FEMALE MEDICAL COLLEGE - ANNUAL COM-MENCEMENT AT THE COLLEGE BUILDING—DEGREES CONFERRED—THE VALEDICTORY ADDERSS BY MARY J. SCARLETT,—The annual commencement of the Female Medical College took place at 12 o'clock to-day, in the large parlors of the College Building. There was a large attendance of friends interested in the proceedings of the commencement. The degree of Doctor of Medicine was conferred, by T.
Morris Perot, Esq., upon the following young ladies:—

Mary E. Blackmar, Michigan; Rebecca J. Cole, Rachel A. Dickey, Ruth A. French, Lizzie A. Sanders, and Lizzie A. Smith, of Pennsylvania; Mary L. Wadsworth, New Hampshire; Elise Pfeiffer Stone, California; E. M. Roys, Rhode Island; Elizabeth Hays, Missouri.

The valedictory was delivered by Miss Mary J. Scarlett, M. D., Professor of Anatomy, from which we make the following extracts:

"Ladies—Graduates of the Class:—There are moments in our lives into which the responsi-

which we make the following extracts:—

"Ladies—Graduates of the Class:—There are moments in our lives into which the responsibilities of years appear to be compressed, solemn moments, when some expected event is consummated, and the full weight of impending duties is felt. This hour to you—to us—is an hour of solemn joy. You have just had conferred upon you the degree of Doctor of Medicine, a degree for which you have labored so assiduously for years. It has been given you in token of your appreciation and application and acquirements. It is a pleasure to us to thus publicly recognize you who have been our students as physicians—as our peers; yet, we would not disguise from you and ourselves that the position is one of toil and trial, as well as of satisfaction and reward. A physician's life is not one of ease. No weather is too inclement, no night too dark for the calls of the sick to reach medical aid and advice.

"Often, delay in responding to these calls might be fatal; and the warm fireside must be forsaken, the night's wonted repose changed to, toil that the sufferer may receive timely ald, and the bereaved friends feel that all human skill which they could command has been exerted. This is not all time spent in visiting the sick—but is only a portion, greater or less, of that required to be laboriously occupied. Reflection and research, deep and long continued, into the causes of disease and the requisite treatment, belong to the works of the physician. However pleasant this work may be, it requires mental and physical endurance; it requires investigation of the opinions of others. It is nothing, simply, to read what is appropriated blend with our own thought!, and become, as it were, a part of our own mentality, that it may be available when needed. It is due to the patient that the best efforts should be concentrated on the means of cure.

"Constant accessions are being made to medical knowledge; and it is not sufficient that the science of medicine should have been studied in college from lectures an studied in college from lectures and text-books. There is a continual work to be done—the new to be carefully examined—the true adopted and the false rejected. Neither is it well to be too fastidious as to the sources from which information may be derived. The little child in its simplicity oft teaches important practical truths to the wise. The suggestions of the unlearned may lead from darkness to light. A scientific fact is not divested of value by being exhumed by the unlearned; and he who has exhumed by the unlearned; and he who has greatest facility for collecting and arranging facts, and bring them to bear upon every-day occurrences, will have the most resources when called to visit the sick, "The combination of well-trained habits of "The combination of well-trained babits of thought with good powers of observation, are important qualifications for the physician."

We live in an age when the right to labor in our own way is not denied us; when new avenues of usefulness are being continually opened to us; when our God-given mental, physical, and moral powers may be expanded under the benign influence of active and ennobling work. Work is the great reformer; idleness the tempter to vice and immorality.

"That want of employment sends the young, the beautiful, the fair, to the lowest depths of degradation, to seek shelter in the justiy condemned of all earthly abodes. To sell themselves for support has become patent. Idleness selves for support has become patent. Idleness is one of the great vices that are instrumental in filling our county houses and prisons with the outcasts of society. The day for discussing the propriety of women attending to other than household duties is past. None toil more un-remittingly, more exhaustingly, than those who apparently deem it obligatory upon themselves apparently deem it obligatory upon themselves to spend the thousands acquired annually by their fathers, brothers, and husbands, in supporting a fashionable style of living.

"Time is consumed in dressing, attending parties, eating, and entertaining those who belong to the same 'set,' regardless of congeniality of feeling and true friendship. Days of uneasiness succeed nights of respectable dissipation. Listiessness follows nervous exhaustion—the body fatigued and the mind left without healthy aliment. The unsatisfied soul cannot shed around it the congenial influences that make the abiding place truly a 'home' that make the abiding place truly a 'home' that is right and proper. As some by their acts appear to deem that the mistress of the house, who has spent her time in tollsome follies, and depends entirely upon hired help to procure the creature comforts for her household, there can be no rational objection to her employing her time actively, usefully, and profitably, and having the same dependence. But she need not, necessarily, have the same dependence! Habits of industry engender executive ability and even while attending to executive ability, and even while attending to professional duties a care can be extended to domestic comforts. Time economized is virtu-ally equivalent to time increased; and it is actorishing how much can be accomplished by astonishing how much can be accomplished by making proper use of the moments. We would making proper use of the moments. We would, not advocate a position for women that would, in the slightest degree, remove her from the home throne, the 'family circle,' the 'Holy of holies,' which is the sanctuary in which her inner life is most refreshing and refreshed," **

The address throughout was interesting and instructive to those who were about to enter on the professional duties for which they had so assiduously applied themselves.

ADMITTED TO THE BER.—On Motion of Thomas Greenbank, Esq., Walter Scott Stark, of this city, was admitted to practice in the District Court and Court of Common Pleas for the city and coupty of Philadelphia.

This morning, on motion of William P. Messick, Esq., Assistant City Solicitor, Henry C. Terry, Esq., was admitted to practice at the bar of the District Court and Court of Common Pleas of this city. Mr. Terry has been a student of Judge Brewster for several years past, and of Judge Brewster for several years past, and gives promise of taking a high stand in his pro-

A Young THIEF ARRESTED .- Last evening a party of three small boys went out to make a party of three small boys went out to make a raid on the shops in the neighborhood of Delaware avenue and Chesnut streets. One of them, named James Benjamin, aged only eleven years, stole a piece of dried beef from a store in that vicinity, while his two companions watched to see that no one was approaching. But notwithstanding all their caution, he was detected in the act, and arrested. He had a preliminary examination before Alderman Beitler, who held him for a further hearing at the Central Station.

A BELLIGERENT ARRESTED .- At an early hour this morning a party of men got into a fight at a place at the corner of Twentieth and Locust streets, in the course of which several persons were more or less roughly handled.
One of the party, named Hugh Drain, was arrested, and was held for a further hearing by Alperman Switt, on a charge of assaultgand

REAL ESTATE. - Messrs. J. M. Gummey & Sons' sale of real estate on Monday next, at the Philadelphia Exchange, will comprise a variety of very desirable properties, suitable either for occupancy or investment—handsome residence, South Penn square, valuable business stands, and smaller properties, paying a good interest. Catalogues, with full particulars, may be had at their office, No. 508 Wainut street.

COLLECTORSHIP OF THE PORT—MEETING OF THE MERCHANTS FAVORING THE REAPPOINT-MENT OF COLONEL WILLIAM B. THOMAS.—A meeting of the prominent business men of this city was held at the Corn Exchange, at noon, having in view the reappointment of Colonei William B. Thomas as Collector of this port. The assemblage was called to order, and on motion of Howard Hinchman, Esq., E. A. Souder was appointed to act as President. Messrs, William Price and John H. Michener were elected Secretaries.

were elected Secretaries.

The President spoke of the object of the meet ing, that of addressing the President for the re-appointment of Colonei William B. Thomas, E. Harper Jeffries,in advocating the necessity of this movement, spoke of the satisfactory and able administration of that gentleman during the past, the wish on the part of the business community for his reinstatement, and offered the following preamble and resolu-

Nhereas. The shippers, manufacturers, and traders of Philadelphia here assembled on "Change," believing the great business interests of our city have suffered recently by having no of our city have suffered recently by having no head at our Customs Department for the Port, and believing that thoroughly trained business men ought always to occupy such positions, and looking upon Colonel William B. Thomas as possessing the great requisites of ability, energy, and integrity; therefore Removed, That the business men of the city of Philadelphia recommend Colonel William B. Thomas as Collector of the Port of this city.

Removed, That the Chairman and Secretary of

Resolved, That the Chairman and Secretary of this meeting sign these proceedings, and that a Committee of seven be appointed to forward the same to the President of the United States the same to the President of the United States and the Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. George L. Buzby followed up the reading of the resolutions with remarks looking to the consummation of the object of the meeting. Colonel William B. Thomas has exhibited always an integrity, energy, and a capacity requisite for the superintendence of such a high and difficult position. The speaker gave incidents of the honest and capable management of Colonel Thomas while Collector, which were of Colonel Thomas while Collector, which were of Colonel Thomas while Collector, which were applied by all present.

On motion the resolutions were unanimously adopted, and the following-named gentlemen were appointed to act as the Committee mentioned in the resolutions:—Messrs, E. Harper Jeffries, Hugh Craig, William Brice, James Steel, C. J. Hoffman, George L. Buzby, and E. C. Knight. On motion, the meeting then adjourned.

AN ALLEGED LOTTERY CASE DECIDED .- Some weeks back, Mr. Carey, of Carey, Bonner & Co., was arrested upon a charge of conducting a lottery scheme. Their plan was to send circu-lars through the Post Office, in which it was proposed to send jewelry marked on a list at pretty high figures, upon the receipt of a small sum of money. They had a hearing and were discharged! They then applied at the Post Office for their letters, which had come in reply to their circulars. These now amounting to about a bushel, more or less, the Postmaster re-fused to deliver, aithough the parties were fully and satisfactorily identified.

After entreating and urging the delivery of these letters for several days, Carey, Bonner & Co., by their counsel, Charles Sergeant, Esq., filed a bill in equity in the Circuit Court of the United States, praying that the acting Postmaster, A. N. Zevely, might be restrained from sending the letters to the Dead Letter Office, and be decreed to deliver them to the parties to whom they were directed. The District Attorney for the United States, on behalf of the Postmaster, stated to the Court that the letters had master, stated to the Court that the letters had aiready gone to the Dead Letter Office.

The letters, over four thousand in number, were then sent back from Washington to the Post Office, and were then delivered to Carey, Bonner & Co., it being decided that a Postmaster is bound to deliver letters to the parties to whom they are directed.

A DISORDERLY HOUSE CASE. - About 12 o'clock last night the police made a surround of a disorderly house that was conducted by a female named Annie Moore, at No. 337 Shippen street. Her house has been complained of several times, and last night a man who had been induiging in her hospitalities reported to the authorities that he had been robber. Annie was arrested for conducting the establishment, and three of the fair inmates, giving the names of Margaret Robertson, Charlotte Hirst, and Elizabeth Johnson, were also taken into custody on the charge of being concerned in the robbery. They had a hearing before Alderman Tittermany, who committed them to answer.

THROWING STONES .- A party of lads were engaged in a stone-fight yesterday afterenoon, at the corner of Fifth and Christian streets, and for a short time there was a brisk skirmish that was, probably, very interesting to the young combatants engaged in it, but was anything but suggestive of personal safety to passers-by one of the boys, a lad tweive years old, and glving the name of John Stavers, was arrested, and after a hearing before Alderman Tittermary, was committed to answer the charge of breach of ordinance. These street fights are becoming a too common amusement with our pugnacious juveniles.

THE EMPIRE HOOK AND LADDER COMPANY, OR Monday evening, the 18th instant, will give a grand citizens' dress ball, at the Musical Fund Hall. A delightful time may be expected, as the balls of the Empire enjoy a rare reputation in that respect, and the Committee of Arrangements have determined to render the one in question even more attractive than one in question even more attractive than any CHILD RUN OVER .- A little girl, named Lizzle Vance, aged 7 years, was run over by a wagon loaded with flour at Second and Catharine streets yesterday afternoon. The child was very severely injured, having had its jaw broken in two places. The driver of the wagon, a boy sixteen years old, named John Eckert, was arrested, and after a hearing was com-mitted by Alderman Tittermary for reckless driving. The child lives in Wheat street.

STEALING SILVER FILINGS .- On complaint of Leopold Reckor, proprietor of a silversmith es-tablishment, No. 142 South Sixth street, George Greene was arrested for appropriating an amount of silver fillings from the institution, valued at about $25. After a hearing before Alderman Delaney, he was held in $500 bail, he prosecutor, actuated by sympathetic feel-

WASHINGTON MONUMENT ASSOCIATION .- This association met to-day at ll o'clock, and after some preliminary business, appointed a com-mittee in due form to take immediate measures for the erection of a statue at Fairmount Park with the funds on hand, which will be done as soon as Connells will give the necessary privilege and rights to the association.

AN INTERESTING TALK WITH THE PRESIDENT. -Yesterday afternoon I called on the President, and had a very pleasant and instructive conversation with him on the state of the country. Happening in when the President was alone, I made known my errand to him, when he asked me to be seated. As soon as I took my seat, said I, "I am a newspaper reporter, and I have come to ask you what you think of the Sherman Reconstruction Bill?" "Well," said the President, rising to the occasion, "I object to all Bills. Since I have been here I have been haunted with Upholsterers' Bills, Civil Rights' Bills, and," continued he. "worse than all, Bill Kelley. When I get out of this business I will return to the tailoring, and conduct the business similar to Charles Stokes & Co., the eminent clothiers under the Continental Hotel in Philadelphia-Sell at a low price for eash, and make no bad bills."

This is the substance of the President's remarks, as near as I can remember, and I was astonished at the President's knowledge of the natitutions of our city.

THE NE PLUS ULTRA IN SEWING MACHINES.

-Were we called upon to state in distinct terms what are the chief requisites in a sewing machine for family use, we should say the instrument which makes the strongest and most easily knot in the charter stiller. ment which makes the strongest and most clastic stitch; which is most easily kept in order; which performs the widest range of sewing required in a family; which is most easily learned, and which is worked with least fatigue; and in saying this we exactly describe the celebrated Grover & Baker machines.—The

LATEST FROM WASHINGTON.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO EVENING TELEGRAPH.] Washington, March 16.

Proposed Purchase of Chihuahua. There is a report here that a proposition has been made to the French Government to convert its Mexican war obligations into three per cent, bonds, to be ultimately paid by the sale of the province of Chibuahua to the United States, and that Mr. Seward approves it.

The Vote. The Senate takes a vote at 4 o'clock this after-noon on the Supplementary Reconstruction bill, and it will undoubtedly pass, either in the shape of the Trumbull substitute or the House bill.

The action of the House yesterday, virtually in favor of a recess until December, is considered a practical defeat of the impeachment not given him, but he was told to return to-day by the train, for the purpose of receiving it. About 3 o'clock he started on his way home, on foct, but when about two miles from Clencob, some person or persons waylaid and shot him through the head, the ball evidently producing instant death.

It is supposed that the murderers knew of his intention to procure the money, and thinking that he had 1 about his person, committed the deed with the view of robbing him. A revolver, which he is known to have carried, was missing when the cody was discovered.

Mr. Littlehauser resided at Ciencob, where he leaves a wife and three children. He was

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

Senate. Washington, March 16.—Mr. Howe (Wis.) pre-sented resolutions from the Wisconsin Legislature, for the improvement of the Mississippi river, and for aid in the construction of the Northern Pacific Rail-rend, which was referred to the Committee on Com-and in the construction of the Northern Pacinc Railrend, which was referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Mr. Sherman (Ohio), from the Committee on Finance, reported a concurrent resolution, that the joint Committee on Retrenchment are instructed to make a careful and minute examination of the methods adopted by the Treasury Department of printing bonds, notes, and securities, what guards have been adopted to protect the interests of the United States, what additional guards are necessary, whether there has been any fraudulent issue of bonds, notes, or coupons, and it so, by whose fault or negligence, and what are the proper remedies; and further,
to examine into the official conduct of those charged with the printing, registration, and issuing of notes, bonds, and securities of the United States; and that the said Committee have power to send for persons and papers, and to examine the same, and take the testim my, and report at the next session of Congress.

Mr. Sherman said the House and Senate that each greed to a separate Special Committees for this purpose, but he thought the investigation could best be made by a Joint Committee like that on Retrenchment. The Treasury Department desired the investigation so as to set at rest the false reports circulated for speculative purposes, regarding the fraudulent lesue of bonds.
