Republican Congressional Conventions.

Nominations for the First Four Districts.

Judge Kelley Nominated by Acclamation.

THE RADICALS INDORSED.

Resolutions, Speeches, Etc. Etc.

This morning the various Congressional Conventions of the Republican Union party met for the purpose of making nominations. Full reports of the proceedings are given below. First District.

The Convention, at Sixth and Chesnut streets, met at 10 o'clock, and, on motion, Mr. Theo dore S. Shannon was called to the chair, and John Thompson was appointed Secretary.
Mr. Joseph R. Lyndall was nominated as the Republican candidate for Congress for the First

The meeting then adjourned, to meet on Friday night at 7½ P. M.

The vote stood—Joseph R. Lyndall, 22; John M. Butler, 13.

Second District.

The Convention was called to order at 10 A. M. by the President, John E. Addicks, Esq. The following resolution was offered by G. H. Woodward:

Resolved, That this Convention, representing the Union Republican citizens of the Second Congressional District of Pennsylvania, fully endorses the firmness, patriotism, and fidelity to principle of the Hon. Charles O'Neill, and feeling proud of the record of his votes, and of his constant and untiring devotion to his constituents and his country, does unanimously renominate him to the earnest support of the loyal Union voters of the district.

Whereupon he was nominated by acclamation. A committee of one was appointed to introduce him to the meeting. He made the following

SPEECH OF MR. O'NEILL. Mr. President and Gentlemen:-I thank you for your unanimous approval of my course, and assure you that I am nattered by receiving the nomination from a convention composed of such delegates as are before me, who are here in behalf of the people of the Congressional district which is unsurpassed in the intelligence of the citizens, the magnitude of its interests, and its patriosism and loyalty. I feel proud that I am selected for the third time as the nominee of the Union Republicans of such a district. I beg to say to you that I will stand by the principles of our party. which, under the guidance of a kind Providence, will preserve to us the results of the victories of our soldiers in the field and of our navies on the sea, and which alone can restore to usour country upon a basis of lasting peace, undoubted loyalty, prosperity, and happiness. The Rebellion has been conquered at the expense of thousands of our best men; the traitors have been subdued, and are at our mercy; our kindness to them has been spurned, and at this very time they, their aiders, and sympathizers, are seeking places in the Government, and are demanding, while yet unsubmissive, a return to the halls of national legislation. They claim the seats which they voluntarily relinquished, while in their hearts they still have a bitter, unrelenting, and deep-seated wait the opportunity to speak out boldly and re-enact the scenes of the past five years, even to the destruction of the country and its now free institutions. Defeated but not penitent, they would subvert the blessings of the wise legislation of the present patriotic Bepublican Congress, and would undo the acts of your loyal representatives, who with unfaltering devotion to duty, have carried out the wishes of the I believe that treason is a crime, people. I believe that treason is a crime, that traitors must be punished, and the offense made odious. I think I fairly represent the views of this Convention and those who elected it, when I affirm that the safety of the country demands that traitors should be punished. I am satisfied that those whom I have the honor to represent sincerely and truly wish to see our country united, and would welcome the day when every State in the Union will be lovally represented in Congress. But, while believing this, I am also satisfied that the loyal people of this district would never consent that their Representative shall so far forget the lessons of the past as to advocate or vote for the admission of a hitherto disloyal man, until all tests and constitutional guarantees be adopted and carried out. I am for adhering to the action of the majority of Congress. I am convinced that the plan of reconstruction as resolved upon by its past session is the true plan, and that the Presidential policy, if carried out, would never give us peace, would never cement us as one undivided people. Again I thank you for this complimentary bestowal of your favor. I will endeavor to represent you faithfully. I will in every way in my power strive to legislate for your interests, whether manufacuring, mechanical, or commercial. I will ever be ready to advocate and vote for such protection to our industry as will aid in the further development of the great resourcesall over our country. From the hills and valleys come the tidings of our success. With General Geary for standard-bearer we canedious and traitors punished. The Convention then adjourned. Third District.

not fall. We will go on to victory, and prove to our patriotic co-workers in other States that

Pennsylvania is true to the country, and that by a majority of thousands upon thousands she will reaffirm the doctrine that treason must be made

The Convention was called to order at ten o'clock, and William Sinker was elected President, and B. F. Dennison Secretary. A motion was made that the Hon. Leonard Myers, who has already represented this district twice, be renominated by acclamation, which motion was carried unanimously.

On motion, a committee of one from each ward was appointed to escort Mr. Myers into the hall and inform him of his nomination. He entered amid loud and enthusiastic cheering. When quiet was restored, he returned thanks to his constituents in the following remarks:—

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Convention:-In accepting this unanimous nomination, the third I have received from the people of the Third Congressional District, let me tender to them and to you my grateful acknowledg-ments for this fresh token of their confidence, and my assurance that I shall again endeavor to worthy of it.

My previous nominations and elections took place when we were engaged in a war to crush Rebellion and maintain the supremacy of the Union; and I point with pride to the fact that I never cast a vote or breathed a word which could win applause from Rebels or traitbrs; that I never failed by voice and vote to uphold the sacred cause of "Liberty and Union," in which the sword of the nation was unsheathed.

That cause has triumphed. The war ceased by our absolute victory. The Rebels did not lay down their arms, as has often been mistakenly asserted. Our gallant defenders wrested them from their hands after rivers of blood had been shed, and the loyal masses had laid not only their wealth, but nearly every household its first-born, on the alter of our country. A victory so complete should have won for us every guarantee for lasting happiness. Peace, indeed, seemed about to hallow us with uniindeed, seemed about to hallow us with unversal blessings, when the beloved Chief, who twice had received the suffrages of the people, was foully murdered by the very spirit of slavery which animated and controlled the Retellion. Yet the nation, burdened with the heaviest grief, and fired with a terrible indignation, swerved not from its magnanimity. The erring, misguided, criminal South was welcomed back with hossonas. Those who had expected confiscation, expatriation, or death expected confiscation, expatriation, or death were astounded to find a leniency and knotness they scarcely understood; the North only insist-ing on punishment for the traitors who had plotted all this ruin, and guarantees against a recurrence of rebellion.

On this the whole country was agreed; the North demanded both. The South expected, if it did not accede to them; and he who under the law had become President was foremost in pressing the demand so decidedly, so repea edly, with such apparent earnestness that that the world took note of it.

The patriot who will stand in history second only to Washington-Abraham Lincoln-ex-pressly left to Congress the question of representation from the States to be reorganized.
His successor and the Secretary of State, in the reorrespondence with the Provisional Governors, did the same; and thus the Tnirtyninth Congress, assembled fresh from the people, filled with their views, and, by common consent, their only authorized exponents.

In the largest spirit of liberality, with be-coming dignity of discussion, after due delibera-tion—only lengthened by the bitterest opposition—we proposed to the several States an amendment to the Constitution, so fair, so equal to every section, so generous to the conquered. that to have asked less would have left loval men South and North at the mercy of those who tried to break up the Government, and upon the adoption of which every Southern State may, like Tenne-see, witness its loyal members on the floors of Congress.

Yet the present chief Magistrate of the coun try has thrown his whole power and induence, political and personal against us, denouncing Congress—the Union Republican members of which outnumber the whole opposition, adding all those elected from the South—as an illegal body hanging on the verge of the Government and omitting no occasion to stigmatize its acts as unconstitutional.

No wonder Union men are again fleeing from the South. No wonder that we find riots in Memphis, and massacre in New Orleans; that Kentucky elects a Rebel to high office, or North Carolina repudiates her new Constitution. No wonder if cheers greet the names of Lee and Davis once more in the South, and the in Blue' are again branded in secession journals as "Yankee hirelings." No wonder that redhanded Rebels depantly dictate the terms which they will consent to resume their fealty to

If to be conservative means to guard the fruits plucked by the bravery, and agony, and death of our defenders-if it means to keep power-no matter what their political views-in the hands of those only who never tried to pull down the American flag-if it means to preserve the bless ings of liberty for ourselves and our posterity, then, and then only, I am a conservative.

If to be radical is to be radically for the Union: radically against treason and traitors; radically in favor of the will of the majority and the rights of the people against the des potic power of any one man, then, gentlemen, and not otherwise, you may count me a radical And now, what more can I add? You know my record. I shall be true to it; true to those who tought our battles, and those who sympa thized with them; true to the verdice of the last two Presidential elections; true to the Union men of the South, many of whom gather in Philadelphia in a few days to tell the

I have no tears of the people. They believe, as Andrew Johnson did, and as I do, that treason s a crime and should be made odious. They are spurning at every side the bribes of office which their own votes secured, and which they will not sacrifice honor or principle to retain. Their common sense cannot be duped by the high-sounding phrases of scheming politicians, or the honeved promises of sudden converts

I am always willing to abide their decision, and I have firm faith that Pennsylvania, in October, will rebuke the miscrable plottings of the Doolittle Convention by an arrest training of the jority for John W. Geary, the soldier, and the cause which he and his comrades, on land and sen, rendered illustrious forever as the triumphant sentiment of the American people. After Mr. Myers had concluded his speech, a committee of one from each delegation was appointed by the chair to draft a series of resolutions expressive of the approbation of the Convention in Mr. Myers' Congressional course. The following is the report of the committee:-

THE RESOLUTIONS. Resolved, That this Convention, in presenting the name of the Hon. Leonard Myers for re-election to Congress, believe that they reflect the wishes of the Union citizens of the Third Congressional District. That his course as a legislator: his eloquent efforts on behalf of our city and State; and above all, his manly and able vindication of the rights of the people, whether against treason and traitors, or Execu-tive usurpation, commend him to the masses as eminently worthy of a triumphant re-election. Resolved. That the thanks of the people are especially due to him for his unswerving fidelity to the cause of the Union and his constant efforts on behalf of the soldiers and sailors who fought to preserve it. Resolved, That we believe "that treason is a crime, and should be made odi-ous;" that traitors should take back seats in the work of reconstruction, and the Government be intrusted only to the bands of oval men; and the fidelity of the Hon, Leonard Myers to these principles, as well as his ability. experience, and worth render Lim a standard bearer for whom welconfidentlyjask the suffrages of our fellow-citizens.

The Convention then adjourned with cheers for Myers, Geary, and Curtin.

Fourth District. The Congressional Convention of the Fourth District met this morning in the third story of the old Spring Garden Hall. The meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock, and the following officers appointed temporarily:-Chairman-Mr. David Cramer, Fourteenth

Secretaries-Mr. John N. Hagev, Fifteenth Ward; J. Alexander Simpson, Twenty-fourth

Messrs. Johnson, McCauley, and Curry wer appointed a Committee on Credentials. After the report of the Committee it was moved that a committee of five be appointed to prepare resolutions. The Chair named the following gentle men:-Messrs. Henry, Israel R. Springer, Daniel Steinmetz, Henry Davis, and George A. Smith, who then retired. Mr. J. Alexander Simpson moved that Hon W. D. Kelley be nominated by acclamation, which was carried without a dissenting voice, and with great applause.

Mr. Simpson moved that a committee of one from each Ward be appointed to wait on Mr. Kelley, and inform him of his nomination. The following gentlemen were appointed:-Messrs. J. A. Simpson, Twenty-fourth Ward; H. Davis, Fitteenth Ward; R. T. Roberts, Twenty-first Ward; H. Corman, Fourteenth Ward; L. F. Altemus, Twenty-seventh Ward.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

The Committee on Resolutions then presented the following:—
Whereds, It is important, in a great crisis like the present, to confide the management of public affairs to well-tried and faithful public servants;

And whereas, The Congressional actions o' our distinguished Representative, Hon, William D. Kelley, have been such as to merit and com-mand the confidence, not only of his constituents, but of the loyal men of the whole country. Therefore Resolved, That Hon. William D. Kellev is hereby declared to be the unanimous nominee of this Convention. Resolved, That the President be instructed to appoint an Executive Committee of one from

The resolutions were adopted, and it was moved that a committee of five be appointed to convey a copy of the same to the Union League. The chair appointed Messrs, F. Geigler, of the Twentieth Ward; George J. Young, Fourteenth Ward; J. A. Simpson, Twenty-fourth Ward; J. R. Bowles, Fifteenth Ward; R. R. Roberts, Twenty-first Ward; and J. Hutchinson Kay. Twenty-seventh Ward.

The Committee returned shortly in company with Mr. Kelley, who was received with great cheering.

SPEECH OF JUDGE KELLEY. He returned his thanks to the Convention, and said, that many thousands of yeople in the South, who were not now represented in Congress, would join with him in returning thanks for their choice, Further, though they bad sometimes censured conscientions motives. He said he wanted a revised tariff, a reduction in taxes; and though he would labor to obtain those ends, yet his great object would be to restore the Union as a Union of States with equal rights, where the voice of every citizen might be heard, and where they could discuss freely and unmolested religious, literary, or his actions, yet all that he had done was from political subjects. The Chair then appointed Messrs, Joseph G. Rittenbouse, Fourteenth Ward; A. W. Curry, Fifteenth Ward; Horsee Hill, Twenty-fourta Ward; J. Hutchinson Kay, Twenty-seventh Ward; G. A. Smith, Twenty-first Ward; and Henry Todd, Twentieth Ward, as an Executive Committee, and the Convention then adjourned with cheers for Kelley, Geary, and Curtin.

Republican City Convention. PROCEEDINGS THIS MORNING.

The Convention met at 10 A. M. Temporary President. William Elliott, of Seventh Ward, Chairman of the Republican City Executive Committee. Temporary Secretaries, R. T. Gill, of Second Ward, J. Hill, of Ninth Ward.

There was a large and enthusiastic gathering. None but delegates and the reporters were admitted into the hall. Wilham R. Leeds, Samuel Sutcliffe, Samuel Shellmire, Isaac McBride, W. Rittenhouse, David Banks, and J. J. Bouviere were appointed the Committee on Credentials,

There was a resolution to the effect that none but delegates be admitted to the meetings. After some preliminary business, temporary appointments, etc., the Convention adjourned to meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon, when the real business of the Convention will be pro-

Legislative Nomination.

David Wallace has been renominated for the Legislature by a unanimous vote, and pledged himself to support Congress, and Andrew G. Curtin for United States Senator.

The Convention of the Ninth Legislative District this morning unanimously nominated Frederick Dittman.

CROSBY ART ASSOCIATION .- As will be seen by the following certificates, the success of the enterprise of the Crosby Art Association is guaranteed beyond a doubt. The fact of Samuel M. Nickerson, Esq., having become responsible in a pecuniary point of view for the distribution of the premiums announced, or the refunding of the money paid by subscribers, and being himself endorsed by a number of wealthy and influential citizens, leaves no room for doubt that with Mr. Crosby's known ability in managing such an undertaking, the enterprise will be brought to a successful consumation:—

To the members of the Crosby Opera House Art Association:-The sale of certificates in the Association has already been so great as to enable me to state that the distribution of pre miums heretofore announced will be made to their satisfaction, or the money refunded. U. H. CROSBY, Actuary A. A.

Having the utmost confidence in the ability of Mr. Crosby to carry out his enterprise, I hereby guarantee his undertaking as above announced.

SAMUEL M. NICKERSON. Chicago, August 21, 1866.

The undersigned, members of the committee appointed to superintend the awarding of pre-miums to members of the Crosby Opera House Art Association, take pleasure in stating that we have full confidence in the integrity of Mr. Crosby and in the responsibility of Samuel M. Nickerson, Esq. his guarantor, and assure the mblic that we believe the active proposal will be carried out in good ravin;—

PICKPOCKETS AT THEIR TRADE. - There were numerous arrests of the members of this fraternity. During the crowded state of the streets on the arrival of the President and his party, they had a fine time for operating. John Hackett, one of them, was arrested at Ninth and Spruce for picking the pocket of a gentle man of a gold watch. As soon as he had secured the watch he, by a sleight of hand, transferred it to another pocket of the same gentleman, but was seen in the manœuvre and promptly secured. He was held by Alderman Tunison for a further hearing. There were numerous other arrests made.

ROW AMONG THE POLITICIANS,-Last evening there was quite a rumpus kicked up at the hall corner of Flith and Wharson streets. John Bastian broke into the room shortly before 8 o'clock, and acted in a very violent manner towards the officers of the election. Bastian then, after chasing the officers out of the room, seized the ballot-boxes, and scattered the tickets over the floor. Bas-tian is the man under bail far killing Ex-Alderman James F. Harmer. He was not arrested.

LARCENY .- Henry Young was arrested last night on a warrant issued some days ago for stealing a note for $400, some money, and a watch, from the trunks and clothing of boar lers at Frederick Doyle's hotel, at the corner of Fortieth and Market streets. The articles were stolen some time ago. Young is a bad character. and has been up fer thieving before, and there are other warrants impending over his head. He boards at the Ohio House. He had a hearing betore Alderman Maule who committed him for

A WICKED FELLOW .- Thomas McVey was arrested at Nineteenth and Filbert streets, charged with stabbing a man in the side with a small penknife. Both parties were drunk, and got into a quarrel, and finally to blows, at Twenty-second and Cuthbert streets, near the Gas Works. During the melec MeVey stabled his opponent in the side, inflicting a very severe McVey was held in $2000 ball for a further hearing, by Alderman Jones.

Suspicion of Larceny .- James Hand was arrested on suspicion of stealing a watch. hain, and revolver from a boarding-house at Sixth and Callowhill, by Sergeant J. T. Murray From the testimony it appears that Hand, while in liquor, admitted to some females that he knew where the stolen articles were. committed by Alderman Hay in default of $300

CHOLERA.-There were ten cases of Asia tic cholera reported to the Board of Health since our report of vesterday. Of these four cases were fatal. It is curious to watch the finctuations in this disease. At one time it apfinctuations in this disease. At one time it ap-pears to be dying out, then it breaks out worse than ever.

PERSONAL.-Brevet Major-General Edgar M. Gregory, late Assistant Commissioner of Freedmen's Atlairs in the State of Texas, has arrived in Washington. General Gregory a Philadelphian, and the originator of our local militia, the Home Guards.

FORT DELAWARE TRANSFERRED .- Recent orders from the War Department announce that, by direction of the President, Fort Delaware has been excluded from the Department of Washington, and embraced in the Department DEPARTURE OF THE PRESIDENT.—This morning about 7.05 the President and his suite left in their carriages, bound for Walnut street wharf, en route to New York. General Grant. Admiral Farragut, and Secretary Seward rode with him, as yesterday, followed by Secretary Welles and his family, and followed, also, by his suite in open carriages. The City Troop escorted the illustrious cortege to the landing. Through Chesnut street, as the party drove slowly down OR WILL BE TAI the street, there was not much demonstration of any kind. The hour was most too early, and the business portion of the community were at home eating their breakfast. Severa! hundred persons, however, foilowed on the sidewalks, eager to get a glimpse at the features of the President and the old Admiral and General Grant. There was an entire absence of cheering or any noisy demonstration whatever, and no one a square off would have been aware of the presence of the distinguished party.

A Correction .- Mr. Riehl, who keeps the beer saloon on Girard avenue, above Shacka-maxon street, begs us to state that Samuel Scott, referred to in our columns yesterday, did not lose any money at his establishment. Scott attempted to extract $35 from him on the pretense that he had lost it in his saloon, and when refused, made an assault on him.

ROBBERY .- William Wood and John Kane were arrested for being concerned in a series of robberies of stores on Chesnut and Market streets. Shawls, etc., were stolen from Wat-sons & Co.'s; cloth and clothing from Snyder & Co.'s. Market street; and other goods from Lewis & Co.'s, on Chesnut street. They were both sent up for trial.

VISITOR.—Rev. Sylvester Scovel, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Pittsburg, is the guest of his brother, Senator Scovel, at Camden.

THE PRESIDENT ON THE COTTON BALE .- "Gentle m:n of Macon, Ga., vour cotton bale has come safely to hand although it is too large to handle. It is a tremendous gitt, quite overwhelming; in tact, both literally and figuratively. I think I shall send it to the Paris Exposition, as a bint to Napoleon that he must collen to the U.S. very extensively. into the scale with human health and often human life, it is hardly worthy of consideration at all. My Buchn (Helmbold's) will continue to be made as formerly, and if it cannot be maintained at present prices, they will have to be advanced to meet the advance in the price of material. THE PRESIDENTIAL TRIP.

ARRIVAL OF THE PARTY IN NEW YORK.

The President at Treaton. TRENTON, August 29 .- The train stopped here five minutes, when the President and the distinguished gentlemen of the party ascended to the railroad platform, closely pressed by the very large crowd, and amid continuous cheering, Mayor Mills informed the President it was his pleasure to introduce to him Alfred Reed, President of the City Council, who then stated it was a great privilege to have with them. though but for few moments, the Chief Magistrate of the nation, who was doing all he could to restore all the States to their privileges in the Union. In the name of the people of Trenton, he extended the municipal bospitalities.

After the cheering of the crowd had ceased. President Johnson returned his sincere thanks for the honor paid to him, and for their manifestation of kindness and respect; and this com-pliment was the more to be appreciated as it came from the residents of a city connected with such interesting historic associations. His efforts had been to administer the Government. on correct principles, and to fully restore the Union for which our fathers fought and bled. The crowd again hearilly cheered. Salutes were fired, and patriotic airs played.

Secretary Seward said: — "Gentleman and iellow-citizens of New Jersey:—You see before you General Grant, who represents the army (cheers); you see before you Admiral Farragat, who represents the navy (cheers). Both the army and navy have done their whole daty. You see before you the President. He has done his whole duty. It we are now to have peace and union, and one common country, our duty is all done, and it is with you, the resple, to do yours." General Grant and Admiral Farragut mounted the steps, and were the recipients of hearty congratulations. The train then moved off, amid cheers.

It should here be stated that thus far we have been accompanied from Philadelphia by A. W. Markley, a director of the Camden and Amboy Railroad Company, who has been unremitting in his polite attentions.

Arrival of the President at New York. New York, August 29.-The President and party were met at Pier No. 1 at 1 o'clock, by the Special Committee appointed by Common Courcil, and escorted by a division of cavalry, preeded up Broadway to the City Hall.

Broadway was thronged with people, whom.

thusinstically welcomed the distinguished prty. On their arrival at the City Hall, the motoers of the Common Council and Heads of Doart-ments were presented to the President y the Mayor, who delivered a formal addr's on behalf of the city.

At the conclusion of these ceremoses, the procession passed out of the Park and occeded to Fifth avenue and Fourteenth stret, where the military were to be reviewed.

The procession, which was particomposed of the representatives of the meraants, mechanics, professional men, and citizes generally, was a large and imposing one. Rhode Island Delegaton. received the nomination of the Union-Republic so. Party for Represen'ative of the Fifth Legislative District.

The following resolution was unanimous y adopted:—

Besolved, 'hat whilst this 'Conven ion disclaims extering pledges from the candidate placed in nemination by it for Hepresentative trem the Fifth Legislative District of Penns, Ivania. yet we cannot refrain from echoing peblic sentiment in recommending, for the high and responsible positio o' United States Seas or, Governor Andrew G. Curtin, the pairfet Chief Magist ate of our Commonwealth—the soldiers' Friend—the upright citizen—the able Statesman, whose conduct during the most trying period of our connex's history won the enthusias ic appliand of his friends, and extorted tributes of admiration and respect from even his most bitter eponents. And we be leve that in his hands the interests of sur-great Commonwealth—would be carefully guarded and that under his indicated national legislation would be generous, natriotic and for the best interests of the wale country; frast in him as a concentrated qualities which go to make the perfect equator—oranity, interfity—experence. cloquence, courtesy and extensive knowledge of the aims and requirements of the mercantie, mining and industrial classes of our nation.
