FROM WASHINGTON THIS AFTERNOON.

SEPECIAL REPORT FOR THE EVENING TELEGRAPH. WASHINGTON, February 23. John Surratt Brought into Court To-day.

At half-past one o'clock this afternoon, John H. Surratt was brought into the Criminal Court to plead to the indictment charging him with the murder and complicity in the murder of Abraham Lincoln. He was dressed in black clothes and wore ordinary handcuffs. He walked from the jall to the court house, account of the Marchard Court house, account of the Marchard Court house, accounts to the Marchard Court house, accounts the Marchard Court has the Marchard Court house, accounts the Marchard Court has the Marcha

It was noticed that he was seated in the criminal dock by the side of Sanford Conover, who was a witness against his mother.

District Attorney Carrington said it was proper to arraign him that he might procure counsel, but he could not now fix the description. counsel, but he could not now fix the day of his

Mr. Merrick, counsel for Surratt, said it did not consist with the dignity of the Court to arraign a prisoner in manacles. The Court ordered the manacles to be taken off, and Surratt was brought forward and seated off, and Surratt was brought forward and seated by his counsel.

He was then ordered to stand up, and the indictment was read to him by Mr. Middleton, Clerk of the Court.

Surratt stood erect and almost motionless during the reading of the indictment, holding his hat before him in his hands. He replied, "Not gunlty" with a slight clearing of the throat, and then took his seat.

Mr. Bradley, counsel for Surratt, said they were not able to fix a day for the trial, not having had time to confer with the prisoner.

Surratt was then remanded to jail, and was Surratt was then remanded to jall, and was followed by a great crowd of people running Obsequies of Professor Bache. The remains of the late Professor Bache are at his residence, on Capitol Hill, near the Coast Survey office. The funeral ceremonies will take place to-morrow, and will be attended by all the leading officials of Government, with delegations from the Netheral Acceptations delegations from the National Academy of Science, the Sanitary Commission, the Cham-bers of Commerce of the leading commercial cities, and other bodies with which the deceased was so honorably connected.

Investigation of the Collusion Rumors. The House Committee, of which John Wentworth is Chairman, is investigating the compromise rumors. They are all based on the action of General Este and William Waliace Worden, a correspondent who enjoys the confidence of President Johnson.

Punishing Rebels. The Senate has passed a bill this afternoon providing that no officer who entered the Rebellion shall be entitled to back pay due, etc.

The following bills have become laws:—
First. That before the first meeting of the next Congress, and of every subsequent Congress, the Clerk of the next preceding House of Representatives shall make a roll of the Representatives elect, and place thereon the names of all persons claiming seats as Representatives elect from States which were represented the next preceding Congress, and of such persons only, and whose credentials show that they were regularly elected in accordance with the laws of their States respectively, or the laws of the United States.

Second. Declaring the sense of an act restricting the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims. It provides that the law shall not be construed to authorize the settlement of any claim for supplies or stores taken or furnished for the use of armics, or injury to properly, where the claim originated during the war for the suppression of the Southern Rebellion, in a State declared in insurrection by proclamation of the President, or a State which, by an ordinance of secession, attempted to withdraw from the United States Government.

Provided. That nothing in this law shall repeal or Bills Becoming Laws.

sitempted to withdraw from the United States Government.

Provided, That nothing in this law shall repeal or modify the effect of any act or joint resolution extending the provisions of the act of July, 1864, to the leyal citizens of Tennessee or West Virginia.

These bills were received by the President on the sth*instant, but having been returned by him to the House, in which they originated, within the time prescribed by the Constitution of the United States, they have become laws without his approval.

The President has signed the bill approprioriating ten millions for the payment of invails pensions twenty-three millions for pensions to the widows, children, imothers, tathers, brothers, and sisters of soldiers, and two hundred and eighty thousand dollars for navy pensions to the same class of persons just mentioned.

The President has also approved the bill

The President has also approved the bill abolishing the office of Superintendent of Public Printing, herstofore appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and providing for the election of Congressional Printer by the Senate.

Mr. Defrees, who was removed to give place to Mr. Wendell, will undoubtedly be elected to that office.

The President has alse approved the bill to establish and protect the national cometeries.

Semate. Washington, February 22.—Petitions and memorials were presented and referred.

Mr. Cragin (N. H.), from the Committee on Naval Affairs, reported a bill for the relief of Captain John J. Young, to pay him as Captain on the retired list from March. 1874, to May, 1865. Passed.

On motion of Mr. Lane (Indiana), a special session for Tuesday evening, for the consideration of private pension bills, was ordered.

Mr. Grimes (Iowa) called up the bill directing the Secretary of the Navy to transfer the iron-chad Onon-daga to George Teustard, of New York, upon the payment of $750,373, the amount advanced by the Government on the contract for the construction of that vessel. Passed.

Mr. Trumbull (Ill.) called up the House joint resoluwessel. Passed.

Mr. Trumbull (III.) called up the House joint resolution to probibit any officer of the Government from paying any claim accraing prior to the 18th of April, 1861. In favor of any person who promoted, encouraged, or in any manner sustained the Rebellion, was not known to be opposed thereto, or distinctly in favor of its suppression.

The Senate Judiciary Committee recommended the striking out all after the word Rebellion where it first occurs. Mr. Trumbull said he was not in favor of the amendment, but a majority of the Committee were.

Mr. Johnson (Md.) spoke in invor of the amendment.

Mr. Hendricks (Ind.) understood the object of the till to be to prevent the payment of military officers who joined the Rebellion. He had no objection to this ind to accomplish this the words proposed to be stricken out were not necessary. The amendment was screed to was agreed to.

The Indian Appropriation bill was taken up at 1 o'clock, It will take all day to read it.

House of Representatives. The reading of the Journal having been dispensed with a recess was ordered to be taken from 430 to 730-P. M.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Thayer in the chair, and took up the bill making apprepriations for sundry civil expenses of the Government. The largest appropriations made in the bill are as follows:

For survey of the Atlantic and Gulf Coast, $250,000. For survey of the Western Coast, $130,000. For the survey of the South Florida reef, $250,000. Light House Establishment—Supply of oil, etc. 246,700.

Repairs and incidentals, $205,000.

Salaries of 559 keepers, $134,000.

Salaries of 43 keepers of light vessels, $23,900.

Seamen's wages, etc., of 43 light vessels, $23,700.

Expenses of beacons and buoys, $222,850.

Rebuilding and repairing light houses, $941,000.

Compensation of 59 keepers of life-saving stations, 108,600.

For erecting a barge office at New York, $50,000. Capitol extension, $250,000. Work on the northern portico of the President's Dome of the Capitol. $150,000. Constructing Appraisers' stores, Philadelphia. United States Court-House and Post Office at Des Moines, Iowa, $85,600. Completion, furnishing, etc., Treasury building. So,000.

Purchase of Peter Force's historical library, $100,600.
Repairs, etc., of the Washington Aqueduci, $200,600.
Sundry expenses, principally about Washington,

$570,000.

Salaries of Registers of Land Offices, $206,000.

Surveying the public lands, $208,000.

Mr. Price moved to add an appropriation of $25,000 for the construction of the Rock Island bridge across the Missispip, Rejected.

Mr. Scoffeld (Pa.) inquired of Mr. Stevens when the expenditures about the Capitor were to be expected to cease?

expenditures about the Capitol were to be expected to cease?

Mr. Stevens') successor twenty years hence his question might be answered: but gentlemen should recollect that the construction of a great edifice like the Capitol required a little more time and money than the patting up of a saw-mill. (Laughter.)

Mr. Scofield suggested that his colleague's reply was more withy than satisfactory, but he (Mr. Scofield) had no idea that the capital was to remain at Washington. The action of Congress at the last session in cutting down mileage would tend to its removal, because when tWestern members could no longer make fortunes by their mileage, they would insist on its being moved westward.

when twestern members could no longer make fortunes by their mileage, they would insist on its being moved westward.

The fact of there only being a single line of railroad between Baltimore and Washington to connect this city with the North and West, would also have its effect on the question of the removal of the Capital.

Mr. Eliot (Mass.) moved an appropriation of $20,000 to the Boston Humane Society Stations along the coast of Massachusetts. Rejected.

Mr. Spaiding (Ohio) moved a like appropriation for the coast of the Northwestern Lakes. Rejected.

Mr. Higby (Cal.) moved an appropriation of $15,000 to establish a Light, House on Point Keyes, on the coast of California. Adopted.

Also $75,000 to establish a Light House on Point A renos on the same coast. Rejected.

Mr. McKee moved an appropriation of $10,000 for repairs of the Marine Hospital at Louisville, Ky. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. Longyear (Mich.) an additional appropriation of about $250,000 was made for various lighthouses along the northwestern lakes and southern inlets.

Mr. O'Neill moved to amend the clause which appro-

ANOTHER BOLD ROBBERY .- About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while Mr. Augustus Hang and family were absent for a time from their residence, at No. 707 Buttonwood street, a party of theires entered the back yard, pried open the cellar door, and then forced their way into the cellar door, and then forced their way into the upper part of the house, where they made mischief generally. Bureaus and closets were turned inside out, and chaos brought back again. When the thieves decamped they car-ried with them a silver watch and some trifling articles of jewelry, together with United States securities, amounting in all to $16,000. Fortu-nately these last were all registered, and will avail the burglars but little in the way of profit.

Assault and Battery .- Joseph Kennedy, Assault and Battery.—Joseph Kennedy, an ex-policeman, was this morning walking down Chesnut street. When near the corner of Sixth he slipped upon the ice and fell. Going in the same direction was a colored individual named Benjamin Harris, who, when he saw the horizontal position of Kennedy, commenced laughing. The latter asked, "What he was laughing at?" He replied, "nuffin," Whereupon the said Joseph Kennedy struck the negro a blow with his fist, which would, without doubt, have felled Sambo to mother earth, if it had not been for his herculean strength, Harris not relighing this kind of treatment for his not relishing this kind of treatment for his laugh, made complaint to Alderman Beitler, who issued a warrant for the arrest of Kennedy. He was held in $500 bail to answer at Court,
