A MERRY "MILL" IN THE FOURTH WAR A MERRY "MILL" IN THE FOURTH WARD -A ROOSTER IS PITTED AGAINST TWO DOGS-HE COMPTH OUT VICTORIOUS-HE CROWETH OVER HIS PROSTRATE FOES -A few minutes after sun-rise, this morning, an open lot in the Fourth Ward was the scene of an exciting contest. The parties to the affair were a rooster with a highly acvelop id craw, and two "dogs" of the vagabond stripe. It happened in this wise :--An old lady deniciled in the neighborhood re-paired to the spot in guestion with a pail full of

An old lady denicited in the negroorhood r paired to the spot in question with a pail full kitchen refuse, which she deposited, as was h daily wont, upon the ground. There was in it pail but one item which even a hungry dog won dengs to police, and that was a clust of bread, while from its hardened outlines, might have been part the original supply which Neah ordered from h baker provided for the second from the baker previous to embarking himself and family the Ark. The favorite rooster of the old lady-h favorite because it was the only one she owned-w standing hard by, and watched the operation of ov turning the pail with the greatest possible intere for he bad tasted naught in the way of food since

But so furious was th said antedluvian crust. But so furious was the onset, and so hardened was the crust, that the latter bounded into he air and fell at the distance of some five teet or more. In this neighborhood there sat upon his haunches a hungry cur, whom nobody owned, and who had not fallen upon a savory mor-sel since he had emerged from the ash barrel in which he passed the might. The dog naturally thought that the crust was a windfall from heaven, intended to appease his buogry paugs. He there-fore seized upon it, and made haste to get away. But chantic ever was on the alext, and seeing the

But chanticleer was on the alert, and seeing the crust thus making off with the dog, he ruffled his wings, rowered the position of the teathers on his neck, and made another lunge. He dropped the antecoluvian relie, turned about without more ado, and opening the gates of his grave-yard, dis-played a threatening array of tombstones. This exhibition of malice aroused the tre of the rooster to such an extent that his toe nails became or another in wrons. With these relies aroused

At lest advices the veteran buflo was causing a frenzy of delight with his "Crispino," given now for the first time in London. Strong as were the adult ations heaped upon his "Lord Recharg" by the press, they were faint in commarison with the admiring epithets called forth by his hilarious and inconceivable droll "Crispino." Apropos of Ron-cont, "il Trovatore." the Paris correspondent of the Milan Hase cal Journal, mentions, June 30, the presence of his daughter in the salens of the French nobility. before whom she has been displaying a soprano of the rarest quality. According to "Il Frovatore," the Signorina Roncond, who is scarcely seventeen years old, is gitted with an executive skill that is something "marvelious." Her trills and cadenzas are especially admired. Acide to this she is beauting, and, what is equally interesting to us she is coming with her father admired. Anded to this she is continue. TERRIBLE TRAGEDY IN THE PARK-ESCAPE OF THE OUTLAWS--Another terrible tragedy has occurred in our midst, and but a passing notice is taken of its occurrence. Last evening there occurred in our beautiful Fark one of those frightful occurrences that every now and then startle the community with their atrocity. A short time before community with their attoetty. A short time before sundown, about 5 45 P. M., a part of reckless and disorderly out aws, numbering in all five men, arove cown the slope on the east side of the Park, opposite to the "Mineral Spring," at a turious pace. As they neared the bottom of the bill they ran with frightful force into a gentleman who was walking out of a long and hurled hum to the ground a bload. regiming long, and hurled him to the ground a bleed-ing corpse. His death was almost instantaneous, Instead of stopping the cold-blooded wretches drove off at a furious speed, so that the officers who saw the occurrence could not overtake them, and suc-ceeded for a time in making good their escape. The name of the nurdered man is Mr. William Edwards. He was about forty years old, and resided at No. 17 South Fifteenth street.

A SUSPICIOUS CUSTOMER .-- A man anwering to the name of Joseph Mitchell was arrested swering to the name of Joseph Mitchell was arrested yesterday morning under rather suspicions circum-stances. For several days past he has been seen lounging around the establishment of Mr. Nathan S. Brown, No. 228 Chesnut street, and acting in a very suspicious manner. He would enter the store, and when asked his business, he would make inquiries for some one who had never been in the place. The other morning Mr. Barnes, one of the employes of the establishment, met Mitchell coming down stairs, and though nothing was thought of it at the time, yet when one of the clerks went up to look for some yet when one of the clerks went up to look for some articles, he found that a case of fine shawls had been tampered with. Mitchell was arrested, and suffi-cient, evidence was brought forward before Alder. man Beitler to warrant his being put under $1500 to answer.

TAKING HEAVY TOLL .- Two men, under TAKING HEAVY TOLL.—Two men, under the guise of friendship, undertook to iend a helping hand to a gentieman who had invested in real estate, and deposited the purchase in his hat, this morping at a very early hour. They led him home and by way or repaying themselves for their trouole, they relieved him of his bocket-book, containing a city warrant for $75, and a due bill for $225, when in the neighborhood of Seventh and Grard avenue, and then left him alone in his glory to find his way home as best he might. The victim resides near Charlotte and George streets. John D. Hestoo, the light incered gentieman was arrested at his resilight lingered gentionan was arrested at his resi-dence, Tenth and Girard avenue, but the missing papers were non est inventus. ABSTRACTION OF RAIMENT,-Catharine Diamond, for some time past engaged in the hum-ble capacity of domestic in the family residing at No. 723 Brown street, undertook, it is alleged, to r plenish her wardrobe by depleting that of her misress. Catharne, fortunately for her mistress and unfortunately (?) for hersell, was detected in the dubious proceeding, and was arrested therefor by the myrimdons of the law. She was brought to grief and before Alderman Massey, who, after hear-ing her story and that of others who knew the cir-cumstances of the case, held Catharme in $830 bail acrear at Court and convince twelve intelligent ers of the Commonwealth that her case was as peers of the ciear as her name

THE FIREMEN VISITORS .- The Eagle Fire THE FIREMEN VISITORS. - Inc. Lagic Fire Company, of Fittaburg, now on a visit to this city or "Brotherly Love," are being shown the hons and the tigers pretty extensively. We noticed them filing past in double line, with a fine brass band at their head, to pay a visit to the old Independence Hall. In their brown overcats and caps, they pro-cented outle a pilone and strike access they prosented quite a unique and stylish appearance. As they marched along Chesnut street, the band discoursed some most excellent music.
