AMUSEMENTS.

THE NEW AMERICAN THEATBE, which has been newly fitted up, will be opened for the fall and winter seasons to-morrow evening, as a firstclass temple of popular entertainments. The objectionable features that heretofore prevented the attendance of ladies and gentlemen of our best circles have been removed, and Mr. Earnshaw, the lessee, is determined to use every proper means to make the "American" a popular establishment. To-morrow evening the Rivals, and the Wandering Minstret will be pre-

Ms. Roser's concludes his engagement on Saturday evening, at the Walnut Street Theatre. To-night, for his benefit, he presents himself in his fine role of "Sir Edward Mortimer," in the classic tragedy of the Iron Chest. The Brigands of the Pyrenees concludes the performance. Mr. Roberts sustains the principal part. On Monday evening, the famous Buislay Family-rivals of the Ravels-will begin an engagement. The performances of this noted troupe have been very successful in New York and Boston.

AT THE CHESKUT, the new and successful play of Baccarat will be given to-night, and to morrow afternoon and evening.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL .- On Thursday, August 23, there will be given at Engel & Wolt Farm, a Festival of Vocal and Instrumental Music, which, from all that we can learn, will be well worth attending. It will afford our citizens an opportunity of becoming acquainted with the higher order of German festivals, as well as hearing some good music. Upon the programme, which will be carried outly the Sangerbund, with two other societies and a full orchestra, we find:-

. Fost Overture. Sone, Friends and Brothers. What is the German's Fatherland? Hymn, Give thanks for all to God on High.

Star Spangled Banner. Mr. Gaertner, under whose direction the Festival will be given, has taken especial interest in elevating the character of German Singing Scelettes. For the Sangerbund he has not only gained the first prizes of the New York and Providence Musical Conventions, but has, through the influence he has exerted during the years he has had it in charge, raised it to a position such as no society of the kind has ever enjoyed here.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

[For Additional City Intelligence see Third Page.]

SCENES AT THE CONTINENTAL. - Last evening was a very stirring time at our princi-pal hotels. At the Continental there was one constant stream of incomers and outgoers, and a great amount of humor, pleasantry, fun, frolie, and fighting. As is usual when a crowd rathers together during a political campaign, there are always some ambitious speakers who wish to inflict themselves on the assembled But judging from the actions of those assembled last night in the vicinity of the Continental and Girard hotels, no one telt in the humor to listen to a harangue. When any one would attempt it, he would be shut down in short me're. There was an immense quantity of bad whisky drunk and bad jokes and some bad heads cracked. All through the crowd were scattered the stalwart forms of our guardians of the peace, who kept a watchful eye over the assemblage, and on the least appearance of an incipient row would nip it in the bud. Inside there was a lively assemblage of intoxicated politicians and others of a kindred family. At one time a drunken Senator from the Western part of our country stood up and endeavored to address the crowd in front of the hotel on Chesnut street. They laughed and shouted, cheered, and made such a racket that he could not be heard, and shut him up. He got angry, and told them that be thought they were a pack of cowards, and that if he had a bowie-knife he could scatter the whole of them like chaff before the wind. Another, made furious by whisky was making some very insulting remarks, when he was chased some distance by an excited crowd. Seeing himself hard pushed he drew a revolver, and menaced the crowd with it, but did not shoot. It had the desired effect, and they gave him elbow room.

The fun was kept up until a late hour. About half-past eleven o'clock a number of young men filed past the Continental, cheering for Geary and others. They stopped on the corner of Ninth and Chesnut streets, and continued their yells, making the night hideous, until the police scattered them, and gave imperative rders to all good citizens to keep moving on. There were a number of thieves about, and the sharp eye of the Chief of the Detectives was on

This morning is like the day after the fair. The actors of yesterday and last night's drama are getting up with aching heads and awimming eyes after their spree. Most all the delegates are gone to their homes, and things wear a deserted appearance around our hotels. The Convention is a thing of the past. The grand attack has come and gone. It is very hard to realize that the great agency has passed by so quietly, and left so little to remind us of its presence. What will be the next excitement?

COMPLIMENTARY TO THE POLICE.-His Honor the Mayor made a very neat and pithy address to the heads of the Police Departments and the Lieutenants. He congratulated them on the efficient manner in which they had protected the persons and property of our citizens and the strangers who were in our city, and on the admirable manner in which his instructions had been carried out in letter and spirit. He spoke in feeling terms of his admiration for their good management, and begged them to assure the officers of the whole force of his sense of obligation for their strict attention to their He felt proud of them, and Philadelphia has cause to be proud of its Police De-

A STABBING CASE-SUPPOSED HOMICIDE. -Last evening, about 61 o'clock, Charles Stinson aged twenty-one years, residing at No. 209 Wil liamson street, was stabbed in the left breast by a boy named Francis James. James was arrested by Officer Sheer, and committed by Alderman Lutz to await the result of the injury. At the hearing James did not deny stabbing Stinson, but said that he did it in self-defence. Stinson is older and much larger than he, and was beating him; and not being able to escape he (James) took his penknite and "stuck it into him." The wound is of a very serious character, and it is feared may prove fatal.

A FETE AT THE SURF HOUSE .- To-morrow evening will be a grand time at Atlantic City. As the season approaches its height, the hotels are striving to outdo themselves in the inducements they present to the visitors from our cities. The grand hop at the Surf House, Atlantic City, to-morrow evening, bids fair to be the grandest affair of the kind of the season. The Surt House is so well known, that it is entirely supererogatory to speak in its praise. It speaks for itself. We advise all who can get away to go and enjoy themselves.

USING THREATENING LANGUAGE. Charles McAllister, a cowardly fellow, has been for some time squatting in the barn of a Mrs. Conard, an aged and very respectable old lady, residing on Kitchen lane and Ridge avenue, Twenty-first Ward. McAllister lived in the barn, and had a companion with him, a woman of bad repute. He was in the habit of abusing an attendant of Mrs. Conard's, and a few days ago threatened her life. On complaint being made he was arrested, and held in $800 bail by Alder-

CONNUBIAL FELICITY.-John H. Rosell residing in the neighborhood of Third and Buttonwood, is a married man, but he and his wife don't have an affinity. Consequently John makes off at a tangent, bound for foreign parts. His wife, concluding that a bad husband is petter than none at all, had him arrested and orought back. He was taken before Alderman Toland this morning, and not having made many friends during his sojourn in this city, he was permitted to go to jail in default of $600 bail.

EVERY CLERK should read to-morrow's Commercial List and Price Current.

FIRE,-This morning about ten o'clock, a fire broke out in the establishment of Mesers. Bullock & Smith, at the southwest corner of Twenty-third and Master streets. It is used as a manufactory of patent roofing.

The fire was the result of accident, occurring from the breaking out of a leak in a still. The building has been on fire several times within the past year, and contained a great quantity of inflammable material. The entire building was destroyed. There was no insurance on either stock or building.

The lost amounts to about $2000.

The man injured, Lewis Langer, was employed in the scale manufactory of Henry Tromper, about a square from the building destroyed. He was standing at the front door of the burning building when the fire reached a carboy of benzole, which exploded, and the flames reached and covered him, burning his clothes off and burning his face and hands. He was not in firemen's equipments, though supposed to belong to the United States Hose Company. He was removed to a drag store near by and subsequently to his home, in a very critical con-

RUN OVER AND KILLED.-James Jaggers, an old man about 65 years of age, was run over on the Germantown and Norristown Railroad, a short distance above Church lane, about 12 o'clock last night. The train was the 11-30 P. M. from the depot, Ninth and Green. Jaggers was drunk at the time, and lay across the rail. The wheels ran across his abdomen, and his death must have been instantaneous. His remains were taken to his home at Norristown. He leaves a family. The Coroner has been summoned to hold an inquest.

CARRYING CONCEALED DEADLY WEArons,-George S, Blum was arrested vesterday morning, in Oxford street, while acting in a ery outrageous manner, under the influence o bad spirits. He threatened the passers by with dire destruction, and to make good his threats, exhibited a loaded revolver. He was captured, bowever, and put in "durance vile." This morning he was brought before Alderman Holme, who held him in the sum of $1500 to appear at court.

A MID-DAY SERENADE,-The Hon. Jos. R. Flanagan, the Chairman of the National Inion Central Committee and editor of the Daily News was tendered a delightful screnade by the National Brass Band. A screnade in the middle of the day is quite an unusual occur-rence, and of course attracted quite a concourse in the immediate neighborhood. A serenade was also tendered to E. W. C. Greene, editor of the Sunday Transcript

BASE BALL MATCH .- A match between the first and second nines of the Municipal Base Ball Club, was played on the grounds of the Hamilton Base Ball Club yesterday after-noon, and resulted in a score of 48 to 29, in tayor of the first nine. The playing was quite spirited. This Club is composed of the members of the police of the Sixteenth District, and has only been lately organized.

PROFESSIONAL THIEVES,-John Rutter and John Albright, better known under his alias of John Brown, were arrested yesterday afternoon whilst prowling around in the neighbor-hood of Second and Green streets, watching for a chance to make a lift. They were arrested and taken before Alderman Toland, who com mitted them in default of $1000 bail.

SLIGHT FIRE.-There was an alarm of fire this morning about 10 o'clock, which proved to be the burning of the roof of a comosition roofing manufactory, Twenty-third and Master streets.

ROSA BONHEUR'S VISIT .-Though gifted Rosa asks no more Than to view a buffalo. Than to view a bullato.
She surely must, upon our shore,
See "the elephant," you know.
The prairies are quite "flat" a sight,
And must interest her less
Than all those cheerful changes bright Our city's streets express; Nor are wild Indians so polite As gents in the fower's dress.

Bernard Friery Hung for the Murder of Harry Lazarus. New YORK, August 17 .- Bernard Friery was hung at noon to-day. He was sentenced to death for the murder of Harry Lazarus, a noted prize-fighter.

Sketch of the Murderer. Barney Friery, who killed Harry Lazarus at his saloon on East Houston street, last New Year's eve. expiated his crime upon the gallows this morning the Governor having determinedly refused to pardor him or grant a reprieve. Notwithstanding his erime was apparently unprovoked and cold-blooded, there seems to be some extenuating circumstances from the interest manifested in procuring his pardon by his very numerous friends. At the time of its commission it excited considerable feeling among the sporting community, as Lazarus was a notorious pugilist; however, they seem to have transferred their entire sympathy to his destroyer. On the 21st or February, 1865, he was found guilty of murder in the first degree in the Court of General Sessions, and sentenced by Recorder Hoffm in to suffer death on the gallows on the 31st of March tollowing. His counsel obtained a respite pending appeals to the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals. These tribunals sustained the verdict had against the prisoner in the Court of Quarter Sessions, and he was sentenced last year to be hung to-day.

Since Friery became awars that the decisions of the courts were against him, and that he had been adjuoged to die upon the gallows, his conquet in jaii nas been marked by a thorough knowledge of the awiul position in which he is placed. A few days ago he published a statement, which went to show that previous to the murder he had had no difficulty with Lazarus, whom he says he killed white isboring under a st of drink; that he has no reason to complain of how his trial was conducted; that the kmie with which he committed the deed was not the kmife with which he committed the deed was not his own; that bad company and drink are the ruin or thousands and thousands of young men in this city; that he carnesily entreats the forgiveness of the friends of Marry Lazarus "for the evil he unconsciously brought upon them;" that it is untrue that he "insulted those devoted women, the Sisters of Mercy," who attended for the purpose of affording him spiritual consciation, and that he intends to meet his fate as a Christian should, while asking that the prayers of all good people may be asking that the prayers of all good people may be said for him. Friery's statement that he never offered the sightest insult to the Sisters of Mercy is tully beine out by a letter from these good and esti-mable ladies, which appeared in the New York Herat's a day or two since. Le had based strong hopes upon the ability and start, in pocuring a pardon or a reprieve from the Governor. Late on yesterday atternoon, Mr. Stuart telegraphed the following to Judge

Jurge Dowling, Tombs Police Court, New York:—
There is no hope for poor Friers. The Governor is inexorable, and recuses to interfere with the course of the law. Notwithstanding his apparent Christian resigns tion, when the tatal news was communicated to him he was completely prostrated, and despite the religious consolation administered to him by Father Duranquet, he could not stand erect under the f tal intelligence. He had hoped till then, with a weak though determined confidence, in the success-Interest the counsel's efforts, and most of his fellow-prisoners seemed worthly disappointed when they found the indomitable ex-Judge had failed.

Several visitors called upon the prisoner during the forence and finally the poor afficted mother of the condemned man paid a mournful visit to her son. Though all the world might desert him, still the mother who had watched over his infancy and teddled him upon her knees before the stain of bood or crime had left its impress upon his forehead, the mother who had fondly watched his boyhead; the mother who had fondly watched his boyhead; years and succeeding adolescence that mother now stood before him, broken hearted and crushed to the dust by the awful calamity about to befal him to the dust by the awful calamity about to befal him to whom she was about to bid a farewest, to meet no more this side of the grave. With no desire to intrude on the privacy of that interview, sacred to mother and son, we shall simply state that the poor mother emerged from the ce i with a terrible arony in every line of her tace and looking ten years older than she entered.

than she entered.

The sister and brothers of the condemned man also visited him in his prison cell, and comforted in mit their prayers and farewell blessings, and the same terrible ordeal had to be undergone by the prisoner in bidding them good-by, as happened in the interview with his motion.

The Roy. Father Duraguit and the Roy. Father McKenna called upon the condemned man during the afternoon, and administered spiritual coasolation for the space of two hours previous to the receipt of the fatal tolegram.

During the afternoon the scaffold was excited in the western quadrangle of the prison-yard close to the window of Friery's cell, and some of the beam's were fastened assainst the very window through which air and light was admitted to the wretched men. The scaffold is composed of four upright posts, with cress-beams adjusted firmly, and a canvas covering on top to prevent the eyes of the curious in the prison windows from walculing the curious in the prison windows from walculing the dea harriage. A temporary structure is erected at the back of the scaffold to conceal the executioner from public view when the rope is cut. The noise of the hammering and the blows of the carbenter were heard continually by the wretched culprit were heard continually by the wretched culprit while the scaffold was in process of erection, and the mind of toor Friery must have been terrably asonized as he heard the gread preparations for the morrow

Up to a late hour this morning the reverend clos-Up to a late hour this morning the reverend cor-prymen remained with the condemned man, exhert-ing him to reportance and prayer. At a late hour in the evening the mother of Friery left the cell, binding her boy good by for the last time. As she left the cornifor and passed into the prison-yard she seemed to be in a compolent condition, and evi-dently did not know whether she was give or dead. Heree's were set, and her frame seemed palsaed as with some terrible disease. with some terrible disease.

To her the law was simply legalized butchery, and her only thoughts were fixed on one thing, the scaffold, which was to make her a bereaved and wretched weman. Sheriff Kelly and sverai officers of the prison called on Friery, and bade him good by for the night and the prison was a second of the prison.

the night and the prisoners who are at times be s-terous and noisy seemed stricken with a sudden and terrible awe as they heard through the long warehes of the night the mattered prayers of the priests and the sobbing and broken account of the man whose bours were already numbered.
