Do We Vote for Men or Principles ? THERE was a time when, if his satanic malesty was nominated for any office by a regular Convention of the Democratic party, he would have had no difficulty in securing an election. did it happen that the party was in the ascendancy. That day, we are glad to say, has passed. The American people are daily becoming less a party people, in the old meaning of the word. No man can be elected to a local office merely because a certain Convention puts him in nomination. It requires something more than the endorsement of a regular body of elected delegates to command the votes of the great mass of our citizens. Whether we like the fact or not, it still remains the same, that in the city of Philadelphia every day lessens the power of party, so far as local issues are concerned. A year ago the system was tairly tested and fairly settled, and the votes of 10,000 Republican citizens were withheld from a certain nominee. Hereafter, it will compel the party caucuses to be guided by something else than personal friendship in their selections. We are sincerely rejoiced at this change in the old custom of never scratching a ticket. Forty years ago the system of "caucuses" was denounced in Great Britain by all writers who treated of American politics, and it is to the Rev. Sidney Smith that we must give thanks for being the first to defend the plan. He writes :- "That the leading men of a republic should meet together, compare notes, and recommend certain parties to the confidence of the public, is both natural and proper." But when, as of late years, this recommendation amounted to a command, and any one who did not obey was ruled out of the party, a petty system of oligarchy was established, and its defeat was rendered merely a matter of time. For national offices we never believe in that resort, and we can only recommend it under the gravest circumstances in the case of local officers. In voting for all national politics, and for all candidates for the national offices, we advise every one of our Republican readers to stand by the nominee, be he acceptable or otherwise. The principle, and not the man, is the matter for settlement. The questions which will arise for decision before the officers for whom you are voting will be those which affect the very ground-work of our Government; and in all cases we recommend the sinking of all personality, and voting for the platform. Especially is this true in the case of members of Congress. It matters not how weak a man is personaliy; if you favor his principles, vote his ticket. It

They must be content with a fair and equal representation, according to their voting population. The "rotten-borough" system was an incident of slavery, and must die with it. Such is the voice of the people.

The Coming Triumph.

NEVER have the prospects of a political campaign looked brighter for the Union party than they do at this moment all over the country. The absurd and unprincipled coalition between the Democracy and the so-called conservative Republicans has proved an ignominious failure. The parties to it are already fighting each other with more virulence than they do the Republicans. Raymond and Weed say that the Democrats have sold them out, bag and baggage, to the Democratic party. The World retorts that Raymond has no honor or mith anyhow; that he is a mere political trickster; and that his real grief is on account of losing thousands of subscribers. who are dropping the Times and taking the Tribune. The Daily News says it never favored uniting with the conservative Republicans; that they can't control five thousand votes at the best; and that it matters little where they go.

The Herald, which studies public opinion as carefully as a good sea captain does his barometer, foresees the approaching storm, whose mutterings have just been heard on the Green Mountains, and in the pine woods of Maine, and bows in advance to "the voice of the mighty North."

The Presidential tour is over, and the net results show an appalling balance on the wrong side of the ledger. General Grant speaks a word in season, which the brave "Boys in Blue" understand as well as they did his voice directing a charge against the Rebels on the battle-field.

The opposition is thus utterly demoralized and broken down. They have no common rallying point, no consistent grounds of common action, no discipline, no great leaders, no enthusiasm, and really no hope of victory. Against this motley and disorganized opposition, the Union party presents a solid and unbroken front. Never were its hosts more confident of victory, never more thoroughly inspired with the enthusiasm of a great and good cause. Constitutional liberty, the integrity and independence of the great popular branch of the Government, and the future peace and welfare of the country, are committed to its hands. It has just conducted the nation sately through the perils of a tremendous war; it now proposes to lay the foundations of a lasting peace. Its doctrines have their toundation in justice; its policy is inspired by wisdom and moderation ; its triumpa will be the success of order and good government. Let every patriot then lend his best efforts to the promotion of the good cause. Victory is sure if we but do our whole duty.

Vallandigham Speaks.

MR. VALLANDIGHAM, the great Democratic leader, made a speech at Warren, Ohio, on the 17th instant. He had some trouble with the "Boys in Blue," who did not approve of his sentiments, but succeeded in finishing his speech. His closing remarks have a

The New York "Times" on Clymer. THE New York Times thus truthfully shows up the character of the Democratic nominees in this State. How can conservative Republicans support such men? The Times says :-

"In Pennsylvania the Administration candidate for Governor is one who, in his political action, resisted the Government throughout the war, who made himself utterly obnoxious to the loval men who were struggling to save the nation; and his election, by the defeat or a gallant soldier who fought with heroism and honor for the overthrow of the Rebellion, is held essential to the vindication of the President's policy. The same thing is true, p rhaps, in a less conspicuous degree, in nominations for members of Congress and for State officers of various grades throughout the country. reason of it is clear. It has been done because the Democratic party has pushed itself into the foreground of the President's supporters, and has selved the occasion to reconstruct and strengthen its own organization, rather than sustain the President upon the principles which he asserts and in the mode which he himself pointed out."

The Union Men of North Carolina for the Constitutional Amendment.

THE unconditional Unionists of North Carolina have declared for the Constitutional amendment, ex-Governor Holden making a strong speech in its favor. It would require far less pressure upon the late Rebel communities to secure the adoption of the present amendment than was necessary to secure their adoption of the Anti-slavery amendment.

THE PARTY THAT ELECTED MR. LIN-COLN .- The Age says that the radical party to-day "is the party that elected Mr. Lincoln." That is true; and every man who voted for that great and good statesman should now vote with the radicals. The cause of the Union and the Constitution; of human liberty and progress, is as much at issue to-day as when Abraham Lincoln was our noble standard-bearer. Were he alive, he would still be our leader and champion. The men who oppose us now are the men who opposed Abraham Lincoln, who maligned and persecuted him while living, and who rejoiced over his untimely death. We are engaged in the same contest that we waged so successfully during the Rebellion, and our triamph this fall will be as great a Union victory as were the election and re-election of Abraham Lincoln.

MISDIRECTED ENERGIES,-Two officious ministers of the Roman Church waited upon Jefferson Davis, not for the good of his sinstain d soul, but to convey to him an assurance of affection on the part of the Southern population. They had better devote their time to abolving him of his guilt, for if the interposition of saints does good, it will need all those in the calendar, and all the angels from Gabriel down, and all the aves and benedictes through all eternity to get him permission to dip the tip of his fingers in water and cool his tongue, when he is tormented by never-ending flames.

THE Territory of Montana is reported to have gone Democratic. Montana was the general rendezvous, during the war, of draft skedaddlers from the whole West. A few years of regular immigration will bring her all right.

Court of Quarter Sessions—Judge Ludlow. —John Faro and Michael Lastico were charged with arson in setung fire to the house on the corner of Eighth and Carissian streets, with intent to cheat and cefraud the Phœnix Insurance Company, in which they had insured. These detendants took pos-session of the house in July, 1865. They set up an Itaian hotel and saloon. It was alleged that these detendants in-ured their hquors, farmiture, and fix-tures for $L00 in the Phœnix; that after remaining in the place nearly a year their busices dim maked considerably; that they then set fire to the house; in order to obtain their insurance. It was stated that the fire occurred about eleven o'clock one night When the house was entered, it was discovered when the house was entered, it was discovered that the fiele had orginated by the burning of a plie of shavings, and other light combustibles, imme-diately under a small opening, through which com-munication between the basement and bar-room was had. After the fire had been extinzuished, the smell of coal oil was exceedingly strong, and it was onscovered that the tables, counter, and some un-burnt shavings were saturated with coal oil. At the time of the fire one of the defendants was in Boston The other cefendant had left the house safely ocked up a few moments before the fire It was also alleged that the defendants were in-

who have a to be the angle of the defendance who have the sured in the Metropolitan Insurance Company of New York for $1500, and it was stated that, from what was preserved and the ruins of what was de-stroyed, $1000 would have covered the whole. A hat made out and presented to the Phoenix Insurance Company by John Faro was read aloud by the Dis-ruct Attor ex, and was urgon unneed by the Surevoy triet Attorney, and was pronounced by the Surveyor of the Company as setting forth more than double the amount that was actually in the place On trial. In yesterday's proceedings Manus McClusky was charged with keeping a disorderly house. It was alleged that the house kept by detendant, on the corner of Seventh and "hippen streets, was a general : endezvous for drunken men and women, black and white; that these drunken people were contin-ually fighting and brawing, rendering the place an ur bearable nuisance to the neighborhood. The delepse alleged that the house was no more disorderly than any of the numerous others in the immediate n ighborhood; also, that the prosecution was brought by a party of poncemen through ma ice, not for the sake of justice The jury went out yesterday, and to-day returned a verdict of guilty.

is a small triumph for him to be elected, but his vote may cause a great triumph for an idea which may affect the very life of our republic. Fortunately, in our own city the gentlemen selected are such as no one need object to, be he ever so scrupulous. They are unimpeachable in their characters, and all four of our Congressional nominees are such as to meet support even on their individual reputation. The grand question of principle will cause a decision in favor of our cause.

But in local politics the question of voting for a man on principle does not apply. It matters little, so far as a man's ability to decide on mere local questions are conconcerned, whether he be a friend or an opponent of Congress and its policy, Hence, we are glad to see that the best men are being selected. The defeat of the objectionable nominee last year has had a wonderfully beneficial effect on the Union Conventions of this, and every man nominated is eminently fitted for the post. They are all honest men, and proven to be reliable public servants. Hence, our remarks do not affect this election, as the whole Republican ticket can be voted for by the most fastidious member of the party. But in an abstract point of view, and as a guide for our future selections of local nominees, we lay down as our maxim that no honest man is bound to vote for a candidate if he be a bad man, because a local party Convention has placed him in nomination.

Suffrage and Representation.

"THE Southern people are willing to give the negro full civil rights, to protect his life and property, to provide for the education of his children, to allow him to testify in all the courts, which is perfectly right and proper, but they are not willing that he shall control the ballot-box, and, by acting under the leader ship of bad men, injure the whole race and sap the foundations of our representative system."-Democratic paper.

-Very well. But why, then, do the South and do Northern Democrats insist that the negro shall be counted in as a part of the basis of representation? If he is unfit to vote, he is unfit to balance white Northern men's votes on the floors of Congress and in the Electoral College. If he be not fit to vote, why should he have twenty-four votes in Congress and in the Electoral College, cast by his late Rebel masters, to neutralize the vote of the entire State of Pennsylvania?

This will not do. It is not just. It is anti-democratic and anti-republican. It establishes among us a "rotten-borough" system of the most infamous character. It makes the South a veritable oligarchy. We are willing to be more than just, even generous, to the late Rebels, but we cannot consent to make them more than our equals-general interest, in going to show that the present contest is a straight-out one between the Union party and the old peace Democracy of the Rebellion :--

"He declared his approval of the terms of peace made by General Sherman to General Johnston, and intimated that Hon. Mr. Ewing was the author of them. He said there was evi-dence on record that would some day be published, showing that the Rebels had offered to yield the contest two years before, on better terms to the Government than Sherman's. That correspondence had been held with himsef, by friends of Lincoln's administration, with the President's knowledge, as to what terms of peace it would be advisable to exact. He said he heard from the tirst that Johnson was not a supporter of the Union Republican party in senti-ment; that he had not deserted them, for he never was with them. He had this from Johnson's own mouth: that the Republicans knew it. and only put him on their ticket to make posuble a doubtful election."

The Result of Pro-Slavery Divinity. BISHOP HOPKINS, of Vermont, reports in his annual address that the Theological Department of the Vermont Episcopal Institute is without students. The Treasurer also says in his report .- There are no young men in the diocese looking forward to the ministry, or preparing to enter it." "

-What other result could have been expected? Bishop Hopkins, in his fanatical support of what the great and pious John Wesley denounced as the "sum of all villanies," has arrayed himself against the liberal and enlightened moral sentiment of the age. He has done what he could to identify Christianity with a system of horrible cruelty and oppression-one against which the universal voice of Christendom is pronouncing its anathemas. We do not wonder that the young men of his diocese turn away from the ministry of such a gospel. It is a healthy sign that they do. It shows that the ianatical pro-slavery teachings of Bishop Hopkins are estimated in Vermont, as elsewhere, at their true worth.

Clymer and the War Democrats. THOUSANDS of War Democrats refuse to support Clymer, because, as General Grant says, he was a "disloyal" man during our great national struggle. He was forced upon the party by its extreme leaders. He is of the Vallandigham stripe of politics. Loyal men will not stand this. They will not be dragooned into voting for a man who has a disloyal record, and who boasts that he still adheres to it. Geary will get thousands of votes from the War Democrats. He deserves them.

Vallandigham vs. Grant. Vallandigham goes for Clymer, because Clymer has always been his friend and supporter, and is of his style of politics.

Grant goes against Clymer, and says it is an "insult" to ask any Union soldier to vote for him, because he was a "disloyal" man during the war.
