party power." "Besolved, That the Committee on the Judic ary

It is hardly too much to say that this resolution contemplates the most wise, beneficent, and important reform that could be introduced into American government and politics. Our present system of appointments to office and removals therefrom is the most corrupt and corrupting scheme imaginable. It was never contemplated by the founders of the Government, and was totally unknown in the administrations of our earlier Presidents. It is the outgrowth of an extreme partisanship, and is ealculated to promote the interests of party rather than the well-being of the country. There is no more reason why a change in administrations should be expected to work a change in the personnel of the Post Office, Treasury, and Interior Departments than in that of the War Department or the Navy Department. These latter Departments in their organization furnish the proper plan after which all branches of the (ivil service should be modelled. Officers should be appointed upon examination, and with pecial reference to their fitness for the posts they are expected to occupy. Promotions should follow experience and merit.

Were such a plan as this followed out, we should soon have all branches of the civil service filled with able and expert officers. Our foreign Ministers would be trained and skilful diplomatists, instead of being, as they now too often are, superannuated politicians and chronic office-seekers. The Treasury and Post Office Departments would be filled, not with ward politicians and village mendicants, but with experienced and capable business men. Civic office would be looked upon, not as the mere reward of party services, but as a thing to be sought by diligent preparation and demonstrated capacity. But more important than all, the whole tone of politics would be elevated, could we once and forever throw overboard that corrupt and pernicious doctrine of office as the end of party, which finds its enunciation in the dogma that "To the victors belong the spotis." Our present system fosters all the worst elements of partisanship. It is destructive equally of independence of character in the incumbents of office, and of efficiency and honesty in the performance of their duties. It makes the spoils of office the great motive power, whereas it ought to be only a mere incident, of party action.

These vices are common to all our parties. They have become a part of our general political system. But their evil and disastrous effects have certainly become sufficiently obvious to all good men to secure, as we trust, a general movement for retorm. As such, we hail Mr. Brown's resolutions, and the Senate's action thereon.

The True Policy of Leland's Friends.

WE are glad to see indications that the more intelligent members of the Fenjan organization are beginning to get their eyes open to the truth that, if they expect the sympathy and support of the American people, they must act politically with that great organization which represents the free, liberal, and progressive ment of the country. Our Irishmen can never expect sympathy in fighting a foreign despotism so long as they support the pro-slavery party at home. We suppose John Mitchel's foolishly expressed desire, a few years ago, of having a plantation well stocked with negro slaves, has done more to destroy sympathy with Ireland's sufferings and wrongs all over the world, than all the speeches and labors of a dozen John Mir-CHELS could accomplish in Ireland's behalf. There is something revolting in the idea of a people who are themselves claiming the sympathles of mankind on account of oppression, at the same time assisting in the oppression of others.

The true lavers of freedom are brethren everywhere, whether in Europe or America, in Italy or Hungary, in Ireland or the United States. So, too, there is a common bond of despotism. The supporter of slavery in the United States is, by a logical necessity, bound to be the friend of the European despot. The principles of liberty are universal, and he who assists in depriving one race or people of them, needs but temptation and opportunity to do the same by another.

Ireland's great patriots have recognized these truths. DANIEL O'CONNELL was an abolitionist, and refused to take the hand of an American slaveholder. If, therefore, our Fenians would secure the sympathies of mankind for themselves and their cause, they must show a genuine and impartial devotion to the great principles of human freedom and equality. They must ally themselves with that party in America which represents these principles. They must cut loose from all sympathy or association with those enemies of liberty and progress who have for years controlled the organization and directed the action of the pro-slavery Democratic party.

Very Dilapidated. THE Copperheads have brought out their old scarecrow and standing bug-bear in good season this year. They evidently think the fools are not all dead yet. Witness the following from a published call for a CLYMER mass meeting of "all who are opposed to committing the destinles of thirty nullions of white men to eight hundred thousand negro voters." Picture it! Think of it! Terrible, isn't it? But, here is a chance for a little figuring. Eight hundred thousand subtracted from thirty millions leaves a majority of only twenty-nine millions two hun dred thousand! We think, with that majority to fall back upon in case of emergency, the white race may feel tolerably easy over its "destinies," for a short time at least.

The Clymerites will have to try some other dodge. This one is played out. School-houses have become too plenty in Pennsylvania.

A grand Union demonstration is to take place at Nashville on the Fourth of July, the day upon which the Legislature is to assemble to ratify the Constitutional amendment. The Democrats are endeavoring to prevent a quorum from assembling, but will hardly be able to succeed.

Mormonism and its Cure. A LITTLE pamphlet, bearing the title of 'The Demoralizing Doctrines and Disloyal Teach age of the Mormon Hierarchy," has been laid upon from the official organs of the Mormon Church, our table. It merely confirms, by quotations the well-known doctrines of their leaders. Of course they are revolting to all properly constituted minds, and many of their expressions are fanatically disloyal.

The remedy for this Mormon trouble is to be found in the gradual filling-up of Utah with a different class of people. The geographical position of Salt Lake City is such as to give assurance of a large town in the future. Already a strong anti-Mormon element has collected there, and is making its influence feit, This movement will increase. The completion of the Pacific Railroad to that point will cause Ctab to fill up very rapidly, and then Mormonism will decline and pass away. BEIGHAM Young is really the life of the society now, and were he to die it would commence to tall tol pieces at' once. Much may be done ! by the General Government to discourage Mormonism by the appointment of the right style of men to official positions in Utah, and we hope that consideration will not be overlooked; but the final overthrow of the vile imposture must await the slower action of more general

What Kind of a Union Shall It Be? The great question is not so much whether the seceded States shall be admitted to full power in the Union, as it is-What kind of a Union are we in the future to have with these States? Is it to be the old Union that existed before the war, in which Northern men were allowed no rights in the South? Is it to be a Union of law, or one of mob rule? Is the fact that a man is an American citizen to be a passport to safety and protection all over the country, or is that fact to be of no use to him in the Southern States? These are the great questions to be settled now.

A SINGULAR DEATH.—Galignam has this story:
"The Abbe Paradis, sixty-three years of age, principal chaplain at Bicetre, was walking in the Rue Vandamme, the other morning, when was accosted by a gentleman who asked him the hour. He replied, 'Half-past 11—the hour of my death; never mind, I am ready—sustain me!' And before this latter request could be complied with he grew pale, tottered, and fell to the payment dead."
