

HEAVY ROBBERY

A Teacher of Languages is Robbed of Three Thousand Dollars—A Woman Arrested on Suspicion—No Clue to the Stealer Money Obtained.

A most daring and audacious robbery was perpetrated on Tuesday night in a house of ill repute in this city, the particulars of which were developed yesterday at the Jefferson Market Police Court.

On Tuesday morning a man named Charles Tucker, a teacher of languages, residing in Detroit, Michigan, arrived in this city, and topped at a hotel on Broad-street.

He was in the habit of going to a certain place in the neighborhood of East Fourth street, and there he met a woman whom he had accompanied to the house of a former visit to the city.

He was told that this woman whose name is Mary Jane McDevitt was not there, but that her whereabouts were known, and that if he would wait she would be sent for. He did so, and while he was sitting in the house happened to think whether his money, which he carried in an inside pocket of his vest, was safe.

At about 10 o'clock he started for a broker's office on Wall street. He was some time in reaching the office, and when he entered asked for $5000 in seven-thirty bonds.

As he did so he placed his hand in the inside pocket of his vest, and drew out his money, when, to his surprise, he saw the pins securing the pocket were gone, and out of the $5000 there were missing $2500. He at once started out in quest of an officer, and soon found policeman No. 2653, of the Eleventh Precinct.

To him he confided the story of his loss. The latter, taking Tucker with him, proceeded to the house in Houston street; but the girl was not there, inquiring, they were told that she lived at No. 56 Vandam street, and thence they proceeded to that place, and found the girl at home with her mother.

With a view of ascertaining the matter the officer took the girl to the station, and taking her into custody marched her to the station.

MEETING OF THE PHILADELPHIA BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

The Association assembled this morning at 9.30 A. M., and the meeting was opened by prayer.

The Rev. Mr. G. W. Parker, of the Third Freedmen's Church, Alexandria, Va., made some remarks in regard to his conduct, and a thousand dollars were pledged to him on the spot by individuals in the Association.

From the reports of the various churches the following statistics are gathered:—

By baptism, 2120; by letters, 465; by experience, 202; by restoration, 29; total, 2817. Diminutions:—By letter, 470; by excommunication, 210; by death, 222; total, 1102. Total membership, 16,558. Net increase, 1805.

The circular letter was read by its author, Rev. H. H. Marsh, Sublet, "Training of Converts." The letter was listened to with marked attention, and was very ably answered.

A report was submitted by the Rev. Dr. J. W. Smith, in regard to establishing a house for Widows and Infirm Women, of the Baptist denomination, which met with the hearty approbation of the Association and was adopted without a dissenting voice.

The report of the Committee on Objections, referred to by the chairman, Rev. J. E. Cheslake, referring to the death of several eminent clergymen and laymen. The report was a very elaborate one, and was read by its author, Rev. J. E. Cheslake.

The Association adjourned at 12.30 to meet at 2.30 P. M. This evening the services will be highly interesting, and the final adjournment will take place at the conclusion of the services.

A DISORDERLY DISPOSED OR—An ex-convict was made last night of one of those disorderly characters who, to gratify their own passions, will neglect their duties in a very forcible manner.

THE MERCHANTS' DISCOVERY.

Every judicious house-keeper of fuel, in high estimation the great utility of a superior kitchen range. This large class of the community will be pleased to learn that Mr. J. S. Clark, the well-known inventor of the best and most celebrated improvements in stoves and ranges, has perfected and is now introducing his gold medal range, which is pronounced by the competent judges to be far superior to all others.

The merits of this highly improved range consist in its great economy of fuel, its simplicity and convenience of management, and the efficiency and quickness with which it performs the important processes of cooking and baking.

The fire box is cast iron, and is placed in the center of the range, thus bringing all of the boiler heat directly over the fire, thereby causing an immense saving of fuel, and finishing the work quickly and perfectly. It will heat water for a bath-room, and will heat three rooms comfortably.

A superior fire-brick cylinder is inserted for summer use, thus requiring but a small quantity of fuel, and as the fire-brick retains the heat in the center of the range, it does not in the least heat the room during the summer season.

The ovens of this unrivalled range are very capacious, and are quickly and thoroughly heated by means of an improved and simple arrangement of flues, the draft of which is easily and perfectly regulated by means of only one damper, instead of three or four, as in the ordinary ranges.

Another valuable feature of this superior range is, that the oven is situated at the side of the range, so that it can be conveniently opened, used, and closed without the necessity of leaning over, and danger of leaning over the fire to reach the oven, as is the case when the oven is situated over the range.

A patent for the above improvements is held by Mr. J. S. Clark, of Philadelphia, and is in full force whenever the flues require cleaning. This excellent and unequalled range is strictly air-tight, whereby the cold air is entirely excluded when required, and the draft perfectly regulated, thus causing a saving of about fifty per cent. of fuel.

In the limits of this brief notice we can specify only a few of the many valuable features of this range, which is now in the hands of the public, and is justly celebrated range. We, therefore, respectfully recommend housekeepers, mechanics, and all others who are desirous of procuring a superior range, to call on Mr. J. S. Clark's extensive establishment, No. 1008 Market street, where he is rapidly selling them, at so low a price as to enable all to purchase who wish to obtain the benefits which this superior range affords.

THE PICTORIAL BOOK OF ANECDOTES AND INCIDENTS OF THE REVOLUTION. HEROIC PATRIOTIC ROMANTIC HUMOROUS AND FRAGMENTS. This is a work which will never go into the regular history, and will not be embodied in romance and poetry, which is a very real part of it, and which is preserved to succeeding generations a better idea of the spirit of the conflict than many reports or casual narratives of events, and this part may be called the gossip, the fun, the pathos, of the war.
