REPUBLICAN MASS MEETING AT NA-TIONAL HALL .- A Republican meeting was held last evening, at National Hall, Market street, under the auspices of the Union League. William H. Kern, Esq., presided.
Colonel Mullen, of Tennessee, was introduced to the meeting by Mr. Goforth. He said that he came from that part of the State which had been called the field of slaughter. He said that he had done all that he could to keep back the tide of rebeilion, and he believed that did some good. He then recited a speech made by him previous to the war, describing the frightful results of civil war, and urging upon the people to abstain from any acts of rebellion. He then referred to the present condition of the country, and said this Government did not belong one man, but the whole people, and it must be governed to carry out that object. He aid not desire to interfere with the politics of this State, but at the same time the people of Penn-sylvania should see to it that the loyal men who have represented the State in Congress are re turned in October. In referring to the early political history of Andrew Johnson, he said that he (Johnson) had always made speeches which were intended to incite the brutal passions of men and to create sectional feeling. He said that the President was never in battle. He went to Nashville, and there he had a bodyguard of about two thousand, and he never wen-five miles from Nashville without that guard.

Andrew Johnson made a speech in the town in which he (the speaker) lived, and at that time he declared that treason should be made odious, and that the large plantations of the Rebels should be divided among the poor loyal whites of the State. The people of Tennessee, atter hearing these dectarations, were willing to trust him, and they did all they could to ele-vate him to the Vice-Presidency. He was con-sidered a radical at that time, but now the Fresident is fraternizing with those abused by him at that time. The speaker referred to the course of Johnson in reference to the negro, and his declaration that he would be Moses; for this speech the negroes in Nashville raised four hundred dollars and purchased a watch, which they presented to Andrew Johnson.
Albert Jervis, of Louisiana, and others, made

NATIONAL UNION WARD ASSOCIATIONS.

The friends of Andrew Johnson and his Administration assembled in the various wards last evening, for the purpose of organizing National Union Ward Associations. In the Sixth Ward, as well as in some of the other wards, the following resolutions were adopted, after the organization of the Clubs:-

Resolved, That the members of the National Union Association of this ward, composed of citizens who have laid aside their past political differences, in meeting assembled, do heartily endorse the restoration policy and general administration of President Johnson, believing it to be wise, patriotic, and statesmantike, and based upon such a foundation as will surely bring to the whole country at an early day a permanent peace and an undivided Union of the

Resolved, That we fully endorse the National Union State, Congressional, and municipal tickets presented by our recent Conventions to the voters of Philadelphia for their endorsement, and we be peak for the same that unanimity of support which is sure to bring to our cause an early victory.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the Senatorial career of Hon. Edgar Cowan, Senator from Pennsylvania, and in view to show our sincere admiration, we recommend him to the coming Legislature of Pennsylvania as our only and unanimous choice for re-election to the United States Senate.

Resolutions were also passed at the other ward meetings heartily endorsing the President's

THE GAS HOUSE INVESTIGATION.-Last evening the Select Council Special Committee appointed to make an investigation into the management of the Gas Works met to proceed with the same. There were present Colonel Page, Chairman, and Messrs. Wagner and Gray, a majority of the Committee. The Chairman stated that Mr. Barlow had been unable to attend, but would be present at the next meeting. The Committee remained in session for nearly an hour, but no witnesses attended. Colonel Page informed the other members that he had suppossed Mr. Macready, foreman of the retort house at the Point Breeze Works, four times, but he had not attended. Each time it had cost the city four doltars. He wished the opinion of the Committee in respect to sending another subpeens after him. Both Mr. Gray and Mr. Wagner thought it necessary, Colonel Page then stated that at the next meeting he would take care and have present witnesses not connected with the works, but who had a knowledge of their management. was arranged that the Committee should meet on Wednesday evening next, and on two nigata week in the future until the investigation is closed.

In the course of the evening it was informally stated that the Common Council Committee had had no difficulty in procuring the tendance of witnesses, and that the investigation by it is nearly through.

ACCIDENT ON THE READING RAILROAD-ONE MAN KILLED. On Monday night at 10 o'clock, as the freight train from Polistown to Philadelphia was a few miles below Reading, a displaced switch threw the engine and cars from the track, and sent the train into an embank ment erected for testing cannon manufactured in a neighboring foundry. The engine was com-pletely wrecked, and Mr. Griffith, the engineer, killed. His body was so thoroughly embedded in the earth and among the broken machiners that it was not found until near noon vesterday The fireman was thrown under the tender, and crushed and scalded about the lower portions of his body. When extricated yesterday morning he was still alive. He was brought to the Pennsylvania Hospital last evening. Griffith leaves a tamble in Philadelphia. leaves a family in Philadelphia. It is though that the switch was maliciously misplaced, though the object of the flendish act cannot be conjectured. .

ACTION OF CHIEF ENGINEER LYLE.—The West Philadelphia Hose and Engine Companies and the Mantua Hook and Ladder and Union Hose Companies have been put out of service temporarily, until the charge of rioting on Sunmy afternoon is investigated.

RCBBING HIS EMPLOYERS -- James Me-Closkey, for some time past in the employment of R. T. White & Co., dealers in yarn, twine, etc., was charged with the theft of twine.

Richard T. White testified that three or four onths ago he was informed that he was robbed by some one in his employ. Up to that time he had had no suspicion of it. He then commenced, under direction of the police, to mark the twine, so as to be able to identify it in case it should be brought back to the store but it was not until a day or two ago that any was taken there which could be clearly identified. After that, in company with Officer Franklin, he visited the place of a man named Dutton, at Gloucester, N. J., and there found seine and gill-net twine to the value of $120, which defendant, as he had been informed, had sold. The house of McCloskey was also visited, and about ten dollars' worth of twine found there.

Defendant being asked what he had to say to the charge, rephea "that the twine he had sold had been accounted for to the firm, and that found at the house he had taken there to put on his loom." Alderman Beitler held him in $1000

A MAD STEER .- About sundown last evening, the neighborhood of Ninth and Locust streets was terribly excited by the appearance of a large white ox, furiously mad, that came rushing down Ninth street, and turning into Locust, dashing along the sidewalks and attacking everything in his course. In the latter named street, he tossed a small boy with his horns, injuring him, but perhaps not seriously He also trampled upon a little girl. At the corner of an alley in Locust street, below Ninth, a rope attached to his horns became entangles around a tree box, arresting his progress, when a lad some afteen years old, named James Wil-son Street, approached him with a small revolver and shot him, the ball passing just below the shoulder, and doubtless penetrating the heart, for the animal fell dead. His throat was then cut. A report that the injuriated beast had killed several children attracted a large crowd and a number of policemen to the spot. It seems 'hat the animal broke loose from a drove at Arch street wharf, and had dashed from that point to the place where his mad career was thus summarily ended.

SUICIDES .- A respectably dressed man deliberately jumped from one of the ferry boats lying between Market street wharf and Camden. last evening about 7g o'clock, when the boat was about half-way across and was drowned. The boat was immediately stopped in its course and every effort made to rescue the unfortunate man, and prevent his attempt at self-destruction, but before assistance could reach him he had sunk to rise no more. Neither his name nor the cause that led to the rash act could be ascertained.

August Boch, residing at Second and Car-penter streets, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by shooting himself twice with a pistol. One ball entered his body below the right breast, and the other under the left breast, Alhough able medical advice was at once secured. the wounded man, after lingering in agony for several hours, died. Coroner Taylor was notified to hold an inquest upon the remains.

THE CONFIDENCE GAME. - A resident of Cumberland county was swindled out of $380 yesterday afternoon, by what is known as the confidence game. He was met by a man near Third and Chesnut streets, who succeeded, by means of a glib tongue and a pretended triendship for him, in gaining his confidence, and they walked together down Third screet. At the steps of the Girard Bank another man came up, and asked the swindler to settic a bill. The other professed a willingness to do so, and pulled out hundred dollar bill, and a bank check for $380. The check being objected to, the countryman was asked to cash it until they could walk as far as the Exchange. He did so, and the man who received the money went off. When they got as iar as the Exchange, the swindler said he would go up-stairs and get cash for the check. He did but neither the money nor himself has since appeared.

PETTY STEALING .- Samuel C. Lindsay, in the employ of Clement C. Biddle & Co., was charged with robbing the firm. Mr. Biddle testifled that he had known of stealing going on in the result of which was that defendant had been caught in the ast.

Howard Ashmead, employed in the store, testi fied that he saw Lindsay put a number of imported glass marbles in one of his pockets, also a wrench and other things. They were found on defendant when he was taken into custody. Fesides, he confessed to the theft of some brass locks. Committed for trial.

Entries are being made from every portion of this State, and from the adjoining districts of New Jersey. The display of live stock is expected to be very fine, and trials of speed will take place between a number of well-known thorough-bred horses.
