THE FENIANS.

An Appeal to the Irish People of Ame-CENTRAL OFFICE FENIAN BROTHERHOOD, No. 10 Chatham street, New York, March 10.—Fellow-countrymen and brothers in the cause, the time has now arrived when all true Irishmen

Interval dissensions, arising from a difference of epinion on vital points, have thinned our tanks and impaired the confidence of our people, but now the battle-ry has sounded, our bro-thers are in the field united against a common foe. Shall we remain divided, and not sup-port them? Irishmen of America, think of the promises you have made, of the prisons filled with patriots, of our soldiers without arms, of the misery and wretchedness that must ensue It our brothers are subdued; think of the glory and success that must attend prompt and decisive action, the shame and disgrace of detest, the result of our mactivity and want of co-operation. It is our duty as freemen, as crizens of this Republic, who enjoy the bless-ings of freedom, to extend our sympathy and support to every oppressed nationality strug-ging for independence, but particularly to our brothers who are fighting for their liberty, for that which God has given alike to all men-a right to govern themselves. The blow is struck, the crisis is at band—that impending struggle which for seven hungred years has bovered over our land like a gathering storm, has burst upon the nation. We shall know our friends by their assistance, and our cuemies by their opposition.

Fellow-countrymen, I appeal to you in the name of justice and humanity; I appeal to you by the blood of Emmet and Fitzgerald, to come forward and do your daty in this trying hoar. Our enemy is will up to spend millions of money, to sacrifice thousands of lives, to shed torrents of b'ood, to subjugate or extrepate our race. Shall you remain idle spectators and see it done? Will you make no effort to sustain the men in the field? They are ready to give their lives, to spill the last drop of their blood in de fense of their homes—the bomes of our fore-Will you supply them with arms place them on an equal footing with the foe?

Remember, he who shirks his duty now, he who stands aloof in this hour of danger, betrays his brothers, and will become guilty of the blood uselessly shed in this struggle. Set all differences aside. Set all leaders aside who stand in the way of Ireland's freedom. Be united, for in union there is strength. Let harmony and concord characterize our actions, and with the blessing of God success will crown our efforts. Then will Ireland, tree and independent, take her place amongst the nations of the earth. Then may her children raise their voice to Heaven, and thank God they have a land of their own where no despot treads, where no tyrant rules, where man is as free as God made him. Anthony A. GREAT LOSS BY THE OVERFLOW OF A CISTERN .-About half an hour after midnight, last night, as a policeman was walking his beat, near Fourth and Market streets, he observed water running from underneath the front door of an establishment at No. 18 North Fourth street, This building, which is five stories in height, is a world by Mr H About and is occupied by owned by Mr. H. Abbott, and is occupied by several firms. In the fifth story, which is occu-pied by Simons & Brother as a workroom for making up clothing, they have an arrange-ment for keeping the elstern on the top of the water-closet full of water. It appears that the attachment for stopping the flow of water when it had reached a certain height, got out of order. The consequence was, that the water continued flowing, filling the cistern, and then overflow-ing on to the floor. The water then continued to run until it got to the lower story, and flowed down into the cellar and into the street. Of course, the stocks of goods on the fourth, third, second, and first floors were more or less demanded by this involvant annual of water. damaged by this inordinate supply of water. The firm of Meany & Updyke, on the fourth floor, dealers and manufacturers of ladies' and floor, dealers and manufacturers of ladies' and misses' boots and shoes, had their stock damaged to the extent of $1000.

Mr. L. Snyder, on the third floor, who has also a ladie's and misses' boot and shoe establishment, was damaged to the extent of $3000.

Simous & B-other, merchant tailors, who occupy the second floor as their salesroom, were damaged in stock to the amount of $1800.

On the first floor, Messrs, Thomas Carson & Co., wholesale dealers in history, gloves, etc., had their stock damaged to the extent of $2000.

The building itself has probably been damaged about $2000.

MOVEMENTS OF PHILADELPHIA STEAMERS-THE DELAWARE YESTERDAY AND TO-DAY, -Perhaps the river front never presented a more cheer-less appearance than it did yesterday, under the influence of a northeast storm. There were no wayfarers on Delaware avenue—nothing in motion on the river except the Camden ferry boats. About half-past 1 o'clock, however, the steamer Norman, from Boston, arrived at her wharf, after a boisterous passage, first detained by a gale in Boston harbor from Thursday to Friday, and encountering another on entering Delaware bay, which detained her at anchor over eight hours. The Juniata, from New Orleans, and the Tonawanda, from Savannah, Ga., are momentarily expected at their wharf. Both are overdue, but the known prevalence of northeasterly winds along the coast must necessarily lengthen their passage.

The Alliance, Capiain James R. Kelly, will sail for Charleston, S. C., this afternoon, at 3, carrying one of the largest manifests that ever left this port.

AN ALLEGED ATTEMPT AT MURDER .- About An Alleghe Attemet at Murder.—About hall-past 10 o'clock last Saturday might a man rushed into the station of the Harbor Police, at Front and Noble streets, and told Lieutenant Edgar that a man by the name of "Chalkey" Dean had shot him, and was then in his saloon tearing things to pieces. The Lieutenant sent and had Dean arrested at the place, which was kept by Mr. George Atkins, the complainant, in Beach street, above Coates. It appears that Charles Dean, who generally goes by the name of "Chalkey," had gone to Atkins' tavern, and whilst he was behind the bar serving out ale, drew a pistoi and fired four shots at him, one of which took effect in the head, wounding him drew a pistoi and fired four shots at him, one of which took effect in the head, wounding him severely but not dangerously. Dean then struck Atkins over the head, cutting it badly. Atkins, after receiving his injuries, ran out, and went to the Station House, as above stated. He had hardly told Lieulemant Edgar what had occurred, than he fainted from excitement and loss of blood. His wounds were dressed, and he was taken home. When the police went to Atkins's aloon, they found Dean there. He had gone to his house and hid the platol, and then came back again. Dean had a hearing before Alderman Beitler, and was committed in default of $1500 bail to answer the charge of assault and nattery with intent to kill.

ILLEGAL SUNDAY AMUSEMENT.—Sunday appears to be the time generally selected by some of the boys about town to pitch pennies and engage in other illegal games. Every Sunday there are a score or two arrested for doing so. Yesterday, a young man, seventeen years of age, named John Lea, was arrested in the yard of a church, at Soventeenth and Mount Vernon streets, whilst in the act of pitching pennies within the sound of the preacher's voice. He had a hearing before Alderman Hutchinson, who held him in $300 bail to keep the peace and be on his good behavior, and dismissed him with a severe recrimand. A COMPLETE METAMORPHOSIS.—It is too often that men are judged by their outward appear-ances. It is an old saying, that when we reances. It is an old saying, that when we receive a stranger's visit, we receive him as he appears, and take our leave of him as he is. A person that is neat in his attire is generally of pure and correct taste and habit of mind, and in his business. We were forcibly reminded of the influence that dress must have on the minds of others in paying a visit to Taylor & minds of others in paying a visit to Taylor & Co.'s handsome Tailoring establishment, No. 132 S. Spring Garden Road. 5 do., 1441. Rule 6 of this Court, to index 315. Hence the presentation of testimony by the exceptionists is out of place, so far as this case is concerned.

1. The first exceptions of error is to the power and the exceptionals is out of pace, so he as this case is concerned.

1. The first exception of error is to the power and authority of the Commissioners, under the act of February 4, 1865, to assess faminges to the property owners on the street. Whatever difficulty there might have been to maintain their right to do so under the act of May 29, 1864, all doubt was removed by the first mentioned act. Court, we cannot take notice of the testimony to prove it. The last is a general error, and need not be noticed.

4. The main argument in the case was directed to a point not embraced by any of the exceptions to the proceedings below, nor raised by any exceptions taken to the confirmation of the report of the Court of Quarter Sessions in this Court; namely, the constitutionality of the act of February 4, 1865, under which the Commissioners were appointed, nor when their report was before the Court for confirmation, nor in this Court excepting in argument. Under these circumstances we ought not to notice it. We may, however, say that we see nothing whatever to excite any doubt as to the entire constitutionality of either of the acts of Assembly referred to. Proceedings affirmed. periy of Hensinger & Zeigler. The prosecutors are dealers in leathers and skins, at 'Randolph' and Jefferson streets. In the latter part of November their store was entered at night and 108 goat skins were stolen. They were afterwards seen in the possession of the defendants, at an Alderman's offlice. It was shown that one of the defendants went to a store in Third street and offered these identical skins for sale. The persons at this store recognized the skins as those of Hensinger & Zeigler, and asked the man where he lived, suspecting all was not right. The man sald he lived at a certain place in Fopiar street, but this was not se, for those who went to arrest him on a warrant could not find him. After the arrest, and at the hearing, one of the defendants said he did not steal the skins, but knew who did, and that the man who stole them had offered him $2 for every dozen he could sell.

The defense was, that Lansenburger received the skins from a man hamed Dumord for debt. He then gave these skins to Noe, a shoemaker, to turn into cash, promising to pay him so much on the dozen, as far as these defendants were concerned, they obtained the skius honestly; if a their had been committed, it must have been committed by Dumord, who was not in Court. His absence was explained thus: It was discovered that this man Dumord had sold a skin to a man in Maryland.

This skin was recovered, and identified by the prosecutors. Dumord was taken before an alderman, but was discharged on account afthe absence of a material witness, and soon afterwards left the cliv. Mr. Johnson (Md.) introduced a bill to incorporate the National Hotel Company of the District of Columbia. Referred.

Mr. Sumner (Mass.) called up the resolutions introduced by him on Tuesday, declaring certain further guarantees required in the reconstruction of the Rebeistates. They declare that, among the Inings remaining to be done, are the five following.—

First. The existing Governments which have been declared to be illegal, must be vacated, so that they can have no agency in the work of restoration, and will cease to exercise a perficious influence.

Secondly, Provisional Governments must be constituted as temporary substitutes for the illegal Governments, with special authority to superintend the transition to permanent Governments, republican in form.

As the education of the people is essential to the national welfure, and especially to the development of those principles of justice and morality which constitute the formation of the republican Government, andmas, according to the census, an immense proportion of the people in the Receistates, without distinction of color, who cannot read and write, therefore public schools must be established for the equal government of all.

Mr. Williams inquired if those resolutions had been dece of land.

Mr. Williams inquired if those resolutions had been Mr. Williams inquired if those resolutions had been considered by any committee.

Mr. Sumner said they had not been referred; they were simply declaratory resolutions for the Senate, and it was not necessary to refer them.

Mr. Williams moved to refer the resolutions to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Sumner said it the Senator from Oregon would state his reasons for referring the resolution, he might be able to answer them.

Mr. Williams replied that he was not prepared to vote for such a measure until it had been considered in Committee. It was the practice of the Senate, and he was not willing to depart from it.

Mr. Sumner took the floor in advocacy and explanation of his resolutions, asserting that what they proposed met the sanction of well-known loyalists of the Senate, and was necessary to a just and loyal reconstruction.

Write he was advocating the fifth proposition he was interrepted by Mr. Fessendes, who inquired if he thought a piece of land for each man was necessary to a republican form of government.

Mr. Summer did not think it was, but it was necessary to give a piece of land to each freedman in order to conclude the glorious work of smantipation.

Mr. Grimes inquired where the Government would get the land.

Mr. Summer said, there were several ways of getting it. He would say nothing now about confiscation, but he thought it would have been a wise policy to have divided the large landed estates of the Rebeis among the freedmen. There were lands that had been sold for taxes in the South that might be used for this purpose, but probably the best way was that which the President could have carried out if he had been so discossed. disposed.

It was that, requiring as a condition of pardon, that the person pardoned should assign a portion of his lands to his freedmen.
