THE WHATHER IN PARIS -- LOUIS NAPOLEON'S SFEECH-ITS REFECT ON THE PEOPLE-THE AFFAIRS OF PLALY-AFFAIRS IN GRRMANY-MUTROVEMENT OF THE SWISS ARMS-THE UNIVER-SAL EXHIBITION, ETC. ETC. Bpecial Correspondence of the Evening Pelegraph.]

PARIS, February 15.

Yesterday, the 14th of February, was the finest day we have had in the French capital for more than four months. All those who were able to get away from work, and the thousands of foreigners now wintering in Paris, availed themselves of the fineness of the day, which reminded one more of the month of April than the month of February, to sally forth and see the Emperor and Empress go and open the Legislative session.

THE EMPEROR NAPOLEON'S SPRECH.

Napoleon III, who has quite got over his late illness, opened the French Chambers in person, in the grande salle of the palace of the Louvre, yesterday, the 14th of February.

The members of the Senate and of the Legislative body who had not yet taken the oaths, did so yesterday. The Emperor was accompanied by the Empress and the Prince Imperial, Prince Napoleon, the Princess Clotilde, the Princess Mathilde, and other members of the Imperial family. His Majesty told the Assembly that events of much gravity had taken place in Europe since he last had the pleasure of addressing it, and that France had remained a neutral looker-on during the contest between the two great German Powers, as her interests were in no way compromised.

As regards Mexico, his Majesty went on to say that he had withdrawn from that country, as the sacrifices required of France for the apholding of the new empire were too great, and that he was desirous of remaining on a good footing with his allies the Americans.

As was expected, the Emperor informed us that, as neighboring powers had so considerably augmented their military forces, it was his duty to maintain France in an invulnerable state, and consequently the army of this country must be reorganized and increased.

His Majesty makes some very slight allusions to the scourges with which France has been visited during the past year; he hopes that the country will not grudge the*sums which he trusts will be voted for those who have been cruel sufferers by the cholera and by the inundations. However, notwithstanding these partial calamities, the progress and general prosperity of the country have not slackened. Within the present year the public revenue has increased by fifty millions, and foreign trade by more than a million.

His Majesty thinks that extended liberties may now be granted to the press, and that there is no longer any reason to withhold the right of meeting for commercial and other non-political purposes.

The Imperial family, on its return to the Tuileries, was very much cheered by the thousands standing in the way of the cortége. THE RETIREMENT OF THE ITALIAN MINISTRY.

Public attention in France is now turned to the affairs of Italy. Our correspondent in Florence writes us that public opinion is more and more pronounced in Italy against the bill on ecclesiastical property. The system of a complete independence of the Church, applauded at the commencement of the Revolution, when its whole bearing was not well understood, and when it was looked upon as an infallible means of obtaining Rome for a capital, has, little by little, encountered Church opposition.

This fact is not very surprising in a country which has been the theatre of continual and inveterate struggles with the Church of Rome. The theory of the supremacy of the State is the traditional one of the lawyers and publicists of Naples. In such a country the bill, as may be imagined, meets with a great number of adversaries, particularly amongst the lower clergy, who fear, whether rightly or wrongly, to find themselves delivered up to the absolute authority of the bishops. Nevertheless, the most complete accord continues to prevail between the civil power and the ecclesiastical authorities in the province of Naples. The Cardinal has been to pay, with great pomp, a visit to the Prince de Carignano, which his Royal Highness has returned with equal ceremony. It is even reported that the Pope has expressed a wish to see the coming of the King of Italy, as he passed through Rome; but his Holiness was dissuaded from so doing by the Jesuits.

GERMAN AFFAIRS.

We hear from our correspondent in Berlin that the Commission for the Liquidation of the Germanic Confederation has submitted some propositions to the late Federal Government. The whole of the movable property of the Diet is to be sold, except some objects having an historical interest; the library to be added to that of the city of Frankfort-on-the-Main: the documents of the archives, relative to cer tain fortresses, to be handed over to the Government, their present possessors; all the papers relative to the Navy and defense of the coast to be transferred to Prussia; lastly, the whole of the Federal archives to be given to the Frankfort Library, on condition of placing them in a separate collection, preserving them carefully, and holding them always at the disposal of the former Federal Government.

THE WINCHESTER RIFLE IN SWITZERLAND.

Councillor Challet-Venel, head of the Swiss Federal Finance Department, is at this moment in Frankfort, negotiating with the house of Rothschild for a loan of twelve millions of francs, to be used in introducing the new Winchester rifle.

THE UNIVERSAL EXHIBITION.

The French jury for the section of painting. sculpture, and architecture at the Universal Exhibition has terminated its labors. The French school will be represented by 110 pictures, 102 statues, 40 busts in marble or terracotta, and 83 engravings.
