PRUSSIA.

General Annexation Bill Passed and Wholesale Absorption of Territory.

BERLIN, September 7 - Evening. - The bill which was recently submitted to the Prussian Legislature, having for its object the annexa-tion of the territories of the late kingdom of Hanover, Electoral Hesse, the Grand Duchy of Nassau, and the late Free City of Frankfort, has been passed in the Chamber of Deputies. The Prussian Constitution will go into effect in each instance, in the above-named places, on the first day of October next (1867) year.

The Danish Duchies.

Count Bismark has prepared, and is to submit a bill for the annexation to the kingdom or Prussia of Schleswig-Holstein, save a district of Holstein, which he proposes to incorporate with the Grand Duchy of Oldenburg, lying, as it does, close to the principality of Lubeck, or Eutin, which torms the second portion of the three divisions which go to make up the Olden-burg Duchy.

SAXONY.

Cession of an Important Fortress to Prussia.

BERLIN, September 7-Evening.-The Government of Saxony, in its negotiations for peace with Prussia, has agreed to give up to that kingdom the fortress of Konigstein-a place of historic interest, and formerly of vast importance to the rulers of Saxony. The fortress of Konigstein is situated about seventeen miles southeast of Dresden, on the river Elbe. It is built on a huge rock, standing four hundred and fifty feet high, so that the fortress, towering at such an altitude, and affording a most extended range of observation on every side, is one of the few in Europe which has never been taken in war. During war, or Chitt in times of internal commotion in Dresden, the Orles Lam Frat royal treasures of Saxony have always been deposited in the Konigstein lortress. Grai

WILMINGTON, DELAWARE.

At the municipal election which took place in Withington (Del.) on Tuesday last, the Repub-licans achieved a signal triumph, having carried every ward and elected every candidate. The victory is the more glorious, as the Republicans went into the contest without organization or concert of action, while their opponents were completely marshalled and brought out their entire strength. The whole number cast for Mayor was 2369 (against 1415 in 1865) of whom the Republicans polled 1322, and the Democrats 1041. Bepublican majority, 281. The Union men hope that with a more thorough organization, they will give such a majority at the state election in November, as will secure the election of the Republican State ticket.

Maximilian Packing Up-Omcia Information Fixes His Departure at an Early Day, Etc.

NEW ORLEANS, September 7.—The statement current here that Maximulian had abdicated the throne of Mexico, is only one of those rumors which usually precede approaching realization of important public events. I have very high Government authority for stating that the rumor is in no wise true, though it is known officially here that Maximilian some weeks since had packed up his effects for the departure since had packed up his effects for the departure, access to the palace having been denied for several days, while this was being done. It is also believed that the French authorities abso-lutely refused to permit his final departure from the country at that time. The so-called Em-peror will, however, leave Mexico at an early day, but not abdicating, as is stated, in favor of Prince Napoleon. President Juarez has not yet arrived at Matamoras, though he will soon be in LEAVENWORTH, Kansas, September 4, -A re-port received direct from Fort Laramie states that the Indians on the road in the vicinity of that post have commenced depredations again. Within two or three days of the time he left, some fifty or sixty men had been killed, and a large amount of property stolen and destroyed, He also reports that the only two tribes on the road who are supposed to be friendly are the Pawnees and a band of the Cheyennes. In the engagements the troops at Fort Laramie had with the savages, the former were obliged to beat a hasty retreat back to the garrison, losing some forty men. On the Smoky Hill they have stopped the stages, and given them seven days to take all their stock off the road. for indemnity.

An exceedingly long history of the Russian asaesin Korokozoff and his associates, puo-listed by the Northern Post of St. Petersburg, and given in English by the Berlin correspon-dent of the London Times, contains some curr-cus particulars. The revolutionary society which was started in the year of the last Great Exuibition of London, and which adopted for its title "Land and Liberty," determined, after the failure of the Polish insurrection and the proved impossibility of gaining any appreciable amount of Russian sympathy for the Poles, to change its name, and styled itself "The Organization." An adjunct to this associa-tion, entrusted with purely executive functions, was appropriately enough called "Hell;" and its members were charged with the duty of punishing those members of the larger society who hesitated to commit theft, murder, and and given in English by the Berhn corresponwho hesitated to commit theft, murder, and Johnson Candidate Defines his Position-The Non-Payment of Bounties to Maryland Soldiers.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE EVENING TELEGRAPH] BALTIMORE, September 8, 1866.

Hon, Charles E. Phelps, the nominee of the conservatives for the Third Congressional District, made a long speech last night to a large meeting of his constituents, accepting the nomination. He goes flat-footed on the Johnson platform. Half his audience were old Democrats and former Secessionists, officeseekers and office holders. He failed to explain his contradictory course and votes in Congress. Much excitement exists here now about the Comptroller refusing to pay just dues, bountics, etc., to Maryland soldiers, when their claims are legally authenticated and money in the State Treasury to pay them.

THE FENIAN CONGRESS.

Fourth Day's Session.

TROY, September 7 .- In the Fenian Congress to-day General Sweeney made a somewhat lengthy statement of the military resources and requirements of the organization He claimed that he first of all gave it a military character, which, in his opinion, it should continue to have. Mistakes had been made, but experience has been gained, and he was compelled to dis grace two members of his staff for cowardice before the enemy, but in the main he had been fortunate in the selection of his subordinates.

The General's remarks were listened to with the greatest attention, and received the warm commendation of many delegates who before had been hostile to him. The General's accounts have been under investigation by a committee to-day, and I am able to state that they have been approved. The Committee find vouchers for every dollar expended. Sweeney has vmdi-cated himself tully before the Congress, and will be continued in his present position beyond a doubt. His enemies concede this, and all danger of a rupture in the Brotherhood is thus avoided. The report of W. Dunn, Financial Secretary, has also been approved.

During the session this afternoon, a resolu-tion was introduced, returning thanks to General Banks and Congress for their expressions in reference to the Neutrality laws. This excited a ively discussion, during which Andy Johnson Seward were severely denounced. At one time there was great excitement in the hall, so much so as to attract the attention of citizens the streets. There is a rumor to the effect that the Boston delegation has gone home, for what reason rumor does not say. There is no doubt whatever but that both Sweeney and Roberts are making efforts to preserve and mote the organization. If any other result is reached, the blame must rest with the few dostructives in the Congress. The following memorandum, which purports to be and un-doubtedly is a synopsis of Sweeney's report was picked up on the floor of a hotel here.

There is internal and other evidence of its Money required at Pittsburg Conauthority. vention, $45,000; arms purchased, 10,000; ammunition, 200,000 rounds. All the money subscribed by Senate wing up to time of attack on Canada, $103,000; amount promised, $170,000; men reported for duty at time of call at Malone, 1100. No one in the organization is holding positions worth mentioning. He believes that more than 3006 men could be got together anywhere without the excitement of victory. This Congress represents about 80 curcles numbering 6000 members, which will supply about one fighting man to every 12 of their number, and will not contribute more than about $30,000 for revolutionary purposes.

THE CLEVELAND CONVENTION.

Letters from Dr. S. H. Tyng and Captain John L. Worden Endorsing the Call for the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention at Cleveland.

LETTER FROM THE REV. DR. TYNG.

St. George's Rectory, September 6, 1866 -General Charles (., Halpine, -- My Dear Sir; -- My home engagements and personal indimities render it impossible for me to give the time or effort which would be involved in the journey and duty you propose. I should be glad to give you a different reply, if it were in my power. I have read with great delight Mr. Beecher's unan swerable letter, and desire to thank him for the fidel ty and power with which he has accomplished so good a work. I shall honor the soldiers and sailors of the nation it they give their cordial and united support to the sound and healthful principles which he proclaims and sustains. It will be a clorious result if the people of the land unite with them in the universal determination, that union, liberty, and generous interpretation and action shall end all the controversies of the day in which we live, in the immediate and complete reconstruction and combined establishment of our whole nation as one harmonious and prosperous people. That a conquering army should desire this cems but accordant with the spirit of a generous victor. That they should assemble in peaceful ellowship to avow and to promote it, is but exercising their rights as citizens and fulfilling their obligations as intelligent leaders of their fellow-men; and that ministers of a religion of peace and good-will should sustain and encourage a purpose and movement so honorable to the nation, would appear to be the plainest dietate of duty in the position which they sustain and relations to the people among whom they dwelt.

I cannot refuse, therefore, to approve and en-dorse the meeting which is proposed, or the plattorm on which it avows itself to stand. Your friend and servant, with much regard, STEPHEN H. TYNG.

LETTER FROM CAPTAIN WORDEN, UNITED STATES

NAVY. UNITED STATES STEAMSHIP "PENSACOLA," NEW YORE HARBOR, September 6, 1866.-My Dear General:-1 am in receipt of your kind invitation of the 4th instant, to participate in the Con-vention of officers, to be held at Cleveland, Ohio, "to approve the present plans of recon-struction, and the President's policy generally. Be assured, General, the policy of sustaining the Administration meets my hearty approval, and nothing would give me greater pleasure than uniting with my old companions in arms in this effort; but as my ship will sail in a few days to oin the South Pacific Squadron, I will not be in the United States when the Convention assem bles. During the Rebellion my whole heart and soul were enlisted in the effort towards its suppre-sion, and now that it is suppressed, I feel it a pleasant duty to extend to our repentant Southern brethren the right hand of fellowship Generous magnanimity towards a fallen foe is characteristic of brave men, and this principle is eminently shown in the sentiments so warmly and frequently expressed lately by the brave men who participated in subduing the Re-

Trusting that the Convention, by its wisdom. moderation, and patriotism, may strengthen the hands of the Government in its efforts towards reconstruction and conciliation, and meet the views and support of all patriotic citizens, espe-cially these who served in the army and navy during the Rebellion, I remain, very truly, yours, other crimes declared necessary by the chiefs of the organization. "In case of necessity, were expressly enjoined for enlarging the funds." The association counted especially upon the assistance of "members of the University and other literary people;" and its exactions were seconded by "the pernicious principles disseminated by the professors in the various public institutions.

The report avers that the following was the programme of the association: -"The peasants were to be told that all landed roperty was theirs, and that the noblemen and the Government generally were their natural enemies. Elementary schools and small industrial associations (on the same model as those so frequent in Russia) were to be established in order to graft socialistic doctrines upon the pup is and members, and through them the people generally. For the same purpose libraries were to be opened and lectures gratis to be given in provincial towns, the whole organiza tion to be dependent upon the directions of the Central Society at Moscow. Above all, the village teachers were to be gained over, and a spe cial agitation was to be kept up along the banks of the Volga, through the facilities offered by he numerous steamers on that river. requisite pecuniary means were to be supplied by the members and voluntary contributions to be collected among the public, under the pro text of charity. There were two factions in the society, one of which proposed to pave the way for revolu-tion by the gradual spread of socialistic principles. The other, more impatient, advocated immediate revolution, and sooner or later intended to resort to the extreme measure of murdering the Czar. Among the latter was Korokozoff, who offered to execute the terrible crime at once. The idea of having recourse to extremes was first mooted at the time of Korokoz frs cousin, a principal leader in the social-istic circles of Moscow, returning from a journey to St. Petersburg to his usual residence. at St. Petersburg he had made the acquaintance of a person of extreme revolutionary views, who had been abroad in 1865, and had just come back from Switzerland. Korokozoff's cousin no sooner got home than he informed his political friends of the existence of a Central European Revolutionary Committee, which had its seat abread, and which, he added, was willing to aid the action of the society by supplying it with arms, etc. He also said that murder of sovereigns figured among the recognized tactics of the Central Committee, and that he proposed to torm an inner circle to promote the realization of that particular theory in Russia."

Y. Evening Post, last evening.

-An enterprising artist in London announces that he has painted a picture of the riots in Hyde Park, which will shortly be on view at the Pantheor.

Common Council of this city last night adopted resolutions inviting the delegation of Southern Unionists now in Philadelphia, who intend to visit certain Northern cities, to visit New Branswick, and instructing the Mayor to receive, welcome, and care for said delegates in the name of the city during their sojourn, as a mark of love, honor, and esteem for the true Union men of the South.

A Contrast.-The banquet to President Johnson was given by one hundred and forty-two gentlemen, and cost $20,643.65, an average of $145.38 each. The items are as follows :--

E Grant, Calcium lights..... F C. Kempton, badges, etc..... Edward Van Ranst, carriage..... 227.00 1,090.00 6,698-0 Band music for 24 regiments. 870 78 Sundries.......

This includes nearly $7000 for music, and about $1000 for carriages. The entertainment was every way excellent and highly creditable to all concerned. Contrast it with the expense of all concerned. Contrast it with the expense of a civic "ovation," managed by the experts who took care of Japanese Tommy. They would easily have made the expenditure $100,000, and all the "ring" and the "ring's" abundant follow-ing would have been kept in gloves and laces for a year. We will not compare the guests that gathered to this feast with those that mould that gathered to this feast with those that would that gathered to this test with tubse that would have surrounded the President, had a municipal flavor been imparted to it. The illustration has this value:—We learn that private individuals can entertain a President better and cheaper than the City Government can, and the tax-payers will not cease to be grateful to the one hundred and forty-two for doing their work so hendered and with no densar of erroriding handsomely, and with no danger of providing for it in the next tax levy. - N. Y. Commercia Advertiser.
