noon this fine series of tableaux will be produced at the Academy, and, as a holiday performance, we have no doubt will prove very snocessiul.

Nichols, who have been especially engaged for the occasion.

Such an array of attraction has seldom been offered in this city on a holiday; and when we consider the peculiar fitness of the entertainment, and the magnificent and comfortable house in which it is presented, we can only advise all of tur young friends to go to the Academy and enjoy themselves.

The Lancashire Fair scene will be found to be a striking theatrical novelty, giving a fauther in terms of the humors of an English fair. a faithful picture of the humors of an English fair. The superior style in which everything is now done at the Arch Street Theatre renders it unnecessary that we should say more than that this piece will be

HOLIDAY PRESENTS,—Among our very extended notices of stores at which Christmas presents may most advantageously be obtained, we omitted to mention the following:-

B. F. Reimer, Photographer. None can deny that the invention of the art of photography has proved one of the most useful and beneficial blessings to humanity. By the use of this art, those far from home and from near and dear triends, have but to open their albums, and as they turn the leaves, each successively will present some well-known face of by-gone days, and each in its turn will carry the troughts far back into years of pleasant associations with friends. By this art, those who have long since passed away have their faces and forms, their expressive, life-like countenances, to keeploright their memory in the thoughts of those living. But the great difficulty is, where can our people bave pictures taken that will not be blurred, of color too dark or too light, and where they can be obtained in all sizes and variety of forms, and at moderate rates? We can help them here. Reimer's gallery has long cojoyed an enviable reputation among other establishments, both on account of the highest style of skill and art account of the highest style of skill and art displayed in the pictures taken, and the reasonable prices asked. Pictures of all sizes, it should be remembered by the public, can be obtained at B. F. Reimer's gallery, No. 624 Arch street, which will satisfy. Mr. Reimer is thoroughly experienced and skilled in the art he practises, and here are the practises, and none need have any fears that their pictures will not recompense them for their patronage.

A NEW RELIGIOUS JOURNAL.-We find A NEW RELIGIOUS JOURNAL,—We find upon our table the first number of the Methodist Home Journal, published at No. 108 South I hird street. Rev. Adam Wasiace editor. The paper, we are told, is to be devoted to "religious intelligence, news, literature, poetry, and art." We believe there is no other Methodist paper published in this city, the members of that denomination taking generally either the Christian Advocate, or that very able, influential, and independent journal, The Methodist, published in New York. There would seem to be an opening for an ably conducted Methodist journal in a city where that denomination is as strong as it is in Philadelphia. The typographical execution of the Home Journal is excellent, and the sprightly and beausiful appearance of the paper reflects great credit upon its printers, Messrs Haddock & Son.

'CHRISTMAS COMES BUT ONCE A YEAR."-No marvel Christmas lives so long, He never knew but merry hours,

His nights were spent in mirth and song,
His nights were spent in mirth and song,
In happy homes and princely bowers:
Was greeted both by serf and lord,
And seated at the festal board;
While every voice oried, "Welcome here,"
Old Christmas comes but once a year.

But what care we for days of old,
The knights whose arms have turned to rust,
The grim boar's heads and pastrice cold.
Their castles crumbled into dust?
Never did sweeter faces go
Blushir g beneath the mistletoe
That are to night assembled here. Than are to night assen bled here, For Christmas still comes once a year.

THE FRENCH MINISTER

THE NEW PRESIDENTIAL MANSION

A STARTLING SENSATION.

Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO EVENING TELEGRAPH.]

WASHINGTON, December 24. The New French Minister. The new French Minister, M. Berthemy, waited upon Secretary Seward to-day.

Park for Washington. Engineer Michler, of the Topographical Bureau, who has been engaged in making surveys for a site for the National Park and new Presidential Mansion, will report in favor of the purchase of at least 1800 acres of ground lying north of the city, between Seventh street and Rock creek. The purchase of that amount of ground is recommended on the ground of its present low value, and the certainty that the Government will eventually need it,

Personal. Postmaster-General Randall left the city on Saturday for New York, to meet Mrs. Randall, expected by the European steamer. Public Lands.

In November, 13,507 acres of public lands were disposed of at the Michigan land office, 11.779 acres of which were taken under title.

A Sensation.

The latest sensation amongst Washington cor respondents is a report that Jacob Lowenthal, the Claim Agent, charged with immense forgeries of bounty claims and final-discharge papers did not die of cholera, as reported, but that his death was feigned, to enable him to escape from justice. At the time the charges were made, Lowenthal, who was in New Orleans, came to Washington and offered to give himself up for trial, but the offer was declined, as there was no proof against him in the departments here. Shortly after, it was announced that he had died suddenly in the night of Asiatic cholera, and he was buried the next afternoon. The suddenness of the death and burial, coupled with the statement that the Second Auditor of the Treasury has made discoveries recently indicating large frauds in connection with soldiers' bounties, has given rise to the report concerning the feigned death of Lowenthal. Three of the leading physicians of Washington, Drs. Thomas Miller, Dove. and Howard, however, certify that Lowenthal died from Asiatic cholers, and his counsel, ex-Governor Ford, of Qhio, testifies to seeing Lowenthal's body in the coffin, as do others to whom Lowenthal was personally known.

interests in the revision of the tariff. The Wool Interest. The wool manufacturers have also been before the Committee to reply to the arguments of the worl-growers, in favor of increasing the duties on wool. The manufacturers allege that the people of the country will not stand the increased cost of the manufactured article neces-

BALTIMOBE, December 24. - The Texas papers received here contain a statement that the Government sheds at Brazos had all been taken down and removed to Brownsville, where they will be turned into winter quarters for the troops in that locality, Emigrants from Virginia are arriving in Texas with a view to settlement.

The prices of all kinds of goods have fallen materially at Galveston. Some of the pioneer emigrants to Brazil have returned to Texas, declaring that their own homes, after all, are the best for them. There are indications of an active demand for cattle in Texas for the California market.

The Baton Rouge Gasette regards the recent rise in the river as only temporary. The work of repairing the Baton Rouge and Opelousas Railway is rapidly progressing, and it is expected that it will be ready for business in the course of a month or two. Sugar making in Louisiana is progressing with energy, and the quality is represented as very
