JEFF. DAVIS AT CHURCH, AND AN APPROPRIATE SERMON-WHERE WILL HE SETTLE -SCREE BRIWERS JEFF.'S SON AND & YANKEE IN & BAIL-BOAD CAR.

MONTREAL, May 30. -Jeff. Davis, accompanied by Mr. Ma on, left for Canada West by steamer on Tuesday. His stay in Canada West will be, I am informed, only temporary, and he has not yet settled on his future and permanent abiding place. His presence in Montreal has not been marked by any public demonstration. None but his personal friends and a few Canadians, intimate and favored acquaintances of his intimate and favored acquantances of his family, have been presented to him. Mr. Davis attended divine service at St. George's (Episcopal) Church last sunday even-ing. The Rev. Mr. Dumouin preached, and, by a curious coincidence, his sermon was appli-cable to many of the incidents in Davis' life and captivity. After service quite a crowd coi-lected round the door to catch a glimpse of him; many pressed forward to express their pleasure on seeing their illustrious hero, and one catbuon seeing their illustrious hero, and one enthushashid had y pressed through the throng, touched him on the shoulder, and said, triumphantly, "There, I've touched him !" She called next day at Mrs. Howell's to say that she was the variety of subjects. I have beard such a variety of stories about I have beard such a variety of stories about. In have beard such a variety of stories about. Mr. Davis' future residence that I begin to think he is like the Irishman's bird—capable of being in two places at once. The reporters have made him invest in real estate promiseuously, and have also caused an enthushatic and wealthy Southern lady to purchase him a country-seat at St. Catharine's. I am, however, able to state, on good authority, that his mind is not as yet made up, and that he will return to Mont. eal ere he finally settles on his plans for the future. His son and namesake, coming from Lenn x-ville the other day to meet his father at Mon-treal, was considerably bored by an inquisitive Yankee from Boston.

The boy promptly appealed to the conductor to protect him from the insults of a vandal foe, and the scene was, I understand, remarkably amusing.

amusing. No one here is in the slightest degree excited over the Fenian affair. All the sensational reports about frenzied fear in Montreal are in-correct. There are not over fifty Fenians on the Eastern frontier. Of these fifty, three are certainly in the pay of the Canadian Govern-ment ment.

OBITUARY.

CAPTAIN JOHN P. BANKHEAD, U. S. N.

We regret to announce the death of this gallant officer, which took place on the 27th of April last, on board of the Bengal steamer Simla, off Aden. Captatu Bankhead was a native of South Corolina, and entered the naval service on the 10th of August, 1838, having been appointed from the State of Virginia. At the outbreak of the war he held the rank of lien-tenant, and was one of the few naval officers from the States in Rebellion who remained faithful to the United States Government.

liver, who was to be in waiting at Fishkill to marry them in case they were so closely pur-sued by the parents as not to be able to reach the Newburg shore in time. Testerday morning the young lady left her informed, to visit some friends at the residence of Benson J. Lossing. Instead, however, of doir g so, she quickly walked to an unfrequented part of the city, where young Hendershott was in waiting with a spleudid team of fast horses and a carriage. Getting into the carriage, the hervous lovers, at 9 o clock in the morning, started southward, on the main road, the soon-tous lovers, at 9 o clock in the morning, started southward, on the main road, the soon-tously, and urging the horses, carriage, and lovers manding was reached, horses, carriage, and lovers and in less than an hour afterwards happy bride, with the marriage certificate doily signed and stamped with a United States revenue por-trait, were on their way back to Poughkeepsie, trait, were on their way back to Poughkeep ready if necessary to brave any storm in wait-ing for them. They reached here at four o'clock region them, They removed here at jour o clock yesterday afternoon, she going back to her father's house, and he returning to the Morgan House, where he boarded, the parents being in blissful ignorance of the event. -The Treasury Department has stopped buying the August 7'30 notes, and now purchase only the second and third series. The funding of the August series is proceeding so rapidly that few will be outstanding at maturity. -A letter from Macon, Ga., dated May 27, says:-

"The cry from all quarters is a good crop prospect through many planters, after having worked over the crops, had to abandon them for want of a little aid. The freedmen became wanderers, and the mules turned to grass, while for the planter and his immedi-ate family there is no reliet. In a political point of view, everything is remarkably quiet, except in the wake of Wilson and Kelley. The freedmen are working better than last year, and all we want now is to be admitted to representation and then let alone."

-The Chicago Republican says :-

-The Chicago Republican says :--"The losses on grain during the past few months have been unusually heavy, and the trade has become so hazardo.s that bankers are unwilling to make ad-vances, even on respectable margins, unless the parties are good beyond all question. There is very little mercantile paper offered, and, although busi-ness is light, the trade is in good condition. Notes due ere very generally paid promptly, and there is but little effort being made to procure extensions. The weather to-day was dry, clear, and warm, and it looked as if the "rainy season" had passed away. This will be imprived by the farmers in the North-west, who are now busy finishing their c-n-planting. Our advices with regard to Winter wheat and a 1 the small grain spring cops are of the most encouraging nature, and the prospect is that we will have large crops of all kinds of small grain. The cora-p anting is in e, but should the weather from this date con-tinue laworable, we have uo reason to doubt that the

During the latter part of 1861 he was placed in command of the steam gunboat Pembina, and aided in the capture of Fernandina, Florida, on Marca 4, 1862. On the 16th of July, of the same year, the de-ceased was promoted to the rank of commander. Subsequently he was placed in command of the steamer Florida, nine guns, and on June Il ca, tured the steamer Calvpso. On the 28th of August Commander Bankhead was de-tacked from sea contact and blood was deduty at New York, where he remained until 1865, when he was ordered out to the East India squadron, to take command of the steamer Wyoming. Here he remained, being further promoted to the rank of Captain on the 25th of July, 1866. A few months ago Captain Bank-head requested to be delacated from the East India Souadron, disease baying commanded to head requested to be detached from the East India Squadron, disease having commenced to prey upon his constitution. He was accori-ingly relieved from duly, and it was while on the way home that he died. The deceased served in the Navy for twenty-eight years, eight months, and seventeen days, of which twenty-one years and seven months were speat at sea. After the outbreak of the Rebellion, Captain Bankhead removed to New York, where he ever after resided. He was a gallant and meritorious officer, whose death will be greatly lamented.

By a telegram from Boston the death of this gentleman is announced as having taken place on the 2d instant at West Boxbury, Mass. The deceased was a native of Boston, in which city he was born on the 25th of June, 1786. He received his education at Harvard College, and after his graduation pursued the study of law under Samuel bexter. Although admitted to the bar he never practised his profession, but confined his labors almost entirely to interative. He first appeared as an author in 1813, when he published "Hubert and Ellen," with other poems. Subsequently he wrote and published three volumes of "Temperance Tales," "Dealings with the Dead, by a Sexton of the Old School." A series of satirical sketches on antiquarian subjects next appeared, but they were not published in volume form until recently. For many years past, and up to the to the Boston Transcript.
