PRIENDSHIP.

BY THEODORE THEOR. O frue and noble friend!—too far away, (Thou on the prairie, I beside the sea)— The spring, that should be here, makes long delay, And not a flower is open to the bee. Meanwhile, from thee, the west wind comes to may, Thy feet are walking where the fields are fair,

And nests are in the boughs that late were Thou bast the early season, I the late,

For thee, the blossoms of the orchard blow; On me, the sea-gulis and the fog-wreaths wait. Thus nature, with the fickleness of fate, Deals out her favors with unequal hand.
But be her temper gentle or unkind,
Her changes cannot change the equal mind.
Can leagues that lie between us loose the band
By which, though pains unclasp, yet hearts do

Cling?

I ask myself if we who, months ago.

Through frosty days, and in a frozen land,
Built up a friendship on the winter's snow,
Shall see it melt and vanish in the spring? False friendship was it, if it perish so.
True friendship is an everlasting thing.
There runs a record that not only saith,
He "loved his own," out "loved them to the end."

So evermore a man shall love his friend, With friendship that outliveth life and death:

THE WOMEN'S UNION MISSION MEETING .- A public meeting of the Philadelphia branch of public meeting of the Philadelphia branch of the Women's Union Missionary Society was held last evening, at the Church of the Epiphany, Fifteenth and Chesnut streets. Rev. Dr. New-ton, Rector of the church, presided, and opened the meeting by reading from the Scriptures and singing, in which all the congregation engaged.

He made introductory remarks respecting the object to be attained by the organization, stating that there were three hundred millions in India, who were out of the reach of religious influences. The aim of the managers was to reach this mass of persons, as far as possible, through the Bible readers who are employed by this organization.

In the city of Calcutta they have been led to establish an "American Home," where five missionaries now reside, two of them having been recently admitted into the ranks.

These ladies are superintending twenty-two native teachers, or Bible-readers, who labor with them in one hundred and three zanamas and ten day schools for girls, in the city of Calcutta, with its adjacent villages. Owing to the social custom which requires the uaried ramifi-cations of a family to reside under one roof, the poor women who are reached by the efforts of the managers number many nundreds. During the evening, addresses were made by Rev. Drs. Scudder, Boardman, and Nadal.

THE NEW MERCANTILE LIBRARY BUILDING .-At the Mercantile Library a large meeting of stockholders was held last evening, to consider the late purchase of the Franklin Market House, for the new library building. Mr. Frederick Fraley was called to the chair, and Mr. John G. Gardiner acted as Secretary.

Estimates of capable architects were read, showing that alterations of the front and elegant turnishings of the interior would cost from $100,000 to $130,000 additional.

The ground floor contains, on either side of The ground floor contains, on either side of the hall, 20 feet wide by 45 long, a conversation room, each 30 feet by 45 feet. The back hall, containing a grand stairway on each side, 25 feet by 40, leads to the main library room, a grand apartment 80 by 125, and 40 feet high, having eight alcoves radiating from a central

In the rear are ladies' and gentlemen's reading rooms, each 324 by 70 feet, separated by a 15 feet hall which leads to a newspaper room 60 by 80 feet. From the library back the building is but one story in height.
On the second floor is a great chess room, to the north, 43 by 56 feet, and a directors' and committees froms, with spacious halls.

The third floor will be used for working rooms, be an ornament to the city, and constitute one of the finest library buildings in the world.

A SAD ACCIDENT .- A man named Kugler, living in Belgrade street, near Vienna, in Eighteenth Ward, met with a serious accident on Monday afternoon. It appears that he was engaged in cutting some rope which had been tied round a bundle of hides, and while so doing his foot slipped and he tell to the floor, striking the blade of his knife. The instrument penetrated his right lung, injuring him so badly that his recovery is considered doubtful.

THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD MEETING .-The announcement of the vote yesterday afternoon, as given to The Evening Telegraph by the tellers, was wrong the negative vote having been underrated. The following is announced as the correct vote:—In favor of the adoption of the resolutions, 127,630 shares, representing $6,381,500, and against their adoption 2319 shares, representing $115,950.

SUICIDE .- A man named Hugh Dougherty, occupying a portion of the house at No. 10 Gothic street, committed suicide yesterday by taking laudanum. The deceased had been warned to leave the house, and it is supposed that this caused him to commit the deed. He leaves a wife and several children. The Coro-ner was notified to hold an inquest.

OBITUARY.—Joseph Bickley, for many years bell-ringer in the State House steeple, died yesterday afternoon, from consumption, in his apartments beneath the bell. It is understood that until his remains are interred, in the event of fire, the bell shall not be rung.

PROVED FATAL.-Robert Shultz, who was received into the Pennsylvania Hospital on the 7th of April with a stab in the back, which was inflicted with a knife in the hand of a mail during a quarrel on Fitzwater street, below Seventh, died yesterday.

Official information has been received at the Treasury Department, that from the lat of May, 1886, a green light on the Old North pier, St. Heller's harbor, will be discontinued and two harbor lights substituted. The two lights will be green lights—one, the outer, placed on the western angle of Albert pier, the other on the Espianade parapet—and bearing from each other NE. & N. and SW. & S., distant 633 yards.

Directions,—The laner light will not be visible to vessels approaching the harbor from the eastward at low water until it comes on a bearing NE. \(\frac{1}{2} \) N.

The two lights in a line will lead midday between Hinguette and Grune St. Michael, but over a sunken rook which lies at a distance of two and one-half cables ontaide the high head of Hinguette, and over which there is only seven test water at low water springs; it also leads between the Oyater rocks and Dogs' nest and midway between the Clockes rocks, clear of all danger.

All bearings are magnetic. Variation 2050 W. in 1867.
