Police Intelligence.—Another Hearing is the Case of the Pickpockets.—The professional thieves, William Ryan alias Hayes, Daniel H. Lewis, John Finn, Frank Wilson, FelixMcCa nn alias Papes, James Madison alias Murray, and Hugh Donnelly, had a further hearing before Alderman Beitler, yesterday afternoon. The hearing attracted nearly as large an attendance as the homicide trials do in the Court of Oyer and Terminer. To preserve order and restrain the crowd from crushing in the railings required the presence of officers. Lewis and McCann were arrested at the N. W. corner of Third and Market streets, by Detectives Henderson, Levy and Tryon, and the other prisoners were arrested in a public house in Prune street, between Fifth and Sixth, and Oliver's House, Fifth and Powell streets, both resorts for thieves.

Thomas A, Magear was the first witness. He stated that a month since he lost a diamond pin. He was on a Fifth street car, near Race, The platform of the car was crowded, and egress was obtained by hard pushing. The pin was taken in the crowd. Madison was identified as the principal in the pushing party. Mr. Magear said he was almost positive that Madison took the pin. This was corroborated by Mr. Edward A, Atlee who was in the car at the time; he recognized Madison as a man who a minute before the pin was taken, pushed hurriedly out of POLICE INTELLIGENCE.—ANOTHER HEARING

A, Affee who was in the car at the time, he recognized Madison as a man who a minute before the pin was taken, pushed hurriedly out of the car. The witness could not swear positively to Madison's identily, but he was almost cer-

Next upon the stand was Simon Levine, of No. 1847 Cannot street. Coming from New York he lost more hundred dollars, six weeks ago. McCann and Lewis accompanied him all the way from Jersey City. At the Kensington Depot there was a crowd formed on the platform of the street car. Immediately afterward Lewis sorang from the car, and the witness missed his sprang from the car, and the witness missed his pocket book.

William Bradley, No. 1214 Shippen street, a conductor on the Thirteenth and Fifteenth street cars appeared next. McCann, he stated, very closely resembled aman who, last Monday, stepped on his car at Callowhill street, when the Heading train came in; he was very officious assisting ladies in and out. This the witness stopped, when McCann challenged him to a fight in a twenty-four feet ring. The driver of the car, David Hunter, No. 1167 S. Thirteenth street, positively recognized McCann.

Henry J. Fox, No. 221 S. Fifth street, was sworn. His statement was to the effect that last summer in a Market street car his watch was taken. It was a Tobias lever hunting case.

was taken. It was a Tobias lever hunting case, Mr. Fox pointed out Finn as one of the car inmates. Finn left the car with Mr. Fox, and said to the latter that if he could specify the pickpocket assistance could be procured to arrest him, volunteering at the same time for that purpose. Finn gave Mr. Fox an address, in Lombard, near Twelfth. Applying afterwards to that locality, no man of that address was at

Colonel D. P. Whiting then volunteered a statement. He lives at the corner of Fifteenth and Barclay. His pocket was picked of three bundred and ten dollars in a Fifteenth street car, between Walnut and Arch, on the 29th of December. The mainee at the Academy of Muste had just closed. Two men stepped on the car behind him, crowded him, and jumped He could identify none of the parties in

There was at that time only a gentleman named Cadwalader in the office. One of the strangers seated himself on the lounge, and the other called Mr. Cad-walader outside, while the other robbed the till, Mr. Cadwalader appeared with this witness, but

Mr. Cadwalader appeared with this witness, but they could recognize no one.
George Hampton, No. 70! Bayard street, conductor on the Union line, appeared next. He pointed out Ryan, and said that on Friday last twelve passengers entered the car; Ryan was one of a party of four. Hestopped in the centre of the doorway, and another stood on the lower step. Mr. Hampton told Ryan to enter the car. This was declined. The man on the step then pointed to a gentleman getting on the car, and signated a pin on his shirt bosom. Ryan moved toward the gentleman, and in a minute the latter took Ryan's hand from his pocket. The conter took Ryan's hand from his pocket. The con-ductor then ejected the pickpocket, he retali-ating by cursing Mr. Hampton, and throwing pieces of ice into the car.

James Burke came forward next. He lives at

No. 1420 N. Seventh street, and is also a conductor on the Union line, was also examined without eliciting additional testimony, and the case

Alderman Beitler said that the Ninety-day law would not apply to any of the parties, be-cause they were not arrested under circum-stances to which that statute referred. The evidence before him could be the only guide to prisoners by committing Lewis and McCann in default of $5900 ball each, and Ryan and Madison, $2500 ball each, and Finn and Wil-son $1000 each. Donnelly would be held for a further hearing.

THE TOBACCO AND SEGAR TRADE,-A meet-THE TOBACCO AND SEGAR TRADE.—A meeting of gentlemen engaged in the above business was held, last evening, at the Board of Frade Rooms. Mr. D. C. McCammon was appointed Chairman; Mr. Arthur Hogan, Secretary. The Chairman, on taking his seat, made a brief statement of the object of the meeting—the desire being to give all interested an opportunity for a fair interchange of sentiment in regard to the trade, and to elect delegates to a convention to be held in Washington on the 6th of February. A general discussion ensued in regard to to be held in Washington on the 6th of February. A general discussion ensued in regard to the excise tax, some of the gentleman favoring the taxing of the raw material while others suggested higher rates on segars.

Mr. Hanson thought the Tax laws oppressive on the manufacturers. The changes in the law had compelled him four times to discharge his hands, as there was no employment for them. The consequence was that these men manufactured segars at their homes, and could sell them cheaper than the manufacturers, because these journeymen did not have to pay any ex-Mr. Bolden moved that the delegates to be elected be instructed to advocate the fixing of the tax on the leaf.

Mr Frishmuth offered an amendment to the effect that in the event of the delegates being unable to induce the convention to agree to a tax on the leaf, that it be left discretionary with them to advocate such other measures as will best secure the interests of the trade. DEATH OF A RESPECTED CITIZEN .- At an early hour yesterday morning, B. F. Hancock Esq., departed this life, at his residence in Norristown, Montgomery county. The deceased was the father of General Winfield S. Hancock was the father of General Winfield S. Hancock. He was widely known and highly respected for his many virtues. He was born in one of the upper townships of Montgomery county, in the year 1800, where he studied the profession of law, and was admitted to the bar. At one time he was actively identified with the old Whig party. After the assassination of President Lincoln he was appointed Collector of Internal Revenue for the Sixth District, which office he held at the time of his death. He leaves a numerous circle of sorrowing friends.

The disease of which Mr. Hancock died was congestion of the bowels. He was sick some General Hancock, who has been in command of one of the Western Departments, arrived home some two or three days since, and is now in Norristown.

BUILDING PERMITS. - In January, 47 building permits were issued from the Building Inspector's coffice; 19 of these were for new buildings and 28 for additions and alterations. Of the new buildings there were 13 for three storied dwellings, three for two-storied, one for a browery, the others for small structures. The brewery is to be put up on the site of the one destroyed by fire on the north side of Thompson street, above Thirty-second, which belonged to Mr. Bergner.

HANDSOME LEGACY .- Mr. J. H. Ullman, who died a few days since, in consequence of an operation performed upon a corn or bunion on one of his feet, left a legacy of two thousand dollars to the German Hospital of

STATIONARY ENGINES IN THE CITY,-Last evening the Committee on Law, of Coun-

Last evening the Committee ou Law, of Councils met to consider a resolution directing them to report an ordinance for the appointment of an inspector of Stationary Steam Engines and Boilers, in conformity to an act passed by Assembly, and approved May 7, 1864.

This act referred to authorizes the Mayor to nominate in the month of June, annually, and by and with the advice of the Select Council, appoint a person skilful and competent. The inspector is to carefully examine all stationary engines and boilers in use after the passage of the act, and no boiler or engine is to be put in use until examined by the Inspector, and his certificate obtained that the boilers and engines are safe and fit for service.

Professor Morton, Messrs, Birkinbine, Moore Sellers and other gentiemen familiar with steam engines and boilers were present, and made a number of suggestions in reference to the best mode of preventing steam boiler explosions. Some of the gentlemen thought the appointment of an inspector would not effect much good unless persons in charge of boilers were competent engineers. It was also stated that in some establishments the engineers were not only compelled to see to the engines, but also to run errands.

Mr. Moore thought the most effective way of preventing explosions would be to have a law requiring each boiler to be supplied with two or more safety valves.

Mr. Sellers stated that recent experiment went to show that explosions occur by the too sadden opening of the safety valves, and that a multi-plication of them would not prevent explosions. Mr. Birkinbine believed a thorough examination of boilers once a year, and partial exami-nations every six months, would do great good, though such investigations would not prevent accidents unless competent persons are em-

After further suggestions the Committee resolved to send a circular to various scientific and practical gentlemen in the city, asking suggestions as to the best plan to carry out the intent of the act of Assembly.
