that she was a more frequent visitor there than ever, and was boasting among her friends that, in spite of General Taker's Interfarence, she was still a welcome guest of the President, I could not think this possible. Fo, in order to bring the controversy between the President and my-self to an issue, I directed as officer to ascertain whether this was true, and learned that she was a constant visitor. Still thinking the Le Board then adjourned. whether this was true, and learned that she was a constant visitor. Still thinking the President could not be assare of her visits, on the 16th of November I stationed a detective police officer at the front entrance with instructions to prevent Mrs. Cobb's entering. About 11 o'clock, as usual, she pre-rented hersett, and was teld that she could not go in. She asked the officer by whose order he was acting, and he replied, "By order of Gene-ral Baker." Mrs. Cobb replied: "Well, I will see the President to the house, entered the kitchen, went up to the President's private estate, viz. kitchen, went up to the President's private room, and told hum that General Baker had room, and told hum that General Baker had stationed a detective as the door to prevent her seeing hum. The Precident sent for the detec-tive, and said: "Sir, by whose order do you presume to guard my dour?" The detective replied: "I am not guarding the door. I was sent here by General Baker to prevent Mrs. Coub from entering the house." The Presi-dent said: "Tell General Baker I want to see him immediately." Accordingly, he started for my office, but in the meanume the President had sent his private messenger, who arrived first, and in a very excited manner inarrived first, and in a very excited manner in-formed me the President wished to see me immeformed me the President wished to see me imme-diarcity; I must drop all basiness and come at once. I went, and entered the President's pri-vate room. I found him alone, pacing the room very excitedly. Furiously he said to me, "How dare you place detectives at my door?" I told him that I supposed he desired Miss. Cobb and other females of like character to be kept from the house. He answered, "When I want your services I will send for you. Mrs. Cobb has just as much right to come here as you or any other person. This is not the dirst time, sir, that you have interfered at the White House, Now I want it stopped." want it stopped."

Still pacing the room, he repeated several times what he had before said concerning Mrs. times what he had before said concerning Mrs. Cobb—that she had as much right to visit the White House as any other respectable person. Walking up to me like a pugtilst, he shook his fist in my face, and said again: "How dare you presume to exercise any control over the man-agement of the White House?" I then said: "Mr. President, when such vile characters as Mrs. Cobb can visit the White House at all times of night and day; when she can procure pardons as she has done in the case of Capitain

Imes of night and day; when she can procure pardons as she has done in the case of Captain Howell, and deliver them in person incomplete, or without being recorded; when she boasts publicly in the streets, hotels, and saloons of this city that she is a parton-broker, and the President dare not refuse any of her applica-tions, but she has the President of the United States in her power, I think it is high time that somebody interfered."

The President replied;-"How dare you to talk to me in that way, sir? Now, sir, I tell you once for all, you must not interfere with my business; neither must you interfere with any person who has business at the Executive asion." I started to leave the room, when mansion." I started to leave the room, when he followed me to the door, and, with his fist clenched, said;--"Now, recollect what I have told you. You can go and tell your friend, Stanton, all I have said. I say, you can go now and tell your friend Stanton all I have said." With this I left the Presidential mansion, and have never entered it since.

In one of my conversations with the President, he repeatedly accused me of being a tool of the radicals. He said he had been informed that I was in the employ of the radicals, and had heard that I had detailed detectives to watch the Presidential mansion, with a view to ascertain and furnish a list of the prominent Copperheads and Rebels who were visiting the White Honse. THE DAILY EVENING TELEGRAPH-PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 22, 1867.

MRS. LAIDER AT THE ACADEMY. -- Mrs. General F. W. Lander appeared in her great role of "Eliza-beth" last evening, at our grand Academy of Music, before an audience that was very large, fashionable, and distingue. The triumph of Mrs. Lander in her arduous part was complete, and she was awarded a great deal of applause. Her performance throughout was more forcible and more finished than those given by her at the Walnut Street Theatre recently, and every emotion evinced in the part was wrought up in mugnificent style. The vast audience followed her closely and critically through every part of the play, and this distinguished American actress seemed to have fastened berselt firmly upon the hearts of the Philadelphia public. Mrs. Lander was ably supported by Mis-Minnie Monk, Mrs. Marlowe, Mr. James H. Tay lor, Mr. Lewis Baker, Mr. Titton, Mr. Jack, and others, and the entertainment was one of the mest aelightful we have attended for many

This evening Litzabeth will be played again, with the same excellent cast alluded to above.

BENEFIT OF MR. GEORGE HOOD, -This gentle man is well and favorably known to the habitues of the Academy. He announces his annual benefit for Monday evening, June 3, at the American Academy of Music. On that occasion Mr. Theodore Habelmann will assume the role of "Fra Diavolo," in the opera of that The rest of the characters will name. tained by the members of the Richings English Opera Troupe. Tickets may be obtained at Trumpler's music store, Seventh and Chesnut streets.

GERMAN OFERA .- The fine troupe of German artistcs now at the New Cheenut Street Theatre arbites now at the New Cheenut Street Theatric sppeared last evening in Faust. The house was well filled with quite a brilliant audience, who were enthusiastic over the fine acting and ex-cellent vocalism of Madame Frederici, Madame Johannsen, Hermanns, Himmer, and other invorties. This evening La Dame Blanche, a popular light opera of the Martha school, will be presented with a very strong cast. The suc of the German troupe is already well-COUN established.

On Monday evening, June 3, Cendrillon will be produced.

WALNUT STREET THEATHE. -- Jeanie Deans and Pocahonias are still attractive at this establishment. Miss Susan Denin is very pleasing in both pieces, and the plays are both put upon the stage in the very best style. Miss Denin is supported by Miss Annie Graham, Miss Effic Germon, Messrs. Walcot, Fawcett, Chapman, Chester, and other company favorites. No one should fail to see the beautiful play of Jeanie Deans or the side-splitting burlesque of Poca hontas. On Thursday (to-morrow) evening Miss Lucille Western will appear in East Lynne ABCH STREET THEATRE.—The new play called the Bells of Shandon, as produced by Mr. Dan Bryant, proves quite popular. The scenery is really beautiful, and Dan Bryant is capital as "O'Leary." The Bells of Shandon will be pre-sented this evening.

On Friday night Mr. Bryant will take his farewell benefit, upon which occasion a splendid entertainment will be offered, and Mr. John Brougham will appear in something exceedingly neat.

HARTZ, THE ILLUSIONIST, opened at Concert Hall on Monday evening to a very large audience. Every one present was delighted with the mysic entertainment. This evening Mr. Hartz will cause a human head, severed from the body, to float about the room, speaking, laughing, talking, and smoking. This trick belongs especially to Hartz. The great hat trick will also be given, and the charming de-ception called the "Instantaneous Growth of Flowers" will also be presented, with many other new and beautiful scenes of magic. Mr. Hartz has consented to give matinees on Wed-nesday and Saturday afternoons, in order to accommodate his young friends the school children.

CARNCROSS & DIXEY offer an exceedingly at-tractive bill this evening. We find several furny burlesques, with lots of songs, dances, jokes, etc. JOSEPH JEFFERSON will appear in Rip Van Winkle at the Wainut Street Theatre on Monday evening, June 3. Mg. G. L. Fox, the popular pantomimist, is to appear at the Arch Street Theatre on next

I. O. O. F .- The Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania commenced its session on Tuesday, at the Odd Fellows' Hall, Sixth street. The Grand Master, George Fling, presided. Reports of committees were received, a large number of new members admitted, and the votes cast for new members admitted, and the votes cast for officers of the Grand Lodge in the subordinstes, during the last month, opened, and examined by the Election Committee. The result exhi-bited the following elected for the year:--M. W. Grand Master, Richard Watson, of No. 193, Doylestown; R. W. D. G. Master, Peter B. Long, of No. 373, Philadelphia; R. W. Grand Warden, Samuel F. Gwinner, of No. 636, Bridgeton; R. W. Grand Secretary, William Curtis, of No. 28, Philadelphia; E. W. Grand Treasurer, M. Bichards Muckle, of No. 46, Philadelphia; R. W. Grand Representative G. L. of U. S., J. Alexander Simpson, of No. 110, Philadelphia. G. L. of U. S., J 110, Philadelphia.

The body will continue in session until Friday of this week. The reports from the various parts of the jurisdiction represent a success in the number, quality, and financial condition of the Order upparalleled in the history of the institution. The official visit of the head of the Order in the United States will form a portion of the proceedings of to-day's session, and in of the Board. of Mr. Fraiey, a standing committee Fraiey, Smith and Tatham) was into consideration the subject of State and municipal, with the d procuring ameliorations of Verdict, guilty. The case of David Kelso, who is charged with The case of David Kelso, the 5th of February the case of David Kelso, who is charged with killing William Kelley on the 5th of February last, in the township of Delaware, was taken up yesterday. Alden C. Scovel, Esq., counsel for the defendant. Mr. Jenkins opened the case on the part of the State, the examination of witnesses in whose behalf was then commenced.

John Divvers testified that he was packing up, preparing to move, and that the parties Came came there to help him. Ellie Kelley, wile of deceased, testified that the parties were there; about hall-past 12 o'clock at night the defendant and his wife were sitting on the step, and the deceased came up and catered into a conversation with them; he after wards sat down on a chair in the room, and then got up and stood in the middle of the floor: witness was sitting in the corner of the room; Kelso's child, that was on his knee, commenced to cry; Kelso said, "The man that would offend his child he would knife him;" be took a knife out of his pocket, and put the child down on the floor; witness' husband said he was not offending him or his child; Kelso hen made a dash at him with the knife, and the blade struck the buckle of his belt, glanced back, and cut Kelso's thumb; Kelso then gave the child to his wife, who wanted him to go home, but he said he wouldn't, and then stabbed deceased, and after he had done so deceased deceased, and after he had done so deceased struck him and knocked him down; his head struck the wall, and my husband fell on him; defendant afterwards acknowledged, when asked what he had been doing, that "I did it, and here is the knife I did it with in my hand;" deceased didn't speak after he fell.

Cross-examined-My husband was a strong, powerful man; we had all been drinking, except

The Court then adjourned until this morning. -The case of Bradley, charged with killing Markey, created considerable interest among the spectators, inside and outside the bar during the trial in Camden.

A Mr. Hanna gave some important testi-mony towards the acquittal of Bradley, who was afterwards found guilty of manslaughter. The prisoner was defended by two lawyers who rejoice in the names respectively of flugg and Mulford. A witty member of the bar, sent up to one of the Judges of the Common Pleas during the trial, the following neat and somewhat spicy epigram :---

"The children of Israel wanted bread, And the Lord sent them manua; Hugg and Mulford a witness wished, And the devil sent them Hanna."

ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE. - Yesterday fternoon an old man attempted to commit suicide, by throwing himself in front of a locomo-tive, at Second street and Bridge avenue Watchman Frederick Tarr caught and took him to the Station House, where he was found to be insane. He gave the name of James Robertson, and requested that he should not be sent back to his regiment, the 85th British Infaniry, from which he said he had deserted. He imagined Lord Palmerston was after him, and mistaking one of the police officers for him, became quite excited, and prayed to be put in the guard guard. house, and promised most faithfuily to return to his regiment. He is about forty-five years of age, and is a stranger in Camden.

SERIOUS ACCOUNT.-Thomas Turner, a "gig-top man" on one of the trains of the Camdee and Amboy Railroad, met with a serious accident vesterday. When the train was approach-ing Hightstown, the telegraphic wire on the pole having fallen over to a great extent, caught the "gig-top," fore it from its place, and threw Turner to the ground. When picked up he was considered daugerously hurt, but at last accounts was doing well.

STEALING FLOWERS .- Pat. Manahan, aged twelve years, was arrested yesterday by Officer Johntry for stealing flowers and destroying the bushes in the garden of Joseph Witman, on Stevens street, above Third. Pat has been before his Henor several times before. He was face $5,

Monday week, when he will produce his new pantomime called Little Boy Blue. He will be assisted by his diminutive brother "Charley."

MADAME ADELAIDE RISTORI will return to this country next October, when she will undertake to give one hundred and sixty representations fitteen of which will be given in Havana.

MES. F. B. CONWAY, sister of Mrs. D. P. Bowers, has consented to play the part of "Faistaff," in Shakespeare's Merry Wives of Windsor, at Brooklyn, shortly. Mrs. Conway has of late years grown quite embonpoint, and we doubt not can play the part acceptably.
