THE SECESSION GAVEL.—In justice to Mr. E. B. Cuyler, the gentleman who presented the secession "gavil" to the Southern Loyalists' Convention, which assembled in this city on the 3d of this month, we will attempt to refute the charge "that it was stolen from that portion of the Charleston Convention which seceded from the main Convention and assembled in the Charleston Theatre, presided over by General Bayard, of Delaware." Mr. Cuyler claims that, after the adjournment of that Convention to Baltimore, the "gavel" was returned to him by Mr. Merchant, the manager of the theatre, and he kept it all through the Rebellion, brought it to Philadelphia, and presented it to the Convenvention. This "gavel" was never used in the State Secession Convention at Charleston, South Carolina. The Charleston Courier is evidently laboring under a misapprehension. How it got into the newspapers is a mystery that will probably never be explained. We have positive proofs that this is the identical "gavel," let, the Charleston Courier say what it may. It is clearly impossible to suppose this "gavil" to be in Charleston when we know it to be in this city. The Courier was, no doubt, misinformed, or there may have been a "gavel" substituted for this one; but the gavel is now in the possession of those who will keep it safe.

HOUSE-BREAKING .--- The houses Nos. 1710 and 1712 Arch street, occupied by Mr. Clyde and Mr. Frishmuth, were broken into and robbed yesterday afternoon. The thieves, three in number, had sneaked in through the back yard and pried open a back window of one, and the door of the back entry of the other. Forcing their way into the houses, they ransacsed every-thing, and stole clothing and other articles to the value of nearly or quite $1000. Among the articles stolen were three silk velvet circulars, two fine overcoats, a set of furs, opera coats, a silver watch, and a number of coins and various other articles. The party were seen coming from the premises, and Officer Davidson, of the Sixth District police, made chase after the party. As they saw the officers coming at Eleventh and Description of the back of the second Race streets, the bundle of booty was dropped and the robbers attempted to escape. Leonard Duford, alias "Shoey Miller," was arrested, and after a hearing this morning before Alderman Jones, he was bound over for a further hearing next Monday morning in the sum of $5000. Du-ford is a notorious thief, and had just served out a term in prison a few days since.

QUICK WORK .- Officer Myers, of the Harbor Police, did up a job in a remarkably workmanilke manner yesterday. Between the night of the 12th and the morning of the 13th some river thieves pried open the fore-hatch of the schooner B. Stillman, of Great Egg Harbor, as she lay at Croskey's wharf, below Green street,

Poor THING!—A young woman in the same jail where the passassin Pellicor is confined, has failed deeply in love with that interesting Spaniard, and turns cut many tailow candles while sitting up to write him tender letters. But Pelicer is thinking more of the hempen noose than the matrimonal one; and, though they say that "Cove laughs at locksmiths," he finds that the locks of Kings county all are nothing to anirger at. Besides, Mr. Pel loce don't understand English, and his Emily has to have all her fond effusions translated by another person. Think how embartassing that is! This poor thing's case should excite the pity of all takies whose Leaux are out of jail, can talk English fuently, and wear becoming suits from No. 518 MARKER STREER, BENNET & Co. BENNETT & Co. Russell & Erbin, Manufacturers' Agents for Lines Safey:--Gent emen:--The safe telerred to in our letter of February 9, as having preserved its con entspermetiv from fire, was again subjected to a very sovere test by the fire of last Sanday night--one of the most severe dires that has occurred in San Francisco. It was taken from the ruins on Monday, and on opening, all the books and papers were found in percet coadition, not the least sign of fire being visible inside the safe: this beig the third time the safe has preserved its contenus within the past five months.
