THE ABBE LISZT AND THE CHICK-ERING PIANOS.

Two or three menths since a friend of ours returned from Rome. Being well acquainted with the Abbe Liszt, he told him of the rumors current in America relative to his proposed visit to that country. The Abbe replied that he feared he should never visit America. He had heard of the terrors of the sea voyage, and dreaded to attempt it. Besides, he would not visit it as a public performer, as he had given up all ambition in that direction. At one time he thought he would go, and give grand vocal and instrumental concerts of a sacred character, the proceeds of which should go to the Church, but that idea he has since

"I wished to visit America for two things." said the Abbé Liszt; "the one was to see Ningara and the prairies, and the other to try the Chickering Pianos, of which I have heard

The Abbé was delighted when he heard that Chickering & Sons would send planes to the French Exposition, and said, "I will go to Paris if only to play upon the Chickering Planes."—American Art Journal.

Last Evening's Session.—At 7 o'clock Conference resistembled, as per adjournment,

The Chairman Rev. S. Smith, called upon Rev. Jacob Mitchell, who offered prayer.

The Chairman then introduced Rev. Joshus Woodlyn, of New York, who in an able and eloquent manner addressed the Conference.

Rev. James Lynch was the next speaker. He urged the support of the missionary cause, because it involved the temporal and eternal welfare of millions. God had lifted, by the gleaming bayones of loyal thousands, the black curtain of gloom which slavery, for over two centuries, bung over our race, and to-day we bask in the sunshine of American liberty. Intellectual power is bring developed, and social organisation is rapidly progressing. But these blessings might be swept away by a deluge of demoralization. Our only guarantee is the impregnable bulwark of Christianity. To rear that bulwark missionary effort mu t be carried on and sustained. We must not rest till it is seen girdling the globe and bidding defiance to evil.

The contributions during the afternoon and evening amounts a to about two hundred doilars. The meeting at a late hour adjourned.

The question of the distribution of Missionary money was called up, the question being the resolution of Rev. Jonathan Hamilton to loan $200 to the Book Concern.

A warm discussion ensued, participated in by Fevs. Rhodes, smith, Mitchell, Woodlyn, Gond, Moore, and others.

A warm discussion ensued, participated in by Pevs. Rhodes, Smith, Mitchell, Woodlyn, Goad, Moore, and others.

Rev. W. J. Rhodes moved an amendment by striking out the words "where there is no missionary."

Rev. W. D. W. Schureman, of Baltimore, said he had endeavored to be quiet and respectful, not in any way having interfered with the deliberations of this body, but this missionary question of all others was the one nearest his heart, and the one of all others he came here to guard.

The Book Concern, it is true, is ours; we love it, and will support it, but we cannot, while our brethren in the missionary work are suffering, and our poor people south perishing for the Word of Traith, we cannot, we will not divert this money, or appropriate it, out of its legitimate chan.el.

Rev. E. Weaver explained the circumstances that gave rise to the motion of the Rev. Mr. Hamilton.

Rev. Lohn M. Brown addressed the Conference in relation to the duty of the Conference to guard well the missionary funds, and keep it entirely distinct from all other appropriations.

Mr. Rhodes' amendment was put and lost.

The original motion was put and carried.

A motion was adopted, ordering $125.00 to be paid to the P. H. and F. Missionary Society.

A discussion was then held upon the subject of at taching Camden, Delaware, Mission to the Fredericka Circuit.

Rev. Isalah Taylor said that the question was a delicate one, and he would touch it with a degree of care. He argued that this Conference could hardly be made to understand this question so as to decide in the interest of those people, unless by chance we happen to do them good. Motion lost.

Twenty-live dollars was ordered to be paid to Rev. Ph. rec from Missicnary fund.

THE RESULTS OF A Row .- In addition to the THE RESULTS OF A Row.—In addition to the various political parties which represent all communities more or less, there are constant strivings on the part of the younger portions of the linabitants to be superior to others in muscular exhibitions and puglistic encounters. That in conjunction with an old quarrel, brough on a collision of two youthful bands in the neighborhood of Thirteenth and Budd streets. During the melec one of the leaders, Bartholomer Harold, so alleged, struck as opponent on the head with a club, which felled him to the ground. Officer Menah arrested Harold, and Alderman Swift held him in $800 ball to answer at Court.

Hart has consented to deriver an address on Wednesday overaling of next week before the State Sunday School Convention, which will then be in session in this city. The subject, we are informed, is "The Durics of the Superintendent in Opening School," a matter of interest not only to those engaged in Sabbath School instruction, but to every one who occupies the position of a teacher of the young. His practical treatise entitled "Thoughts on Sabbath Schools," which originally appeared in the columns of the Sanday School Times, has shown Mr. Hart to be a master of the subject announced for his address.

one time was beaten severely. This incensed him, and he ordered the lad to behave better or leave. This he declined to do.

This may have added sparks to the flame in his mind, and may have had some effect in producing the death of his wife. On his trial three experts, Dr. Butler. Dr. Curwen, and myseli, testified that in their opinion he was insane.

Dr. S. Preston Jones, Pirst Assistant to Dr. Kirkbride at the Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane, testified that he was not insane. He was followed by four other practising physicians in the Court, who testified the same.

A verdict of murder in the second degree was rehearded by the jury.

Dr. Chapin then read an interesting account of the provision made for the insane in Kines county, showing the extent and thoroughness of its character. Dr. Curwen sa d that he merely testified to the case mentioned by Dr. King as to the fact of the man's sanity or insanity. Taking the man's morbid nervous organization, which had been clearly proved on the trial, I thought that he was distinctly insane from the day, the Zin of November, up to the content of the man's and the time he left the field in which he was on Tuesday, the Zin of November, up to the content of the man's marrest.

Tuesday, the 2th of November, in which he was on arrest.

Dr. Nicholls then, upon request, gave a detailed occount of the insanity of Miss Harris, who was tried and acquitted, on the ground of insanity, of the murder of William Burrows. She became very incensed at a gentleman nam d Collins, who came to see, and finally married, one of the daughters of the lady she was living with, and threatened to take his life, and did actually attempt to stab him, but only succeeded in cutting his clothes.

She was taken to Washington, and the speaker requested to visit her. He found her in a condition not to be trusted. She was acquitted during the speaker's absence from court, and immediately released.

Dr. Kirkbride, the President, said it was getting to be a perfect farce. A man takes the life of another; he is tried and acquitted on the ground of insanity, and is immediately discharged from custody. A man in Wilmington was shot down in the street, the man who shot him was arrested, tried, and acquitted on the ground of insanity.

He was placed in our Asylum, but was taken away in about three months. I think it is our daty to examine this thing dispassionately and carefully, and suggest something that could be adopted by the Court which would prevent this. I think it would be a great public service.

On motion of Dr. Walker, it was resolved that the

On motion of Dr. Walker, it was resolved that the project of a law be assigned as the first business of the next meeting, and that the Secretary notify the members of that fact in the regular notice of the meeting. On motion of Dr. Nicholis, it was resolved, that the Secretary, when giving notice of the time and place of the next meeting, be requested to arge on members the importance of promptly attending at the organization and remaining with the association until the close of the session.

On motion of Dr. Grundy it was resolved that the President of this association may at each meeting of this body appoint a Standing Committe, to report at the succeeding meeting the progress made during the interval, in providing accommodations for the Insane upon this continent, their extent and (when practicable) the plans of such buildings.

Dr. Grundy was appointed said Committee.

On motion of Dr. Brown, it was resolved that Dr. Van Anden be requested to prepare for presentation at the next annual meeting, a statement of the law of New York for the disposal and care of persons acquitted of crime on the ground of insanity, and the practical objection to any laws of that State affecting The Association then adjourned to meet in Boston,

Three bonds were exhibited, on which appeared the signature of Mr. Mountjoy as voucher.

The bonds are as follows.—One for $20,000, dated 20th February, 1867; one for $25,000, dated January 5, 1867; and one for $38,000, dated the 18th of February. These bonds were given for the tax on distilled spirits.

A preliminary examination was held before United States Commissioner Smith, this noon. It was proved that Mr. John Collins, alias Heriford, who was arrested in Chicago, had executed binds to the amount of $130,000, and presented them at Mr. Samnel M. Zuitek's Office, Collector of the Third Internal Revenue District, and there Mr. Mountjoy had signed and vouched as surety for three bonds, amounting to $85,000. It is said that these canines observe a decidedly dogmatical disposition; nevertheless, human skill, stided by puffings and blowings innumerable, finally triumph. COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Allison, P. J.—
Miscellaneous business was before the Court to-day.

An application was made to the Court for permission to change the name of the "The Philadelphia Folytechnic College." The petition was urged upon the ground that the name is useful.

This was objected to by the Polytechnic College of Pennsylvania, commonly known as the Philadelphia Polytechnic College, upon the ground that the petitioners wished to use this name fraudently and without merit, in order to attempt to reap part of the benefit of the word "Polytechnic" by which the Polytechnic College, upon the ground that the petitioners wished to use this name fraudently and without merit, in order to attempt to reap part of the benefit of the word "Polytechnic." by which the Polytechnic College of Pennsylvania is so deservedly well known, and to which they have no-just claim; the word was appropriated in the first place to the State college, and should not now be fraudently taken away or divided with these petitioners.

Judge Allison took this view of the case, and therefore refused to grant the prayer of the betition.

Again was the quondam case of the Commonwealth vs. Stevenson, Walker et al., brought before the Court, it has been so often reported that asimple allusion to it will recall the whole matter to the minds of the jubile. The argument of the motion to send back a bill of indictment to the Grand Jury which had been ignored by that body, was begun last saturday and was continued until to-day. This morning an attempt to resume it was made, but on account of the motions for a new trial in Winnemore's case. Counsel for the prisoner asked a continuance, saying that they had labered under such difficulties that they had not been able to prepare their argument as it should be in a case of such heavy insportance.

They had written to persons in neighboring States requesting their attendance to testify as to the prisoner's condition of mind, from whom they had not had time to receive answers. Even this morning they ha allowed the argument to go over until next Monday week.

Winnemore was sitting in the dock during the whole morning, calm, quiet, and apparently unconcerned. He looks in better health than during the triat, and he was seen to bestow a brother's smile upon the affectionate sister who has been so true and brands him through the second degree in the killing of William Johnson, on the 21st of February last.

After reviewing the case at considerable length, and informing the prisoner that he was fortunate in not having been convicted of murder in the first degree, Judge Allison imposed the sentence of imprisonment in the Eastern Panitentiary for the period of six years.

The Attorney-General's Opinion of the Distranching Clauses of the Recommendation Act. It is now true, as telegraphed from here, that General Grant was present at any Cabinet meeting when the Attorney-General's opinion on the disfranchising clauses of the Reconstruction act was discussed or considered, and it is not true that the opinion met the unactionous approval of the Cabinet. It is known that it received the decided opposition of Secretary Stanton.

The Trial of Surratt.

Several witnesses from a distance, summoned by the Government in the case of Surratt, arrived here this morning. Weichman has been here for several days. Hon. A. G. Riddie, formerly of Ohio, and Judge Pierrepont, of New York, will assist District Attorney Carrington in the prosecution. It is believed that the District Attorney will ask a continuance of the case on Monday, or will ask for his committal until a new indictment can be found. General Butler and Miss Surratt.

A few days since General Butler addressed a note to Miss Anna Surratt, asking for a personal interview. She took the advice of her counsel, Messrs, Bradley and Merrick, and replied that he could have such an interview in the presence of the counsel, to which General Butler did not answer, and it is believed that he declines to have an interview under the conditions parsed.
