AN OILY CASE, WITH SOME ACCOUNT OF AN ALLEGED PERSURY. - Charles Johnson, who at one time kept a store on the corner of Linden and Green streets, some weeks ago, sold to a person named Barrett about $4000 worth of oil stocks, which he (Johnson) pretended were valuable and very profitable. Mr. Barrett soon, to his sorrow, preferred a charge against Johnson for obtaining money under false pretenses, the stocks having been ascertained to be worthless, but nevertheless looked business-like, and the certificates executed in good style. Johnson, it is alleged, in order to make a compromise, preferred a charge of a larceny of one thermometer against Barrett, stating it to have been taken at the time his store was being sold.

thermometer against Barrett, stating it to have been taken at the time his store was being sold out at auction. This was refuted, and Johnson, about two weeks ago, left for New York.

Last Saturday night, between nine and ten o'clock, Johnson, muffled up in a voluminous cavalry coat, hat shoved down over his face, and all his features with the exception of his optics, well covered by a large handkerenief, was moving up Green street, when Officer Chapman accosted him with some question pertaining to a fire of a brush heap near by, and asked him where he was going, when drawing near to a gas-lamp, Chapman saw through the disguise, and clapping his hand on Johnson's shoulder, quietly yet firmly reminded him that he was his (Chapman's) prisoner. He was taken to the Station House, and this morning Alderman Cloud committed him this morning Alderman Cloud committed him in default of $9500 ball, to answer to the charges preferred, for a further hearing.

A BATCH OF ASSAULTS AND TUSSLES .- Officer Britner, of the Sixteenth District Police, Lieutenant Tolbert, attempted to arrest a man, one somewhat drunk, and for not preserving a peaceful disposition generally in the neighborhood of Thirty-seventh and Binney streets. One of Stack's chums coming up, they both pitched into the officer, deprived him of his club, and beathim severely; but vindicating the truth of the old maxim that "the race is not always with the swift, nor the battle with the strong;" so the officer, with courage, and a healthful exercise of his physical powers, finally mastered Stack, regained his club, de-feated the reinforcement, and brought his prisoner in to the Station House. Stack was this morning committed to answer at a further

—Thomas Quarry was arrested yesterday morning, by Officers McClintock and Street, for disorderly conduct in and about the vicinity of ulberry street and Frankford road. Although he was not of a pugilictic disposition, yet he had a curious faculty of being eel-like in his movements, exceedingly supple, and exercised a penchant of getting between the officers' pedal extremities, tripping them down, and tangling himself up in such a manner as to tangling himself up in such a manner as to almost baffle the progress of the two men of the law, and earning for himself the envisble reputation of being composed mainly of rubber and springs. Nevertheless, the officers by main force brought him before Alderman Holme who committed him to answer.

—Andrew Glass, aged 36, did, with malice prepense, in and through his own domictle, near Mervine and Oxford streets, beat and otherwise maltreat his wife yesterday, for which Alderman Fitch held him to answer in $800 ball.

THE MORGUE.-We are pleased to see that at last the Select Council Committee on Health have pronounced the present Green-house a nuisance, a disgrace to the city, and an unfit receptacle for the dead. We have long advo-cated the erection of a Morgue similar to the one in Paris, where the bodies of persons found dead are conveyed, and a suitable place pro-vided, where relatives and friends can view them and recognize the features of the missing. The present Green-house is about three miles from Third and Chesnut streets, and requires a three hours journey to reach it. This is valuable time lost if the body is not recognized. It is proposed to erect the Mowgue at Thirteenth and Buttonwood streets. This is a central location, and it is accessible from all points, and those who are not able to hire a carriage to contain them. to it can expend seven cents and vey them to it, can expend seven cents and reach it by means of the cars.

The cost of the building is estimated at $5000, and, if permission is granted by Councils, we have no doubt the amount could be raised by private subscriptions; and, if not the whole amount, an appropriation by Councils of the deficit would provide Philadelphia with a desideratum long needed.

The bill authorizing the Commissioner of City

Property to advertise for proposals for creeting the building was postponed for a week. A matter of this importance demands immediate action, and should be put off no longer.

HOME FOR LITTLE WANDERERS .- A grand Home for Little Wanderers.—A grand festival for its aid will be held at the Home, corner of Tenth and Shippen streets, on Thursday evening, the 11th instant. This institution is deserving the liberal patronage of all our citizens. In it are gathered the little waifs of humanity which float through this vast community. It is a home where these little wanderers are drawn in, taken care of, and educated. Then let not one forget the festival which has been inaugurated in its aid. It promises to be a pieasant and successful affair. From the generous, donations are solicited of promises to be a pleasant and successful affair. From the generous, donations are solicited of any kind which will be of use in furthering the object of the festival.

The Board of Managers have called Rev. R. B. Kelsay to the superintendence of the institution, and he is laboring assiduously to bring it to perfection, so that it shall be inferior to none other of its class in the country. Remember, then, the "little wanderers" and the festival on Thursday, the lith instant.

Delightful excursions are now offered our oftizens of sailing up theriver in the afternoon, in this beautiful steamer, and returning before six o'clock. RESUMES HER SECOND TRIPS .- The steamer

LAUNCH.—The yacht Comfort, built for Frederic Keeler, Esq., will be launched at 4 o'clock this afternoon, from foot of Market street, Camden, RECIPROCAL, OR A NOTICE OF A NEGRIBORLY AFFAIR.—Michael Murphy and Catharine bis wife, the one of thirty and the other of twenty-eight years of age, reside in the dwelling No. 1531 Warnock street. There also reside in the same house another man and his spouse. Now Michael on Saturday night became exceedingly excited, as is common when men drink jostenough to keep them from going to sleep. He returned home, and, probably by a mistake, entered the room wherein sat the other man's wife.

She screamed, and he felled her with a blow, and, satisfied, he, descended to his own rooms. Soon the husband of the woman assaulted came thundering into Murphy's room, and then began to rall, etc. etc., when Mrs. Murphy immediately flew at him; then his wife flew at her; then Murphy commenced, and the other man followed suit, and a tussle of some duration, in which all suffered severely, was the cousequence. The two Murphys were arrested; he on a charge of assault, with intent to kill, was committed in $1000 bail; and she was held in $900 bail to answer by Alderman Fitch. $800 ball to answer by Alderman Fitch.

SOMETHING ABOUT $1300 .- Clayton Still is a colored man, and resides on Haines street. He used to work for the North Pennsylvania Railroad. Some time ago he confidentially hinted as to the fact of his finding a portemonnale, ontaining $1300 in bills, at one of the statious of that road, Branchtown by name. One evening he ran up one of the streets of that little place. he ran up one of the streets of that little place, shouting that his cousin intended to murder him for his money, which he said was found in a field. An officer arrested him, the book was found, and when asked the exact place where he found the portemonnale, affirmed there was no truth in the affair; that he simply dropped and picked up his own book. As this was not a satisfactory explanation, Alderman Wood committed him to answer at Court.

Ap FOR THE DESTITUTE SOUTH-ENTERTAIN MENT BY THE PEAK FAMILY BELL-RINGERS.— It is with pleasure that we notice the enterialn-It is with pleasure that we notice the entertainment to be given by the Peak Family Bell Ringers to-morrow evening, at Concert Hall, in aid of the destitute and suffering people of the South. The great merit of this troupe, their enviable reputation as sweet singers and beautiful players, coupled with the noble object which, by this movement, they intend to further, should not fail to draw an overflowing house. Let the people remember to-morrow evening, at Concert Hall.

No License had John Mellon, who is the sole proprietor and general manager of a little grog-gery at the corner of Richmond and Maple streets. No authorized permission had he for dealing out in small quantities Philadelphia lightning and other decoctions capable of de-stroying at forty rods. So when it was asser-tained that he had retailed such articles to minors and others, he was arrested, fined, and held to ball by Alderman Beitler, in default of which requirements he was committed.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF, ending in a severe injury to a little boy, was perpetrated by one John Anderson. It appears that Anderson was driving a cart around the corner of Front and Vine streets, just as a little boy dropped his broom on the cross-walk. There were time and space for Anderson to stop, but, regardless of life or limb, he drove over the little fellow, who had one of his fingers crushed. The offender was held in $500 bail to answer by Alderman Becker, Alderman Becker.

PORTRAIT OF ARTEMUS WARD, -H. E. Tudor, of New York, has published photographic copies of the portrait of Artemus Ward (the late Charles Farrar Browne), with characteristic sketches illustrative of the choicest and most comical subjects of the great American humorist, by his friend, Ed. Mullen, whose pencil is in every way worthy of Artemus' pen. T. B. Pugh, No. 609 Chesnut street, has it for sale.

Malicious Youngsters,-Jacob Becker and Charles Lenox were arrested at Thompson and Front streets, on Sunday morning, by Officer Cox and Bindenstook, for tearing away the railing from before a church in that neighborhood, and otherwise demolishing the fence. Alderman Shoemaker committed each in default of $500 bail to answer.

LARCENY OF AN OVERCOAT .- John Deaton, aged forty-five years, was arrested by Officer Gib-son, at Tenth and South streets, on Saturday night, for having in his possession an overcoat which it is alleged he proceured dishonestly. Alderman Morrow committed him for a further hearing.

A Suspicious Personage is William Simp-ER, for whom the detective force have ooking, alleging his compileity in a bur glary some weeks since, and who was arrested last night by Officer John Bell. He was handed over for a further hearing.

The Russian Treaty. From the N. Y. Tribune.

WASHINGTON, April 7,-It cannot be denied that the chances of the ratification of the Esquimaux Acquisition Treaty, which were ut-terly desperate when it was presented to the Senate, improve daily. Mr. Seward is engi-neering with all his personal influence and the influence of his Department to win the vote of the Senate, and to create a public opinion that shall justify and sustain that vote. He has already procured a spontaneous approval of the treaty from Generals Halleck and Meigs, and from Commodore Rodgers, and employed the machinery of the Associated Press to disseminate them through the country. He ployed the machinery of the Associated Fress to disseminate them through the country. He is known to be stimulating a similar expression of opinion and similar demands for the acquisition of this territory of ice, show, and rock in New York and other large cities. Among the forthcoming letters congratulating the Secretary upon his statesmanlike negotiation, and urging the Senate to approve and adopt it, is said to be an earnest one from Peter Cooper. When put upon the wires to create public opinion, it may be accompanied by others from equally eminent New Yorkers, but the Secretary's stimulus to voluntary approval and spontaneous demand is especially apolied to the residents on the Pacific slope. It is understood here that on Thursday he sent a telegram of nearly 1000 words, at a cost to the Government of 75 cents a word, to persons in California and other States, to work up forthwith a general Western approval of his Russian treaty and a demand for its ratification, and also to furnish him with new facts and treaty and a demand for its ratification, and also to furnish him with new facts and considerations of a commercial, industrial, and military character, to be used in favor of the treaty. In the meantime two machines for the manufacture of influence are kept actively at work here upon the members of the Senate: the first is the Secretary's dinner-parties, the second is the regular Washington Lobby, reinforced by some of the most skilful graduates of Fagin's Albany Institute. It is a strange fact, and a very suggestive one, that graduates of ragin's Alpany Institute. It is parastrange fact, and a very suggestive one, that a class of men who never a touch a public measure in which there is not money are eager for the acquisition of the Russian ice and Esquimaux, and hungry to have seven millions and a haif paid in gold for it—to whom? Mr. Seward's dinner-table is spread regularly with reset treaty belief treaty in bottles. Seward's dinner-table is spread regularly with roast treaty, boiled treaty, treaty in bottles, treaty in decanters, treaty garnished with appointments to office, treaty in statistics, treaty in a military point of view, treaty in a territorial grandeur view, treaty clad in furs, ornamented with walrus-teeth, fringed with timber, and flopping with fish. At these dinners the seven imillions and a half in gold are treated by the Secretary with the light and playful carelessness which has always characterized his expenditure of other people's money. He is in the habit of citing the payment, within the last year, of over two hundred millions of the national debt, to show that this little purchase-money for the ice and Esquimaux would be but a two-penny expenditure that the people wouldn't miss, wouldn't know anything about when they come to pay their taxes. The influence of these Russian treaty dinner parties can be measured from day to day. Senators can be named who were positively against the treaty when it was sent o the Senate, and who now when interrogated half apologetically confess their purpose to vote for it. In aid of them, the manufacture of the evidence that the whole country is in favor of the treaty, is steadily going on in the State Department. It now looks as if the country were going to acquire a national ice-house against its will, and that somebody was going get $7,500,000 in gold of the people's money. kewise against its will. likewise against its will.

LATER.—Since the foregoing was telegraphed the "Esquimaux Ring" gave out that Mr. Seward has finished his canvass of the Senate, and that the treaty will be pushed to a vote on Wednesday next. It has also become known that Russia would at any time for years past have been very glad to get rid of her icy American desert for two millions of roubles, equivalent to four hundred thousand dollars. It likewise leaks out that a sort of reciprocity treaty between Great Britain and Russia covers the territory to be ceded to us; and that if we take the ice, rocks, and Esquimaux, we take them mortgaged with a British right we take them mortgaged with a British right to hunt, trade, and fish over the country and in its water; that we shall get for the fifty millions of roubles we are to pay only the legal title to, and political jurisdiction over, a wilder-ness whose Polar game and fish, constitute its only possible value, which the British Hudson's Bay Company now has an equal right to with the Russians, and will hereafter have an equal right to with us. The unprecedented and suspicious hurry to get this treaty through the Senate, without letting the people see its terms, is now explained. If it was published it would be killed stone dead. Baron Stoeckel's extra-ordinary anxiety to have it confirmed and rati-fied is natural. Promotion, decorations, and a generous share of the price of the worthless region he shall have the art and good luck to sell, surely await his success. Mr. Seward seeks to improve his wretched political position by getting upon an acquisition of territory, utterly valueless though it be, and purchased at a price twenty-five times greater than the sum he could have bought it for. But there are men in the United States Senate who are not willing to take ten millions of dollars out of our overburdened Treasury, to purchase for the Secretary of State the questionable distinction of buying a vast uninhabitable desert with which to cover the thousand mortifications and defeats which have punished the pilotage of Andrew Johnson through his shipwrecked policy of reconstruction. These faithfut Senators can defeat this treaty.

The Application for an Injunction Against the Reconstruction Law-The Movement to be Strenuously Opposed by the Government. From the New York Herald. One of the effects of the Sharkey-Walker movement for the obstruction of the Reconstruction acts is likely to be a revival of the wholesale confiscation schemes favored by redot radicals. The latter regard the injunction wholesale connectator accents tayored by rednot radicals. The latter regard the injunction application as simply a reappearance of the old treason, pro-shavery spirit in a new form, and declare that it must be crushed out immediately or it will ripen into something dangerous to the peace of the republic. They urge that the only true crushing out policy is confiscation, which will effectually and forever "stamp out"

the last vestige of Rebellion. The Chronicie, which is the organ of the Suvens-ChandlerSummer party here, declares that "the Great Commencys" proposed sweeping confiscation cure is not a mere threat, but "a sleeping lion in the path of treason;" and this sentiment is echoed by the ultra extremists. Prominent Southern men here broclaim that Shazicay's movement is not sanctioned by the peofile of these busy, meddling people whose friendship is more disastrous than ten thousand enemics.

They say that, even should the Supreme Court declare the reconstruction laws unconstitutional, the South would be then in a worse condition than now, for it would be further off than ever from getting back into the family of States. Congress would not admit Representatives elected under the auspices of old Rebel State Governments, and worse reconstruction measures would be sure to be re-enacted.

The Probability of a July Session of Congress-Effect of the Late Session on the Connecticut Election.

There is to be a general stampede of Senators after the adjournment of the present extra session of the Senate, without regard or reference to the proposed July session. Even those Senators who live beyond the Rocky Mountains propose to start for their homes at the earliest moment, unless it be in the case of some, as with General Nye, who have just returned to Washington after visiting their constituents. Members of the House are already scarce in Washington, and there is not the slightest expectation in any quarter that there will be anything like a quorum present in July. There are, of course, those who desire it, and who will be on hand; but they will only give themselves a journey for nothing. Certain give themselves a journey for nothing. Certain Republican Senators declare that they have made and shall make no arrangements whatever with a riew to attending the July session, believing that a meeting of Congress at that time would be full of mischief to the country time would be full of mischief to the country and alarm to the people.

It is asserted that the late session was one of the most potent causes of Republican defeat in Connecticut, and that if, when Congress had performed its useful labors, it had had the good sense to have adjourned, there would have been no such result. The people, say such Senators, become apprehensive that Cougress would, from sheer idleness, like some gathering of school boys, perpetrate some mischief; and that these fears but naturally resulted in a popular reaction. One Senator, of the Republican school, remarks thus—"Congress needed a can school, remarks thus:—"Congress needed a rebuke for such folly, and it has come."
