Mr. Stanton Says " No 1" THE country owes its thanks to the authorities at Washington for publishing in detail the Cabinet proceedings, including the vote of the members upon the various points in Attorney-General Stanbery's opinion with reference to the qualifications of voters and the manner of conducting the elections under the Reconstruction law. It is gratifying to know that each of the Attorney-General's quibbles, whereby he has sought to nullify the provisions of the law, received the emphatic negative of the distinguished Secretary of War. It is not too much to say that, upon any question involving the rights and dignity of the nation in connection with this great question of reconstruction, the opinion of Edwin M. Stanton has more weight with the loyal people of the land, ten times over, than the combined opinions of the President and all the other members of the Cabinet. Mr. Stanton is the only representative left in the Cabinet of the spirit which carried the nation successfully through our great war. He is the only man there in whom the people have any confidence. Mr. Seward has become the mere echo of the sayings and opinions of the man whom he delights to call his "chief." Poor old Mr. Welles never had any opinions of his own. Stanbery is a Copperhead at heart, and manufactures "opinions" to order. He can take both sides of the same question with equal facility. He is completely destitute of moral and political honesty, and has not sufficient intellectual pride even to keep him from resorting to the most pitiful quibbles and sophistries. Randall is the famous "breadand-butter" man, and Browning is a mau after Johnson's own heart. Stanton, we repeat, is the only man left whom the people have any confidence in -the only representative of that grand loyal sentiment that inspired the nation during the Rebellion. Aside from him, the Cabinet is ruled by the same sentiments and opinions which might have been expected to rule in it had George B. McClellan, instead of the late lamented Abraham Lincoln, been chosen President in 1864.

No doubt, had Mr. Stanton consulted his own feelings, he would long since have withdrawn from a position which, in many respects, must be an embarrassing and unsatisfactory one; but he had a duty to perform to the loyal people of the land which no personal considerations could absolve him from. He has nobly performed that duty, and has earned a new title to the gratitude of his country. Indeed, the entire career of Mr. Stanton, from his first entrance into the Cabinet of President Lincoln down to the present time, has been most honorable and renowned. His administration of the War Department during the tremendous struggles of our great war, was characterized by an ability such as would have adorned the record of any war minister whose achievements history has perpetuated. And what at the present day is, perhaps, still more to his credit, in all the vast transactions of his department, involving the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars, the breath of suspicion even has never sullied his personal integrity. His bitterest enemies have never dared to accuse Edwin M. Stanton of making, directly or indirectly, one cent beyond his lawful salary out of his official position. At a time when official corruption seems to be threatening the very foundations of our social structure, this is much to say. If a similar spirit of incorruptible integrity could be diffused throughout the entire administration of the Government, good men would feel relieved of their most serious apprehensions for the future. In short, as we look over the public field, it would be difficult to find any man who has better served his country, or who unites in himself more of the characteristics of a truly great man than Edwin M. Stanton.

A Triumph Over the Wire-pullers.

THE Select Council yesterday witnessed a victory over the politicians of our city which will be gratefully noticed by all the gentlemen and honest men of Philadelphia. It will be recollected that a few weeks since the name of Charles E. Lex was, through the machinations of interested parties, omitted by the caucus in the renomination of Trustees of Girard College. The fact coming to our notice, we freely expressed what we believed to be the opinion of the great majority of the people of our city. We condemned, in the most unqualified terms, the conduct of the caucus in thus giving way to the personal spleen of one of its members, whose ambition seems likely to o'erleap itself. At that time we expressed the conviction that as soon as the attention of the members was called to the injustice done, the wrong would be rectified. We are heartly glad to see that our judgment was correct, and that the mistake made has been corrected. Yesterday Mr. Charles E. Lex was rellected to the position he has so ably filled, by a vote of 16 to 7. The following is the ballot in detail:-

An analysis of the vote shows that of those who voted for Mr. Lex eleven were Republicans and five Democrats; while those who voted for Mr. Gill were four Republicans and one Democrat. This is such a decided triumph of merit over political chicanery, that we cannot forbear congratulating our citizens on the result, and expressing a hope that it fore-shadows a better system of nominations in the future. On the second ballot Mr. Gill was elected, and on the third Mr. Heaton. Mr. John Fareira, who received the caucus nomination in place of Mr. Lex, received but one vote—that of Mr. William S. Stokley.

Symptoms of Resurrection.

At the meeting of Councils yesterday the legislative grave- the Committee on Law-opened, but nothing came forth. The Chairman of that Committee, Mr. Charles M. Wagner, stated in Select Council that he had in his possession two reports of the Committee on the case of Frederick A. Van Cleve, each signed by six members, and as seven was necessary to constitute a quorum, neither was technically the report of the Committee. He stated that several gentlemen had left the chamber, and that they had requested him not to call up the matter until they returned, Colonel Page wanted the reports printed, and so did Dr. Kamerley, but Mr. Wagner stated that he presented no report; so the matter went over until next week. From the speech of the Chairman, as reported, it does not seem to be very clear whether the two reports agreed with each other, or whether one favored and the other opposed the assumed right of Mr. Van Cleve to his position. But in either case the duty of Councils at their next session is very clear. If the Committee be equally divided on the question, it is useless to allow the matter to remain longer in its hands. If it can get in three weeks only six signatures, then it is evident that the remaining six do not intend to sign, and hence the wisest course is to discharge the Committee. In the event of either theory being right, the longer consideration of the issue by it is totally useless, and Councils must take the matter into their own hands. There is nothing to be gained by delaying the report. The people are determined not to let this flagrant outrage pass, and the evil might as well be corrected first as last. It must come eventually, and the sooner the better for all parties save Van Cleve, who by continuance is enabled to pocket the salary unlawfully. A much wiser course has been adopted by Mr. George J. Hetzell, of the Sixteenth Ward, in Common Council. Mr. Hetzell offered a preamble and resolution which puts the mat-

of a post of which he has possessed himself

ter in the proper light:whereas, By the act of February 2, 1854, consolidating the City of Philadelphia, it is provided that no member of Councils, during the term for which he shall be elected, shall "hold any office or employment herein created or proviced for of a municipal enaracter;" and by the act of March 18, 1863, it is further provided "that no member of Councils of said City shall be eligible to any office, employment, or agency, directly or indirectly, chosen by Councils, or either branch of them, during the term for which they shall have been elected to Councils;" and

Whereas, It is manifestly the intention of said acts to prevent members of Councils from using their positions as such to the obtaining upon resignation therefrom of any such office, em-ployment, or agency mentioned in said acts, inasmuch as section 48 of the Consolidation act already expressly forbids a salaried officer under Councils from being a member thereof;

whereas. F. A. Van Cleve, Esq., has recently been appointed Assistant Solicitor of the city, an office created by these Councils, under an office created by these Councils, under authority of the act of consolidation (Section 15), during the term for which he had been elected a member of Select Council, said ap-pointment having been procured and made upon the recommendation of a number of his colleagues, while another appointment to the said position had been rejected by the same influences and for the same purpose prior to the resignation of the said F. A. Van Cleve, therefore,

Resolved. By the Select and Common Councils
Resolved. By the Select and Common Councils of the city of Philadelphia, that in the opinion of these Councils, F. A. Van Cleve, Esq., is not eligible to the position of Assistant City Solicitor, to which he has been recently appointed.

This is a direct method of hitting the nail on the head. It brings the matter at once to an issue; and as Mr. Hetzell is a member of the Committee on Law, we are heartily glad that he has had the good sense and firmness to do all in his power to remove the case from its dilatory consideration. The actions of this gentleman have been favorably noticed by the public. His manly speech in favor of acting like a city of gentlemen, and extending our hospitalities to the President of the United States, has proved that he at least is fitted for his position. The question on his resolution was not reached, by reason of an extended debate, but as it was postponed it comes up the first thing next Thursday, when the members will be called upon to put themselves on the record either for or against illegal possession of office. We will then give the vote to our readers.

Coor !- In Common Council yesterday Mr. Alexander J. Harper offered a resolution that the Assistant Clerks of Councils be instructed. hereafter, to furnish the newspapers of the city with a copy of the proceedings of Councils. The mover of the resolution said the proceedings were not always reported correctly, and that debates are published when they are of no interest to the public.

"By Heavens!" as Cassio says, "this is a more delicious joke than the others." The reporters employed by the various journals do not know what interests the public; the editors who read the reporters' proofs do not know what is interesting to their readers; the publishers who issue the paper do not know what is of "interest to the public!" But the Assistant Clerks of Councils are judges in the matter! They know what will be read by the people, and they, being better qualified for the position than reporters, editors, er publishers, are to furnish the papers with reports! This is, without exception, the most andscious proposition ever made in a public body. And, pray, does Mr. Alexander J. Harper intend to exclude the reporters, and allow only such extracts of the proceedings as the Assistant Clerks think proper to get abroad? Does he intend to make Conneils a close corporation, and not let the people know what is going on? Or is it intended that the Assistant Clerks are to furnish such portions in addition as the members think proper. If such is the case, we would suggest to the Assistant Clerks that they might as well save themselves the trouble. The papers of Philadelphia will publish just what they think fit, and deem any interference in the matter intrusive. The cause of this resolution was that we commented freely on the debate on the question of extending courtesy to the President, and exposed the attitude of number of members, to their alarm. We have a terrible threat in prospect unless this idea be abandoned. We will instruct our reporters to report the speeches of the members verbatim, grammatical beauties and all, without the corrections which are now bestowed, and thus give their constituents an opportunity to appreciate the familiarity of their representatives with the rules of Lyndley Murray. This is the worst punishment for many of them that we could devise.

THE HON, LEONARD MYSES, who had contemplated a visit to Europe during the present season, has, as we understand, abandoned the idea, in order that he may be present in his seat at the July session of Congress, which is now considered a fixed fact.
