Protestant Worship and the Inquisition. THE action of the Congress of the United States in severing diplomatic relations with the Pontifical States, because of the prohibition of the Papal authorities against Protestant worship in Rome, is one which will receive the hearty indorsement of all citizens. without respect to religious creed. While the fact that the American chapel had been officially forbidden is well known to our readers, the circumstances of the case are unfamiliar. A letter from the Rev. Dr. Prime, of New York, and the accounts given in a few foreign journais, enable us to give a pretty correct idea of the reason, or at least the mode of operation, of the authorities. It would seem that the laws of the Holy See, established when the Pontiff ruled above all kings, when the Inquisition was a tribunal from which none could escape, and from which there was no appeal, forbid all worship in Rome except the Catholic ritual service.

Founded in an age when personal rights were unrecognized, when, by invoking the name of a God of peace, the bloodiest murders were made holy, when religious differences were offenses of state, and freedom of thought a heresy not to be tolerated, these laws have naturally fallen into disuse, and until the present year were "rotting away with rust in antique shades." It is reserved for the time when the temporal power of Rome was tottering, and when the enlightened freedom of the age cannot stand the least check on individual liberty, when day by day we are growing more tolerant, and fanaticism is of the dead past-it is reserved for this moment for the Holy Father to strike a blow waich would not have been tolerated by Prussia in the eighteenth century, and will certainly not be mildly assented to by America in the nineteenth. The facts of the case appear to be

Over two centuries ago the British Government recalled her Ambassador from Rome, and since that time there has been no English embassy in the city. This virtual refusal to recognize the Roman States as a temporal power did not, however, deprive Englishmen of their rights; and for many years the English chape!, located just beyond the city walls, has continued to flourish, with its Presbyterian preacher. The other Protestant Governments gradually established chapels at their embassies, and the American chapel, the Russian and Prussian chapels. It would seem, however, that, while pretending not to notice the fact that worship was held, the Papal Government was really only prevented from stopping these services by the presence of foreign bayonets. The withdrawal of the last of the French troops has once more left that Government free, and, not profiting by the lessons of the past. Pius determines to play the Gregory, and has had the preliminary circulars sent to the various chapels, English, Prussian, Russian, and American. The one to the British-Scotch chapel is a ERITISH CONSULATE AT ROME, December 21. 1866.—Sir:—It is my official duty to inform you that Monsignore Randi, Governor of Rome. has just communicated to me that you are holding illegal religious meetings in your house, which, you must know, are prohibited by the Roman law, and that you have thus placed yoursell in the power of the Inquisition, both for airest and imprisonment.

But as the Monsignore permits me to give you this notice, I would seriously advise that you at once put an end to these innovations, and that you visit Mousignore Randi at Monte Citorio, and assure him that you will never again repeat these illegal acts. I hope in this way you may possibly suspend your exile, which is now hanging over you.

I am, sir, your obedient servant, JOSEPH SEVERN, British Consul.

To Rev. JOSEPH LEWIS.

Our readers will doubtless be surprised at the information that there still exists such an institution as the Inquisition. Associated with the days of Philip of Spain and the Duke of Alva, of Lorenzo de Medici and the Sforza, of Henry the Fowler and Mary Tudor, it seems as though the centuries had rolled backwards, for it seems impossible that the free air of our age should be polluted with this foul record of murder, which is condemned alike by Protestant and Catholic historians. The same probibition has been extended to the American chapel, and the flag can no longer secure to a citizen the right to worship his God as his conscience dictates. Under the circumstances, we are rejoiced at the action of our Congress. With a determination which does it credit, and which is but an exposition of the spirit of our institutions, the recall of the American Ambassador is ordered, and all diplomatic relations between the two countries dissolved. It is not impossible that Prussia and Russia will do likewise, and the Roman States be recognized only by the few powers which still retain the Roman religion as that of the State.

We cannot but believe that if such be the policy of Pius and Antonelli, the strength of the temporal Church will be seriously impaired, and the grand retrospect and prospect as painted by Macaulay cease to bave even the semblance of probability: "She was great and respected before the Saxon had set foot on Britain, before the French had crossed the Rhine, while Grecian eloquence yet flourished at Antioch, and idols were yet worshipped in the temple of Mecca. And she may still exist in undiminished vigor when some traveller from New Zealand shall, in the midst of a vast solitude, take, his stand on the broken arch of London Bridge to sketch the ruins of St. Paul's."

Suffrage in Tennessee.

A NASHVILLE telegram of the 2d instant states that a test vote has just been taken in the lower House of the Tennessee Legislature upon the question of extending the suffrage to the colored citizens of that State, which resulted in favor of that measure by 36 yeas to 25 nays. This measure, if fully carried out, will prove the final redemption of Tennessee. The white loyalists of that State are outnumbered by the d'sloyalists, and if the former persist in discarding the assistance of the blacks, the State will speedily pass into the hands of the Rebels, just as Maryland has done. The loyalists in Tennessee, when united, are an overwhelming majority of the people. We are glad to see that a common danger is forcing them to discard old prejudices and follies, and to take a stand upon the true Republican doctrine of equal rights to all. Had our Maryland triends been as wise in their day and generation, and listened to the voice of their great departed leader, the ever-to-be lamented Henry Winter Davis, they would not now have seen the power of their tate usurped by the bloody and disloyal faction that disgraced their chief city at the outbreak of the Rebellion by shooting down loyal soldiers passing through its midst to the rescue of the nation's capital. In this great political struggle, as in the physical struggle that preceded it, the Southern loyalist, of whatever hue, must be allowed to

As General Sherman well expressed it in his memorable Atlanta letter of 1864:-

"It you admit the negro to this struggle for any purpose he has a right to stay in for all, and when the fight is over the hand that drops the musket cannot be denied the ballot."

This is the true doctrine, and it is the only possible one upon which a loyal reconstruction can take place in the South. Hence, we hall the indicated action of Tennessee as the recognition by the white loyalists of the South of a saving truth.

Secession Persecution.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Pebruary 1 .- The case of the State of Georgia against John E. Hayes, editor and proprietor of the Savannah Republican, indicted for libelling Solomon Cohen, Congressman elect, was decided to-day by a versict of

The Solicitor General, and Messrs. Harden and Levy were the counsel for the State, and the Hon. H. S. Fitch, United States District Attorney, and Messrs. Hartbridge, Chrisholm, and Stone, for the defense. The case excited great public attention from the political issue involved, the prominence of the parties, and the strong Republicanism of the accuse 1. A verdict is considered as adversely affecting the rights of all Northern or Union men in this commu-

-The case of Colonel Haves is but a fair sample of how Union men are treated throughout the South. From the commencement of covered by the American flag and protected | the publication of the Republican, he has by the Ambassador, has been winked at for been subjected to every species of insult and nearly a century. The same is the case with | danger. His right to the property was contested by a Rebel, and the President decided in the Rebel's tavor. Colonel Hayes had been at the North for some months attending to his private affairs, and on his return he was arrested on a criminal charge, tried by a Rebel jury, before a Rebel Judge, and probably will be incarcerated in a prison. When Union men for their loyalty are thus assaulted, can we permit the return of the Rebel States until the satety of our friends is guaranteed.?

> Selling Arms to the Indians. BOTH General Grant and General Sherman disapprove in the strongest terms of the prevalent practice among Indian traders on the frontier of selling arms and ammunition to the Indians. It seems that at the present time the Indians are peculiarly anxious to purchase these articles, and are offering ar more than their value in horses and furs. Commissioner Bogy has belped the thing on by informing the traders that they are at liberty to sell arms and ammunition to any Indians that are at peace with and receiving annuities from the United States.

The only remedy for this Indian business is to abolish the whole system as at present constructed. It is too hopelessly corrupt to be amended.

SERMONS .- An able and timely sermon on the subject of "Gambling," delivered yesterday, by the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, will be found upon our sixth page. Mr. 'falmage's reflections upon this subject, in the various forms it assumes and the different guises it wears, are worthy of very general attention. The spirit of gambling was never more rife than at the present time, and it is well that the Christian watchman should sound the

An interesting discourse upon "Religious Industry," delivered yesterday, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, by Rav. G. D. Boardman, will be found on our eighth page. It is well worthy of perusal.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS .- Some apprehension has been excited in Government circles by the diminished receipts of internal revenue for several weeks past. They are again increasing, however, last wee's receipts amounting to nearly six millions of dollars. The total receipts during the present fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1866, are stated at $186 978,599.

THE Marviand Conservatives have backed down from their project of abolishing the present loval city government of Baltimore. The law ordering a new election on the 6th instant, passed a few days since, has already been repealed.

-The Parisian correspondent of the New Fork World says:-

"A wicket has been established at the eatrance of the Exposition grounds, where, on payment of one franc, visitors may have access to all parts of the building. An iron planing machine from the workshops of Measts. Sellers d Co., of Phi adelphia, has given the Imperial Commission a power of trouble. As good luck would have it, the only machinery in France of sufficient force to lift this mass of fron out of the vessel upon which it was conveyed Europe, chances to be at its point of debarka Havre; otherwise, I suppose it be necessary to pack it back The railroad administration between Havre and Paris could not think of taking Havre and Paris could not think of taking charge of its tran-portation without first making an inspection of their road, to see if their bridges would bear its weigh; and, finally, after parley-cousing without end, it has been decided that at the cost of eight hundred dollars, there is a possibility of getting Mr. Sellers' engine to Paris. Three hundred dollars are asked for taking it from the boat up the banks of the Seine to its place in the Exposition. I have been told that the Imperial Commission, never having heard of anything so ponderous, never having heard of anything so ponderous, are uneasy for fear the machine will break through the upper crust of terra firma, and come down upon the cooks and marmitons who are to occupy the subterranean gatleries, and thus crush out one of the most important institutions of the Exposition-the kitchen.

The melemency of the winter is greater than for years past. Deep snows put a stop to all out-doop labor Many who sust sin life in winter by gathering garb go fuel, etc. from the streets have now no occupation but to freeze and starve. A poor woman was round to a cellar, with a babe at the breast, both frozen, and with difficulty resuscitated. Another sick Woman with two small children, and a young woman dying with consumption, were oun: in a sarret without fire, and on y kept from freezing by an old carpet which covered them. They had had no food for twenty four hours. There are hundreds of such cases pleading for help al over the city.

The Union Renevolent Association prefers helping the poor to employment rather than distributing alms to them; but labor is now scarce, and this appeal is for MONEY-MONEY immediately. The Visitors are waiting to visit, but they have no means. Let this appear come home to all who are enjoying the home comfort and the luxuries of lire.
