CITY INTELLIGENCE.

[For Additional Oity Intelligence see Fifth Page.] CORNER-STONE LAID.-Yesterday after-

moon the corner-stone of the St. Stepnen's M. E. Church was laid at Germantown, in the presence of a large audience, and with appropriate ceremonies. Rev. I. Thompson opened the proceedings, introducing Rev. Mr. Cookman, who, in an earnest and cloquent speech, advocated the need of church extension.

who, in an earnest and eloquent speech, advo-cated the need of church extension.

He was followed by Bishop Simpson, who in the course of his address remarked, that at one time the idea of church extension, independent of State support, was one which the people, of England especially, could not realize. In proof, however, of the possibility of the idea, he re-ferred to the present position of the American churches, the church accommodation here churches, the church accommodation here being sufficient to meet the wants of nineteen millions of people. Of the 54,000 churches in the country, 18,000 belonged to the various branches of the Methodist persuasion. The reason of this wonderful growth of churches in a period of time so short, was to be found in the fact that the power and influence of the masses had been enlisted in the cause. He himself had travelied in certain of the interior self had traveled in certain of the interior towns in England, and had found but a solitary church, and that built and supported by the State. Such a condition of affairs could not be seen in America.

The Bishop then proceeded formally to lay the corner-stone of the new editice. In the stone was placed a box containing a written history of the church, copies of the Public Ledger, Germantown Telegraph, the Methodist, and several other papers, together with a Bibic, hymn book, and Book of Discipline. The Doxnology was then sung and the blessing pronounced, after which the meeting separated.

The new church is to be built in the Gothic stellar theorem.

style throughout, the material being the dark grey granite of the district. It will measure fifty-five feet by one hundred feet, and in addition to the church proper will include Sunday School clear recovery. Sunday School class-rooms, and a department for infants. The building will be turnished with tower and spire, measuring together one

IMPORTANT TO DISTILLERS -Collector Sloanaker, of the First Collection District Pennsylvania, has issued a circular for the guidance of Inspectors, distillers, and others engaged in the manufacture of distilled spirits in the First District of Pennsylvania. It says:— Every Inspector, upon entering on duty will see that the distillery is arranged according to law, and that the proper locks are placed on the receiving room and bonded warehouse, and in case these requirements are not complied with, he will cause the suspension of business at the distillery, and report the facts to the Collector, and in every instance he must be particular to see that the proper permanent connection is see that the proper permanent connection is made between the still and the cisterns in the

The Inspector will make proper entries, in the required form, of all material placed in the mash-tubs, for the purpose of producing spirits previous to the same being placed in the still, and maker an eleven stances will the owner or and under no circumstances will the owner or superintendent of any distillery be allowed to make a mash except under the eye or super-vision of the Inspector in charge, who will be careful to have the proper account of the same, so that after the mash has been put into the still and the spirits distilled therefrom, he can learn what amount of spirits has been produced out of the same, after the spirits have been received into the cisterns in the receiving room.

The Inspector will see that the spirits are drawn off from the cisterns every three days. unless sooner required, and properly barrelled, gauged, inspected, and placed in the bonded warehouse, and a proper return of the same made to the Assessor, in accordance with the law and regulations now in force, and the proper officer, while gauging and inspecting spirits in any distillery, will take great care that his duties are performed properly, so that the Government may procure the just amount of tax due on the same.

due on the same.

If any Inspector is ever known to receive any bribe, fee, or reward from any owner, superintendent or other person interested in a distillery, he will be immediately dismissed from office, and the full penalties of the law enforced.

STEALING RAILBOAD IRON.-Two men, pamed William Jones and Samuel Tate, about two weeks ago hired five furniture car men at Seventh and Market streets to haul railroad iron from the Gray's Ferry Bridge. On the east of the bridge there was a number of tons of splendid English rail, worth $234 a ton, which be-longed to the Philadelphia and Wilmington Railroad. Jones and Tate accompanied the drivers to the above locality, and ordered them to load their wagons and drive off, which they did. Some five tons were taken away. The Wednesday following five more wagons appeared on the spot, and the men were loading, when the road-master came along and inquired by whose order they were removing the rail.

An order, purporting to have been signed by the Superintendent of the road, was produced; but on close examination it was pronounced a forgery. The fact that five tons had been previously hauled away was made known to the road-master, and he at once consulted the Superintendent, and word was sent for Detective Wil-l'am Targart, employed by the railroad com-pany, who set to work to recover the same and arrest the thinves. Detective Taggart is an ex-pert and skilful officer, and it was not long before the iron was recovered and one of the before the iron was recovered and one of the

He obtained a description from the car-drivers of the two men who had employed them, and that evening he arrested Jones. Soon after, the rail was recovered at a store on Water street. Detective Taggart did not leave the case drop, but continued on in search of the other thief, and finally arrested him. Jones, shortly after his arrest, had a hearing before Alderman Beit-ler, and was committed. Tate was yesterday arraigned before the same magistrate, and committed to await trial.

PHILADELPHIA ENTERPRISE IN MON-TANA.—Early last spring a few enterprising capitalists of our city, in connection with Messrs. Gaston & Simpson, of Montana, organized the Gaston & Simpson Gold Mining Company, under a charter obtained from the Legislature of this State, for the purpose of working some valuable gold-mining property near Helena, Montana. They organized their company, not for the purpose of selling stock as a speculation, but as a legitimate business enterprise. About the 1st of May they shipped from Leavenworth, Kansas, a forty-horse-power engine and the com-plete machinery for a stamp mill of thirty stamps. It had to be transported three thoustamps. It had to be transported three thou-sand miles by water, and thence one hundred and fitty miles by land. The mill was erected and commenced operations about the raiddle of September, and we learn from the Helena Republican of the 22d ultimo that it cleaned up from the first three days' run, with half the stamps in operation, the handsome sum of fifteen hundred dollars. The Republican adds that their enterprise has thus far been one of the most successful in the Territory. These facts, besides being complimentary to the boldness and shrewdness of the gentlemen who have invested their means in the development of the wonderful resources of that distant Territory, are useful as showing what gold-mining may do when prosecuted as a regular business, with the same energy and prudence essential to success in other departments of industry.

TERMINATION OF THE GAS INVESTIGATION.—The examination into the management of the Gas Trust, conducted on the part of Select Ceuncil by Colonel James Page, will terminate by the lat of December. The election excitement temporarily suspended the operations of the committee. It will now resume its labors and actively prosecute its inquiries. The sessions of the Common Council seekers after truth are held with closed doors. Their chairman states that the evidence gleaned by their examinations already fills three hundred closely printed pages. By the end of the Council session both committees will have probably submitted ample reports. When their testimony and its conclusions are submitted to the public, the Gas Trust will be the most illuminated subordinate department of the city government. TERMINATION OF THE GAS INVESTIGA-in Hont of the old Post Office, on the 10th inst., hed a hearing before Alderman Bettler.

William McNamara testified that he had witnessed the stabbing. It occurred near the old Post Office pavement. The accused and the injured man were together, and had been drinking pretty freely, but were not drunk. They had been skylarking on the sidewalk; Casey had witness' hat, and Kating took it from him. The prisoner made some remark, and Kating advanced towards him. Witness caught hold of Kating and held him, at the same time remarking, "Oh, never mind him," Kating, however, again moved towards Casey, and the latter raised his hand, and, as witness supposed, out him with some sharp instrument. Casey then ran off, and being pursued, was captured at the Post Office. While running up Library street, he threw away a shoemaker's knife.

Another witness testided that Casey struck Kating after the latter had taken the hat from Kating after the latter had taken the hat from him, and this led him to advance towards him. The Alderman read a note received from the Resident Physician at the Hospital, in which it was stated that Kating was dangerously injured, and was then lying in a critical condition Casey was committed to await the result of Kating's injuries.

STATE COUNCIL OF THE O. U. A. M .- A Stated Session of State Council, United American Mechanics was held on Tuesday morning, at their hall, corner of Fourth and George streets. THE NEW COURT HOUSE IN INDEPEN-DENCE SQUARE .- The new Court House is rapidly approaching completion. For roughness and bad taste it can scarcely be surpassed. The granite facing on Fifth street is most miserably finished. Mr. Celladay, the contractor, expects to have the building completed in time to admit of holding the February term of the Court of Quarter Sessions in it. There will be three doors of entrance and exit for the jurors, witnesses, and spectators, the main one on Sixth street, and the others on the sides towards the rear end of the building. The door through which prisoners are to be taken is on the north side, and the prison van is to be drawn to it through the passage-way between the present Court room and the District Court office.

MEETING OF THE FRANKLIN INSTITUTE. -The stated meeting was held last evening, and was largely attended. The Secretary read his report on Novelties in Science and Arts, in which mention was made of the following sub-jects:-The new Victoria Bridge, accommodating seven railroad tracks; the raising of a mill in Manchester while in full operation; the successful operation of steam ploughs; gas engine, by Hugon; the steam syphon pump; new regulator for the electric light; process for staining wood, by Mr. Barton H. Jenks, and the new process for making artificial stone, of which numerous specimens were exhibited; besides many beautiful instantaneous photographs, by Mr. J. E.

LONDON PUBLICATIONS .- We have received from Mr. A. Winch, No. 505 Chesnut street, all of the English magazines for October. They are unusually attractive this month. Mr. Winch has also received by steamer Scotia late numbers of all the great European literary and scientific journals.

COAL OIL LAMP EXPLOSIONS .- A serious accident occurred last evening at No. 215 Pros-perous alley. A coal oil lamp exploded, and a mother and daughter were severely burned. There was a slight fire last evening, caused by the explosion of a coal oil lamp at the residence of John Blair, No. 122 Hope street.

PROMOTION.—The rank of Brevet Brigadier-General of Volunteers, to date from March 13, 1864, has been conferred on Lieutenant-Colonel Robert E. Winslow, of this city, for meritorious services during the war.

DIED OF HIS INJURIES .- Henry Shall, who was caught by the beiting in the glue fac-tory of A. C. Miller, on Tuesday, and severely injured, died at the hospital yesterday.

-The Lancet has lately published a series of most interesting studies made in the military hospital of Dresden, by Dr. Bruce, of University College, London. The learned Doctor has ap-plied himself to the study, in the above-named hospitals, of the wounds produced by the different balls used in the armies. Dr. Bruce, after minutely examining into the matter, de-clares himself in favor of the general opinion that the wounds caused by the balls of the Prussian needle-gun are less dangerous than those produced by the Austrian Minie rifle.
