CAMDEN AFFAIRS.

DEATH OF THE REV. Dr. Monroe.—On Saturday morning, at so'clock, the Rev. Samuel S. Monroe, D. D., who resided at Second and Linden streets, took the train for New York, At Point of Rocks, about three miles out from Jersey City, he fell from the rear platform of the train, and must have been instantly killed, as when found his neck was broken. It is supposed that he was taken ill in the carsand went upon the platform to get a breath of pure air, when he leil off in a fainting fit. He was not missed from this train, nor was the body discovered until the next train came upon it. The funeral will take place from the Third Street Methodist Episcopal Church, at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

Dr. Monr e was, perhaps, the most prominent divine of the Methodist Episcopal Church of New Jersey. He entered the ministry in 1843, being about flity years of age at the time of his death. During the whole course of his ministry he has been connected with the New Jersey Conferences, and has held the most important appointments within their limits. On DEATH OF THE REV. DR. MONROE .- On portant appointments within their limits. On the organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church Extension Society, a year or two ago, Dr. Monroe was elected its Corresponding Sec-retary. To his untring labors in this field of retary. To his untiring labors in this field of Christian work, the great success which has thus far attended the society is in a great measure owing. He has spent nearly the whole of his time in travelling over the country, preaching here and there, wherever he chanced to stor, and exhorting all those who were blessed with an abundance of worldly goods to part with a portion of them, that the Gospel might be properly supported in those portions of our own country where the people were less gifted in this respect. Dr. Monroe as a preacher was very successful, being gifted with more than orginary oratorical powers. As a man, and especially as a Christian minister, his life was blameless, and his friendship deeply cherished by all who knew him.

AN UPROARIOUS INDIVIDUAL .- A man by the name of McKenna was arrested on Surarday by Officer Gilbert, for being drunk and disorderly. He struck a horse on the nose so hard that it bled profusely, and also assaulted a negro who was holding another horse. McKenna was committed to prison to sleep off the effects of the Jersey lightning he had imbibed, and was then released.

Another Reconstruction Proposition,

It is expected that Mr. Bingham will bring forward a new reconstruction measure in the House to day, coupling the Military Government bill with it, on the alternative that the South accept the Constitutional amendment and negro suffrage. Other propositions will doubtless be offered in the House, and it is not improbable that the whole question will be recommitted to the Reconstruction Committee. The telegram sent from this city that Secretaries Seward and Stanton are to retire from the Cabinet, and that the latter is to have the Russian or Spanish mission, seems to have been in-tended to effect the resignation of Mr. Stanton. The Union Pacific Rullway Company, Eastern Division, disclaim any connection with the movement to induce Congress to rescind the provision of the law requiring the Pacific railroads to use only American iron. This Company considers not only that they are bound in good saith to adhere to this provision of the contract, but that the English rails now imported to this country are not such as they would wish, even if they had the power, to use in the construction of this great continental highway. Mr. Summer (Mass.) offered a resolution in-

THE NEW ORLEANS RIOTS.

Report of the Investigating Committee.

Report of the Investigating Committee.

Washington, February II.—Hon. T. D. Ellot and Hon. samuel Shellabarger, a majority of the Committee appointed at the last session to investigate the circumstances of the riots of last summer in New Orleans, have submitted their report to the House of Representatives.

After reciting the resolution under which they were appointed, they state that mee-lugs were held in New Orleans and in Washington—that 157 witnesses were examined, of whom 158 were in the former city, and that of these 47 were examined at the request of citizens of New Orleans. The direct cause of the riots was the reassembling of the Convention to form a State Constitution, which met originally in April, 184, under that of these 47 were examined at the request of Cilizens of New Oricans. The direct cause of the riots
was the reassembling of the Convention to form a State Constitution, which met originally in April, 1854, and which had formed a Constitution, which was ratthed by the people in September, 1864, and under which a State Government had been formed and gone into operation. The Convention had then adjourned subject to the call of the President—"for any cause, or in case the Constitution should not be ratthed." As the Constitution was ratified, the Convention was to be called together under the power conveyed in the first phrase, "for any cause," if at all.
The President Honorable E. H. Durell, did not test nathorized to issue a call, but R. E. Howell, appointed President pro how, at an informal meeting of delegates, did issue such a call for a meeting on the 30th July, 1856, for the purpose of forming a State Convention "in harmony with the General Government," and this call was concurred in by the Governor, J. Manson Weils, who issued a proclamation for the election of delegates to fill vacancies.
The Committee, in regard to this call, say that the only action contemplated at the meeting of July 30 was the ascortainment officially of existing vacancies, and if a quorum of members should appear it was promocal to postpone all further action until such vacancies should be complied with, and the water State
