FRIDAY, JANUARY 4, 1867.

The Point Decided.

THE recent decision of the Supreme Court covers simply one point, viz., that the trial of a civilian by a military commission in a State not the theatre of actual hostilities is illegal. It expressly recognizes the validity of such trials in the States that were in rebellion. It also recognizes the legality of the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus and of what were termed "arbitrary arrests." Had it not been for the law of 1863, providing for the discharge of persons held in custody by the military authorities in the loyal States, aiter a United States grand jury had been in session and adjourned without finding indictments against them, such persons might have been held prisoners during the pleasure of the military authorities, as long as the writ of habeas corpus was suspended. It was simply because of this provision of the law that Milligan was entitled to his release. Without it, by the decision of the Court, he could still have been held a prisoner, although he could not legally have been tried by a military commission so long as the regular operations of the Courts in Indiana were not obstructed by war.

There is, therefore, in this decision, very little to warrant the patriotic rejoicings of some of our old-time "Copperhead" journals. The things that they most complain of, namely, "arbitrary arrests"-or, as one of them poetically expresses it, the "invasion of the dwellings of citizens at midnight," and the "dragging them from their families without process, warrant, or authority," etc. etc.are not touched by this case, or, rather, are impliedly sanctioned by it.

The New Steamship Line on the Pacific. THE present year is to witness the ingauguration of an enterprise which promises to become a matter of great importance to our commercila interests on the Pacific-we allude to the steamship line between San Francisco, China, and Japan. The first ship of the new line, the Colorado, was to have left San Francisco on the 1st instant, for Hong-Kong. The line is to consist, at present, of three ships-the Colorado, the Great Republic, and the Celestial Empire-the two latter not yet quite ready, but intended to be among the largest and best wooden ships ever built in the United States. The Government pays to the Pacific Mail Company, who own this line, $450,000 per annum tor carrying the mails. Twelve round trips are to be made during the year. It is estimated that the time from Hong-Kong to London by this route will be from three to tour weeks less than by the English lines already in existence.

It is with reference to the early completion of the Pacific Railroad that this line becomes of special importance. That event will probably occur sooner than most people expect; and when it does, it must work an almost entire change in the course of the trade of Eastern Asia with Europe and America. Instead of taking the long and tedious voyage by way of the Cape of Good Hope or Cape Horn, passengers and valuable freight will go directly from China to San Francisco, then by rail to the Atlantic seaboard, and thence by steamers to Europe. We shall thus become the carriers and distributors of one of the most valuable portions of the world's commerce. As preparatory to this, the establishment of American steamship lines on the Pacific is of the utmost importance; and we are glad that the enterprise has thus seasonably been inaugurated. Its progress will be watched with interest, and its success is a matter of national concern.

Senators to be Chosen.

THE annual meeting of so many of the State Legislatures derives additional interest from the fact that upon several of them will devolve the duty of choosing United States Senators. In our own State a successor to Mr. Cowan is to be chosen. The prominent candidates for the office are Thaddens Stevens, Governor Curtin, and ex-Secretary Cameron.

In New York a successor to Mr. Harris is to be chosen. Two months agoi looked as though Horace Greeley would be almost the unanimous choice for the position. The tide of public favor seems to have changed, however, since then, and it is now quite difficult to say who of the numerous aspirants does stand the best chance of success. Senator Harris himself has a good deal of s'rength. Roscoe Conkling is also a very prominent candidate. Governor Fenton's name has been mentioned in connection with the office. From present appearances the choice lies between Harris and Conkling.

In New Jersey, the vacancy occasioned by the death of Senator Wright is to be filled. Senator Frelinghuysen, who holds temporarily under an appointment from the Governor, seems to have the inside track; and as he is by far the ablest man named in connection with the office, we hope he may get it.

Maryland also elects a Senator to succeed Mr. Creswell. Governor Swann's treachery to the Union party would naturally be rewarded by this position were it not for his locality, which, by a local law, renders him ineligible. Some Democrat is sure of the position. spirited contest prevails for didate for re-election, and the race seems to lle between Governor Morton and Representative Julian. Mr. Colfax, we believe, has refused to have his name used as a candidate. Missouri elects a successor to the eloquent and intrepld B. Gratz Brown, who refuses a re election. Governor Fletcher, Charles D. Drake, and Representative Blow are the prominent candidates, with the chances in favor

Two Senators are to be elected from Kansas, one to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the late Senator James H. Lane, and the other to succeed Senator Pomeroy, whose term expires on the 3d of March next. Mr. Pomeroy will probably be chosen as his own successor, although he has a strong competitor in the person of ex-Governor Thomas Carney. There are several competitors for Lane's vacancy, among them Senator Ross, who holds by appointment of the Governor, Colonel William A. Phillips, Judge Thacher, and Representative Clarke. Kansas politics are of the uncertain order, and no reasonable prediction can be made as to who will be the successful man.

In Nevada, if the telegrams are worth anything, Senator Nye has a "sure thing" in regard to his re-election. We hope he may not be disappointed.

In Illinois Senator Trumbull is a candidate for re-election, and If great ability and tried faithfulness are worth anything, he ought to

In Ohio a successor is to be chosen to Senator Sherman, but he seems to have the race pretty much to himself. The same remark may be made in regard to Senator Howe, of Wisconsin.

There are some other States to choose Senators during the year, but their Legislatures are not in session.

Thaddens Stevens' Great Speech. HON. THADDEUS STEVENS made a great speech in the House of Representatives yesterday, on his bill for the reconstruction of the late Rebel States. It was a condensed and powerful argument, demonstrating the full and exclusive right of Congress, as the legislative branch of the Government, to prescribe the terms and manner of reconstruction. It was also a noble and eloquent appeal in favor of reconstructing the late Rebel States upon the basis of equal and impartial rights for all before the law. Pennsylvania may well be proud of that grand old veteran, who, with all the fire and vigor of youth, tempered by the wisdom and experience of age, is the nation's great leader in the path of true Republican progress!

Mr. Douglass' Address.

FREDERICK DOUGLASS spoke to an immense audience last evening in National Hall. His address, which was nearly two hours in length, held his vast auditory in the most close and enthusiastic attention to its close. His argument was clear and logical, his diction condensed and powerful, his delivery impassioned and moving. Mr. Douglass justly ranks among the first orators of this country, and his effort last evening did full justice to his reputation. A full phonographic report of his address will be found in another part of this paper.

Liberal.— Dr. Bullar, son of the late venerable John Bullar, of Basset, near Southampton, Eag-land, has presented to the Hartley Institution, in that town, the casef part of the valuable library of his father, consisting of nearly one thousand volumes on history, divinity, and philosophy. Dr. Bullar has had the books handsomely bound and has at his own expense fitted up a splendid book-case in the reading-room of the Institute, where the volumes are to be kept.

The schools are under the charge of five estimable ladies, all, with a single exception, from the citate of Pennsylvania.

During the past jear the Commission has had five the mared children under its care in Atlanta, one hundred ocing taught in a building rented for the curpose. This school it is proposed to abandon, and thus lighten the expense.

select it is proposed to abandon, and thus lighten the expense.

Four hundred children can be educated an entire year for the small sum of three thousand dolars, or seven dollars and fit; cents each. One thousand dolars have been substitied by ten gentlemen in Philadelpoia. Two thousand dolars are yet needed. Should this smount not be contributed the present month, the buildings and their furniture will have to be sold and the por children scattered over the city, with none to care for either body or zoul. When we reflect that some of these little ones are the orphan children of men who lought and died in the Union army, and that this is the only means presented of showing our appreciation of their rathers services, we think it ought not to be disregarded. The children have carned a love the Commission, and to pray for those who give it their support.

Pennsy vania and New Jersey are the only States, so far as we are informed, thus evincing a disposition for the purpose named, thus evincing a disposition to add the South in elevating the poor white population to their rightful position. Should we succeed in prosecuting our labors another year, we can then rather under the confident assurance that the work will be carried forward by the city of State authorities.

The city of Athens have written us that they will assume the education of the poor of their town from the present time, and we expect similar good nows from Macon.

Phey write us from Athens, 'the school here under your patronage has done real service, and been a biessing to many, meeting a want and fluing a vacuum made by levying no tax in 1885."

Atlanta is destined to be one of the most diversining elities of the South. There is now, and has been ever since the war closed, more enterprise in recovering rom their great loss, by fire, and in the establishing of trade than in any other part of that country. The inhabitants have been quiet and orderly; no acts of violence occurring but such as are incident to all cities. The military and civil authorities have my ad along in per cet unanimity. Shall Pennsylvania and New Jersey, by the additional glit of three thousand collars, complete the good work they have undertaken and thus assist atlanta in rising, Pheelix-like, from the ashes, with increased strength and beauty.
