THE MAGILTON HORROR-FUNERAL OF MRS. DORCAS MAGILTON-IMPRESSIVE SCENES, ETC. -This morning, at 11 o'clock, the remains of Mrs. Doreas Magliton, the victim of the late murder, were consigned to the tomb. The corpse was laid out in a white merino shroud, trimmed with white, quilted silk, bound at the waist with white cord and tassels. The arms were laid at full length upon the body, and in the right hand was placed a beautiful white rose, at the throat was a bunch of small flowers, rose, at the throat was a bunch of small flowers, and a wreath at the feet.

The coffin was covered with black cloth, beautifully lined with white satin; on the sides of the coffin were six silver handles, and the edges ornamented with silver screws. The top was fastened down with screws of similar make. On the cover was a plain silver snield bearing the following a scription:—

"Doicas Magilton, died April 25, 1867, aged 62 years."

The face of the deceased looked very natural The face of the deceased looked very natural, resembling one taking her natural repose, and not the long sleep of death. Three of the blows of the assassin were plainly visible, the hair, though low, being unable to hide them from view. One was in the centre of the forehead. over an inch in length, extending to the roots of the hair; another to the right, somewhat shorter; the third, on the left side of the head, almost touching the corner of the eye, passing over the temple, some two and a half inches in length, presenting a very ragged appearance.

At seven o'clock the door was thrown open to At seven o'clock the door was thrown open to allow the public to behold, for the last time, all that remained of the late Mrs. Magilton. The street was densely crowded with people of all ages, colors, and classes; but the greatest ordin was maintained, and all confusion avoided, for which great credit is due to the officers of the police force.
From the hour the public were admitted till ten o'clock, when the door was closed, a constant stream was pouring in, but hun-dreds were unable to gain admittance. The doors being closed, the Rev. Mr. Peters, of the Third Baptist Church, of this city, delivered the funeral address. He spoke of the deceased in the warmest terms, recounting several acts of charily unknown to her friends and relatives. Having known her for years, he could freely say she was a good wife, mother, friend, and a good Christian. He then addressed himself to the bereaved family in words of consolation and comfort, after which he delivered a prayer, and the list of the coffin substitute of the reference. the lid of the coffin shut forever from mortal eyes the form of a beloved wife, mother, and

On leaving the house, the street was found to be crowded to such an extent that the officers were required to press back the dense mass. The hearse, followed by carriages containing the mourners, and by an immense crowd, pro-ceeded to the Philanthropic Burying Ground below the Prison, where the corpse was inter-red with the rites of the Baptist Church, of which Mrs. Magliton was a member. THE GETTYSBURG ASYLUM. - Subscriptions falling to realize the sum needed to erect an asylum for the "children of the people"—the wounded veterans of the late war—it has been decided by the Board of Managers of the Gettysburg Asylum to make a gift distribution of diamonds and valuables in return for subscrip-tions. By advertisement elsewhere it will be seen that Colonel J. D. Hoffman, the Secretary of the Gettysburg Asylum, has arranged a scheme, which has been adopted, that will offer great advantages to subscribers. In addition, to this, it will be the duty of every man, woman, and child in this State to subscribe to the extent of their surplus State to subscribe to the extent of their surplus means, to air in building this great institution, which Pennsylvania and the United States should alike be proud to foster. The scheme and the institution are recommended by a score or more of our most distinguished Generals, and we hope that our friends will come out en masse and subscribe to the fund, and secure a chance in the magnificent distribution of FRACAS IN CAMDEN .- Notwithstanding the stringent law in regard to selling liquor on Sunday, there are some who will sell it in spite of everything. Yesterday atternoon a party of men, baying imbibed too freely, got into an and Market streets, and indulged in the use of their fists, to the detriment of sundry eyes and noses. Upon the approach of the officers they all skedaddled, but were pursued as far as Front and Elm streets, where one of the officers, who and Elm streets, where one of the officers, who grappled w th one of them, had his pistol taken from him. The City Marshal then came up and moved towards a man named Pat Callahan, to arrest him, when he discharged his pistol at him. The ball missed the Marshal, but came near striking a bystander. Callahan then attempted to shoot again, but the cap snapped. He then ran through the door of a house, into the yard, and into an outhouse, where he was captured. John Toby, another of the party, was secured. They were both locked up, and will have a hearing to-day.

STRALING COAL,-Jeremiah Curtin, a lad STEALING COAL.—Jeremiah Curtin, a lad, was arrested on Saturday last for stealing coal from the North Pennsylvania Railroad depot. On an examination before Alderman Neil, it was ascertained that a woman named Caroline Riegraff was in the habit of buying this stolen coal from the boy, at the rate of two glasses of lager per bucket. Caroline was arrested on a charge of knowingly receiving stolen goods, and was committed to answer in default of $500 ball.

The boy was held in $300 ball.

We would find, should we fully investigate many of the petty larcenies committed, circumstances implicating more strongly the receivers of stolen goods than the thieves themselves. A large number of the cases which come up are for thefts of articles of no value whatever perfor theris of articles of no value whatever per-sonally, but committed by the instigation and influence of other and older persons, who re-ceive the goods with profit to themselves at little cost. Where such cases as in the one above appear, the receiver should be dealt with in the most stringent and summary manner.

OUTRAGEOUS CASE .- Professor Johnson, a colored man, intelligent and respectable, who is blind, was coming from Woodstown, on the West Jersey Railroad train, last Saturday. When near Camden, Jackson Bryant, the conductor, demanded of Johnson a full-fare ticket for the half-grown lad who goes with him as a guide. Johnson remonstrated, and said the boy had travelled in the morning train for halffare without objection, and that this was a through ticket. Bryant, the conductor, did not wait for or give any explanation, but seized the boy and threw him with violence on the platform, the train going at the rate of ten or twelve miles an heur. It is needless to say the boy's only offense was being black. The affair was denounced on the spot by all who witnessed it, as a needless outrage. Mr. Bryant was held to bail by E. J. Toram, Justice of the Peace, in the sum of $300, to answer for the assault and battery on the colored boy. tery on the colored boy.

THE WEATHER. — Old Boreas has been making great endeavors to penetrate our atmosphere, and has succeeded to some extent; for he has sent cold winds and chiliy air, and wintry rains, which his agency has produced. How they bluster and fly in our faces, and down the neck, and up the sleeves, making all persons more or less uneasy, and putting them into choleric disposition! April showers are proverbial for having this effect; for they suddenly dampen the merry spirits which gleams of April sunlight and soft spring air produce. The cold air of yesterday afternoon, its clouds of leaden hue—prognostics of the approach of rain—culminated last night in a drizzling, cold shower, which runs into to-day, bringing with it considerable disagreeableness, and no signs are seen to hope for sunshine yet awhile, THE WEATHER. - Old Boreas has been are seen to hope for sunshine yet awhile,

An Assault.-Charles J. Wolfe, yesterday. in the neighborhood of Fifteenth and Callow-hill streets, derived much joy from frequent tipplings at a neighboring bar, where lightning liquids, spiritual decoctions, and volatile fluids were dealt out at retail. It is said that while rolling about, and surging to and fro, he ran foul of an individual by the name of Winnemore. Believing that he was assaulted, he deliberately drew a long, savage-looking knife, which had seen three years' service during the which had seen three years' service during the late war, and proceeded to slash about him in a most excited and unwarranted manner. He was arrested, and Alderman Massey committed him, in default of $800 bail, to appear at Court, ALLEGED PERJURY .- Officer Pisher arrested Sarah Fell, aged twenty-five, at No. 835 North Third street, on a charge alleging a committat of perjory—swearing a little the wrong way. Alderman Toland committed her for a further hearing, in default of $800 ball.

ALLEGED ILLICIT TRANSACTIONS IN LIQUORS .-ALLEGED ILLICIT TRANSACTIONS IN LIQUORS.— This morning Messrs, Samuel Macky, Robert H. Beattle, and James Hay, doing a wholesale commission business at No. 25 South Water, street, were before United States Commissioner Smith on the charge, as specified in the war-rant, of "neglecting and refusing to keep a record, and enter daily in a book kept for the purpose, under the rules and regulations pre-scribed by the Commissioner of Internal Reve-nue, the number of proof-gallons purchased or received, of whom purchased and received, and the number of proof-gallons sold or delivered by them."

Mr. John W. Frazier, Assessor of Internal Revenue of the First District, testified that he had been informed by the Inspectors that the defendants had been selling liquor for less than the tax; the witness required the books of the firm to be produced before him, which was done on the 20th instant; the invoice-book, on page 4, shows 211 gallons at $1.50 per gallon; there are several entries, showing purchases at less than the amount of the tax; they were short, from May 1, 1865, to May 1, 1865, $90 on the license tax; it appears from their books that they made sales amounting to $92,000, on which no license tax; are paid. to license lax was paid.

On cross-examination, Mr. Frazier testified that he had no other source of information on the last point than that of the books of the firm. In May, 1865, they paid a license of $965 for the following year, according to the then provisions of the law, which based the tax for the provisions of the law, which based the tax for the year on the sales of the previous year.

for the year on the sales of the previous year.

Mr. J. O. Tobias, a revenue inspector, testified that he visited the place in question on the 17th of April, in company with Mr. Woolf, another inspector. After some little time and trouble, their wholesale dealers' book, required by law, was produced; but the license could not be found. In this book, under the head of "proof-galions received," there were no entries whatever at the time. When the books were subsequently produced before the Assessor, there were about thirty or forty entries under this head, of date previous to April 17. The witness found, also, on examining the 17. The witness found, also, on examining the records, that the firm had no wholesale liquor dealers' license for the year 1868-7, although they had a wholesale dealers' license for that they had a wholesale dealers' license for that year, and a wholesale liquor dealers' license for the previous year. On examining the invoice book, when produced before the Assessor, he discovered that, since the passage of the act imposing penalties for selling whisky at less than the Government tax, they had purchased large quantities, about 10,000 gallons, at $1.50 and $1.25 per sellor.

The cross-examination showed that the firm The cross-examination showed that the firm were in the commission business, and had a bonded warehouse. The books showed that the number of packages of proof-liquor received was entered, although the number of gallons was not. The last entry in the invoice book of a purchase below $2 per gallon, was on March 30, at $1.30. This liquor was at the time in bond; it may be that this was the case with all other similar entries, but the witness believed that such was not the case, from the contraction of those with whom they dealt. The reputation of those with whom they dealt. The witness had not been treated courteously by the parties, and confessed to having worked up the ase with considerable earnestness on that ac-ount. The parties had never before been involved in any illicit transactions,

On redirect examination, the witness ex-plained that he did not mean to say that there vas a complete entry of packages received. On further cross-examination, the witness testified that he was not positive as to whether they absolutely refused him access to their books at first.

The counsel for the detense here submitted several books in alleged proof that the acts of Congress had been substantially compiled with. They also requested that all the books in the case might be restored to the firm-pending the investigation; but the District Attorney sug-gested that others could be procured at a small expense.

Mr. Henry L. Woolf, the Revenue Inspector Mr. Henry L. Woolf, the Revenue Inspector referred to by Mr. Tobias, testified to some facts substantially as above given.

The hearing was then postponed until 12 o'clock next Saturday, in order that an examination of the books might be made, and a number of witnesses subponaed.

OUT FOR GAME .- One John Phillips was filled with the idea that fowling was a most pleasurable practice. It appeared to him last night to be the great source of all joy and con-tentment. It seems that he indulged in it, for at a late hour last evening, an officer in the Third District discovered a large bag sus-plement making its way along and concealing the Third District discovered a large bag sus-piciously making its way along, and concealing an animated body. Suddenly this body ran against a small portion of locust wood, gave way, and, falling to the ground, revealed to the gaze of an officer John Phillips. The contents of the hag were investigated, when were brought to light two inanimate roosters, and three other defunct fowls. For this foul play, in the appro-priation of these fowls, Philips was committed by Alderman Butler to answer. by Alderman Butler to answer.

Evil Conduct.—Charles Stewart was arrested yesterday for engaging in a transaction which does not reflect great credit upon him. He resides at No. 1539 Pearl street. It is alleged that, in some domestic difficulty, he got angry with his wife, and decidedly mad towards his paterfamilias. In order to satisfy his craving spirit, he proceeded to beat both in a manner indescribable, until wife and paterfamilias had to seek reinge without doors. He was arrested at Fifteenth and Vine streets, and was committed by Alderman Massey in default of $500 bail, on each of two charges of assault. Evil Conduct.-Charles Stewart was ar

STOLE A HORSE AND WAGON .- A young man came into this city last night from Delaware county, to see some friends. He stopped his horse before the house, on Second'street, at the hour of 8 o'clock P. M. He went in, eugaged in conversation of short duration, came out, and found the horse and wagon missing. Informa-tion was given Lieutenant Goldey, of the Third District, and one Henry Kirby was arrested soon after at Front and Walnut streets with the team in his possession. Alderman Butler committed him for a further hearing.

EXONERATED.—Some time ago we reported a case of an alleged larceny of a watch, by one Charles A. Mintzer, Jr., from Charles A. Mintzer, Sr., and the arrest and committal of the former. We are pleased to say that in the charge there was no foundation; as, by an in-vestigation made by Alderman Fitch, it ap-peared that Mintzer the younger had taken the watch and chain at the word of his mother, the watch and chain at the word of his mother, the property belonging to her. Under these circumstances, the Alderman exonerated Mr. Mintzer, Jr., from all blame or evil intent, and discharged him on the 26th instant.

Pennsylvania Railroad.—By a reference to the advertisement of the Pennsylvania Raifroad Company, in another column, it will be seen that the running time of their trains was aftered on Sunday, April 28. As important changes have been made, travellers will do well to examine the figures before starting for the depot.

THE QUICKEST PASSAGE PROM BOSTON.-The quick est passage from Boston to this port has just been made by the steamship Roman, Captain Baker, which left Boston at 3:35 P. M. on Saturday, and arrived at this port at 7:15 this morning, making the run in thirty-nine hours fortytwo minutes, the shortest time on record.

Corner Loungers were somewhat lessened in the vicinity of the Fifth District and at Frankford. Lieutenant Connelly, of the former, placed in duress 14, while Lieutenant Street, of the latter, arrested 12.

DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.-From the reports of the dealers in this city, we think no proprietary medicine has had a larger sale. Its valuable properties as a speedy cure for pain cannot fail to be generally appreciated, and no family should be without it, in case of accident or sudden attack of dysentery, diarrhosa, cholera-morbus; and even Asiatic cholera yields to its magic power,-Montreal Transcript.

The trial of Rodgers in the United States Court for embezzling in the Mechanics' Bank, has been postponed until to-morrow.

Judge Giles refused the petition for a new trial against General Wool, at the suit of Thomas S Pice.

It is raining and cold, [SECOND DESPATCH.]

BALTIMORE, April 29—Samuel H. Wentz, book keeper of the Mechanics' National Bank, charged with the robbery of the bank to the amount of over $200,000 at various times, plead guilty through his counsel in the United States District Court this morning. He said he had an uncontrollable monomania for dealing in stocks and gold and general speculation, and love of money and hone of state impelled him to love of money and hope of gain impelled him to-err. Under all the circumstances, therefore, he threw himself upon the Court's mercy. His sentence was postponed by Judge Gites until after Rogers' trial.

MEDICAL ELECTRICITY.

Latest and Most Important Discoveries in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases. DR. S. W. BECKWITH'S ELECTRICAL INSTITUTE.

No. 1220 WALNUT Street. During our investigations in the treatment of disease in its various forms by the agency of electricity. we have obtained very many valuable and startling facts, which, added to the previous though limited information possessed by other and less fortunate operators, place us beyond all previous knowledge of this mysterious agent. During the course of our prachave treated and cured, through the knowledge thus gained, many thousands, and by means of our new discoveries have established ourselves as the most successful Medical Electricians in this country Electrical investigation has proved that the human body acts on the principle of the galvanic battery. The brain, mucous and serous membranes, the skin tissues, and fluids, constitute the negative and posttive lorces, and every action, whether mental or physical, is the result of these antagonistic forces. Digestion, respiration, circulation, secretion, and excretion are due solely to electrical influence. There is a polar action established throughout the nervous system which connects with every part of the body, establishng and preserving a proper balance of the electrical element which constitutes health, and a disturbance of which causes disease. There are strictly but two conditions of disease—one of inflammation or positive; the other, weak, debilitated, negative—and as electricity contains these two conditions in the action of the positive and negative currents, all we have to do is to neutralize the disease and restore proper healthy action.

Among the chronic diseases in which electricity has been and is daily being, by our agency, of the greatest utility, a cure being rapidly effected after the failure of all other means, are:

1. Epilepsy, Chorea, or St. Vitus' Dance, Paralysis (Hemplegia), Neurasigia, Hysteria, Nervousness, Palpitation of the Heart, Locklaw, etc.

2. Sore Throat, Dyspepsia, Diarrhosa, Dysentery, Obstinate Constipation, Hemorrhoids, or Biles, Billious, Flabulent, and Painter's Colic, and all affections of the Laver and Spieen.

3. Catarrh, Cough, influenza, Anthma when not caused by organic diseases of the heart), Broachitis, Pleurisy, Pleurodynia, or Rheumatism of the Chest, Consumption in the early stages.

4. Gravel, Diabetes, and Kidney Complaints, Sheumatism, Gout, Lumbago, Stiff Neck, nal Curvature, Hip Diseases, Cancers, Tumors (those last named always cured without pain, or plasters in any form),

6. Uterus Complaints, involving a mal-position, a tive; the other, weak, debilitated, negative-and as

4. Gravel, Diabetes, and Kidney Complaints.
5. Rheumatism, Gout, Lumbago, Still Neck. nal Curvature, Hip Diseases, Cancers. Tumors (those last named always cured without pain, or plasters in any form).

6. Uterus Complaints, involving a mal-position, a Prolapsus, Antroversion, Retroversion, Infiammation, Uteration, and various other affections.

For information desired upon other diseases, application may be made at the office, or by letter.

Mrs. BECK WITH has entire charge of the Ladles' begartment, and all delicacy will be used towards those who entrust themselves to her care. In female diseases, it is universally successful in her hands.

For the convenience of those desiring information, we give (by permission) a few names of persons, among the best business men and others of this city and elsewhere, whom we have treated and cured—
