santa Anna Negotiating for a Fenian Army-Mexico for the Milesians-Colonel Roberts Holds Several Interviews with Him The Fenian Chief Very Mysterious - Probable Departure of Santa Anna for St. Thomas, Etc. Etc.

SANTA ANNA CHANGES HIS RESIDENCE. General Santa Anna has vacated his house i West Twenty-eighth street, and taken up his residence with Mr. G. Naphegyi, at the latter's splendid mansion, Hamilton Park, Staten island. It would appear that the old soldier is determined to make an effort in behalf of free ing his country whether the leaders of the Libe ral party are or are not desirous of his services. HIS HEADQUARTERS.

At Hamilton Park he is said to have organized regular business bureau; his secretaries and the other members of his suite are in constant activity, and several heads of departments of the Mexican republic, in future, have already been appointed. The letters and business docu ments despatched from the Bureau have the following heading:-

REPUBLICA MEXICANA. GENERAL EN IEFE DEL EJERCITO LIBERTADOR. CUARTEL-GENERAL, NUEVA YORK. [Translation.] MEXICAN REPUBLIC.

GENERAL-IN-CHIEF OF THE LIBERATING ARMY. HRADQUARTERS, NEW YORK, etc.

PARTIES INTERESTED. The time of the General is occupied from morning to night in secret conference with people from various parts of the country, all ouching upon the interests of the Mexican republic. There is a lively correspondence main between Santa Anna and some of the heads of departments at Washington. Secretary Seward is particularly said to be much interested movements on foot. It is given upon reliable authority that within a week

THREE LARGE STEAMERS of good capacity and excellent sea-going qualities have been purchased for the use of the em-bryo republic. They are held in readiness to start to sea at a moment's notice, but whether they are designed for a quiet trip to St. Thomas, the former residence of the General, or for a much more important service, viz., the transportation of men and ammunition to distracted Mexico, has not yet transpired. In view of these facts, the latter service for the vessels would seem nighly probable,

FENIANS ESPOUSE THE CAUSE. But the most remarkable circumstance connected with this new movement of Santa Anna is that the cunning old patriot has enlisted the powerful aid of the Fenian Brotherhood in the cause. He has had several protracted conte-

SANTA ANNA'S MOTIVES. Anna asserts that he has taken thi matter in hand merely from the purest motives of patriotism, and that he has no connection whatever with any political society at present existing in Mexico. He has been urged to this course at the carnest solicitation of the solid and thinking men of his country, who have viewed with usin the vacillating and ruinous policy of the rulers who have held sway since

Santa Anna was at the nead of affairs.

The fighting Fenians have long held the notion that their ability and soldiership might be turned to profitable account in having a prominent hand in the liberation of Mexico, and when such a wary and experienced diplomatist as Santa Anna, and such a powerful chief as President, Roberts are in league for a common cause we may be on the qui vive for important and speedy action.

WHAT COLONEL ROBERTS SAYS. Colonel Roberts, President of the Feman Brotherhood, when called on yesterday, stated hat a number of interviews bad taken place between himself and General Santa Anna, seve ral of which were of a private and personal character, and the balance were in relation to public matters, of which he was not then at liberty to give the details.- N. How to Regain Southern Prospecity. Hon. John Forsyth, writing from New York to the Mobile Register, says of a portion of Southern Pennsylvania over which he has recently travelled:-

"You ride over a country dotted with farms, groan-ing under crop., and are surprised at the lack of laborers, and wonder who does all this work! Capital and science have supplied the places of our large gangs of negroes, and the work goes on as if by magic. Thus Pennsylvania, with her three millions of population, enjoys productions equal to the labor of six millions. The same processes would make the South a garden of trutfulness, the abode of a great population and the seat of power. We have all that Pennsylvania has, in coal, iron and water power, without her harsh winter commate. We have products impossible to her soil. The war has hew pathway for Southern energies in a new direct Let us follow it, encourage men of labor and skill to settle among us, capital to export our latent re sources, and train and elevate the negro to be able to do his part of the grand work of cosing the gap in material c vilization, which our hearty Northern neighbors have for so long kept wide open between us. By this path, too men of the South, we are to recover the positical power to make our rights re

Ete., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.

Washington, September 29.

The Cost of the President's Trip. The fact has leaked out that the late Presidential excursion has completely bankrupted the finances of the Johnson National Union Club, leaving it $30,000 in debt. At a meeting last night, C. Wendell stated the condition of the Club's finances, and said an a-sessment should be made of $5000 each on two Cabinet officers, and $2500 on another. This means that Messrs. Seward, Randall, and Welles will, after all, have to pay their own excursion bills.

It is known here that the treasury of the Club was bankrupt before the party left Philadelphia, and that drafts given for bills contracted there could not be paid on presentation. One member of the Cabinet alone ran up a bill at the Continental of $700. This explains the recent visit of Messrs, Knapp and Wendell to New York for the purpose of squeezing money out of the officeholders.

Their ill success and also that of the Johnson Departmental Club in dramming up recruits, and the $30,000 deficit in the treasury, has started a competition, and the following letter is being sent to every clerk in the Department:-

Young Men's NATIONAL UNION CLUB, -WASH-Young Men's National Union Club.—Wash-ington, September 27.—Sir:—I have the honor to inform you that there has been organized in this city a Young Men's National Union Club, to be composed of citizens who actively support the principles enunciated by the Philadelphia Convention of August 12, 1866. We shall be Convention of August 12, 1866. We shall be pleased to receive your signature to the Constitution at the headquarters of the Club, as above stated. In imposing sentence his Honor Judge Ludlow said that he was about to perform the most painful duty that had fallen to his lot during his judicial career. After a mild reprimand and an admirable exhortation for reformation, the Court imposed the sentence of imprisonment in the County Prison of two years and one month, to date from the day of gersoll's incarceration. In the case of Mary Denny, convicted of a charge of larceny, the verdict being contrary to the evi-dence, was set aside by the Court. George Eanage, convicted in the early part of the expling term of a charge of conspiracy to rob, was entended to the County Prison for four years.

Application was made by L. C. Cassidy, Esq., for the admission to bail of McGuire, the man who is charged with the killing of Maggie Baer in the New American Theatre The grounds for the application were that McGuire has been now in prison for about six months without a trul, and that the length of the imprisonment was very defrimental to the recovery of his sanity, which is a ready very much impaired. And that the 20th of the present month was fixed as the day for his trial, but that he was of then tried. The Court held the matter under counderation.

The Death of General Mouravieff. om the Paris Temps, September 13.

General Mouravieff was found dead in his bed in the country. Did he die, as is stated, of apoplexy? There was a time when it was said that men of mark in Russia rarely died a natural death. No one in Europe has forgotten the cynical ferocity with which this blind servant of the Czars spread terror, ruin, and punishment throughout the Government of Lithuania, and determined to obliterate in that unhappy country every trace of the Polish element. Mouravieff was recalled from his know that imperial favor stowed on this gloomy tormentor, and that a letter of the Russian sovereign publicly thanked him for his inappreciable services to his coun try. He was again broght upon the public scene by the attempt made on the life of the Emperor by Karakasoff, and was appointed President of the commission charged with inquiry into the matter. He set himself to work at once, and soon succeeded in making out of what probably was but the crime of an individual an immense conspiracy. A portion of the labors of this Commission has been published, which reads like a reminis-cence of Tacitus. Nobody escaped from suspicton. Owing to the wanderings of imagina-tion, suspicious and delations, he succeeded even in bringing a member of the family of his master into complicity with the attempt. But he lound one day that he displayed too much zeal; he was dismissed from the presidency of the Commission, and the Commission itself was dissolved. His papers, however, remain, and there are many persons in Russia whom the shade of the sanguinary Mouraviest will haunt for many a day.
