FINE ARTS-Second Reception of the Artists Find Society.—The second reception of the season, and the opening of the Spring exhibition, took place on Tuesday evening, at the gallery of the "Artists" Fund Society." No. 1314 Chesnut street, and was equally gratifying to both exhibitors and connoisseurs. While the crowded state of the rooms and the varied ex-crowded state of the rooms and the varied expressions of satisfaction and delight, evinced a growing appreciation of genius, the array of local talent speaks well for the progress of art in Pennsylvania. We shall not do more at present than notice a few of the more prominent pictures:

No. 3. "Mary's Dream." D. Hanlington. A most beautiful conception, well handled. Its merits are well known, and comment is unnecessary.

No. 4. "Foggy Morning." J. Hamilton. A reproduction, reversed, of "Shipping on the Thames." Noticed at the last exhibition, like its predecessor, it is a very good picture, but whether the public will appreciate a gross of the same pattern we do not profess to know. No. 6. "Niagara," by the same artist, is a very imposing picture, at least in dimensions, and exhibits some most excellent painting, but lacks retief, while it conveys a clear idea of magnitude, volume, and force—good quantities—those ponderous clouds seem to sit upon and confine the waters, as Aunt Dinsh's nignit-cap does her sable wool. No. 60 is also by J. H., and is very transparent in color, while the setting sun is well rendered. The forms in the sky may illustrate the quotations from "Tegner's Drapa" (see catalogne), but to us they are equally unintelligible.

No. 5. "Autumn." T. Moran. A charming little

No. 5, "Autumn." T. Morau. A charming little

No. 5. "Autumn." T. Moran. A charming little picture.

No. 15. "The Coming Storm," P. Moran. A masterly aketch, with all the spirit and force of a finished picture, particularly the white horse and the bay on the right, which are surpassingly beautiful.

No. 37. "Morning After the Storm," by the same artist. A very truthful picture: fine in both feeling and color, the position of the black sheep is rather objectionable to the composition: otherwise, it is a clever production. Mr. Moran certainly ranks among the very best of our cattle painters.

No. 18. "Public Fountain," S. J. Guy, and No. 75. "On the Brink," both of the very highest order of merit, the former especially being the acme of perfection and beauty. The latter equally well bandled, but neither so pleasing or full of feeling.

No. 22. "Walting for the Train," by C. F. Blauveltt. A fine tittle picture, well conceived and well mainted. No. 45, by the same, is a spirited sketch, well drawn, and good in color and feeling.

No. 22. "Churches," by Julieurel, very good and interesting in its way.

teresting in its way.
No. 26. "In the Adirondacks." G. B. Wood, Jr., well painted, but rather an insipid selection of subject.
No. 28. "Skinning a Corneob." By G. C. Lambdin.
Weil handled and very suggestive.
No. 35, by the same artist, is really a very fine

No. 25, by the same artist, is really a very fine picture.
No. 34. "Jersey Sands." By E. Moran. A fine combination of landscape and marine paluting, pleasing in composition, and brilliant as a piece of coloring. Versatility of genius seems to be one of Moran's most prominent characteristics, while the delicacy and rapidity of his handling are truly wonderful.
No. 36. "Mount Desert Island." By W. Richards. Well painted, but disagreeable.
No 38. "South Pass, Rocky Mountains." By A. Bierstadt. Weak, insipid, and devoid of that great interest that attaches to most of the works of that distinguished artist.
No. 49. "Afternoon on the Coast," by T. P. Otter. Handled timidly, but with a good deal of realization. No. 49. "An Interior." by Blauvett, Very good, both in drawing and design.
No. 52. "Pruner," by G. C. Lambdin, An old picture, but one of his best efforts.
No. 58. "Nantuc'et Beach." By W. T. Richards. Beautifully realized.
No. 61. "The Blackberry Girl." By T. Henry Smith, A fair effort.
No. 63. "St. Agnes, of Tennyson." By W. H. Wilcox. A good picture, and well painted.
No. 71. "Crossing the Brook," by Eastman Jonson. Inimitable in tone, pleasing in composition, and finely executed.
No. 74. "Crossing the Lot." By J. G. Brown. A little executed, No. 74. "Crossing the Lot." By J. G. Brown, A littl No. 74. "Crossing the Lot." By the No. 86. "Loch Katrine." Paul Weber, A ciever picture, and full of poetic feeling.

There are many other pictures we would notice disspace permit. We may make a few more notes of some future occasion. We wish the society every success, and those artists especially upon whom we may seem to have been most severe in our brie critique. We are especially glad to announce that are in our city is rapidly improving.

THE LATE HOMICIDE AT THE NECK .- COTON

THE LATE HOMIGIDE AT THE NECK.—Corone Daniels, assisted by his clerk, Mr. Fletcher, held an inquest yesterday into the death of Wm. John son, whose assasinition, by Thomas Barker, at a house in the Neck, was printed in our last issue. The testimony was as follows:

Margaret Barker, sworn—I live between Seventh an Eighth streets, near the canal; I am the wife of Thos Barker; on Thursday afternoon my husband came it soon afterwards; my husband was very drunk; as soon afterwards; my husband was very drunk; as soon afterwards; my husband was very drunk; as soon afterwards; my husband of lowed and commenced to handle his gun; I told him not to fool with the gun for I was afraid of it; I called to Johnson several times to go out; my husband came down and told him to deliver us the money he has taken from him (my husband) and then to leave the house; my husband said "if you don't do what I say I'll warm yoo;" Johnson said "you ——— I'il shoot; I then heard the report of the gun; I was still us stairs; my husband brought the gun down in his hand (gun shown); this I believe is the gun; Mrs. Selby wa up stairs with me; we came down together after the firing: I didn't see him load the gun; I was after the firing: I didn't see him load the gun; I was still with the gun; I was after the firing: I didn't see him load the gun; I was after the firing: I didn't see him load the gun; I was after the sun of the gun; I was after the firing: I didn't see him load the gun; I was after the gun; I wa gun shown; this I believe is the gun; Mrs. Selby was up stairs with me; we came down together after the firing; I didn't see him load the gun; I was afraid of it.

Cecelia Selby, sworn—I recognize the dead body; I saw both the parties coming across the lot to the house; beard Barker say, "Johnson, I want you to get that;" Johnson seld, "I'll get nothing; you go to hell!" my house adjoins theirs; I came into the house; Johnson was still breathing; the room was full of simcke; Johnson lay upon a settee; I saw Barker afterwards; he talked nootherently; I went up-stairs and advised him to give himself up; I saked him what in the name of God he had done; he said, "Nothing;" he made no acknowledgment. knowledgment. Caroline McCarthy, sworn—Heard the report of the gun; saw Johnson upon a settee, and went for a policeman; Barker said nothing to me; I live next door; I saw the two men crossing a lot; they were a policeman; Barker said nothing to me; I live next door; I saw the two men crossing a lot; they were both very tight.

Thomas Wood, sworn—I live at No. 320 Greenwich street; I was at the place on Tuesday, at 11 o'clock; stayed there till this morning; Barker and Jonason came in, one in advance of the other; words arose between them; witness went out, but soon afterward heard the report of a gun; I had only got to the next door when I heard the report.

Policeman Larzaiere testified that about 2 o'clock Mrs. McCarthy met him at Sixth and Spivester streets, and told him Bill Johnson had been shot by Thomas Barker; hastened to the house; pushed open the door; found Mrs. Barker and Wm Johnson sitting on the end of the settec; she was walling and crying; Johnson was quite dead; I took the names of the partics; I saw the gun behind the door; Mrs. Barker said that this was the wespon used; I identify this as the gun; Barker was not there at that time.

George Slock sworn—I live at 1243 Austin street; I am Deputy Constable of First ward; at 2 o'clock Mrs. Barker and Mrs. Selby came into Alderman Bonsail's office, upon business which they said was serious; Barker said he had shot William Johnson; that he had killed him; he said, "I cut him accordingly;" I said, "Did you shoot him?" he said, "Yes;" I asked Mrs. Selby if the man was dead, and she said, "Yes;" I told Barker I would be obliged to take him to prison; took him to prison; Barker was intoxicated when he came to the cffice.

The Coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the

The Coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death by a gunshot inflicted by the hands of Thomas Barker.

How HE Lost It .- One of our officials who usually carries a three hundred and fifty dollar chronometer, lost it on Thursday. He was stand-ing at Sixth and Chesnut streets, talking with a friend, when asked, "How late is it?" Turning to his watch-pocket, he perceived that it was empty, and remembered that he had left it at home. "I have left my watch," said he, "under my pitlow, and it is the first time that I ever forgot it."

The day wore on, and the official in question returned to his home. A fine turkey had been left there, by a man in the garb of a huckster, at eleven o'clock in the morning, with directions that dinner should be ready at three o'clock. His better haif, should be ready at three o'clock. His better haif, as he entered the house late in the afternoon, expressed regrets that he had been so belated, and gave utterance to apprehensions that the turkey he sent home had become spoiled by over-roasting. This led to inquiry, resulting in a statement by the lady that at sieven o'clock that morning a man had delivered at the door the turkey then awaiting him, at the same time asking for the watch which the huckster had been told to say would be found under the gentleman's pillow. The watch was found there, and delivered to the man at the door without a question. The official was somewhat without a question. The official was somewhat astounded at the development, but knew enough of the world to understand that some sharper had overheard his remark that morning when asked the time of the day, and had immediately started for his home with a view to securing it.

AN INTERESTING PRESENTATION YESTERDAY .-The Union League presented handsome gold medals to Charles Darragh and Thomas Cun-ningham, members of the Franklin Hose and medals to Charles Darraga and Thomas and Steam Fire Engine Company, for saving the flag of the League during the fire in September, 1866. The medals are made of solid gold, circular in form, and 2½ inches in diameter, having in the centre a fireman's hat, horn, torch, hose, ladder, etc. They bear the following inscription:—"Presented by the Union League of Philadelphia to Charles Darragh and Thomas Cunningham, for courageous and patriotic services in rescuing the flag of the League from the fire at the League House on the 7th of September, 1866." The medals cost about $100 each, and were made by Captain W. H. Warner, of the America Hose Company.

INSPECTION OF FLOUR AND MEAL for the week ending February 21, 1867;—Barrels of superfine, 5921; do. Rye, 5; Corn Meal, 405. Total, 6031.

INSPECTING STEAM BOILERS .- The Committee INSPECTING STEAM BOILERS.—The Committee of Councils appointed to examine the subject of providing guards against the explosion of steam boilers held a meeting last evening. In answer to a circular issued by the committee, a number of practical machinists and engineers submitted their views in regard to what is required in an ordinance designed to secure the proper inspection of steam boilers. Among those who answered the circular was Mr. Briggs, who made several suggestions in regard to a modification of the ordinance now under consideration. One suggestion was that the to a modification of the ordinance now under consideration. One suggestion was that the machinery should be subjected to inspection in order to ascertain if it was in proper proportion, and thus lead to the protection of citizens. He laid great stress upon the necessity of having a proper safety valve and three water-guage cocks as the best protection; and he deprecated the use of self-acting apparatus. After twenty years' experience, he had never known a bolier to explode excent from want of water or excessto explode except from want of water or excessive pressure. Avoid these and there is safety, so far as safety can be secured by ordinance. The committee adjourned, to meet on Friday evening next.

WOMAN FOUND DROWNED .- The body of a young lady was found frozen in a cake of ice at Delaware City, on Wednosday, the 20th inst. She had evidently been in the water for a long time, as decomposition had extended so far as to entirely obliterate all form; from her face, She had on a red fiannel Garibaidi, braided in front with narrow black worsted braid; a black front with narrow black worsted braid; a black alpaca or worsted dress, trimmed around the skirt with red braid in squares; the sleeves were trimmed with black velvet, edged with white; white ribbed or open stockings. She had in her pocket a pair of lady's lead-colored, fleecy lined wooflen gloves, of fine texture; and also a gentleman's brown kid glove, of fine quality. She had on a black slik apron, with a frill at the edge; she had brown hair, and her height was 5 feet 4 inches. She will be buried in the cemetery of the town, in a coffin provided by the citizens. The Coroner has retained portions of the dress. There was also a dead-latch tions of the dress. There was also a dead-latch key in her pocket.

A SERMON BEFORE THE PRESS .- A formal re-A SERMON BEFORE THE PRESS.—A formal request having been made by a number of the members of the press of this city, of the Rev. Mr. Talmage, for a repetition of the sermon recently delivered by him, on "The Responsibility of the Press," their wishes will be compiled with to-morrow evening. The representatives of the different newspapers of the city are requested to assemble at 7 o'clock, in the lecture-room of the Church, Seventh street, above Brown.

MARVIN'S PATENT

ARE THE BEST.

ALWAYS FIRE-PROOF. ALWAYS DRY,

MOBILE TEST.

FEBRUARY 13, 1867. "Our Marvin's Patent Safe, a No. 9, double-door, stood the severest test in the large fire of Saturday night. It fell from the second floor, and was exposed to an INTENSE HEAT, FANNED BY A STIFF NORTH WIND. The exterior fron frame-work meited in several places, yet the inside is not touched, We were pleased on opening it to find every thing ALL RIGHT. We have every confidence in the Fire-Proof Safes made by Marvin & Co. "WHITFIELD & BILLING."
