AMUSEMENTS.

AMBRICAN ACADEMY OF MUSIC.-The great Ris American Academy of Music.—The great Ristorias "Medea." As the time approaches for the debut of this distinguished artiste injour city, the excitement to see and hear her increases. The rush for secured seats has been great, but we learn that quits a number of very desirable piaces, especially in the balcony, still remain unsold. The fact is worth observing, as indicating a peculiar local taste. In New York the balcony seats are always the first to be taken, and they there command a premium; while in Philadelphia the parquet is most in demand. As this is not due to any essential difference in the operahouse or theatres of the two cities, it is difficult to account for such a markod difference in preference as regards position.

as regards position.

The character selected by the great tragedienne for her first appearance—that of "Medeat"—is one which shows Restori's genius to the greatest perfection. The play itself is one of the best of her repertoire, and its production, both in Europe and in this country, has always created a furor. We doubt not that its representation in Pailadelphia, on Monday evening next, will form no exception to the rule.

A great treat, therefore, is in store for those who ing next, will form no exception to the rule.

A great treat, therefore, is in store for those who witness the performance of Medea, which was written, by-the-way, for Rachel, but who declining to appear in it, it was accepted by Ristori, whose success was so great in it that Rachel, who was present the first night of its performance, was so enraptured that she fainted. M. Legouve, its distinguished author, who was terribly chagined at Rachel's rejection or his great play, was so overjoyed at the success of his fragedy that he wrote afterwards:—"Rachel killed me, but Ristori has restored me to life."

On Tuesday evening M'me Adelaide Ristori will appear as "Marie Stuart" The sale of tickets for Tuesday and Wednesday evenings will commence at the Academy of Music and at Trumpler's music store to-morrow (Saturday) morning.

THE FRENCH OPERA—"ZAMPA" AND THE "CROWN DIAMONDS."—The entertainment presented this evening by Julgnet and Drivet's French troupe will consist of Zampa and La Maitre de Chapelle, Mademoiselle Naddle and M. Armand appearing respectively as 'Camille" and "Zampa," and Mademoiselle Laurentis and M. Wilhelm as "Gertrude" and "Barnabe." The intrinsic interest due to the entire entertainment will receive an outside impulse from the fact that General Geary, Governor elect, will, it is understood, be present, and occupy a proscenium box. The name of Mademoiselle Naddle is not precisely identified with the reputation of the French troupe; identified with the reputation of the French troupe; but it is sufficiently pleasant to warrant the feeling of a good degree of public interest in her reap-

At the matinee, to-morrow, the Crown Dia-monds will be presented, with Naddie, Laurentis, and Anthelme in the principal roles.

THE NEW CHESNUT STREET THEATRE.—The per formances at this house to-night are for the benefit of John E McDonough. The interesting drama of Long strike and a popular farce will be per-formed. Mr. McDonough has catered most success-fully for the public, and he deserves a substantial mbrance to night.

To-morrow (Saturday) afternoon Mr. McDonough and the woo'e company will appear in Arrah na-Pogue, for a matinee performance. Fo-morrow evening Long Strike will be presented.

ARCH STREET THEATRE,-Mr. and Mrs. Howard to make their last appearance out one this Mrs. Paul wit introduce her impersonation of "Garibaldi," which was an eminent success in London. She is a more variously gifted Protean performer than has appeared in this city within the memory of many middle-aged theatre-goers. On Monday evening Mr. F. S. Chantrau will commence

NEW AMERICAN THEATRE.—The Black Crook is still filling this place of amusement. As it will shortly be withdrawn for a Christmas spectacle, all who have not seen it should do so speedily. There will be a matinee on Saturday afternoon, when the Black Crook will be presented.

GOING TO LEAVE US .- Mr. E. A. Locke, the comedian of the American Theatre, withdraws from that establishment, we are informed, and joins the forces at the Academy of Music, Albany, New York. Mr. Locke is a most deserving favorite at the "Ameri-can," and we think the management will have some difficulty in filling his position.

An ART EXHIBITION.—There is now on exhibition at the Art Gallery, No. 1805 Chesnut street, a fine landacape by Eierstadt, entitled "The Yo-Semite Valley." It belongs to the Crosby Opera House Art Association, and is intended as the second prize in the national distribution to take place in January. It is a companion-picture with "the Base of the Rocky Mountains," by the same artist, which was purchased by Sir Morton l'eto for twenty thousand dollars, and will be excubited at the World's Fair in Paris, in 1867. The picture now to be seen at the Art Gallery represents a view in the Yo Semite Valley, bounded on either side by precipitous ranges of naked rocks, towering into most starting and imposing altitude. In the foreground is a space of lever country, painted with rare fidelity and truth in tone and texture. But the great merit of the picture is its light and atm-sphere. The whole canvas seems surrounded with the latter, and the particles of golden high fill the middle distance and bactground, and render them luminous with the warm clays of the support sur. glow of the summer sun. The picture is well worth

AN AFRICAN RAID.-Last evening, at a late hour, when all good citizens were wrapped in sound repease, the immates of the house of William Max, the keeper of a drinking saloon on Germautown avenue, above eventh, were aroused by a general hammering, kicking, and swearing at the door. On the door being opened, two negroes stepped within, and demanded the immediate serving up of large amounts of "tanglefoot" and "lightning." They being in a somewhat inebriated state, the request was refused, whereupon a general smashing was carried on, making considerable noise, and waking the neighborhood. Notwith standing their semi-tipsy state, considerable muscular power was developed. Some of their friends arriving soon after the commencement of the disturbance, took them away in safety before arrests could be made. Up to the present time they have not been arrested.

BURNING OF A STEAM-TUG. - This morning, about 1 o'clock, the tux-boat George M. Griffin, lying at the wharf of Day, Carter & Day, Cooper's Point, took fire. The boat, at the time, was lying astern of a schooner on the ways, but was hauled to the wharf opposite. One of the watchmen was sleeping in the cabin at the time, and was awakened by the smoke, and gave the alarm, and with the other watchmen of the yard attempted to subdue the flames with buckets of water. They partially succeeded in keeping the flames down until the steamers arrived upon the ground and effectually subdued them. All the forward part of the boat, including the pilot-house, was burned. The machinery was greatly damaged by the heat and water. The total loss is between three and four thousand dollars, which is fully covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

A MANIFEST SWINDLE-LET THE PEOPLE BE ON THRIR GUARD.—A few days ago, we exposed the wretched attempt at swindling simpleposed the wretched attempt at swindling simple-minded people which is now being perpetrated by some persons: in Cincinnail, styling themselves "Williams & Co., Actuaries of the United States Prize Concert," The manner in which they carry on their disreputable calling, as we then showed, is by procuring, in some way or other, the addresses of persons residing in this and other cities, at a distance from the head-quarters of their operations; and then forwarding to them a printed circular, of which the following is a copy, the blanks being filled up to suit the circumstances: uit the circumstances:-

Present Headquarters, Show Rooms, and Office of the United States Prize Concest, Nos. 10 and 12 West Fifth street, Cincinnati, November 23, 1830.—Mr.—Your ticket, No.—has drawa a prize, valued at $75. The charges and expenses on the same amount to $5.25. Please remit to us that amount, and state by what express you wish the prize sent Address Williams & Co., Actuaries, Box No. 900, Cincinnati, Ohio. Cincinnati, Ohio.

Now as a matter of course no person who has any knowledge of the tricks for making money, to which resort is had by scheming villains who are too lazy to engage in any kind of honest toil, will be "taken in and done for" by such a temptation as is here presented. Nor is it to be presumed that a person gitted with the ordinary amount of common sense, who encounters in this case for the first time anything of the kind, will be deceived by it. Unfortunately, however, the world is not made up exclusively of people whose chief characteristic is common sense. And for this reason Messrs. Williams & Co., find it possible, we dare say, to derive a very neat income from their present occupation. Since we pubished our first article, calling attention to particular swindle, other cases in which it has been attempted have come under our notice. It was only yesterday afternoon that a very poor and equally credulous old lady, living some distance out of town, was saved her $5.25 by having her attention directed to the article in The Evening Telegraph of last Monday by a clerk of one of our express companies, to whom she applied for a draft, to be remitted to these Cininnati Prize Concert Swins lers.

The only way by which the credulous and avaricious portion of our population can be saved from the cunning machinations of swinsaved from the cunning machinations of swindlers of this stripe, is for the newspapers to take up the matter and give it a thorough ventilation. It would not be amis, seither, if the postmaster of Cincinnati should look into the affairs of Messrs. Williams & Co., and withhold their letters until they can satisfy him, and the public as well, that they are anything more than swindlers. He is certainly authorized to take this course by the laws regulating the Post Office Department; and he is not only authorized to do so, but it is made his imperative duty thus to put a stop to any such attempt at swindling through the agency of the mails. Possibly he is not aware of the operations of Messrs. Williams & Co., and for fear such should be the case, we have taken the trouble to call his attention to the subject. In the mean-time, let no person forward to Cincinnati five dollars and twenty-five cents, under the belief that the will receive in return for it a prize worth seventy-five dollars, or any other tangible sum. A moment's thought will surely convince that a business conducted on such unbusi ness-like principles can only result in the financial ruin of those engaged in it, unless the latter should, as in this case we have no doubt they do, coolly place the remittances in their pockets and smile at the verdancy of their

THE NEW COHOCKSINK PRESBYTERIAN Снивси.—No stronger evidence can be adduced of the growth of a community in point of population and progressive civilization, than the lation and progressive civilization, than the ocular evidence of its places of religious worship. For in Christian communities they are always in keeping with the advancement of the people; and the building of new church edifices, the enlarging and remodelling of old ones, is proof positive of increasing congregations and enlarged ideas as to proper places for religious worship. It is with great pleasure that we notice the constant improvements which are daily the constant improvements which are daily being made in this direction in different parts of our city; especially in the northern part are

The congregation of the old Cohocksink Presbyterian Church (Rev. S. A. Mutchmore, pastor), situated on Germantown avenue, near the june tion of Fifth street, by the large additions to its membership during the last winter, was compelled by necessity to commence the erection of a new church edifice last August, on Columbia avenue, facing Franklin street, one of the fines sites in the city. The church is built of pressed brick, having a front of Trenton brown sand-stone, of pleasing contrast and fine appearance, It is one hundred and thirteen feet in death, sixty-five in breadth, and the gable is at the heighth of one hundred feet. The elevation to the top of the spire, when completed according to the plan, will be two hundred and twenty feet, making one of the highest and most imposing in the city. The cost of building and material is about $50,000; the ground, $6000; and contingent expenses will make a total sum of $60,000, ensuring a most imposing ornament to the city. It will have every modern con-venience, and will have a sitting capacity of one thousand. The editice by the day and night working of a large corps of laborers, is tast nearing completion, the roof being nearly all on. It is expected, if aided by favorable weather, that the lecture-room will be completed within two months for occupation. The ladies of the congregation are working energetically in making preparations for a fair, which is to be held in the new church, to commence one week before Christmas. Due notice will be given of it with all matters thereto pertaining it, with all matters thereto pertaining.

THE LIFE OF OUR LORD .- We are privileged to announce to those of our readers who were prevented from listening on Sunday night last to the fifth discourse on the above theme, that it will be presented for their benefit in our to-morrow's issue. In making this announcement we would observe that, in the finished tone and pure doctrinal sentiment, the pathetic and persuasive appeal to believers and unbe-lievers, combined with the genuine apostolic style of presenting the truth, our minds are style of presenting the truth, our minds are floated back to the days of the revered Bethune, when he, at the same sacred desk, provided similar instructions. Many of the surviving members of the original flock of Dr. Bethune cheerfully acknowledge a marked similarity of style of logic and rhetoric in the discourses of the Rev. J. W. Schenck, pastor of the Third Reformed Butch Church, Tenth and Filbert streets. The next discourse will be on 'Our Lord's Temp'stion in the Wilderness," to be delivered on Sunday evening next, the 9th inst. delivered on Sunday evening next, the 9th inst. In this allusion to this minister of the Gospei, we add, with much gratification, the increasing interest evinced in the Wednesday evening lec-tures, which are of the most entertaining and STEALING BOOTS. - David Hutchinson, who is an ordent admirer of a neat-fitting pair of boots, became enamored of a pair that were of boots, became enumored of a pair that were hanging in front of the boot and shoe store of Mr. Stillman, at No. 812 Spring Garden street. Not having the money to pay for them, and being too bashful to ask for them, he quietly picked them up and walked off with his prize. He was born under an unincky star, however, and was detected and arrested soon after in Drum court, close by, and was escorted to the office of Alderman Massey, who held him in $1000 bail to answer for his little transaction.

FALL AND WINTER OVERCOATS IN GREAT VARIETY.

CARELESSNESS OF WORKMEN.-Injurious results often come from the extreme careless ness of workmen in all manners of business But it is a more characteristic feature with those whose business it is to load and unload cargoes and wagons on the wharves and streets. The tossing of articles from street to warehouse, without observing the movements of passors-by, and the utter disregard of their well-being, should be remedied. For it is the most easy thing imaginable to strike a person where all thing imaginable to strike a person when all the energies of the tossers are concentrated in the effort to see the fast and regular movements of such things as bricks, bags of sait, hams, kegs, etc., arching through the air.

etc., arching through the air.

This is common not only to the docks, but to all of our business streets, without exception. It was but this morning, near the West Jersey ferry, that an old lady, who had just arrived from across the river, and was quietly making her way along Front street, was struck, and no doubt severely injured, by one of the many large hams that were flung across the walk in regular hams that were flung across the walk in regular succession. The lady having the mistortune to be near-sighted, attempted to pass while the workmen, utterly disregarding her presence, were heaving the hams in wondrous style.

It is none of the pleasantest sensations, cially in a crowded street, to be hit in this manner, or to have the supply of our breath imme-diately stopped by the blow of some board, which is brought into painful conjunction with the body by the carclessness of a gaping car-penter or cargo-shifter. Let these unmindful persons imagine the feelings of the victim of such an occurrence if they can; then remember that others have the same sensations, and try to remedy this injurious detect.

SHARP SWINDLING OPERATION .- Rather a sharp piece of villany was perpetrated upon a tailor who has his place of business at No. 936 North Second street. It appears that a family in reduced circumstances had advertised a couple of rooms to let in their house, at No. 1728 Davy street. A young man called in answer to the advertisement, between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday, and engaged them, and also asked permission of the lady of the house to place a piano in the parlor. He said his wife only needed it for her own amusement. The lady consented. He then went away, and between the hours of 4 and 5 in the evening he called again with a scrubbing brush and bucket. and said that the piano would be there soon. So saying, he commenced to sweep and arrange So saying, he commenced to sweep and arrange the room, as she supposed, for the reception of the piano. She left him engaged thus. In a few minutes after she had left the room, a tailor rang the bell, and was admitted by the young man to the parlor. He had with him a bundle of clothing, which the young man asked him to allow him to try on, going upstairs ffor that purpose. The tailor sat in the parlor for half an hour waiting for his return, and then getting impatient, he called the lady of the house, and asked her if she would call the house, and asked her if she would call the young man down, as he was in a hurry. She went after him, and found he had gone, and had left the front door open. The disappointed tailor left a sadder and a wiser man, having paid dearly for his experience, the clothing being valued at $70.

CHEATING A PUBLICAN.-William D. Birch, who is supposed to be a near relative of the man who "went up and down to seek his dinner through the town," and who, as the veracious historian tells us, brought up at a place where they did not sell "bread with one iish-ball," has got into a slight difficulty. It seems that William, or Bill, as his cronies gene-rally call him, thought he could do a cuter thing than that.

He walked into a restaurant yesterday afternoon, at No. 1528 Lombard street, and sitting down before a table, called for a bountiful dinner, which was furnished to him. He ate with a good relish, and getting up, was going out very calmly, picking his teeth, when the keeper of the restaurant called to him that he had forof the restaurant called to him that he had forgotten to pay for his dinner. He replied that he had not forgotten to pay, but that his memory was better than his pocket-book, and that he did not intend to insult the man's hospitality by offering him tiltay lucre for the entertainment. The proprietor did not see the matter in that way, and had the J remy Diddler arrested on a charge of missiements. on a charge of misdemeanor. He had a hearing before Alderman Pottinger, and was committed

LA COTERIE CARNIVAL. - This affair, now tooked forward to by our belles and beaux with on Monday evening, January 14, 1867, at the Academy of Music, and will, doubless, eclipse those of the past seasons. Messrs. Abel and Risley, the directors of this grand fele, are too well known to be con idered parsimonious in their arrangements of Bats Masques; an i when we say that heretofore their management has been second to none, we think that we but utter the sentiments of our readers. We might mention many new teatures which are in preparation for the occasion, but would prefer that the already large number of subscribers may see for themselves. We can, however, assure those who may be fortunate enough to assist upon the occasion that a rare treat is in store for them, and we anticipate witnessing such an avalanche of novelties and as mblage of beauty and tashion, en costume, as has been unequalled in our city. EMBEZZIAMAN CASE,—A young man named Henry Hookey was arrested yesterday upon the charge of embezzlement. He was employed as a canvassing agent by Mr. Costar, who is the agent for the "Gospel Directory" for 1867. It was Hockey's duty to go around soliciting subscribers and advertisements, and he told the parties if they wished to have their names inserted in capitals they would have to names inserted in capitals they would have to pay an extra fee or fifty cents. It was his duty to make returns to Mr. Costar daily, with the names of the parties. Instead of doing that, he has been appropriating the money so collected has been appropriating the money so conected to his own use. Some of the parties complained to Mr. Cestar, supposing that they had no right to pay it. By this means the young man was detected, and was arrested at Ninth and Chesnut streets, and taken before Alderman Beitler, who held him to answer in $1000 ball.

burglar Foiled.-John Stein was arrested at Manayunk yesterday morning, under very suspicions circumstances. It appears that he was found in the enclosure belonging to Dobson's Mills, at a very early hour. When discovered he was trying to persuade, or coax, a faithful "Towser" to allow him to pass him. But the latter "knew his duty better," and had no children. A policeman happened to be close by during the man's carnest appeals to the "dorg," and asked the man what he was doing there. He said he only wanted a place to rest, as he had come down from Whitehaven on a train of cars, and was tired, and had no place to go to. The officer arrested him, and took him before Alderman Bamsdell, who committed him in default of $800 bail.

A HARD CASE,—Henry Kingston was arrested last Monday night, and committed by Alderman Stallman, on a charge of larceny and suspicion of arson. He was arrested on a warrant charging him with setting fire to Mr. Harkness carriage-house, at Chesnut Hill. On seaching his place, a set of harness, a saddle, tools, etc.. were found. A pair of sours were found in his pocket at the time of his arrest. All of the property was recognized as belonging to Mr. Harkness. Kingston was arrested some time ago on a charge of burning the barn of Mr. Rex, of the same place. He was formerly in the employ of the latter gentleman, and has the name of being a very bad character, although only nineteen years of age.

YOUTHFUL BURGLARS.—At a very early Youthful Burglars.—At a very early hour vesterday morning a policeman discovered a couple of small boys, about eleven years of age, engaged in trying to open one of the butchers' stalls in the Spring Garden Market House. One of the youngsters sat on the stall and beat a 'devil's tattoo" with his heels and knuckles, while his comrade endeavored to open the stall with a skeleton key. The officer watched their operations for a short time, and then made a pounce upon them, capturing them both. They had a hearing before Alderman Massey, and gave the names of Ferdinand Belder and Jesse De Haven. They were held in $600 bail each to answer.

A SHARP BOARDER.—James Wallace took A SHARP BOARDER.—James Wanace took lodgings at the Barley Sheat Hotel, in North Second street, the night before last. In the morning, when the chambermaid went to make up the beds, she found the sheets missing from the bed in the room next to the one occurred by Wallace. She informed the clerk, and on going up, the door of Wallace's room was found locked. Unlocking it, he went in, and found the locked. Unlocking it, he went in, and found the two missing sheets stowed away under the Wallace was arrested, and had a hearing before Alderman Toland, who held him in $600 bail to answer. Wallace is a Baltimorean, and at the hearing could not give any account of how the sheets found their way into his room. It is supposed it was done by the agency of the spirits (not ardent).

CAMDEN AND ATLANTIC RAMBOAD.—
Mr. David H. Mundy has been appointed General Agent of this rall way during the illness of Colonel John Y. Bryant, the well-known occupant of that position. Mr. Mundy is the oldest conductor of the road, and he is a gentleman admirably fitted for the place. His business capacity and urbanity are gracefully exhibited to all who have transactions with him. The to all who have transactions with him. The selection will meet with general approval from the patrons of the Camden and Atlantic Rail-

A THIEVISH VAGBANT.—Mary Monaghan was arrested yesterday morning in Auburn street, between Ninth and Tenth streets, for the street, between Ninth and Tenth streets, for the supposed larceny of a cloth coat, a shepherd's plaid dress, a lady's dress-hat, and some other articles, as mentioned in our issue of yesterday. All the articles except the cloth coat had been sold. She was arrested in the act of attempting to dispose of the latter for $1.50, its real value being $50. She was committed by Alderman Tittermary to answer for suspicion of larceny.

BURGLARY IN A DRY GOODS STORE .- The dry goods store of Mr. Monteith, at No. 513 S. Twentieth street, was entered this morning and cobbed of several pieces of merino, some sewingsilk, several rolls of ribbon, and other things, to the value of $600. The thieves had obtained an entrance at the rear by boring two holes through a shutter back of the store, and then shoving back the bolt. The job bore evidence of having been the work of a skilful hand.

STEALING CHANGES OF RAIMENT .- At an early hour this morning Robert Thomas, a "culled individual" boarding at a place in Apple street, near Brown, undertook to replenish his wardrobe at the expense of his fellow-lodgers. The game did not work well, however, and Robert soon found himself in the grasp of the law. He was arrested at Lawrence and Crown streets, and committed in default of bail by Alderman Toland.

AN UNDUTIFUL SON. - A young fellow named Daniel Devlin was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery, and threaten-ing to kill. It appears that Daniel, who was in the babit of abusing his mother, managed to cap the climax yesterday morning by kicking her in a brutal manner, throwing her down stairs, and then drew a knife on her, threatening to kill her. He was arrested, and held in $600 bail to answer by Alderman Clouds.

TIMELY RELIEF.—A poor destitute woman called at the Mayor's office this morning about the time he was holding his usual levee, and asked for help. The kind-hearted Chief of Police, Mr. Ruggles, introduced her, and explained her case to his heatenants, and their prompt and generous contributions sent the poor creature off rejoicing. It was an occasion that a feeling person feels happy to record as a pleasant memory.

LARCENY OF PIG IRON.-George Shaefer and Charles Myers were arrested this morning and held in $800 bail for a further hearing by Alderman Clouds. They had a skill at the foot of Shackamaxon street wharf, in which was a quantity of pig iron which they had stolen Inormation concerning the skill and iron can be had by applying to Lieutenant Whiteratt at the Nanetecuth Ward Police Station.
