LETTER FROM ST. LOUIS

Business Affairs in the West-The Products and Prospects-Emigration-The Indian War, Etc. EVENING TELEGRAPH SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 18. A man in Philadelphia would naturally suppose, when he is conversant with the fact that most of the meat which he eats comes from the West, that the price of that article at; a piace as far west as St. Louis would be considerably cheaper than at Philadelphia or New York. Such, however, is not the case. Living here is more expensive than in any of the Eastern cities; and if I am to believe what the butchers say, and I have no good reason to doubt them. cattle are more scarce. Why this should be the case I am at a loss to know, although I have had the matter explained to me. I am not, however, satisfied with the explanation,

It is a notorious fact, and one which our com-mon school books teach us, that the country surrounding this city abounds in everything that usually tends to cheapen the food com-monly consumed by mankind. Prairies abound in all directions, which are covered monly consumed abound in all directions, which are covered abound in all directions, which are covered with the most luxuriant grass; it is only for the farmer to turn his stock out, and reap the harvest of their multiplicity. With these advantages at hand, it appears very singular that meat should be sold comparatively dearer here than a thousand miles further from where it is raised; but yet such is the fact. To those is raised; but yet such is the fact. To those who have paid freight over the railroads from this section to any one of the Eastern cities, this will appear still more astonishing, because it is reasonable to suppose that cattle raised within a hundred miles of St. Louis should be sold as cheap or cheaper over the state of the sold as the so sold as cheap, or cheaper, over a thousand miles off than they are at the very doors of the producer.

The prices of living in this city are, to the eyes of a man from the East, the most extravagant, I may call it extortlovate. "A single room, very modestly furnished, in almost any part of the town, will cost from twenty to fifty dollars per month; and to get a meal of limited proportions costs at the least extravel." portions costs, at the least estimate, fifty cents, and everything else in proportion. Flour ranges up among the teens, and wheat and all other grains tetch prices which, to the mind of a man who has merely looked at the situation of St. Louis on the map, and gained his knowlerge of it from the geographies, is truly astonishing. It may be a land of milk and honey, and I have no doubt but that it is. Let this be as it may, those who thirst for the lacteal fluid will find that it must be paid for in good

This "state of the markets" is peculiar to St. Louis, and the reason assigned is, that this city being one of the most important, and no doubt the largest supply depot for the Mississippi Valley, is constantly drained of its breadstuffs and other provender. There is no accumula-tion; everything is bought up as fast as it comes into the market by the merchants doing business in the different cities, and what is left is sold to the home consumers at whatever prices the commission men choose to ask. Another reason is, that the railroad facilities connecting the city with the back country are inadequate to supply the fast demand; hence the prices keep pretty much at a stand still, Contrary to expectations business at present is dull, but notwithstanding this fact the city is filled with strangers. The burning of the Lindell Hotel has caused quite a vacuum in the first-class accommodations for travellers, and its loss is severely feit by the business men of St. Louis. I have understood that there is a movement on foot to rebuild this house, or one like it, which is likely to be successful. It is proposed to erect the new house on Washington avenue, somewhere in the neighborhood of Eleventh or Twelfth street. The "Southern," atthough a smaller hotel than the "Lindell," is doing the leading business, and is one of the finestarranged and best-managed houses, with the exception of the table, in the country. Thousands of emigran's are passing through this country almost daily, and I notice a number of Pennsylvanians among them. They are first-class accommodations for travellers, and ber of Pennsylvanians among them. They are all accompanied by troops of children, and are fitted out with the evident intention of "seek-their fortunes" in the Western wilds.

The Congressional buffalo hunt, which has been advertised to come off at an early day, is exciting considerable attention in this section. The gentlemen will be accompanied part of the way on the Plaius by a large number of troops under the command of Major-General Augur. This expedition is one of the most important that has been started out in the Indian country for some years, and will traverse much of the country heretofore but little trod by the foot of a white man.

Late news from General Hancock's expedition to the Sloux country informs us that the expedition has been successful in finding and giving battle to the Indians. In every case the troops have met with marked success. Considerable trouble, however, is apprehended before the Indians can be brought to terms.

The great land case of Maguire vs. Tyler has just been decided, involving a million of dollars of property in this city. The suits were commenced forty-four years ago, and have passed through a course of law and equity, off and on, from that time to this. This is the final determination of the case. Mr. Justice Holmes delivered the opinion, and it is one of Holmes delivered the opinion, and it is one of eminent ability. The defendants were the original owners by grant from the Spanish Governor, in 1798, and the title is now settled forever by the judgment of the Supreme Court.

Two Love Cases-Blighted Aspirations and CORPORAL INFLICTIONS.—Benjamin Yarnell, a youth of 23 years, fell a victim some time since to the subtle charmer, and for a period kept company with a young lady named Emma Thorne. But it is not pleasant to relate that after a time his affection was not reciprocated Filled with one last hope, and with a deter-mined mien, he proceeded to the house of his fair friend, on Sixth street, near Hallowell. He rapped at the door, encountered the mother, Mrs. Roddis, and without further ado, made known his passion, and inquired whether or not he was to be the happy man, etc. On being informed to the contrary, he grew wroth, and immediately assaulted the mother and described and agreed as a great extent and daughter, damaging each to a great extent, and destroying their garments. His affections gave way to intense hatred, and with his fists he pummelled everybody and everything, until Officer Twiggs arrived, when he ceased. Alderman Lutz committed him to answer in default of the committed him to answer in default

William H. McCoy was also afflicted with an attack of the tender passion, and like wise aspired to claim the hand of one Miss Graham. Some time since McCoy was selling Graham. Some time since McCoy was politely informed that his attentions were no longer informed that his attentions were no longer needed. An interregnum then occurred in which another person took McCoy's place. The latter hearing of this, proceeded yesterday to the residence of Miss Graham, at Fifth and Queen streets. But no sooner was the door opened than it was violently closed in his face. He immediately burst it open, upset everything in his path, and would have committed great hayor, so it was alleged, had not officer Tucker, of Lieutenant Fuller's District, opportunely arrested him. Alderman Lutz committed McCoy in default of $800 bail.

Easter Services at Clinton Street Preserterian Church.—Among the most attractive services on Sunday last were those held in Dr. March's Church. Their very fine choir, one of the best quartettes in this city, had been doubled for the occasion. The opening piece, Lloyd's Easter Anthem, was admirably performed. The bass solo, the fine chorus in unison, and its magnificent organ accompaniments, were all sems in their way. In the Gloria in Excelsis Mrs. Tudor sang with a pathos that went to every heart. The sermon by Dr. March, on the Resurrection, was a masterplece, to which close attention was paid by the crowded audience. The closing choral performance, Proclaim the Tidings, brought out the full talent of the choir. It was an arrangement from Verdi—certainly one of the most beautiful of his compositions. The Clinton Street Church enjoys not only the services of a pastor of the highest order, but of a choir of fine artistic ability. EASTER SERVICES AT CLINTON STREET PRESBY-

Assault and Battery.—Harry Weir was arrested last evening by Officer Woodhonse, at Seventeenth and Coales streets, on a warrant issued by Alderman Hutchinson, for a desperate assault which he committed on an officer about one week ago. This officer was taking a prisoner along when Weir attempted to rescue him, and in the struggle the policeman called upon Mr. Tyson to aid him. This the latter did, but was so besten in the array that he could not move out of the house for four days. Alderman Hutchinson committed Weir to appear at Court in default of $1500 ball. ASSAULT AND BATTERY .- Harry Weir was

St. George's Day—The Pateon Saist of England,—It becomes every faithful subject of her Britannic Majesty, whether he be at home or abroad, to observe the 25d of April with some or abroad, to observe the 23d of April with some degree of formality, inasmuch as it is set spart in the calendar as being sacred to the memory of St. George, of anti-dragon memory, and patron of the realm of England. In the calendars of the Latin and Greek Churches he shares the honors of this day with divers other Saints, but the Saxon martyrology has dedicated it to him alone, and ever since the Conquest his festival has been duly honored by the devoted Britons.

As is the case with many other saints, his worldly career is involved in considerable mystery. According to Butler, the most approved authority on the Catholic Calendar, St. George was of noble Christian parentage, and having entered the army, rose to a high rank therein. But he not the misfortune to live in therein. But he nad the mistertune to live in the evil days of Diocletian; and that blood-thirsty. Christian-hating heathen having shamelessly persecuted the sect of religionists to which St. George belonged, the latter was induced thereby to withdraw from the army that he might, with some show of propriety, upbraid the tyrant for his cruelties. In doing so he made a sad mistake, from a worldly point of view, for it resulted in his losing his wead. In a spiritual sense, however, this was the most In a spiritual sense, however, this was the most fortunate thing that he could have done, as he was, in return, at a subsequent period, raised to the high dignity of salaiship.

We are inclined to discard this theory of his life, since we find no mention of a dragon therein, and the connection of St. George with the Dragon is something that must not be severed. We therefore much prefer to believe that he was born some time during the second century, in Epiphania; that his father was a mere fuller; that he amassed a large fortune by mere fuller, that he amassed a large fortune by unserupulous practices, in supplying the army with bacon; that he was forced to abandon his pative land because of this; that he subsequently made zealous profession of Arianism, and became Archbishop of Alexandria; that he there plundered the the pagan temples, and oppessed Christian and heathen alike with exactions; that he was expelled by a rising of the people, but soon reinstated by force of arms, and a gain cast into prison, and there murdered by the cast into prison, and there murdered by the infuriated populace. This raised him to the dignity of martyrdom in Arlan eyes, and in the course of two or three centuries he came to be considered a saint of the very first rank, and the patron of chivalry and arms. In this last capacity, long after he was dead and buried, he capacity, iong after he was dead and buried, he fought valiantly during the crusade at Antioch and Acre; and tradition likewise has it, that once upon a time he slew a dragon in Lybia, thereby saving a beautiful maiden from a painful doubt.

At different periods he became the patron saint of Sicily, Arragon, Valencia, Genoa, Malta, and other localities, as well as of England, in addition to having numerous knightly orders named in his behalf. In 1344 his festival was made memorable by the creation in Eng-land of the Order of St. George, or the Blue Garter; since when he has continued to grow steadily in favor with the English people. The day is duly observed in this and all other cities where natives of England reside, by banquet-

SOMETHING IMPORTANT!-How TO GET RID OF PROMISSORY NOTES.—A new mode of doing away with notes soon falling due was successfully tried yesterday. Ernest Sheerer, of age 45, and married too, resides at No. 825 Lawrence street. Yesterday he went to Mr. Neppis, and inquired for a promissory note of about $60, which at that time fell due. This was no sooner produced by the gentleman, than Scheerer opened a mouth capacious and fearful to look upon, and at one gulp took down said note for digestion. This was a most marvellous and speedy manner of doing away with papers susceptible of causing dissatisfaction and trouble but the evil consequences were not lessened at all, for Scheerer found himself soon arrested by Officer Senderling, and committed in default of $1000 ball by Alderman To and, to answer at Court. We are astonished at the easy mode of doing away with unjucky obligations, but are not quite satisfied with the consequences.

A SAD CASE .- David Gill, who resides at No. 2223 Filbert street, has contrived to get himself into a very unenviable position. Some time ago, it is alleged that he made great pro-fessions of affection for a very pleasing young lady of his acquaintance, which were fully reciprocated on her part. As the results of their intimacy were about assuming a serious character, the lady waited upon Mr. Gill at his residence, and demanded that he should advance to her sufficient money to support his child. The only response that the poor woman received for this appeal was a serious pounding at the hands of her former lover. In consequence of this a warrant was issued for Gill's arrest, and he was held for a further hearing in the case to-morrow afternoon.

Robbergs .- Some time during last night the pottery establishment of George Sweeney, No. 1834 Ridge avenue, was broken into, and the office robbed of $500 in currency. The bur-giars had a safe time of it, inasmuch as the building is surrounded by a high board ence, with a large space intervening between it and the manufactory.

A tailor store in the same vicinity, owned by Henry Berker, was also the object of an at-tempted burgiary. There were evidences of forcible entrance being tried, as a back door was covered with holes, in one of which a bit was fastened. The burgiars were foiled.

WATCH STEALING .- Samuel McGowan was arrested yesterday afternoon for the larceny of a silver watch and chain from a little boy named Tunison. After the arrest, he informed the officers that he did not intend to steal the watch—oh, no, that was entirely foreign to his honest intentions; he happened to see the little boy (about fifteen years old), and thought he would take charge of the articles, for fear that the little fellow would lose them. Alderman Godbou thought differently, and committed him, accordingly, for a further investigation, in default of $800 bail.

A HUNGRY MAN .- To be without funds is, indeed, a miserable condition of existence, for where shall one rest his head or eat withal if he where shall one reas his dead of eat within it he be without the necessary stamps to pay his way? Francis Hoffman, aged 27 years, was yesterday afternoon in this decidedly unplea-sant condition. Growing very hungry while gazing at the window of a refreshment saloon at Second and Beaverstreets, he could not resist the temptation, and he consequently entered, ordered a meal, which disappeared rapidly, and then made off. He was arrested, and committed by Alderman Shoemaker to answer.

STEALING A BOAT .- James Fisher was arrested last evening, by Officer Myers, of Lieutenant Edgar's Harbor Force, for the supsed larceny of a skiff, about eighteen feet in length. Fisher was found in the boat at the foot of Poplar street wharf, and when arrested would give no account of the ownership of the would give no account to the ownership of the skiff, thereby corroborating the officer's sus-picion. He was committed in default of $500 bail for a further hearing. The skiff awaits an owner at the Harbor Station, Fron. and Noble Suspicion of Homicide.-Ann Develin, aged thirty-four, and Catharine Boyd were arrested yesterday in Spafford street, on suspicion of having caused the death of an old lady, who died yesterday morning at the Pennsylvania Hospital. The former was held as a witness, and the latter to await a further investigation by the Coroner. Since the arrest, a post-mortem examination made upon the body of the deceased at the Hospital, revealed the fact that death was caused by disease of the lungs.

BEER BARREL STAMP,-William Love went out to a little "beer barty" last night, in the vicinity of Frankford road and Adams street. While there, he knowing the value of the beer stamp required by the Revenue Department on all beer barrels, appropriated to his individual self such articles from the barrels themselves belonging to his friend, the proprietor of the sauer wein establishment. This morning, about 4 o'clock, he was arrested, and committed by Alderman Cloud in default of $500 bail.

An Alleged Thirp.-James Keenan was AN ALLEGED THEEP.—James Keenah was afrested this morning at an early hour, in the yard of a dwelling at Brown and Jefferson streets. He had in his possession a large canvas bag containing several pleases of valuable carpeting, articles of clothing, and a pair of painter's overhauls, just completed. These articles swart identification at the Twelfth District Station House, Just compared, Ecoby. Keetrict Station House, Lieutenant Jacoby. Kee-nan was committed by Aiderman Fitch, in de-fault of $600 bail.

Accident.—About 9 o'clock this morning Timothy Simons and Thomas St. John, the former residing at Tenth and Cherry and the latter at Second and Washington streets, were severely injured by an embankment giving away and falling upon them. They were removed to their homes.

MERTING OF THE PENNSYLVANIA BRANCH OF THE FREEDMEN'S COMMISSION OF THE PROFESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH -The state TRETANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH—The stated meeting of this body was neld in the lecture-room of St. Luke's Church, Thirteenth street, below Spruce, at 12 M. to-day, Rev. Dr. Haight, of New Yors, in the chair. He opened the meeting with prayer.

The acting Secretary, Rev. Dr. Moore, then read the minutes of the last meeting, which ere approved The report of the Finance Committee was read, oy which it appears that 507768 was received from various sources. The report of the Treasurer was read. The amount of cash on hand is $977756

The report of the Committee on Supplies shows that various articles, valued at $731, were received, and 17 boxes and barrels of clothing. coks, e.c., were sent to different points in the

Mrs. James then gave an account of her visit to the Freedmen's schools in the South. She visited Norfolk, Petersburg, and Richmond. The schools in Norfolk were held in five rooms, and the pupils numbered three hundred. On Friday they were all assembled in one room and examined as to the progress they had made during the week. She visited the primary schools first, and the children repeated the Lord's prayer and the commandments, and when questioned upon the latter, answered all questions immediately. They had only been studying arithmetic a short time, and the teacher remarked that they were slower to accurre the art of numbers than any slower to acquire the art of numbers than any other. This she attributed to the want of pre-vious instruction. When the present teacher (Miss Smith) took charge of this school, it only numbered ninety pupils. The rod had been used. She abolished it, and the school has advanced to its present number; and by adopting a system of rewards, the scholars are inclied to make energetic efforts to acquire knowledge. drs. James then read a number of letters from he children. One, from a little girl, we give

Nonroux, Va., March 26, 1867.—My Dear, Dear Friends:—This letter is from a little girl, ten years of ege, I know that the generous ladies wont expect much of so smail a child. But I will endeavor to say something. I am very glad that God has put it in the minds of the people of the North not to forget us, because the southern People cast us off. When we were slaves they could sell us, but after we became free, and they could not get our labors, they called us eld negroes, and said that we could not learn as their children, we ware too much like monkeys; but since the gond teachers of the North came here and opened school, the southern people have found out that we are not monkeys, and can learn as well as the whites. I thank God for all these blessing; and hope that He will bless all our Dear teachers. Goodby! Yours truly, MARY A. BAKER. She distributed a number of books to the children which they received gratefully.

Some fiften years ago a lady named Douglas and her daughter attempted to teach school in Norfolk, but they were arrested and impri-soned. Now there are about thirty teachers and are not molested, but they are not respected as they should be.
She then gave a detailed account of her visits

Rev. Dr. Haight made an address, in which he urged the Commission to earry on the good work, and God would bless them and make their efforts to educate the freedmen successful.

AN ALLEGED PERJURY .- Mrs. Julia McLaugh An Alleged Perjury.—Mrs. Julia McLaughlin was arrested some days since on a charge of perjury. It appears in evidence that, on the 27th of February, 1864, she took an eath that she was the wife of one John McLaughlin, and a mother; and on such affidavit she was allowed the Government pension. It has been since ascertained that she swore falsely; the facts to which she gave oath appearing, on examination, to the contrary. Patrick Boyle and John Dougherty were arrested for being vouchers for Mrs. McLaughlin. Noon to-day was set for an examination before Commissioner Sergeaut. examination before Commissioner Sergeant but the parties not appearing, it was held over until Friday week at 12 o'clock.

NOTARY PUBLIC APPOINTED .- We notice that Daniel B. Hill has been appointed by Governor Geary as Notary Public for the city and county of Philadelphia—appointed under the recent law creating six additional Notaries Public. This is a good selection, and one that we think will give general satisfaction.

FIRE.-A two-story frame mill, on Armat street, Germantown, used for the manufac-turing of hosiery, owned by Olive Appleton, and occupied by James Brown, was totally des-troyed by fire about twelve o'clock last night. The loss on stock and machinery is large, but is fully covered by insurance, CRUBLTY TO ANIMALS .- James Mooney was cruelly beating a horse which was putting forth all its efforts to pull a wagon out of a rut at Camack and Sixth streets. Alderman Fitch committed him to answer in default of $700 bail.

A. S. Robinson's First Large Sale of Mantel, Pier, and Oval Mirrors, —This grand sale of importations, and mirrors of home manufacture, by Mr. A. S. Robinson, the well-known dealer in elegant parlor and household furniture, and beautiful works of art, will take place on Thursday morning, commencing at 10 o'clock, at the Art Gallery of B. Scott, Jr. at 10 o'clock, at the Art Gallery of B. Scott, Jr. This Art Gallery has been and now is the prominent centre visited by our citizens who are desirous of obtaining articles of vertu, specimens of art, or articles of household necessity; and the announcement of this great public due of elegant mirrors should be practically vendue of elegant mirrors should be practically appreciated by all who are in want of such manner of furniture. We do not hesitate to say that this sale will surpass anything of its kind in the past, and that it will not fall to cause a large gathering and excits competition. The stock comprises one hundred mirrors of the finest workmanship. The glass of which they are composed is not of the ordinary quality which so often is paimed off, when of large dimensions and surrounded by showy large dimensions and surrounded by showy framings. But it is of the finest of French manufacture—thick, white, and beautifully transparent. Its surface is not marred by any of the flecks or little knots which are met with so often in the common productions, as it goes through the most delicate and careful mani-pulation in the hands of skilled workmen, who soon produce a sheet of plate glass having the amouthest possible exterior. This glass, too, is smoothest possible extent. In glass, 500, is the only kind fit for a superior grade of mirrors, as it receives the rays of light in such a manner as to impart a softness to the reflection of an object, which does not appear distorted by flaws in the surface of the reflector. Purchasers should look also at these torted by flaws in the surface of the reflector. Purchasers should look also at these articles in an economical point of view. It is far better to buy one large mirror of heavy plate glass, that cannot easily be demolished, than to purchase articles of commen window glass, washed with a poor preparation of mercury, and so brittle that the least tap will almost shatter them. This fine selection of clegant household reflectors reflect great praise upon the person making the assortment, as they are of every possible size, of artistic and unique designs, and surrounded by frames that are not to be surpassed. There are pier mirrors, with arched tops, and ornamented gilt frames, varying in dimensions from the common proportions to 150x60. There are marble-topped pier tables to match, embellished with rosewood designs, and beautified with golden edges. There are frames, oval in shape, and square, and arched, manufactured from rich walnut and richer rosewood. Their designs are indescribable, being the finest that skill can produce. Mirrors there are to ornamenta mantel, and of dimensions to give an imposing appearance to one side of any parlor. We again repeat that there should not be a failure, on the part of those who intend purchasing, in attending this great sale of Mr. A. S. Funeral of Bishop Timon.

BUFFALO, April 23 .- The funeral cortege of the late Bishop Timon, to-day, was grand and imposing. A procession, numbering by thou-sands, and consisting of bishops, ctergy, and various societies, passed through the principal streets to the Roman Catholic Cathedral, where the grand requiem mass was celebrated for the repose of the soul of their beloved and deeply amented bishop. The choir consisted of one hundred performers, and the music was most solemn and touching. Bishop Kendrick, of St. Louis, preached the funeral sermon.

Thousands of citizens lined the streets through which the procession passed.

The New York Election.

NEW YORK, April 23 .- The elections are pro cerding quietly, and seem to excite but a very languid interest. Judging by the returns from the various polling places up to the present the whole number of votes polled will not ex ceed fity thousand.

About two hundred liquor dealers were arrested this morning for violating the law in having their places open on election day The oftenders were held for trial in $200 bonds. Floods in Canada.

THREE RIVERS, C. E., April 23,-The ice in the river bere moved last night, but is again sta-The water has risen to a great height, and the lower portion of the town is completely inundated. The poor people are housed in the Town Hall. The village of Berthier is also inundated, and the water is still rising. Much distress and alarm prevail. QUEBEC, April 23 .- The first vessel from the sea this season passed Fartner Point yesterday. She is believed to be the Gleneffer. The ice bridge opposite this city is still firm, and if it does not move soon, an attempt will be made to blow it up with gunpowder.

Freshets in the West.

Sr. Louis, April 23.—The latest accounts from Platte river say that the treshet had reached its beight, and the river was slowly eceding. No fear of further damage to the Pacific Railroad is entertained, and the recent damage can be speedily repaired. The worst break is near Elkhorn station, where four hundred yards of the track is washed away. road between Omaha and Chicago is badly damaged, and the water is still rising.

The Indian War.

Sr. Louis, April 23 .- A train loaded with Government freight was recently attacked by In-dians near Fort Mitchell, Dakotah, and one hundred and twenty mutes were driven off, and the wagon left standing in the road.
