Mercury and Hymen Co Hand in Hand-A Nice Little Came of Bluff-$50,000 Staked and Lost-Marital Bliss Collapses in a Baggage Car-A Disconsolate Honeymoon.

"Money makes the mare go," is a saying that is not far removed from the borders of vulgarity, and et it is replete with truth, and ever ready of application. But "the mare" is not the only thing that is driven along by the glitter of the shilling. When a young man has once set his heart on the joys of wedded life, the first thing needful to consummate his aspirations is the one thing needful in all the affairs of this unspiritual world. If the youth were born, as the saying has it, "with a silver spoon in his mouth," there will be no insuperable obstacle to overcome. At times everything will work smoothly if the damsel herself is a daughter of But Cupid is a wayward god, and sometimes leads a poverty-stricken votary to a cottage instead of a palace. Such cases are always desperate, and frequently disastrous in the end. We have a case in mind which re-ulted in such an unfortunate denouement. On the 24th ultimo, a young man entered the First National Bank in this city, and made his way without ceremony to the desk of the cashier. He was certainly entitled to take such a liberty, for, when he gave his name, he proved to be none other than A. R. Allen, a purser in the navy of the United States, Purser Allen's business was soon made known. He had in his posse-sion a draft on the Treasurer of the United States for the nest little sum of $50,000. It was duly signed and countersigned by Secretary Welles, Treasurer Spinner, and all the other Governmental officials, whose duty it is to affix their sign-manuals to such documents. Purser Allen informed the cashier, in the blandest possible tone, that he wished to place this draft, together with $2000 in cash, on deposit to his order. The cashier would have been extremely happy to oblige him, but, in view of the recent act of Congress to prevent another Washington bank swindle, he was not at inberty to do so. He to informed Pur er Allen, and volunteered the further information that the proper place o deposit was the sub-treasury of the United Purser Allen then made his way to the receiv-Purser Allen then made his way to the receiving teller's desk, followed by the cashier. Under the watchful eve of this official, he deposited the $2000 in eash, and then, when the latter had turned his back, he slipped in the $50,000 draft. He was probably in a hurry, and did this to save the steps across the street to the Sub-Treasurer's office. As the receiving teller did not know held to answer.

Purser Allen in his official capacity, he gave him due credit for the full amount.

On the 27th ultimo Purser Allen found a use for his money, and drew the $52,000 from the bank in one lump. He then sought the office of Drexel & Co., and purchased of them $30,000 worth of 5-20s of 1865. Having a little cash still to spare, he proceeded next to the banking house on Washington for $26 000. Purser Allen then took a journey to New York, and, entering the branch office of Jay Cooke & Co., in that city, made a further purchase of his favorite 5-20, to the amount of $19,000. Taking fittee of his thousand dollar bonds, he ext visited the establishment of Jerome & Co. in New York city, and procured a draft on Paris for 50,000 francs. He then dropped in at a steamship office and purchased tickets for Bordeaux on the Scotia, which was to sail on Saturdsy of this week. From all this, it was to be interred that Purser Allen intended to start upon his travels.

But business of a delicate and pressing nature required his presence in Washington before he crossed the waters. Thither he proceeded without delay, and yesterday morning had a foretaste of the happiness in store for him by being joined in the bonds of holy matrimony. The bride was an interesting young lady by the name of Virginie Turneau (a French name, evidently, which easily accounts for the Purser's desire to make Bordeaux the first stopping place in his travels). It is rarely that a wedding party passes off so satisfactorily as did this one vesterday morning, at the residence of Mr. Turneau. The bride maids and the groomsmen were among the gayest of the gay, but, despite their greatest efforts, they could not rival the smiles of the newly wedded pair. The whole party, as soon as the ceremony was completed and the cus tomary congratulations given and received, drove rapidly to the Baltimore depot, where an affecting parting scene was enacted, barely time not to be interrupted by the whistle of the

In the meantime Treasurer Spinner had been greatly surprised one morning by receiving from Purser Allen a requisition for the further sum of $50,000. Treasurer Spinner wrote to the Purser to express his surprise at such an irregular and unaccustomed proceeding. received a note in reply, informing him bluntly that Purser Allen was "neither a knave nor a fool, and that he had made no previous requisition for a like amount. The Purser afterwards visited the Treasurer in high dudgeon. They compared their notes, and soon arrived at the fact that the first draft had been obtained by some unknown party upon traudulent representations and forged signa-tures. The draft, however, had already been paid, having passed in the appropriate channel through the Sub-treasury of this city. The Cashier of the First National Bank was at once informed of this fact. He hastened to Washington, in company with Detective Edmund L. Schlemm, of this city. They put their heads together, and without any material assistance from outside parties, succeeded in obtaining a clue to Purser Allen's shadow.

This shadowy gentleman proved to be one William Ringgold Cooper, the true hero of the connub al affair at the residence of Mr. Turneau. An accurate description of the gentleman who negotiated for the 5-20s with the Drexels, of this city, was obtained at their office, and found to correspond with the "Purser Allen" who figured at the First National Bank.

When Detective Schlemm arrived at the house of the bride's father, yesterday morning, he was informed that he was a few minutes too latethe party had already been griven to the depot. Detective Schlemm was very anxious to form one of their number, so he hailed a cab, and offered the officiating Jehu thereof an extra five dollar note, provided he was not too late for the half-past seven train. They were consequently not too late. The detective gamed the train just as it was starting, and took a seat near the newly married pair.

He had not the heart to interrupt their bliss just then and there; and so they were permitted to journey, in peace and happiness, all the way to Philadelphia. Arrived at the depot in this city, Mr. C. oper, alias "Purser Allen," left his bride for a moment, while he took a look at their travelling luguage. For this purpose he entered the baggage car. Here he found Detective Schlemm awaiting him.

An explanation was soon arrived at between the two gentlemen. The scene was very sad and very affecting. When the denouement was made known to the bride she went off into hysterics, and was taken in charge by some friends who reside in the upper part of the city. was conducted privately into the presence of United States Commissioner Sergeant, who gave him a hearing at the Mayor's office. His duty as an officer of the law was a plain one,

The whilom happy Cooper was remanded to a ceil in Movamensing, with the intimation that his financial transactions would receive a further investigation on the tollowing Saturday. Verily, "the course of true love never did run smooth." 'Tis a pity, but, alas! it is too true.

IMPROVEMENTS ON ARCH STREET .- Yesterday we gave a brief and cursory notice of the improvements on Eighth street, from which our readers could gather an idea as to the extent of the growth of our city. Eighth street is not the only locality that is attending to public improvement. Arch street, notwithstand-ing that it is one of the most beautiful and finely improved streets of Philadelphia, has entered extensively upon the erection of new and magnificent business houses. At No. 336 Arch street a fine building is in process of erec tion, the first story of which is iron and the next three stories are of pressed brick, and elegantly finished. It is to be devoted to trade in carriage mountings, and all the particular articles appertaining to that trade.

It is to be occupied by Mr. William Burwell who will be able to begin his business about the 1st of September. Eyre & Landell, a dry goods firm at the corner of Arch and Fourth streets are putting in front of their establishment, a fine plate glass front, supported by iron columns, At No. 412 George Van Dyke is erecting a fine four-story brick, with a marble base, for John J. Dorner, furrier, who will open in about two weeks. L. S. Custer & Son, at No. 726 Arch street, have just completed an elegant four-story brick building, 160 feet deep and 23 feet front, and are about occupying it. They manufacture and deal largely in strawand millinery goods, and have a fine and extensive assortment of men's, boys', and children's straw hats. The first floor is devoted to the sale of ribbons, laces, cloths, etc., and the floors above are used as show and salesrooms. In the tourth story, also, is a manufactory of straw and millinery goods, in which are em-ployed one hundred and six operatives. Adjacent to Mr. Custer is also another tine four-story brick, occupied by Mr. W. G. Perry, who deals very extensively in the retail book trade. At No. 928 Arch street a new fine four-story build ing has just been put up by Philip Rice, engaged in the gas-fitting and plumbing business. The and has a fine reputation. A building is being erected at No. 706 Arch street by Balderston & Albertson for Mr. J. Mawson, turrier, which will be completed by next week.

AN UNGRATEFUL VAGBANT .- A fellow named Henry Bowers, who has been an inmate of our Almshouse off and on for the past four een or lifteen years, stole a pocket-book from the house of Mrs. Trowthers, in Ludlow street, Twenty-severth Ward. Mrs. Trowthers had been in the habit of giving Bowers victuals, and would help bim along occasionally, as he appeared to be an object of charity. The other day he was in Mrs. Trowthers' kitchen eating, when she came in the room and but her nocket. when she came in the room and put her pocket book, containing $25, on a table, and being called up stairs, she left it and forgot all about it until until she had sone out of the house alto-gether. She then felt for her pocket-book, and missing it, went back into the house. Bowers was gone. Some persons saw him leave the house and run away. He showed to his brother vagrants the same day some four or five greenbacks, saying he had made a good day's work, etc. He was arrested and after a hearng this morning before Alderman Ailen, he was

FIRE.-A fire broke out about half-past 2 o'clock this morning, at the dyehouse works of Appleton & Janney, southeast corner of Pale-thorpe street, below Oxford. They occupy the place as stocking weavers. The building is a two story frame, ironting on Palethorpe street, and 60 feet in depth. It was used as a dychouse, drying house, and in stocking weaving.

The fire broke out in the drying department.

The amount of loss to the stock and machinery was estimated by the proprietors at about $10,000 or $12,000, and was insured for $6000, as follows:—Royal Insurance Company, $5000; Globe Insurance Company, $1000; total, $6000, The building Company, $1000; total, $6000, Change of William Company, $1000; total, $1000, Change of William Company, $1000; total, $1000; total, $1000, Change of William Company, $1000; total, $10 The building was the property of William Stevenson. The damage to the building amounted to $1000, covered by insurance. The machinery destroyed had been just put in, and there was also a large lot of goods just ready for ROBBED WHILE ASLEEP.-Daniel Kelley and John Maher were arrested on the charge of robbing John Kirk of a silver watch and twelve dollars in money, while he was lying a leep on his cellar door last Thursday night. He did not discover his loss until the next morning, when he made the complaint and had the two men arrested on suspicion of committing the theft, an officer having seen them in the neighbor hood at the time it was committed. Keller acknowledged the theft, and gave up the watch but no money was found on him. A fifty-cent note, however, was picked up on the floor of the cell in which he was confined, which was recognized by Mr. Kirk as his property. The arrest was made by Officer Fleming. Kelley was held to answer in $1000, and Maher in $600, by Alderman Ramsdale.

THE JOHN KLEIN CASE.—The mother of the girls mentioned in connection with the case of the brutal wretch Klein attempted to commit suicide right before last. She was in an al-most di-tracted state of mind, owing to the terrible wrong perpetrated on her children. Be-tween 9 and 10 o'clock Wednesday night, she made an attempt to drown herself, but was rescued by Officer Maxwell and taken to the Station House, from which her daughter took her to her home the next morning. This is the woman Klein says made the prosecution to extort

GROSS CARELESSNESS. - William Cartwright was indulging in the innocent amusement of shooting chickens in Islington lane near Camp Cadwalader, the other day. No being careful of the direction of his shots, some of them struck among some children playing near by, wourding one of them. He was arrested, and after a hearing before Aldermau Beitler, he was held in $600 to answer.

Young Thief .- John Keegan, a boy young in years but old in crime, was arrested in the act of robbing the till of a drinking saloon, corner of Dean and Pine streets, known as Jeffers' saloon. Keegan had been in the House of Refuge before, but his parents got him out. He has been concerned in a number of petty thefts. Alderman Tunison held him to answer.

HEARING OF COUNTERFEITER .- The hearing of William Stewart, which was to have taken place before United States Commissioner Sergeant at 12 o'clock this day, has been post-poned until Monday, at 1 P. M. Stewart, it will be recellected, was arrested on the fourth of last May, for passing counterfeit fractional currency, and was committed in default of $3000 bail.

Being free from Alcohol in any form its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, intusing strength, vigor, and new 'fe inte all parts of the system, and bulleting up an Iron Constitution. DYSPEPSIA AND DEBILITY. From the Venerab e Archdeacon SCOTT, D D.

"DUNHAM, Canada East, March 24, 1985.

" I am an inveterate Dyspeptic of more thank years' standing."

"I have been so wonderfully benefited in the three short weeks during which I have used the Peruvian Syrup. that I can scarce y persuade mysel of the reality. People who have known me are as on ished at the change. I am widely known, and can but recommend to others that which has done so much for me."

"ALER IN THE CAT YEARS' NEAD DING CHEED. A CASE OF 27 YEARS' STANDING CURED.

From INSLEY JEWEIT, No. 15 Avon P. ace, Boston.
"I have suffered, and sometimes severely, for if years, from dyspepsia. I commerced taking the Peruvian Syrup, and found immediate benefit from it. In the course of three by four weeks I was entirely relieved from my of three or four weeks I was entirely relieved sufferings, and have enjoyed uninterrupted he since." One of the most distinguished Jurists in New England writes to a Friend as follows:

"I have tried the PEEUVIAN SYROP, and the result fully sustains your prediction. It has made a new man of me; in used into my system new vigor and energy; I am no longer fremu ous and debit ared as when you last saw me, but a ronger, heartier, and with larger capacity for labor, mental and physical, than at any time during the last five years."

An eminent Divine of Boston says:—
"I have been u-ing the PERUVIAN SYRUP for some time past; it gives me new vigor, buoyancy of spirits, elasticity of muscle"

Thousands have been changed, by the use of this remedy, from we ak, suck y, suffering or always to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitale to give it arial.
