A Married Man Attempts to Outrage the Persons of Two Little Girls.:

1.1.1.1.1.1

Our exchanges from all quarters of the coun-bry are filled with accounts of outrages com-matted in their respective communities, but we have not for years been compelled to record so horrible a crime perpetrated in our midst as that we are about to relate. It seems that on Saturday afternoon last, a man (whose name we very recently omit, out of respect for his metalives, who are among our highly esteemed we very recently omit, out of respect for his melatives, who are among our highly esteemed sitizens) who resides in the upper end of the sitizens) who resides in the upper end of the sitizens) who resides in the upper end of the sitizens) who resides in the upper end of the sitizens) who resides in the upper end of the sitizens) who resides in the upper end of the sitizens) and there, after locking the shoors to prevent outsiders from intruding, attempted to violate their persons. Fortunately, the little ones, by their cries, alarmed the vil-lain, who, fearing he might be discovered in the commission of his crime, permitted them to leave the premises. The little gris, upon reach-ing their parents, who had the scoundred arrested yesterday morning. He was taken before Mayor Edwards, who held him in one thousand dollars bail, in each case, to appear at court. The bail was turnished, and the prisoner released iro m the lock-up. While we deeply sympathize with the family and friends of the man-and although it is matural for them to desire a settlement of the case-the public good, the safety of the chil-dren of the community, and justice demand that the individual who thus enticed two little innocent girls into his own house for the pur-pose of gratifying his evil passions, be prose-cuted to the full extent of the law, and that he be made to suffer the severest punchment that can be meted out for such a crime. As long as persons of this character are permitted to run at large, there is no guarantee that the offense will not be repeated, and to drop the matter here would be an inducement to others to perpetrate similar joutraces. It is necessary that an example be made that will prove a terror to all evil-disposed villains, and prevent them from committing equally hellish offenses. In behalt of the people of Harrisburg, we say let justice be done speedily. Had the outrage been committed in almost had the outrage been committed in almost any other community, the case would have been settled summarily before it came into the hands of the law, but we are gratified to know that our people are law-abiding citizens, who are disposed to have offenders tried by the courts. -Barrisburg Telegraph, 19th.

An American Baronet.

The Morning Slar gives the following account of Sir Curtis Miranda Lampson, the American just created a baronet:---"He was born in Vermont, in the United States. The early life of Sir Curtis was passed in the hunting and fishing grounds, which, not only in his native State, but in Canada and the Hudson's Bay ter-ritory, offered such extensive field for the gratihanng grounds, which, not only in his native State, but in Canada and the Hudson's Bay ter-ritory, offered such extensive field for the grati-fication of his ardent love of sport. Married in Vermont, he came to England in the year 1834, and permanently settled in this country. In 1848 he took the oath of allegiance and became a naturalized British subject, and was enrolled among the friends of law and order who in that year did so much to preserve unbroken the public peace. On his arrival in England he en-gaged in the business of a furrier in Queen street, Cheapside, dividing with the Hudson's Bay Company almost the whole of the home and foreign trade of this country. Impressed with the value and importance of telegraphic com-munication with America, Sir Curtis Lampson was one of the earliest directors and share-holders of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, and with the exception of Mr. Pender, M. P., and Mr. S. Gurney, he is the only one of the original directors now connected with the old Company. His perseverance and close atten-tion to the interests of the Atlantic Company baye tepded greatly to the final crowning suc-cess which has now been obligand, On the red-construction of the Hudson's Bay Company Sir Curtis Lampson was elected to the post of Deputy Gövernor, and in that capacity his great Curtis Lampson was elected to the post of Deputy Governor, and in that capacity his great knowledge of the trade and his business-like capacity have proved of great value in the management of the affairs of that corporation."

most extraordinary style. Mrs. John, as it appears, attended a wedding in Troy, on Wednesday last, and her "get-up" is thus described by one of the local Jensinses:-

The lady was certainly attired far in advance of any of her sex who were present, and it has been said that the value of the precious stones which adorned her person would purchase not only all the dresses worn in the church, but the edifice and its entire furniture. Mrs. Morrissey wore a pearl-colored silk dress, with black thread-lace flounces, over which was thrown a black lace shawl. Her hair was arranged for full dress, and upon her head was a silver crown or wreath, thickly studded with diamond stars. Upon her neck was a coral and diamond necklace of great value. Diamond bracelets also eacircled her wrists. Upon her feet were slip-pers of gold color. In addition to this gorgeous display, the lady's hair fairly glittered with

Gem Grant at the Baltimore Horse Fair

The Baltimore Commercial states that at the Horse Fair in that city on Saturday, General Grant was present, and occupying one of the stands, when his attention was called to the fact that General Jo. Johnston was upon the other, the question being put, "Would he like to see him?"

"Certainly," was the reply of the General. "There is no man on the ground I would be more pleased to see !"

General Johnston was sent for, and a cordial greeting took place. While this was going on General Stoneman also made his appearance, a like cordial greeting occurring, the three occu-pying the stand for a couple of hours in company.

A Curlous Lawsuit.

The case of Cahn vs. Cahn, on trial at Cincin-The case of Calm vs. Cabn, on trial at Cincin-nation Friday last, came to an abrupt termina-tion, in consequence of the disclosure of the strong bias of one juror. The jury was dis-obarged, and the case adjourned until next term. The suit is of a novel character. The plaintiff and defendant are brothers, very young men, and only a few years in this country, and commenced the sale of periodicals and news-papers, when quite boys, in the hotels and other public places. One went to Louisville and realized a fortune, amounting it is alleged, to upwards of $60,000, in five years, a portion of which was invested in the lease and furniture of the Gibson House and of a handsome stonefront residence on Fourth street. Cincinnati, His brother, Julius, contends there was a partnership between him and Lee up to 1862, and that his share of the proceeds amounts to $30,000.

The Rothschilds' Tobacco Case.—Before Judge Lyous on Saturday the suit growing out of the seizure by Colonel John S. Loomis, United States Government Agent, of a lot of tobacco stored in Dibrell's warehouse, belonging to the Rothschild Brothers, was taken up for consi-deration. Judge William W. Crump resumed and concluded his argument against the admisand concluded his argument against the admis-sibility of the paper presented by L. H. Chand-ler, the purport of which has already been ex-plained in the Times. Mr. Chandler, on the part of the Government, followed Judge Crump in an elaborate speech, which closed the argu-ment, when Judge Lyons announced that he about the table papers in the case and randow c should take the papers in the case and render a decision in a few days. Thereupon the Court adjourned.-Richmond Times. 19th.

Letter from the Governor of Canada.-Gov-erner Fairchild, of Wisconsin, has received a private letter from Lord Monck, Governor-General of Canada, in response to a letter from him appealing for lenient treatment to Captain Lynch, of Wisconsin, now under sentence of death in Canada as a Fenian invader. From the tenor of this letter, without violating any con-fidence, it may be stated that there is every inclination on the part of the Canadian Government to take a merciful view of his case.
