IMPROVEMENTS ON EIGHTH STREET .-We resume our running commentary on the new and valuable improvements on our great centre of the retail dry goods trade. We can only hope to give a description of the most notable places.

About the most noteworthy of the improve-ments that are in the square between Market and Chesnut streets, is the large store occu-pled by Mr. J. A. Southwick, No. 17 South Eighth street, at the corner of Shoemaker street. This place was formerly occupied by a small toy shop, kept by a Mr. Frazier. Most of our citizens can remember the place as it was. The whole building, comprising four stories, has been renovates, at an expense of over $3000, by the proprietor, Mr. J. A. Southwick, who has occupied the entire building since last August. The owner, Mr. James Garvey, is about to buy out the saloon in the rear of the store, and will knock it into one store, forming one of the largest and inest stores in the street. At present the accommodations in the first story are not as extensive as could be desire!.

Mr. Southwick, it may not be improper to state, has improved more properties along Eighth street than any other man in it. In business in the street for the past ten or twelve years, during that time he has improved four years, during that time he has improved four or five stores, modernizing them, and adapting them to the advancement of business. In this he has indeed been of great benefit to the street, and has earned well deserved reputation for enterprise and business tact that has placed him high in the considence of the people. In the upper part of the establishment a large wholesale business is carried on.

Strelling along through Eighth street, from

Strolling along through Eighth street, from Market towards Arch, our attention is at once directed to the extensive repairs that are being made in the building occupied by William T. Reed & Co., No. 45. The whole front has been torn out, and is being rap dly put up in the most elegant style of white marble. When it is finished, it will make a very beautiful contrast to the splendid brown-tone edifice alongside of it. Reed & Co. are the successors in business of the firm of Owen, Evans & Co., and do a very extensive business in s.lks, fancy dress goods, and staple dry goods of all kinds. The improvements will cost at least $15,000, and have only been commenced within the past four months. The front is well lighted by beautiful French-plate glass windows, which of themselves are an ornament to the street, even if we cast aside all mention of the gay and brilliant array of rich and staple goods that are exposed for sale. The store inside is very attractive. It is one hundred and two feet in depth, and from twenty to thirty feet wide. A beautiful dome and skylight casts a very clear and mellowed light over the entire store. The walls inside are colored of a light bluish grey, that adds greatly to the appearance. The improvements were commenced about four months since, and efforts will be made to effect their completion be ore winter sets in. It will then be a most beautiful and valuable addition to the many attractions on the street. The only drawback that there appears to be in all the buildings along the entire square is the want of heighth that is so observable on every side. We want more of the high stately buildings that make certain squares on Chesnut and other business streets look so imposing. True, there described, which are highly pleasing to a critical eye, but they need the creat desideratum—size. It is a question, if it were not better economy to build a five-story building in a street are many very elegant places, such as we have so rapidly improving as Eighth street, rather than the most elabora ely mushed three-storied structure. The owners of the building occupied by Reed & Co., who were the former proprietors, under the name of Owen Evans & Co., will spare no pains to make the building a model, as far as the architectural beauty and symmetry of their place is concerned.

A NOVEL BANQUET .- Last night the dele gations from the various wards comprising the Fifth Congressional District met by appoint-ment at the house of the Hon. Caleb M. Faylor, the member of Congress elect from that District, about one and a half miles from Schenek's Station. Each delegation had its own spokesman to address a congra ulatory speech to the member elect, who responded in each case with happy effect. After the speeches had been made the company sat down to a noble banquet on the lawn beside of the mansion. The most novel feature of the banquet was the entire absence of all kinds of liquor, a material that is always considered essential to the hilarity of any assemblage of the kind. But the company present needed nothing to enliven their spirits, and everything went off as pleasantly and as happily as any one could desire, and the company separated at a late hour.

A DANGEROUS CHARACTER.—The people in the neighborhood of Tenth and Filbert streets were alarmed by the sound of a pistol shot at an early hour this morning. Patrick Lynca and another companion of his had gone into the drinking saloon kept by a Mr. Miller, in Fitbert street, above Eleventh, about two o'clock this morning. Being in a state of glorious intoxication, they got into a disturbance, and Lynch, it is said, to put a summary end to the dispute, drew a pistol and discharged it at the laudlord. Fortunately it missed its aim, and shortly afterwards Lynch was arrested. He had a hearing before Alderman Jones, who held him in $1000 bail for assault and battery with intent to kill.

CORNER LOUNGING. - Any one going through our city cannot fail to see the immennumber of young men who are to be seen hang-ing around the corners of the strests. Espe-cially is this the case in front of the corner taverns, and in some of those places a lady can hardly pass by without being in danger of insuit. There have been several acrests every day for this offense. At Front and Canal street yesterday two were arrested for being disorderly.

CASE OF EMBEZZLEMENT .- J. W. Briggs was arrested at Second and Market streets, on the above charge, yesterday morning. It is alleged that he has appropriated property to his own use to which he had no rightful claim. was arrested on a warrant from Alderman Wil Hams, before whom the prisoner had a hearing, and was held to bail in the sum of $500 to September 30, 1866. The Aich was closed during the month of July, the Chesnut in May and June, and the American during May, June, and July. Caracross & Dixey's did no business in this city during the summer, their building being torn out for improvements. The Walnut did not close at all; this may account, in a measure, for the large amount of receipts over the other

"CONFISCATION" OF APPAREL .- Mary Ann Royle, who is an operative in one of the mills at Frankford, got into trouble the other evening. She paid a visit to a drinking-saloon called the Mechanics' Hall, kept by John Taibert, in Factory street, and imbibed freely and generously. Owing to her general hilarious condition she not only saw things double, but, it is said she went even so far as to make a mis-condition she not only saw things double, but, it is said, she went even so far as to make a mistake in regard to the identity of objects. She mistook a shawl, belonging to the wife of the proprietor of the "Hotel," for her own property, and made off with it. Being ashamed to take it back again, she left it in charge of a pawn-broker for a toding consideration from him, and accorded herealth the trible. availed herself of that tride. She was, however, arrested in her short career of prosperity, and brought to trial before Alderman Holmes, who, after a patient investigation of the facts of the case, held her in $500 bail to answer the charge

CONVICTION OF BURGLARS,-Yesterday, in the Quarter Sessions, John Mason and George S. Roberts were convicted of a charge of the larceny of shoes, boots, etc., valued at $300, the property of Joseph Ballard, Eighth and Filbert streets. One of their former colleagues turned State's evidence, and testided that these men took the measure of the key-hole of the streetdoor when the store was under repairs. They went to New York and manufactured a key to fit the door: then came back, entered the store about 6 o'clock one atternoon, took out several bagsfull of shoes and boots, and took them to a boarding-house on Ninth and Filbert streets. The goods were then sent to New York to the house of witness, where part were recovered. These same parties were convicted last week of a charge of robbing a store on Chesnut street.

A RECKLESS JEHU .- Jacob Albright let his horses out at a reckless rate of speed yester-day merning. As he turned the corner of Fif-teenth and Coates streets, his team came in colli-ion with another, injuring it to a considera-ble extent. The affair created quite a str., and the war of words waxed high and furious, until an officer of the colice quietly took Mr. Albright into custody and escorted him to the office of Alderman Hutchinson. After a hearing before that gentleman, he was committed to answer for reckless driving, and to reflect on the truth of the old maxim, "The more haste the less

THE SOUTHERN SEABOARD .- We would inform all persons travelling to the South, that they can obtain passage in first-class sea-going steamships, with every accommodation, and careful and experienced commanders, by apply-ing to Garrison & Allen, No. 5 Bowling Green, New York city, or to Allen E. Thomas & Co., No. 6 Bowling Green, New York. These companies sell to passengers by their splendid steam-ships through tickets to all points South, by rallway from Norfolk, Charleston, Savannah, Mobile, or New Orleans. Freight taken lower than by any other route.

EQUITABLE INSURANCE COMPANY -The Equipple Insurance Company have removed to No. 108 South Fourth street, as will be seen by their advertisement in another column. In the new office we feel assured that they will continue to receive the extended patronage of our clizens, which their proved reliability deserves. That have a capital of $254,000, and with officers whose names are towers of strength, we predict for them a yet more successful future. Our people know how to appreciate corporations in whom they can repose confidence, and among such the "Equitable" stands conspicuous.

SERIOUS COLLISION .- This morning the Camden ferry-boats Detaware and Mechanic collided as they were entering their respective slips at Market street, on the Philadelphia side of the The sterns of the two boats swung into each other in regular fron-clad fashion, resulting in staving in the cabin of the Mechanic. Considerable damage was done this boat, but the other escaped without harm, and fortunately no person was injured.

THE REV. ANTHONY A. ATWOOD, the popular pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, in this city, has been suffering for some days past from a severe attack of cholera; but we are happy to state that his symptoms are so improving that a full and early recovery is confidently anticipated by his physicians.

CHOLEBA.—The charm is broken at last. The cases of cholera reported at the Board of Health office since noon of yesterday numbered four. For some days past the count stood at eight cases for each day.

THE RESULT OF THE ELECTION .-That the State election is now over, must be a source of satisfaction to everybody. Those who have been elevated to office are very well satisfied, of course. The candidates who were not elected have no further cause for anxiety, and doubless, experience a very agreeable sensation of relief. Persons who betted upon the election have either the gratification or receiving money, or the lofty and magnant cation of receiving money, or the lotty and magnani-mous pleasure of paying it over. Every one now has ict-ure to attend to greater and more important matiers, such as the selection of a new Fail Suit from Towir Hall. Our stock of Men's, Youths', and Boys' Clothing is the fullest and most complete in Palladelphia. Prices are lower, and nearer those of old times, than

THE ASSASSINATION REWARDS.

ANOTHER LITIGATION.

Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO EVENING TELEGRAPH.] WASHINGTON, October 19. The counsel for General L. C. Baker, E. J. Conger, and L. B. Baker, have entered suit against Dougherty, Morgan, Smith, and others, who participated in the Government reward for the arrest of the assassination conspirators.

The object of the suit is to compel the parties named to come into court, that the equity of their claims to the portions of the reward of twenty thousand dollars offered by the corporation of Washington may be determined upon. The complainants allege that the portion of the Government reward allotted to them was insufficient, and they claim a larger share of city reward.

Meeting of the Steamboat Inspectors of New York.

BUFFALO, October 19. -The Board of Inspectors of Steamboats, in session in this city for the last ten days, adjourned to-day. They transacted a considerable amount of business, and examined numerous devices appertaining to the saving of life on steamboats.

Amongst the most valuable was the life-saving tackle of Brown & Level, which attracted universal attention, it being a sure mode of disengaging a boat instantaneously from its tackle by one man, either under full speed or otherwise. It received the unanimous and unqualified approval of the Board.

Massacres in Colorado A Battle-Thirteen Indians Killed.

Leavenworth, Kansas, October 18.—Dates from Puebla, Colorado Territory, October 8, say that the Ute Indians are committing fearful depredations throughout the country, stealing stock, killing men, etc., and have carried away one man's wife and children. Further informa-tion in regard to the fight at Trinadad says that Colonel Alexander immediately went to the rescue, and reached the scene just in time to witness the attack of a ranche by the Indians. He engaged them five miles along the Purgatorie, killing thirteen, with the loss of one soldier killed and two wounded. They pursued the Indians, but were unable to take them.

The Denver News publishes the following account of the fight:

"On Wednesday evening the Indians made an attack upon the soldiers and citizens. The indians were repulsed with the loss of twelve killed. They were fighting last evening. Result

FIFTH EDITION

FIRE IN SABATOGA COUNTY, N. Y.

THE EXECUTION OF FERRIS.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

Ete., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.

Fire at Ballston, New York.

TROY, October 19 .- One of the largest area with which Ballston, Saratoga county, has ever been visited, occurred in that village last evening, resulting in the almost total destruction of the manufacturing establishment known as Chapman's Gien woollen mills, owned by Messra. E. H. & G. Chapman, but leased and occupied by Mr. A. Jahite, for the manufacture of broadcloth. The fire caught at 6 P. M. from the friction of a shatt in the wheel-room, and burned until midnight. The total loss will not fall short of $30,000, principally covered by insurance. Almost eighty operatives were employed at the time of the fire, though the capscity of the mill was much greater.

The Execution of Ferris.

New York, October 19 .- Frank Ferris, otherwise called Francisco Ferrero, the wife murderer, was executed in the jail yard in this city at 9.45 A. M. to-day. While under the gallows he sang a hymn, during the pauses of which he fervently kissed a crucifix. At the conclusion of the hymn, Father Duroquet, who attended Ferris throughout, recited a prayer, which the latter repeated after him.

Ferris then made a few remarks, saying, in a fremulous voice, that he was about to die; but was innocent. His hand was guilty, but his heart was pure. He also said there was more he wished to speak, but he had told it to Father Duroquet. He bade all good-by, and thanked Sheriff Kelly feelingly for his kindness. He thanked all who had been kind to him, and said he was sorry he had caused them so much trouble.

The hangman then approached, adjusted the rope, and the signal was given. For a moment there was a contraction of the muscles, but this soon ceased. The body was cut down after hanging for ten minutes.

Accidental Death.

Hunson, N. Y., October 19,-Mr. James Derrickach, son of the senior member of the firm of Derrickson & Bartlett, paper dealers, of New York, was drowned at Chittenden's Mills in Stockport, yesterday afternoon. He had visited the mills on business, and in surveying the premises walked out on one of the bulk heads. when he tripped, and fell over the water-wheel into the flume. His body has been recovered, and will be torwarded to his friends. He was twenty-seven years of age, and a young gentleman highly esteemed and respected.

Massachusetts Politics. Boston, October 19 .- The Democrats of the Fourth Congressional District have nominated ex Mayor Wightman for Congress.
