

CONNECTICUT.

Returns from the Town Elections—Large Republican Gains. The returns received from the town elections in Connecticut indicate in almost every case large gains on the Republican side.

TOWNSHIP RETURNS. NEW MILFORD. At our fall election the day the radicals elected a clean ticket over the Copperheads and apostate Republicans by 99 to 47 majority.

NEW LONDON. The Republican majority here to the town election is 70. Last spring the Democrats carried the town by 90 majority. "My Policy" is played out here.

DANBURY. Oct. 1.—Danbury all right. In the recent vote polled in a town meeting, the Republican ticket was elected by an average majority of 130. Connecticut don't swallow "My Policy" quite yet.

WEST GORNHAM. On the 11 P. M.—"My Policy" is wanting in Cornwall. The removal of the Postmaster seems to have been policy for Johnson. The entire Republican ticket is elected by largely increased majorities.

NORWALK. Oct. 1.—Norwalk gives 180 Republican majority at the town election. A large majority of the towns here from Fairfield county to Republican.

SEYMOUR. Oct. 1.—The Republicans carried their tickets for town offices in this Democratic stronghold to-day for the first time in a good many years. English's majority over Hawley last April was 67.

STRAITFORD. Oct. 1.—The Republicans are having a grand jubilee in this town to-night. Their ticket was unanimously elected to-day. The Republican ticket was elected to-day.

THE VOICE OF A TRUE PATRIOT.

Resignation of Hon. Isaac N. Arnold. The Hon. Isaac N. Arnold, formerly Representative in Congress from the First Illinois District, which includes the city of Chicago, and recently Auditor of the Treasury for the Post Office Department, has tendered his resignation to the President in the following sharp letter:

WASHINGTON, September 29.—Sir:—I hereby resign the office of Auditor of the Treasury for the Post Office Department. Three days before his resignation to the President, Lincoln, to facilitate the preparation of a record of his Administration, and the overthrow of slavery in the Republic, which I then hoped he would live to consummate. When I accepted the commission from you, which death prevented him from issuing, I did it in the full faith, based upon your own repeated declarations of the dead body of the martyred President, that your policy would make treason "odious," and that you would be faithful to the great man, North and South, who had saved the Republic; that you would endeavor to carry out the principles which will make Lincoln's Administration the following sharp letter:

who he hoped to subvert. When did you punish a Rebel for the murder of a loyal man? The Rebels are to-day your counselors. They and the Copperheads constitute a large majority of those who call themselves your friends. They control your patronage. Believing you are to-day exerting your vast power in the interest of the traitors and that your policy should be overthrown at the ballot-box, that the Republic, based on liberty and justice, may live, I retire from office that I may more freely and effectively aid in that overthrow.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, etc., ISAAC N. ARNOLD. To Andrew Johnson, President of the United States.

INFORMATION FOR THE PEOPLE. Proposed Amendment to the Constitution.

THE UNION REPUBLICAN PLATFORM. Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, two-thirds of both Houses concurring, That the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, shall be valid as part of the Constitution, viz:—

Article 14. Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

This section makes citizenship uniform in all the States, and protects citizens both North and South; for example, South Carolina must treat Pennsylvania with the same respect that she treats her own citizens.

Section 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed, but whenever the right to vote at any election for President or Vice-President, or for the United States representatives in Congress, executive or judicial offices, or the members of the Legislatures thereof, is denied to any male inhabitant of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizen of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

This section fixes the basis of representation in Congress upon the population of the several States, with this proviso, that where a State denies the elective franchise to any of its qualified male citizens of 21 years of age (which any State is allowed to do under this section), that then its representation in Congress shall be proportionably reduced, thus regulating the representation in Congress by the number of voters in each State. Under the old Constitution, the South had three-fifths of all her slaves added to her free population to fix her representation in Congress; now that slavery is abolished she will have two-fifths more added thereto, and thus come back under the old Constitution with increased power, and would thus make the vote of one white man in the South nearly equal to two in the North. This is the reason why the Rebels are now opposing this part of the amendment.

Section 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress or elector of President or Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in rebellion, or in insurrection against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; but Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds in each House, remove such disability.

The intention of this section is to give the offices to the Union men of the South, so that we shall have perpetual peace, and so that Jefferson Davis and other traitors like him shall never again control this Government, and thus endanger its liberties.

If those leading Rebels should continue to hold the offices in the South, we shall have no peace, but, on the contrary, perpetual strife. They have done enough already. They should have no further say. Their children will succeed to the rights which they will lose by their treason; this is enough, in all conscience. This section, you will observe, applies those Rebels only who have heretofore held office and taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States; should any hardships arise thereby, Congress may grant relief by a two-thirds vote.

Section 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including that incurred in payment of bounties and pensions for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned; and neither the United States, nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for loss of or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations, and claims shall be held illegal and void.

This section will cut off all future hope on the part of the Rebels of securing payment for their slaves or of the Rebel debt, and thus relieve our country from future sectional strife.
