THE ATLANTIC CABLE.

Three Connecting Lines to be Laid from Heart's Content. The New York, Newfoundland, and London Telegraph Company have decided upon severa important improvements and new enterprises in order to insure perfect telegraphic connec tions with the prominent cities of the United States and Europe. A new land line is to be constructed from Heart's Content to Placentis, in Newfoundland. From thence a new cable will be laid to St. Pierre (Miquelon), and from that island across to Sydney, Cape Breton, where it will connect with the present land

An entirely new line will also be built from Heart's Content, N. F., to Port Hood, Cape Bre-ton, where it will connect with the present lines coming to the United States. The present land line in Newtoundland is to be entirely rebuilt of the best material, and great care will be taken that in the construction of the other two lines above mentioned, only the best workman-

The two cables across the Gulf of St. Law-rence are and have been in excellent condition. It will be seen by the above statement that the New York, Newfoundland, and London Telegraph Company will soon have three distinct lines connecting with the Atlantic Cable, which will leave no chance for accidents by severe weather preventing the United States from being in daily and hourly communication with The Delay of Atlantic Telegraph Despatches Explained-Letter from Secretary Seward.

ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH COMPANY, LONDON, October 19, 1866 j

To the Editor of The Evening Telegraph :-I am instructed by the Directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company to ask of you the favor of being allowed to give an official contradicregret, from time to time, observed in the columns of the New York press, relative to the supposed responsibility of that Company for the serious delays which have, several times since the opening of the cables, taken place in the transmission of intelligence between Heart's Content, Newfoundland, and the United States.

The Atlantic Telegraph Company is in no way responsible for those delays. The entire line between Heart's Content and New York is owned and managed by two companies, whose directors are American citizens, and whose ead offices are in New York. The New York, Newfoundland, and London Company owns the line from Heart's Content to Port Hood, and at the time the cables were laid, their own cable across the gulf was broken down, and the land wires in Newfoundland required reinsulation; they had abstained from incurring the necessary expenses of repairing these lines, owing to the repeated delays experienced in laying the cables across the Atlantic, which, not unnaturally, had inspired many minds with distrust as to the eventual accomplishment of the enterprise.

Immediately after the success of the Atlantic cable they repaired the St. Lawrence cable, and they have since laid a second cable by its side They are also, we are assured, engaged very actively in reinsulating their lines across New foundland; but these pass through a very wild country, and will take a considerable time to

As soon as these lines are put into such a condition as will warrant the expectation that tele graphic communication can be carried on be-tween Europe and America with certainty and despatch, the Directors will be prepared to make a material reduction in the tariff; and until that time arrives they hope that the people of the United States will give them credit for doing everything in their power for the interests of the public on both sides of the Atlantic.

I am, sir, yours respectfully, George Saward, Secretary and General Superintendent of the Atlantic Telegraph Company.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

An Unexpected Accession of Fortune-A Lamp-Trimmer in the United States Navy Becomes a Hungarian Count. A somewhat remarkable change of fortune has occurred to a young man known by the name of George Olson, and occupying the hum-ble position of a lamp-trimmer and "Jack of the Dust" on board the United States steamship Madawaska, now in this port, by which he has suddenly come into posses sion of $300,000 in gold, together with the Hungarian title of Edward Louis, Count Batthyanyi, and the extensive estates attached thereto.

It appears that Olson, or the Count, left his country in 1848, when very young, after his tather had been executed for being concerned in the rebellion under Kossuth (to whom he is nearly related), and has since been in the United States. He knew little of his family or their real position, and supposed that in consequence of his father's disloyalty all their possessions had been confiscated. Finding it difficult to gain a livelihood he joined the United States navy, and was drafted on board the United States steamer Madawaska as a landsman, being employed as lamo-trimmer and assistant to the captain of the hold. He never hinted to his messmates that he was of noble birth, or had ever held a higher position than the one he occupied. In fact, it does not appear that his countship had any very clear notions himself

Believing his father to be a disgraced man, he troubled his head little about family matters. and betook himself with great industry to the care of his lamps, and all his other duties on board. Happening to got hold of a newspaper a short time since he discovered an advertisement requesting Edward Louis Batthyanyi to com municate with certain parties, and he would thear of something to his advantage." Our young blue-blooded Hungarian lamp-trimmer lost no time in complying, and, having proved his identity, received an instalment of $300,000. Instead of informing his commanding officer of this strange vicissitude of fortune, which had metamorphosed a United States naval lamp-trimmer and "Jack of the Dust" into a Hungarian nobleman, with a revenue of upwards of $50,000 a year, Batthyanyi, or Olson, deserted from the Madawaska.

He is now in Washington, under the patronage of the Austrian Ambassador, endeavoring to procure a formal discharge from the service That he will succeed we have not the slightes doubt, and it is to be hoped that this sudden elevation to rank and fortune will have the effect of making him reap the advantage of the trying experience he has had of the roughest side of life. While on board the Madawaska he was remarkable for his good behavior, and the regular discharge of his laborious duties; and now, when exalted to the rank of a Hungarian grandee, we expect he will become, as he always promised, a respectable and worthy member of society.—N. Y. Herald.

HARNESS SUPPOSED TO BE STOLEN .ames Waltace was arrested yesterday afternoon at Third and Beaver streets, on suspicion of committing larceny. It appears that James is of quite a business turn. He was perambulating the streets with a wheelbarrow trundling before him, in which was his stock of trade, a fine set of harness. James' acting, we suppose, on the old maxim, "Quick sales and small profits," was offering his stock at about one-third of its value. Now, as harness-makers are not in the habit of selling to the trade at such an enormous reduction in the retail price as to allow such low prices, it very naturally got into the head of a police officer that the property had been stolen. He accordingly arrested J. Wallace, and took him before Alderman Shoemaker, to have an investigation in the case. At the hearing a claimant appeared for the wheelbarrow, which had been stolen from a place in R chmond. Wallace was committed, in default of $400 bail, to answer the charge of larceny.

THE RIVER PIRATES .- On the night of the alst, between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock, river pirates made a raid on the sloop Boxer, of Smyrna, owned by Mr. Coverdale, of Smyrna, and the schooner Sarah Fisher, of this city, owned by Shoemaker & Co., of North Broad street. The two vessels were lying at the foot of Almond street wharf at the time. The thieves carried off two new jibs, one from each vessel, and stole a yawl boat at the same time from the and stole a yaw! boat at the same time from the Sarah Fisher to carry their plunder. The two sails are valued at over $100. The whole property was recovered and taken to the Station House. Subsequently the mate of the Boxer identified one of the jibs as belonging to his vessel, and said that he had no doubt the other one belonged to the Sarah Fisher. The yaw! boat and the other sail are now at the Harbor Police dock, at the foot of Noble street.

A MALICIOUS FEMALE.-Martha Elliott, a woman of remarkably zantippic temper, and having an extremely rough conscience, was arrested on a charge of malicious mischief. It appears from the accounts of the parties, that Martha, having a grudge against Mr. Henry Leech, who resides back of the Sorrel Horetavern, on the Darby road, went to his house and be-meared it over in a most disgusting manner, to the most intense annovance of the inmates. As soon as it was discovered, information was lodged against Martha, and she was arrested and taken before That magistrate committed her for a further hearing.

A BRUTAL HUSBAND.-Jerry Hurley was arrested on a charge of beating his wife. Jerry lives at No. 1048 Ward street, and is alleged to be emphatically a hard case. It is said that, under the influence of essence of rye and the Devil, he gave the partner of his bosom a sound castigation. She complained to the Mayor, and his Honor issued a warrant for Jerry's arrest. He was arrested and taken before Alderman Lutz, who heard the stories of both sides of the house. Not being able to get at the entire facts in the case, however, the Alderman committed him for a further hearing. The abused wife, thankful for a little peace, departed to her home (?).

LARCENY.—William McCarter made a sort of informal investigation into the Gas Works. William's investigation was not, however, in-tended for the benefit of the public, but for his own private advantage. He appropriated some jewelry to his own use, but was unfortunate enough to be detected in the proceeding, and in consequence a warrant was issued for arrest on the charge. He was taken yesterday afternoon, and had a hearing before Alderman Boswell, by whom he was held in $800 to appear BURGLARY .- At an early hour this morning the house of Mrs. Yeager, No. 957 N. Eleventh street, was entered by one or more burglars. They effected an entrance into the rear of the house by prying open a back win-dow. Proceeding through to one of the chambers, the thieves rummaged the drawers of a bureau and took from them a cloak, shawl, and several dresses, and also $75 in greenbacks. The thieves then became alarmed, and fied with their plunder, and succeeded in getting off sale for the time.

CAMDEN TEMPERANCE SOCIETY. - A meeting of the Camden County Temperance Society was held yesterday at Andrew's Hall. There was a full attendance, and a spirit of reform was manifested that augured well for the future of the Society. Thomas Cochrane was nominated for President of the Association. and the unanimous vote of the members present testified the deep appreciation of his services in the cause.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF .- Some two or three days ago Charles Brant, while driving a cart in the neighborhood of Fifth and South streets, undertook to make a disturbance, and suc ceeded. He ran into another-cart, injuring it. and endangering both horse and driver. drove off at the time and escaped arrest, but a warrant was issued against him by Alderman Pottinger, and he was taken yesterday afternoon. He was committed to answer. CHOLERA.-There were only two cases of cholera reported to the Board of Health from noon of yesterday until noon of to-day.

SUPPOSED TO BE STON EN .- As one of the officers of the Harbor Police salvalking along officers, rear Walnut and Waler streets, he saw two men carrying rather suspics, us-looking bundles. He made a bee line for the ", when they dropped their plunder and ran. Being in rather better training than the officer, they succeeded in showing him a clean pair of heels and distancing him. He captured the plunder, how-ever, which was a quantity of copper pipe that had very evidently been stolen, and took it to the Harbor Police Station, at Front and Noble streets, where it now remains awaiting the identification of the owner.

ILLEGAL APPROPRIATION .- A man an-Andrew Jackson, was arrested last evening in the neighborhood of Second and Callowbill streets, for having in his possession a pair of lady's gaiters without having a clear title to them. Andrew had confiscated them from a store in the vicinity of his capture. He resides in Mary street, but was anable to go home to his domestic fireside, as Alderman Toland gave him lodgings in the Station House, owing to his credit not being good enough to obtain ball to the amount of $600.

A NEW BRIDGE.-The authorities of Frankford have succeeded in getting a new bridge across the Facony creek, in Church street. The old bridge had such a narrow bay that the water would be dammed up and cause great annoyance to those residing in the vicinity. Under the superintendence of Mr. Foulkrod, the old arch was torn away, the bay greatly widened, and a truss bridge of great strength and durability put up in its stead.

SPECIAL DESPATCH TO EVENING TELEGRAPH. BALTIMORE, November 2 .- Up to this hour, one o'clock, no new Potice Commissioners have appeared before the Clerk of the Superior Court, or Judge Martin, of the same, to be sworn in. It is now understood that John T. Ford refused to accept the appointment; also that George R.

Barry refuses, and General Horn is undecided. The old Board, Messrs. Hindes and Wood, are still in power, and intend maintaining their position. They have appointed thirty extra policemen for each Ward, and will refuse to vield to any new Commissioners.

It is understood positively that General Grant yesterday told Mayor Chapman, the Commissioners, and also Judge Bond, that he would not interfere with the troops, unless positively ordered, and if United States troops be sent here the assurance had been given him that no resistance would be made to them, but no interference on the part of the new newly appointed Commissioners would be resisted through the civil courts. The excitement runs high, and large numbers of persons are on the public thoroughfares, anxious to hear the news, against Newton Champion was resumed this morning.

Dr. Wood sworn—I am a practising physicism in this city; I saw the prisoner about I o'clock on the day of the murder; I called to see him professionally; I saw him in a house on the south side of Callowhill street, west of Fitteenth; he was in the parlor, lying on the attee; I noticed his clothes had some blood on them; I think he had a linen blouse on, with blood on the sieeves, and b ood on one of the cuffs of his sairt; when I first saw him he could not speak, apparently; he did not complain of anything; his pulse was very frequent; I think it was over life; his physical condition was a sort of physical prostration and exottement; I had him carried up stairs, and then examined him to see if he had been stabbed; I gave a little stimulant, and perhaps a few drops of launanum; he told me that he had been vomiting and purging after a time; at first I could not get anything from him; I could not make out at the time what his condition was the result of; he was like a man coming out of a great exchangular and his mire a reaction after great exchangular the first time when I left him he could speak more coherants. the first time when I left him he could speak more coheren'ly, and his pulse was down and excitement subdued; his condition was down and excitement coheren'ly, and his pulse was down and excitement subdued; his condition was ameliorated; I saw nothing that indicated that he had been drinking; I next law him in the same bed, laie in the afternoon; it was, I suppose, about 3 o'cock, I couldn't say definitely; his condition appeared to be pretty well, but he was apparently weak, lying in bed; I administered to him a few drops of hudanum and some thing else, I do not remember what; I saw him the next morning; he press nied the same symptoms then; the weakness might have been occasioned by the vomiting and purging; shortly after that I went around with the police, and was asked if he could be removed, and I said yes; I do not know who resided in the house; I knew that when was on the clothes to be blo of from the co'or, and the way in which it was on I supposed it to be blood; I didn't examine it with a telescope; it was trush blood; there was not a great deal of blood; I could not tell how much space it would occupy; when I first saw him I could not tell what was the matter with him. The Commonwealth nere closed.

Mr. Clarence Borden—May it please the Court and Gentien en of the Jury:—The defendant at the bar service or the United States about the year 1861. From that period until 1865 he was in active service, with the exception of the lapses of time which intervened from the date of his leaving one vessal to that of his being placed anon another. He has served in the capacity of engineer on board the Monesola, Fawnce, Lehigh, and Galatea. Of many who were acquainted with him during his ocean career, a few, very few, indeed, can we obtain to testiv in his requisited with him during his ocean career, a few, very lew, indeed, can we obtain to testify in his behalf; many have fallen victims to disease in unhealthy climates, and some of his shipmates are now absent in distant waters.

healthy climates, and some of his shipmates are now absent in distant waters.

Gentlemen of the Jury—Our defense will not be in theories, nor in speculation. We will try to follow what Saint Paul said to the Thessalonians:—"To prove all things, hold fast that which is good." Now this case seems involved fit a kind of mystery. The Commonwealth have failed to prove that the defendant at the bar killed the deceased on the 10th day of August; whether that killing was justifiable, or whether it was on a sudden provocation. They or whether it was on a sudden provocation. They have failed to show whether it was an assault previous to the morial wound, or at the same instant, or after the morial stroke

after the mortal stroke Gent'emen of the Jury—There was no weapon at all found upon the person, in the room, or in the yard. Dr. Wood, I believe, says that clood was found upon the prisoner? And what does Dr. Wood judge blocd but by its color. You cannot judge of blood by the color. A microscopic test is the only test by which blood can be judged.

There is another matter to be considered, and that is the length of time that expired from the hour that the deceased first went into this house on Eleventh street until he went away. The period, I believe, was five or six hours. Now, is it not probable that two or three persons, unknown to each other and at different times, could have gone into that house between the hours of 12 and 3 o'clock? Everything seems invorable to such a probability. Mrs. Tyson went out of this house, was gone an hour and a half, came back, and went to bed. During the time Mrs. Tyson was out, the colored weman—there was only one person, I believe, had charge of the house in the yard; washing and attending to the house-hold work, and then you know that there are two doors to the house; one on Eleventh street, and the other on Mark's Lane; that has been proved; now with such facilities for envance and exit, it is no more than probable that two or three persons could have gone into that house and our again without anybody knowing anything about it; but, gentlemen of the jury, we being unable to explain his whereabouts, the family of the de indant rest his delense upon the plea of insanity. The plea has been a very weak plea, and in many murder cases that have been tried in this Court, the plea of insanity is brought forward as an emergency; but in this it is rather different. The prisoner at the bar has always been treated by his friends and relatives as one laboring under mental aberration. Before he entered the nave, his friends and relatives as one laboring under mental aberration. There is another matter to be considered, and that Silver do 105,909 Copper do 8,299,000 Total No. of pieces. 3,442,074 entered the navy, his friends and relatives regarded him in ane, but his insanity did not reach that point which would warrant them to put him in an asylum. His father was insane In the year 1888 he was being treated for insanity at the asylum. His father was insane In the year 1888 he was being treated for insanity at the Pennsylvania Hospital in Pine street, and the records of that institution will show that he was discharged from that institution as improved but not cured, that evidence will be given to, you on the wirness-stand; a brotherland assister of the defendant labor nudder insanity; the sister was placed in an insane asylum many years ago for the purpose of having a cure effected; that also will be prov n to you; after you have heard the evidence of the witnesses for the detense you will be convinced that the law entities the defendant to an accountal.

The bill of indictment charges that the act was The bill of indictment charges that the act was committed "iclomously, and with malice aforesthought." Now the motive is the essence of the offense, and where there is no mind, there can be no motive. Now, gentlemen or the jury, when I shall cite to you some of the authorities containing the medical jurisprudence of this country and of Europe, I think you will be convinced that I have not advanced any principles which they do not were the second of the second

Dr. McPherson sworn—I visited him professionally last April; he was suffering from an acute inflammation; he was deringed at that time; thus derangement was a mutsering delirium; what I mean was, that there was no coherency to his expressions, no outery; I cannot recollect any of them; when I paid him a second visit he was under the influence of the remedies I had administered; he was in a sound sleep.

I made a third visit, and his mina was improved to what it had been; that was the last time I went to see him.

I mane a third visit, and his mane was improved to what it had been; that was the last time I went to see him.

Crors examined—It is a very common thing to be deranged from the cause of the disease; but there was a peculiarity about his derangement not common to the disease.

William G. Malen, sworn:—I am steward of the Pennsylvania Hospital; the books of the Institution are under my charge, but I do not keep them; insane persons are not now treated as the heap pital; they were previous to 1841; I was there then; from 1824 to 1841 I was clerk there; there was a yearn named Thomas Champion confined in the hosp tal for insanity; from the entries in my books I am on vitain he was there.

Mrs. Champion, the mother of the prisoner, was then called, and testified as follows:—Thomas. Champion is my husband; he is the father of theoprisoner; the father of the prisoner was insane, and was treated for it at the Pennsylvania Hospital and at Blockley; he was in the Pennsylvania Hospital and at Blockley; he was in the Pennsylvania Hospital it took him out against the doctor's wish for a trial, his vacancy being filled in two days afterwards at the Pennsylvania; Hospital I took him to Blockley; he was there about six weeks; I took him out of there on trial; he was out only one night; then I was obliged to have him returned; I returned him to Blockley several different times; in the first instance he attempted suicide; he was very violent, so much so that twenty mea couldn't manage him; the straight jacket was never on him at the nospital; they had him strapped down to the bed.
