FIGNAL HALL .- National Hall was crowded last way to been found bold enough to declare hunself amounts of the constitution. Not one man had yet been found bold enough to declare hunself amounts of these constitution. seif opposed to these amendments. Even Henry J. Raymond is a violent advocate of the amendments, and it has been established that President Johnson first suggested these amendments in a letter to Senator Dixon, of Connecticut. This being the case, there appears nothing to discuss in the present campaign. He referred to the recent tour of the President of the United States, who had forgotten all that had been done for him by the great Union party. Starting for the city of Chicago, he forgot that the individual he is pleased to call "Andy Johnson" was not invited. And if he could not separate the individual from the officer, he should have kept both within the circle of that polished enery with which he is said to have surrounded himself at 'Vashington. (Cheers.)

The tour was a shame to the nation. At New York a reveller, at Albany a maudlin, at St. Louis a biaspinemer, at Cincinnati a demagogue, and everywhere a liar. (Cheers.) Such is the record of the President during the past tew weeks. Principles must rise superior to men, and the American recopic will be true. Mr. Johnson may use his offices, and Montgomery Blair threaten another war. Those who are mean enough to wear Mr. Johnson's collar may take his offices, but they cannot control the people. Monigomery Blair must know that the people. Monigomery Blair must know that the North is no longer to be threatened, and he may learn this—that the verdict of the Northern ballot will be enforced at the point of the Northern bayonet, (Cheers.) But there is no danger of the people ever again submitting the Government of the country to the Democratic party. No matter what it may call itself, it is

Colonel John W. Forney, the next speaker, was received with great applause. He said the common enemy admitted its defeat, and was ready to ground its arms in advance of the 9th of October. (Cheers.) It is this grand uprising of the people that appals the shivering and drunken tyrant at Washington. (Cheers.) He referred to Mr. Johnson's recent speeches, and especially his attack upon the Union Leagues. In this connection he desired to read a speech of Mr. Lincoln, made in 1864; when presented with the resolutions of the Union League, urging him as a candidate for a second term. He presented this speech of Mr. Lincoln as a contrast to the incoherent, biasphemous, and conceited rayings and harangues which have falten from the lips of the President of the United States, made the successor of Mr. Lincoln by the bullet of John Wilkes Booth, (Cheers.) The speech referred to was one in which Mr. Lincoln aunounced himself ready to do anything needed to unite the people in the effort to save the country. If another man could do it better than himself, there could be no difficulty in setting rid of him, Colonel Forney next referred to the Maine election, in order to show how the Republican victory was gamed. He had received a letter from a friend in Maine giving the information. In the Portland District, which was considered doubtful, the Republican candidate had four thousand majority. (Cheers.)

The speaker spoke of the Federal patronage being used in the present campaign, and arged that it would be a fit subject for inquiry in the next session of Congress. Even now three mayal officers are sitting at our Navy Yard, examining the employes in regard to their political senti-But, notwithstanding this, the victory of the Union party was certain.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING AT NATIONAL GUARDS' HALL .- A mass meeting under the auspices of the Central Johnson-Clymer Ctub was neld at National Guards' Hall last evening. The attendance was large and the meeting en-thusiastic in its character. Mr. John E. Faunce, the President of the Johnson-Clymer Club, presided on the occasion. In a few words he introduced ex-Governor Bigler, who, during the course of his remarks, said:—I hold that the position taken by the President is clearly right, and the only position which the Constitution of the United States will admit. He must necessarily, as the Executive officer, be controlled by planted himself on this, and maintained that there were thirty-six States and not twenty six. He maintained further, that they were States of the Union, and being States of the Union, no power on earth could deny them representation. Congress, during the war, recognized these States as being in the Union.

They submitted the amendment abolishing slavery to the thirty-six States. Several of the states denied representation at this day ratified the amendment. It they were States then, they are States now. If they were capable of ratifying an amendment to the Constitution they are entitled to representation. When they ratified it, the question of not being represented was The action of Congress in denying them representation is therefore sheerly arbitrary and revolutionary. (Applause.) That is the great question. On the other hand, the President maintains that the Constitution applies to all the States, and that must be his rule of action. I deny utterly the power of Congress to insist upon any conditions precedent to the right of representation. I consider the amendments as unwise in their substance. and the manner in which they are presented to the people of the country as highly improperindeed, as unjust. You can't vote for that clause of the amendment providing for the repudiation of the Rebel debt without voting for that clause which submits the question of negro suffrage. Why this peculiar piece of machinery? Was it necessary to put it in this shape? By no means, say that we have a right to complain of the submission of the amendment in this shape.

It is the duty of every man to assist in bringmg about a prompt solution of our National troubles—to make us what we once were, a happy and prosperous people. The speaker closed with a few commendatory remarks upon the character of Mr. Clymer, the Democratic candidate for Governor, which were received with frequent manifestations of applau William B. Rankin, Esq., of New York, was then introduced. He said:—If the radical party succeed in their policy, and overwhelm tae country with their theory, we will, when that takes place, be in a worse condition than we have ever been during the last six years. The speaker then took up the question of universal suffrage. He alluded to the attempt made to introduce it in England, and to its being put down through the efforts of Earl Grey, who used as an argument the assertion that by the introduction of it a repudiation of the debt would be brought about.

The speaker also discussed the question suffrage in this country. He continued: What these radicals fear is that the American people will find out the secret that one-fourth of the dept which our country is now burdened with has been stolen from the Treasury, and will refuse to pay it. We can't have an undivided country, if we allow these men to carry us away again to their contemplated issues. What was the reason for the passage of the resolution placing the arms of the country in the hands of the Governors of the various States? It was tor the very purpose that it they failed to succeed at the ballot-box, they could use these arms to strike down the voters.

They intended it for a threat of intimidation. They did not intend to lose their power. After the success of the great conservative party of the country, there will be very little left of this magnineent Republican party. There is not one of these radical Congressmen who could not be convicted of treason under the laws of 1862, which they themselves enacted. The speaker then discussed at length the difference between the President and Congress. He concluded by urging those present to be active and zealous in efforts to secure peace in reality to the whole country.

Colonel Rankin was followed by Mr. John Bell Robinson, who endeavored, during the course of his remarks, to prove that the negro never had been and never would be competent While the meeting was in progress, the members of the Keystone Club entered the hall, and remained until the proceedings were over.

THE SUPPOSED MURDER.-We learn the ollowing additional facts in reference to the murder supposed to have been committed last Saturday, and which was briefly referred to in our edition of yesterday. The supposed mur-derer, a young man named Arnoid, has disappeared, although the detectives are hot on his

From the father of the girl, Mr. Sherman, we learn that he, with his family, lives at Bridgeport, Connecticut. About a year ago his daughter, Ellen Josephine Sherman, then twenty years of age, left her bome without warning to any one, and without saying where she intended to go. He saw nothing of her until about six months ago, when, obtaining a situation in a factory in New York city, he went there, and his daughter called at the factory to see him. She was then living in New York with this man, whom she represented as her husband, but he understood afterwards, that while in New York she went by the name of Ellen Lacey. He heard or saw nothing more of his daughter until he received the telegram from Arnold. At the time Arnold became acquainted with the girl, he was living at Winsted, Connecticut, which is about sixty miles from Bridgeport. The case is undergoing the most searching investigation.

SUSPENDED FIRE COMPANIES. - The Committee on Fire and Trusts met last evening, and had under consideration the action of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department in suspending certain fire companies. A number of witnesses were examined in respect to the South Penn, Latavette, and Ningara Hose Companies and the Good Will Engine and Western Hose Company. No conclusion was arrived at as to the two last-named companies, and the Committee agreed to recommend to Councils the suspension for one month, and loss of pay for the same period, of the South Penn, Latayette, and Niagara Hose Companies.

AT THE NAVY YARD .- The work upon the new sloop-of-war Pushmataha has been sus-pended; also upon the iron-ciad Shackamazon, while very few shipwrights are engaged upon the ship-of-war Antietam, which is being built in the large ship house. The Ossipee (doubleender) is still under repair, and another of a similar build of vessels has been brought up from her anchorage off League Island, to nave a new armament put upon her.

HIS CONDITION .- John Grace, seaman, who was stabled on Monday at a sailor boarding house in Larkin street, was in an improving condition last evening. The knife with which the wound was inflicted was found in a well back of the tavern where Tracy, the alleged offender, was arrested.

FOUND DROWNED .- The Coroner held an inquest yesterday on the body of a lad apparently thirteen years old, found drowned in the Schuylkill at Chesnut street wharf. He was dressed in a jacket and pants of a light color, the latter being patched at the knees, and he had a red shirt on.

CORONER'S INQUEST .- The Coroner held an inquest yesterday on the body of the infant child of Elizabeth Martin, who was found dead bed at her mother's residence, Front street, pelow South. The jury came to the conclusion that death resulted rom being accidentally overlaid by the mother. PARADE. - The Republican Invincibles paraded last evening, in full uniform, and proseded to Frankford for the purpose of attending Republican meeting. There was a large crowd at Seventh and Chesnut streets to witness the ieparture of the Club.

FATAL RESULT.-Lewis Ashton, who was received into the Hospital on the 12th or Sep-tember, with an arm torn off, by having it eaught in the belting of a factory, died at the Hospital yesterday. THE ALARM of fire soon after 11 o'clock last night was caused by the burning of a stable belonging to John McCann, at the corner of

I have in use a large Lillie's Patent Fire and Burgiar Froot Saie, which the angacious vir ams made a desperate attempt to open using all the form dable tools of old hands at the business. A neavy sledge and some bars taken from a blacksmith's shop is the neighborhood had been used with much vigor. A number of their steel wedges were driven around and between the doors, without effect. Efforts to Gril the sale were entirely multi- in several places the point of the drill bad made marks, only to show that the chilled iros was perfectly impenetrable. I send you the one door for repairs.

ANOTHER FRUITLESS ALTEMPT TO FOR ONE

ANOTHER FRUITLESS ATTEMPT TO ROB ONE OF LILLIE'S BANK SAFES.

Schuylerville, N. Y., March 39, 1866, 1

Messrs. Itilia & Son:—

A desperate at empt was made to rob this Bank on the night of the 15th instant, as you have heard. The particulars are as follows:—The turgiars entered the bank by prying open a window: they then tried the vault doors made by you by breaking on the knob and expleding what powder they could get in but doing no damage to the door. They finally succeeded in getting into the vauit by diggies through a heavy wall. Here they found a loeman worthy of their sieal—one of your Burgiar proof baiss—as it proved to be. They broke off the knob of the door, and tried in vain to drive in the spindle; they then broke off the handle and dial of the lock, and tried to cut out and to drive in the centre piece, but failed a so in this. They then tried with heavy siedges to break in the doors, which success ully resisted all their efforts. They evidently worked faith to by all hight, as they were seen to leave the village about five o'clock in the morning.

We have received the safe you sent us, and are confident, when locked, the contents are beyond the reach of thieves.

Yours truy, SCHUYLERVILLE, N. Y., March 30, 1866, Yours tru y, G. F. WATSON, Cashier

Russell & Erwin, Manufacturers' Agents for Lillie's Safety:—
Gent cmen:—The safe referred to in our letter of February 9, as having preserved its con ents percective from fire, was again subjected to a very severe test by the fire of last Sunday night—one of the most severe fires that has occurred in San Francisco. It was taken from the ruins on Monday and on opening, all the books and papers were found in perfect condition, not the least sign of fire being visible inside the safe; this being the third time the safe has preserved its contents within the past five months.

A SAFE TWICE TESTED BY FIRE, This is to certify that at the fire which took place here september 5, 1865, the Lillie's Patent Sate which I had in my office, and which lav in a mass or burning coal, melting the brass entirely off, preserved my books, papers and morey in agreed by the safe in condition-except repainting-fit for imme diatouse.

This safe passed through the great fire in Troy in May, 1662, and then preserved its contents entire.

THE PORTLAND FIRE

An Unparalleled Test

LILLIE'S SAFE! IN THE FIRE FIFTEEN DAYS!

The Second Time the Same Safe Passes the Fiery Ordeal --- A Test no Sheet-Iron Safe Can Endure.

CERTIFICATE OF JUDGE FOX.

Messre Murray & Winne, Agents Laide's Sake.

Gentiemen —We had a No. 7 LILLIE'S PATENT CHILLED AND WROUGHT-IRON SAFE in our office on Fachange street, at the time of the great fire of July 4. 1886. The saie was in the second story of the building, and tell to the cellar, where it lay entirely unprotected for 15 days. When diggling it out, vesterday atternoon we cound the bricks surrounding it too hot to hold in the hand. On opening it this moraling, we found all the blocks and papers in a good state of preservation. This saie probably had as severe a test as any in the free, as Sales of other makers in adjoining buildings had their CONTEN'S BURNED TO CINDERS.

This she SECOND TAKE THIS SAFE HAS BEEN TESTED BY FIRE, as it was in the store of F. R. CHARLES When it was burned in February, 1881, at which time it also preserved its concents.

Our confidence is the fire-proof quantities of LILLIE'S SAFE S is increased by unparal eled tests, and we have no doubt of their SUPERI BITY OVER ALLOTHERS.

Yours truly. CERTIFICATE OF JUDGE FOX.

No sate of Lillie's make was destroyed in this fire or allee to preserve the contents, which fully endorses the high reputation of these Safes as being the most reliable fire-proof protection made.

The following important facts are most thoroughly demonstrated in the above certificates:rirst. That Liliue's case stands the second fire as well as the first, and both Safe and contents still fit for use while other Safes are worthless after the first fire, and it the fire is severe, books and papers have to be copied, in preserved at all, and very frequent y lost.

Second That Lille's Safes are honestly drill-prop erfectly ucdge proof, powder-proof, and, in every sens of the word, burg/ar-; roof, and, as a further evidence, I ussert that there never has been, to this time, one of Lil lie's Bank Sa'es robbed (that is, Sates two mones thick) A word to the public and to my old triends and patrons:-My motto is, "A nimble sixpence rather than a slow shilling." I have taken a roomy, convenient cheap store, for five years, on Aich street, instead of a dear one on Chesnut afy carrage is done with one horse instead of three horses. Foonomy and small profits is my motto. The Sa'e Works are now ren from Troy and in successful operation near Philadelphis, in this State, and I trust hereafter to be able to furnish my patrons, cheaply and promptly, with the best Sales, Vaults, Locks, etc., in the United States or
