"LETTER FROM BANKERS"

SALES IN TRACING STATE

Who are Insured in the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, Showing how the Promises of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company are Performed.

"TRoy, October 20, 1866.-Messrs. Peck & Hillman, General Agents of Connecticut Mutual Lite Insurance Company—Gentlement:—The un-dersigned, policy holders in the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, feel that it is too late in the day for this Company to need any recommendation from us. Yet, in view of the fact that rival companies are jealous of her unparalleled success, and are making an effort to disparage her, we take great pleasure in say-ing that the Connecticut Mutual has done better by us than was promised. "Your representations to us have been more than realized. The non-forfeitable feature adopted by your Company-the great economy and prudence in the management of its business-the large dividends annually paid to us, and especially the 80 per cent, dividend paid this year-also the change made by which, in the settlement of policies at death, not even a single note comes out of the policy-all combine increase (if any increase is possible) our confidence in your Company. And we cheerfully recommend it to all desiring to get their lives insured. We would not change our insurance in this for one in any other company.

"Respectfully yours,

JARED S. WEED. President Troy Savings Bank.

These gentlemen commend "The Connecticut Mutual" in much stronger language I think than the facts justify. They may understand banking operations, but it is extremely doubtful whether they know enough of the principles or science of life insurance, or of the management of that Company, to warrant them in expressing their opinions with so much confidence.

If it was their object to enlighten the public upon the subject, it was a very laudable one; but they should have furnished such facts and figures as would have prevented any mistake or misapprehension in a matter of so much impor-They know that the dividends are payatance. ble four years from date of policy, that is, when the fifth premium is due, and if any of them have been insured ten or more years, and pay one-half cash and the other half with a note bearing 6 per cent. interest, they know that the dividends were 49 per cent. in 1857, 1858, 1859, and 1860, and that the notes then given were assessed 20 per cent, in 1860, 1861, 1862, and 1863, to make up the dediciency.

The 69 per cent, dividend, of which we hear so much, applies only to policies which were issued in 1862, and not to those of "this year," as one would be led to suppose by reading this correspondence.

Four years' Interest is chargeable against their dividends, and that would reduce the 60 per cent. dividend to about 45 per cent.

Perhaps some of these gentlemen may have been insured ten or fitteen years; if so, it is quite time they knew that "uniform percentage alvidends" are very unjust to old members.

I call their attention to the following extracts taken from the bound official reports, of the Hon. Elizur Wright, Insurance Commissioner of Massachusetts, 1859 to 1865, pages 301-302. He says:----"Since a Mutual Company is as solemnly bound to maintain EQUITY as solvency, it appears to us that there can be NO POSSIBLE JUSTIFICATION for a uniform percentage of dividends;" and "other insuperable objections to a uniform percentage, have been dwelt on in former reports." "They amount to this, that

CAMPER AFFAIRS.

FIRE,-About 10 o'clock last evening, a gentleman discovered a large light in the grocery store at the corner of Broadway and Divi-sion streets, occupied by Eli Tellis. He imme-diately procured, as he supposed, a bucket of water, and attempted to dash the contents upon the flames, but the water was one mass of ice. Had it not been for this they would have been subdued—as it was, they soon gained rapid headway. The steamers were soon upon the spot, and flooded the building with water. Mr. Tellis' loss is about five hundred dollars, mostly by water. Insured in Newark companies. He lost his accountbook. The building is owned by Albert Crounp, and is damaged to the extent of two hundred and fifty dollars. No insurance.

HIGHWAY ROBBEBY - THE GABBOTE AGAIN IN OPERATION .- Last night a couple of feliows, named Joseph Keesey and Michael McCarty, went into a tavern near Broad and Prime streets, and sat down to play cards. They played for some time, and when a man who had been playing got up and left, they also arose and followed him out. They followed him until he entered a small alley that enters into Broad street from Carmen street, when they made a rush, and whilst one of them garroted him, the other robbed him. In his struggles to get loose he got sufficiently tree to give an alarm, which was heard by Officers Joseph McKinney and Corkrey, who rushed up to his assistance, and after a short struggle succeeded in putting both of the garroters hors de con bal.

They were escorted to Alderman Lutz's office where the case was investigated. The proprie tor and bartender of the drinking saloon near Broad and Prime streets, came forward and tes tified that the prisoners were the men who had been playing cards in his place, and who had gone out after the man who had been robbed. They were held in default of $2000 ball each, to answer the charge of highway robbery.

Keesey, it will be remembered, was pardoned last Friday by Governor Curtin. He had been convicted of being a party to a prize fight a short time ago, which came off at Church Lune and Media Kailroad, in the Twenty-fourth Ward, The other man, Johnny Green, is still serving out his sentence, both having been sent below for nine months each.

AN UNREASONABLE FELLOW .- A man giving the name of Kett Manly was arrested on a charge of assault and battery last night. It appears that Manly has a manly love for manl, sports, and especially for the manly art of self defense. Like many another man in whom the desire for knowledge is implanted to an intense degree, he is unable to gratify his curiosity, owing to the niggardliness of Dame Fortune in not showering greenbacks upon him. It ap-pears, in fact, that Kitt went into Mr. Dougherty's drinking saloon, at Front and Dock streets. and asked him to lend him money to go on and see the approaching prize-fight, Of course Dougherty refused to do it, and Manly went into him in a style that would have done credit to the "Boy" himself. Manly was arrested, how-ever, and had a hearing before Alderman Butler, who held him in $1000 ball to answer for his BA HEAVY (?) KOBBERY FRUSTRATED .-William Monk, a covetous individual, undertook to steal a roll of oil-cloth from the furniture store of Mr. A. P. Millis, in Market street, near Fifteenth. William, however, had miscalculated the thing. In the first place, his muscle was not sufficiently developed to carry off the roll with a reasonable degree of speed; and in the second place, he did not allow for the eyes of others being upon his movements. As it was the first compelled him to drop the plunder, and the second ensured his capture by Officer For some time previous he had been Weakly. seen prowling around, and had tried to transfer a coat from a tailor's peg to his back. Alder-man Jones heard the history of his little operations, detailed in a graphic form, and then held him to answer for his little game.

DARING SHOPLIFTER,-About seven o'clock this morning, shortly after the fur store at No. 238 Brown street was opened, a man walked very conchalantly into the place, as if he wished to purchase something. The attendant paid no particular attention to him for the noment, as he was attending to some other luty. The man suddenly snatched up a burduty. dle of furs from the counter and left rapidly For a moment the attendant's eyes opened wid in astonishment, and then he left, hot on the thiel's trail. The thief could run well, how-ever, and he was not captured. The fur got further and further from the pursuer's gaze, until it got so far that it was not to be seen. The value of the fur is estimated at seventy five dollars, and consisted of articles left to be repaired.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO EVENING TELEGRAPH.] The Scenes Along the Line.

HARRISBURG, JSnuary 15.

The procession moved from the Jones House at 11 o'clock, being greeted along the line of the march by a large crowd of people. At the same time a salute was fired by a battery stationed on Capitol Hill. The procession was over half an hour in passng a given point, and arrived in front of the State House at 12 o'clock. The ceremony of clearing the platform and rotunda then took place, the crowd being forced back by a squad of soldiers with fixed bayonets. The jam was fearful, many ladies being present, some of them with the usual infantile ac. companiments.

Arrival of the Governor Elect. At a quarter past twelve, the carriage containing the Governor and Governor elect arrived, drawn by four white horses. Governors Curtin and Genry then ascended the platform arm-in-arm, and the Inauguration ceremonies were proceeded with.

As a policy is not an exchangeable article, it is very convenient for these policy-holders to say "We would not charge our insurance in this for one in any other company:" but I guess if they knew the results of insurances in some other companies, they would not make such an asser-tion; if they did, they would be considered very incompetent bankers, and incapable of under standing "exchange,"

"THEM 190,"-Some time ago a party of men formed themselves into a beneficial organiation, under the name of the Widows' Relief Association. Stein Wolf, one of the corporators, thinking this a good opportunity of replen-ishing his exhausted stunds, went around to various parties and collected/various small sums of money, amounting in the aggregate to about $190. Elated at the possession of such an amount of cash, he went on a bender, and in the course of a few days his riches took wings. Those whom he had swindled brought an action against him on the charge of embezzlement. Sergeant Murray arrested him at Mansueld place ,and took him before Alderman Hurley After a bearing in the case he was held in $500 bail to answer the query, "Where is them $190?"

A HARD CUSTOMER .- Some time ago a man giving the name of Robert Stuart was be fore Alderman Allen, and during the hearing in his case he behaved in such a violent and unhim to be put out. Mr. Holloway, the turnkey obeyed the order given by the Lieutenant. Shortly afterwards Mr. Holloway was charged by Stuart with assault and battery, but was honorably acquitted by Alderman Davis, before whom the charge was made. Mr. Holloway sued out a warrant against Stuart for perjury and disorderly conduct. The hearing was held before Alderman Allen this morulng, who deemed the evidence conclusive enough to com-mit Stuart to answer the charge.

[LATER.]

HARRISBURG, January 15 .- The Inaugural address was listened to throughout with marked attention by as many people as could press within hearing distance. Those portions which adverted to the necessity of excluding the lately robellious States from all share in the legislation of the general Government until they have ceased to tyrannize over individual opinion in their midst, and which promised the hearty support of Pennsylvania to the National Congress, was received with boisterous cheers. At the conclusion of the Inaugural, loud and imperative demands were made for Goyernor Curtin, who finally made his appearance and responded as follows :-

"I hope, fellow-citizens that you will always extend to my successor in office the generous support and sympathy that you rave extended to me. I Lope the state will continue to grow in prosperity and power. I hope God may bless you all, and on this great day I bid you tarewell." These generous sentiment on the part of the retiring Governor elicited the most hearly approval, as was manifested by the loud and prolouged cheering, which followed Governor Curtain from the stand. A national salute was then fired by the battery on Capitol Hill, when the procession resumed its return march.

The Governor elect and Staff were conducted to the front of the stand by Governor Curtin and Staff, by Speakers Hall and Glass, and by Messrs, Haines and Pennypacker, the Chairmen of the Committees of the two Houses.

The Governor then delivered his inaugural address, portions of which were loudly applauded by several thousand visitors, many of whom, undeterred by the cold, had been standing for hours in the snow. After the inauguration the procession reormed, and marched through the streets.

WASHINGTON, January 15.-Two colored boys, who escaped from their former master, G. Wat-kus, of Montgomery county, Marv and, were brought before Judge Wylie, of the Suoreme Court of this District, yesterday, on a writ of habcas corpus, and after a hoaring, the Court ordered the children to be returned to their old master. The ground of such restitution was based opon evidence that the children under a Marviand statute had that the children, under a Mary and statute had b en apprenticed to Watkins after their emancipa-tion. The counsel for the children pleaded ill treattion. ment by the master, and that the approvicing of the children was in violation of the Civil Rights bill, in that the laws of Marvland on the subject of approximitions the children of emancipated slaves make a distinction between white and colored; that they do not require the master to educate the latter; and, further, that these children were apprendeed without the consent of their natural protectors. The evidence went to show that these children were in a most destitute and deplorable condition when they reached their father in Georgetown, being covered with vermin, and their clothes ragged and dirty. The mother also had been the slave of Watkins; had died since her emancipation, in the woods, from sheer neglect and hunger. These facts were testified upon the besrnw of the case. After the order of the Court, an appeal was taken, but he ore service could be had the master departed with the enfidren.
