THE LATE MURDER-THE CORONER'S INVESTIGATION—FULL EVIDENCE IN THE CASE, ETC. ETC.—Coroner Taylor resumed the investigation yesterday atternoon, in respect to the murder of Mrs. Eliza M. Miller, which took place on Thursday morning last, at her residence, No. 924 Buttonwood street. The pris

Gottleib Williams, was present, and watched the proceedings with a good deal of interest.

The first witness examined was Milo M. Miller. He testified as follows:—I reside at No. 924 Button wood street; I am a millwright; have lived at No. 924 Button wood street for a number of years; I left home on Wednesday last at about 6 o'clock in the morning, leaving my wife's sister there, and my wife also, at the breakfast table; I know the prisoner; his name is Gottlieb Williams; I have seen him at my house, and I have heard of his being there; Sunday two weeks ago, when I got home, my wife said Gottlieb had been there; on Tuesday last also; she asked him if he had had his breakfast, and he said no, and she said she had given him breakfast; she said she did not give him encouragement to come, as she would not have him there; my wife did not express any fear of him; one Sunday morning, about a year ago, he was present when I was shaving; don't think he saw where I kept my razor; (razor shown;) that was kept in a drawer in the kitchen; it was never in a case; my rasor was kept in the same stand, and that is the case in which it was kept, I beheve; I have not missed anything but the razor and ring; I cannot describe the ring; my wife had had it from a child up; she made a remark that it should not come off the linger.

Sarah Wood sworn—Lives No. 926 Button-wood street; I knew Mrs. Miller; I found her dead on Wednesday afternoon at 3½ o'clock; I went in by the alley, on Buttouwood street; I put my hand on her and tound her cold; I had not seen the blood then; I called her, but got no answer; I then went to Mr. King and told him Mrs. Miller was on the floor dead; went back to the house; I saw the poker at the side of her; I saw a razor; saw Gottlieb Williams there; can't tell when it was; preity often he came there at noon; I always left as soon as he came; never heard any conversation between him and Mrs. Miller; the back door was wide open when I was there on Wednesday; it was open wide enough to let the people in the court have a full view of the body.

Adeline Neff sworn—1 reside No. 926 Buttonwood street. This witness testified to being informed of the finding of the body of Mrs. Miller by the former witness, and to the condition in which she discovered the body on the floor of the house when she went in. The witness said that the carpet was drawn up, as if there had been a scuffle; the stand drawer was open, and the razor lay at the right hand, as it Mrs. Miller had committed suicide, and such was at first the impression of the witness; Mrs. Neff knew Wil-liams; had seen him in the neighborhood often; the last time on Friday week.
Officer Rennard testified to visiting the house of Mr. Miller when the news of the murder was communicated to him at the Station; saw Williams often in that neighborhood; never at Mr.

Esther D. Owens sworn-Reside No. 924 Buttonwood street; Mrs. Miller was my sister; I left her on Wednesday morning last, at 6 o'clock; I know Gottlieb Williams; I've seen him often at our house; he was there on Sunday week; Mr. Miller was home then; it was about 11 o'clock; we had known him for a long time; when our meals were ready we always asked him to sit up to the table; my sister told me he was there on last Tuesday morning; she said he was much taken up with the parade; I think she said she gave him his breakfast; I never heard my sister express fears of him; he always came in at the back door; there are two back entrances; one goes out on Hamilton street, the other goes out into Buttonwood street; Williams was at the house on Sunday week; he asked me if I was going to my work next week, and I told him I was; he did not ask as to the time; he asked what time Mr. Miller went out to the cemetery, and what time he came home from it; the Odd Follows' Cemetery, I mean: my sister was con-nected with the Columbia Beneticial Society; she was the Treasurer of it.

and Noble streets; am a restaurant keeper; 1 know defendant Williams; have known him about five years; Williams was in my house on Wednesday morning last about 7 o'clock; my house is a square from the house in which the murder was committed; he had not been there so early in the morning that I can remember; was busy reading the morning paper; he sat behind me; I left him sitting there; he did not drink there; was temperate in his habits, and he came there to sit about.

Bridget McSorley sworn-Reside at No. 926 Hamilton street; have seen Williams passing along in that neighborhood; I remember see ing him on Wednesday morning last; it was about 7 o'clock; I saw him turn the angle towards Williams' court; did not notice where he went to.

Alice Holton sworn-I know Williams by sight; he was in the neighborhood of Mrs. Miller's at about ten minutes to 7 o'clock on Wednesday; I saw him go into the alley leading to Williams' court; I never saw Williams at Mrs. Miller's Archibald Cameron sworn-I live at the southeast corner of Ninth and Noble streets; I know defendant; saw him on Wednesday morning in Buttonwood street, near Eleventh; I noticed something on his clothes; could not say if blood or not; it was about 74 o'clock; thought he had slipped down; he was going out Buttonwood street, and he turned down Eleventh to Hamilton street; did not notice anything peculiar.

Joseph Meens testified to being with the for-mer witness when he saw Williams; noticed something peculiar in his dress; remarked that he had fallen down. Wm. Hudson testified to knowing Williams, and to the fact of some persons he knew seeing Williams washing himself on the morning of the murder.

Louisa Ritter, residing at Master and Fawn streets, testified that Williams came into the house on Tuesday or Wednesday morning last and asked for something; told him I would not give him money, but would let him have something to eat; he was there about five minutes : did not notice anything peculiar in his appear-

B. Buckback testified to seeing Williams on Wednesday morning last, at a place where he was at work, at the Robin Hood Hotel. Williams told witness that he intended to put himself out of the way, as his brothers had gone back on him; that he had had a bottle of laudanum, and would have done it before, but the cork came out of it; he afterwards went up into the slaughter-house loft and laid down; some of the men went up and saw him there; thought he had committed suicide, and was afraid to go

(At this period of the testimony, Williams laughed at the idea of the men being afraid of Honry Lake, another witness who saw him at the Robin Hood, testified to seeing on his clothes what he supposed to be spots of blood. Several other witnesses who saw him at the Robin Hood testified to the fact, but none of them noticed anything peculiar about him,

Albert Lake rode into town with him, and left him at Columbia avenue and Pidge roul coming down in the car witness gave Gottlieb a car ticket, and he handed it back again, saying that he was not going 'nto town; when they got near the depot he 'said, "Al., I guess this is the last time you", see me;" asked him what was the reason, and he said, "You'll see the full account in the papers to-morrow morning."

Gorge C. Bowers sworn-I am a draggist; haw Williams in my store on Wednesday evening, between 74 and 8 o'clock.

Prisoner-Was it not later? Mr. Bowers-It may have been later Williams-Was it not near 10 o'clock? Witness-It may have been late in the evening.

Williams-There was an old gentleman talking with you. Witness--I think there was. I sold Williams ten cents' worth of laudanum.
Willis,m Steuben, sworn-I am a hog butcher;

Williams was at the place on Tuesday morning when we were killing hogs; he was not there on I Wednesday; Williams did not get blood on him that I saw; he could not unless he fell in the gutter, and it would not stay on him if he did, as the water was running all the time.

Other witnesses testified to seeing Williams at different times after the murder and before the arrest, but nothing was noticed peculiar in his appearance,

Adam Laudenslager sworn—I know Williams and I knew Mrs. Miller; the last time I saw Williams was on Monday last.

Williams—Was it not on Tuesday?

Witness—It was on Tuesday; he said he was going up to his brother's to get breakfast; did not say anything else that I remember.

John J. McNair testined that he arrested Williams from a description he read in the paper.

liams, from a description he read in the paper; had not read it more than ten minutes before he passed, and Mr. McNair asked him it his name was not Williams, and he said it was; also if to morrow was not his birthday, and he said it was; he was then taken to the Spring Garden Street Station; some one, as they were going along, remarked about blood on his clothes, and he said he had not killed any one.

Dr. Shapleigh sworn—I made an inspection of the body of Eliza M. Miller, at No. 924 But-tonwood street, on Wednesday evening, the 19th inst., and a post-mortem examination the following day; the body, cold and stiff, was lying upon the back, apparently as it fell; the arms were flexed and drawn upwards, the lower extremities extended and tied together at the ankles (was told the tying had been done subsequent to the discovery of the body); the throat had been cut; there was a large pool of blood beneath the head and about the neck on either side; face, neck, and upper part of chest covered with blood; there was but very little blood upon the hands; not more on the right than on the left; there were three wounds of the scalp; contusions and scratches about the neck showed that an attempt had been made to choke; there were no bruises about the chest or abdomen as if the knee had been blow on the third joint of the index finger of the left hand; upon no other part of the body did observe wounds or bruises; there was a contused lacerated wound, from a blunt instrument, over the left eye, at the top of the forehead, crossing junction of the frontal and left parietal bones, one and three-quarter inchelong; this wound was nearly in the direction of a line drawn from the inner edge of the right eye brow to the top of the left ear; edge of wound were depressed, and presented a crusbed appearance; there was another wound an inch long, nearly at a right angle with the wound described, over the middle and upper part of the left parietal bone, of the same character; another wound 1½ inch long of like character, parallel with the latter on the back of the head, left side, over the upper part of the occipital bone; each of these wounds extended to the skull, and seemed to have been caused by the same instrument; the skull, which was thicker than ordinary, was not tractured; the print of a right hand could be distinctly craced in the bruises and scratches about the lower part of neck and upper part of chest, made in the attempt to strangulate; con-siderable torce had been used in its operation; the throat had been cut with a sharp instru-ment; the sterno-clido-mastoideus muscle of the right side was divided, and the wound ex-tended through the thyroid cartilage to the cor-responding muscle on the left side; the jugular vein, carotid artery of right side, the larynx and cosophagus were divided; death was caused by hemorrhage from this wound of the throat. Dr. Shapleigh said that Mrs. Miller was mur-committed by herself, but the contusions on the skull and the scars on the throat could only have been inflicted by some one else. The cane which Williams carried was shown. The Doctor said it could have inflicted the blows. At the close of the testimony the room was cleared for the deliberation of the jury, but an adjournment was had before they came to a conclusion in regard to the guilt of Williams.

CHARGE OF FRAUD. -- Before United States Commissioner Hibler, yesterday, Charles Sheck and Thomas Eagin had a hearing on the charge of using counterfeit Government inspection

They will meet in a few days.

John Lyon sworn-I am Deputy Inspector in the Second District; I know defendants; did not ow them before I saw them in this case; say them at Mr. Sharkey's house by appointment: I mean Deputy Marshal Sharkey; that was on Saturday, about the first of September; Mr. Sharkey introduced me to Mr. Sheck as the party who would give me information; we left the house together. Mr. Sparker myself and the two defendants; we went to a beer saloon and had a glass of beer; on the road there I mentioned this subject, and Mr. Sneck stated that a New York party was to come here and purchase 150 barrels of whisky, which they were to have branded or brand themselves; I wanted to know who the parties were, and the answer was, we shall know the parties on Tuesday; that is the substance of what was said then; agreed to meet them on Tuesday evening at Sheck's house; we met in; a saloon next door, Mr. Eagin being there also; we went out on the pavement, and I wanted to know how the matter was progressing; Mr. Sheck said the whisky would be shipped the next day, when he would call and let either Mr. Sharkey or myself know of it; the next day Mr. Sheck called on me and stated that the whisky had been shipped for New York; I informed the Collector of it-John H. Diehl; he said that ifty barrels had been shipped; I seized the whisky the same day; Sheck stated that day that there were to be a hundred barrels shipped for Baltimore, and I seized them at the Balti-more depot; I think the next night I met both defendants at the saloon next to Sheck's house; we went to the back part of the house; Mr. Sheck called for wine, and after drinking seve-ral bottles of champagne, I said I wanted to know who branded the barrels, as I wanted to give the information to the Collector; Mr. Eagin pulled out an envelope, from which he hauded me two $1000 bills, which, he said, "I give you as a loan;" I had not asked him to make a loan. nor said anything to him on the subject; we then took more wine, and I put the question to them again as to the branding of the barrels; they said they would tell me all about it in a few days; I informed the Collector of the receipt of the money, and paid it over to him; Mr. Sheck told me the New York party was to pay $250 for branding the barrels.

Cross-examined—I don't recollect seeing Mr. Sheck previously to the time I have named; at the time of the introduction, Mr. Sharkey introluced Mr. Sheck as the person who was to as all about it;" my object was to secure parties who were using the counterfeit brand; Mr. Sheck went with me and pointed the whisky out to me; I had no information of it, except what I got from Mr Sheck; I gave Mr. Sheck instructions to watch the matter and to give me nformation in regard to the branding; nformation I received from Mr. Sheck I found o be correct.

To Mr. Valentine-All the 150 barrels contained water, except five of them. To Mr. Brooks-Mr. Sheck old not say to me who the party was that was to make a shipment of whisky; when he spoke to me about it I did ot make any agreement with him that I recollect: I did not betruct him to have the matter consummated: I agreed that it should go on until it was accomplished: I believe that the brand would not be a genuine one.

The hearing was at this point continued until REPUBLICAN MEETINGS .- The Republicans of the Eighth Ward held a meeting last evening at Horticultural Hall, Broad and Walnut streets. The room was crowded to overflowing. Henry C. Carey, LL.D., presided. Mr. Carey made a brief address on taking the chair, after which he introduced the Hon. Charles O'Neill, who addressed the most resultant the O'Neill, who addressed the meet nz upon the political issues of the day. Speeches were also made by ex-flovernor Pollock, Joseph T. Thomas, Esq., and others.

A Union Republican meeting will be held this evening at National Hall, under the auspices of the Union League. Colonel John W. Forney will address the meeting.

The Elephant Club of the Twentieth Ward (Republican) paraded last evening in their new uniform, which is similar to the one worn by the Republican Invincibles. The Boys in Blue in the same ward paraded with them, HEARING OF THE RIOTERS,-A hearing in the case of William H. Teal, Andrew McBride, Daniel and William Price, and Charles Clifton, charged with rioting at the tire on Sunday morning, 16th inst., took place at the Central Station yesterday afternoon. The following testimony was elicited :Harvey Miner sworn-I was attending bar a

Souvier's on the morning of the fight; know Teal; did not see him or McBride at the time know Davis; do not remember seeing him a the time; saw a person getting beat.

Edward H. Davis sworn—A man came up and struck me on the back part of the head; two or three persons then dragged me into Bouvier's tavern; do not know who the men were; after they got me into the bar-room I was struck several times; I looked around and saw Teal; belong to the Weccacoe Fire Company; had no equipments on at the time; do not know whether Teal struck me or not; saw his arm raised; never aid that Teal struck me with a horse pistol, William B. Landon sworn—Was at the fire on Sunday morning; heard some one say that they were trying to take our carriage; I saw a scuille; noticed a man being beat; saw Teal; he had on a large wide brim hat; saw him beating Mr. Davis in the doorway of Bouvier's tavern; have known him for six months; he is reputed to be member of the Shiffler Hose Company. James Carroli testified that he was at the fire on the morning of the riot; found the Wecca coe's carriage on a lot near by; went into Bou-vier's botel; when he started to go out saw a tall man beating Mr. Davis upon the head; sax no rioting before this; know Mr. Teal; do no recognize him as the person who was beating Mr. Davis; a rush was made towards the Weccaco's carriage at the time the firing took

Thomas Quaid testided that he was director of the Weccacoe on the morning of the riot; he went into Bouvier's tavern; some men came in and asked him for the horn; their names wer Daniel and William Price; while going out of the door he was hit; another, McBride, had a revolver pointed at him; Clifton had one, which he snapped at witness.

Clifton ordered him to be arrested; McBride then got hold of him, and took him before Alder man Lutz; McBride is a constable in the Fire Ward; he asked some one to go after a police man: Clifton went away, and returned with an he and McBride took witness to South wark Hall; he had a warrant for his arrest, told him that he had, for obtaining goods from a tailor under false representation.

The magistrate said that McBride, Clifton, and the Prices had been held to answer at Court by Alderman Moore, upon a similar charge preferred by complainant; he would discharge hem, and hold Teal in $3000 bail to answer.

PRESENTATION .- There was a gathering at the Hall of the Republican Invincibles last night that was exceedingly pleasant, and was largely attended. Spacious as is the hall, it failed to contain the numbers anxious to witness a scene of special interest.

The well-known artists, E. & G. Bensell, painted gratuitously for this patriotic organiza tion a pair of large pictures, and also a transparency that will do duty in torchlight process sions. Banner Company A, Captain Fraley turned out last Saturday night one hundred and thirty men, most of whom were also present last One side of the transparency contains a beau tiful female figure, representing the State of Pennsylvania. On one side of her is Clymer Heister, in service attitude, presenting a scrollinscribed "My record." On the other side stands, in Union uniform, with drawn sword, upon a tattered flag of the traitors, General Geary. Over the head of the female figure is the inscription, "Which man shall I trust?" Over the obverse is a fine comic pierure, full of artistic merit. It represents a greased pole

Heister Clymer is endeavoring to climb it, and President Johnson is represented as boosting through without "histing" him at all towards it The presentation was enlivened by appro priate speeches from Colonel McMichael, Prethe Invincibles, and from Majo boun, of Kentucky, now a law student in Phila-

CORNER STONES LAID. - The corner-stone the New Mount Carmel Methodist Episcopa Church, on Germantown road, above Broad street, was laid yesterday afternoon, in the preence of a large audience. The Rev. Dr. Bartine officiated, assisted by Rev. Samuel Irvin, Rev. M. A. Day, Rev. John Thompson, and the Rev. A. E. Hunter. The congregation attached to this church have been worshipping since 1838 in a small edifice in the Rising Sun village, near the location of the new edifice. A Bible, hymn book, daily papers, etc., were placed in the

The corner-stone of the new church building the First Presbyterian Church of Cohockok was laid yesterday afternoon, at the corner of Franklin street and Columbia avenue, in sence of a large crowd. The stone was deposited in its place by Dr. Robert W. Landis, of Dan-ville, Ky., and addresses were made by Rev. I're. Reed, Harbaugh, and others. The new church edifice will have a front on Columbia avenue of 60 feet, and a depth on Franklin street of 100 feet. It will have a brown stone front, and a spire on the front 122 feet high—the height from the pavement to the top of the spire being 208 feet. The audience-room of the church will seat 1000 persons, and the lecture-room 800. The church will have but one gallery, for accommodation of the choir. The build building, when completed, will be a very handsome one and its batimated cost is $30,000.

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE FAIR.-Over three thousand entries have been made for the Pennsylvania State Fair, which commences at Easton to-day, and continues four days. Fifty blooded horses have been entered for trials of speed, and to-morrow four pacers and four trotters will compete for the $100 premium. On Thursday the $300 and the $200 premiums will be trotted for, and on Friday "Mountain Maid" and "Fanny Allen" and two or three others will trot for a Allen" and two or three others will trot for a $3000 premium. Every department of the Fair promises to be well represented.
