AN EXCITEMENT ON THIRD STREET-No. 271 AGAIN ON FIRE. About 10 o'clock this morning the report was current that the memorable Girard Bank was in flames, and, notwithstand-ing the known fact that that building of stone could not very well be in such a condition, every body went "double quick" to its vicinity, to find it sa'e and a coud of smoke two blocks

Five weeks ago, one Saturday morning, at this exact time—curious coincidence!—the roof the building ignited in the same place as in the present instance, and it is believed through the present instance, and it is believed through the same agency—sparks falling from a chimney on the northern side, the top of which is just six inches from the roof, ignited the old shingles, and soon the whole covering was ablaze. Lieut, Goldy, of the Third District, was on hand instantly, with his men, to preserve order, and the firemen soon arriving, went to work with a will and determination which evinced itself in the thorough deluging the house received, and the speedy annihilation of the firmes. The roof of the building is destroyed, the cellings are damaged to a great extent, and the household effects in the upper stories are injured by water.

THE SALE OF STOCK in aid of the Riverside Institute is progressing so rapidly that the Washington Library Company, under whose auspices the whole affair is being so admirably conducted, are in hopes that the grand distribution of presents may take place before the 25th of September next. This will certainly be done should the desired number of shares be disposed of before that period. The engravings given with each share of stock are really beautiful specimens of workmanship, and those who would be convinced of the fact that the same pictures are now retailing in this and other cities at fifty per cent, more than it costs those who secure them by subscription through the Washington Library Company, have only to inquire for themselves at any establishment where they are being sold at retail. With every share of stock a present is also given, and among the presents, as will be seen by the published schedule, are cash prizes, real estate, and many other articles of great value. Every share of stock not only secures you a fine steel plate engraving, at less than retail price, but guarantees to the holder some present when the distribution takes place. FAMILIES can be accommodated with choice rooms and board for the senson at Mrs. Harvey's, Eagle Station, on the Peupsylvania Central Railroad. The station is but fitteen miles from the city, and enjoys a most healthy situation, with fine landscape views. A more elegant or quiet and delightful place for spending the hot summer months cannot be found in the vicinity of Philadelphia. The tables afford the best viands of the market, with excellent waiters in attendance; and, in addition to the advantages of the house, there are also connected with it accommodations for carriages and horses.

AT THE NEW LEDGER BUILDING an opportunity is offered at 4 o'clock this afternoon to hear Hassler's splendid Military Band. This organization is composed of the first stars in the musical profession. The immense audience in the room where the band is stationed are treated sumptuously in magnificent and popular music, and that it is appreciated is shown by the effec-tive applause after almost every piece per-formed. Mr. Hassler intends to keep his full band in the city until the 8th of the month after which part of them leave for Cape May.

Explosion of a Southern Relief Lottery. Baltimore, June 22.—The so-called Southern Orphans' Gift Enterpr'se Relief Association, advertised for some months past as a grand scheme for raising large amounts of money for the benefit of Southern orphans, came to a cli-max last night at the Concordia Hali, in a manmax last hight at the Concordia Hall, in a man-ner entirely unsatisfactory to the shareholders. A quarrel arose among the managers over the funds, when, on the testimony of the President, Mr. John L. Hammond, the Grand Jury yester-day found indictments against the firm of Paimer & Co., for violating the laws of Mary-land prohibiting lotteries. It is stated that only 30,000 out of 500,000 tickets have been sold, and the most valuable prizes announced have been retired from the scheme.

The Cole-Hiscock Tragedy Re-enacted at the National Capital.

From the Washington Republican, June 21.

Yesterday atternoon, about 21; o'clock, one of the most appailing tragedies occurred in this city that it has ever been our province to record. The Sickles tragedy is marght to it. As pales the moon before the dawn of day, an day an enacticance when compared with the sickening borror that hung around the bloody ourse of Thomas Smoot as he lay in his gore, a fearful signi to look upon, in the room where he met his death. Yesterday afternoon, about 23; o'clock, the reports of platol shots were heard by neighbors as coming from the house, not cried out that a man had been Massachusetta avenue and R street. A few moments elapsed when a young woman came rouning out of the house, and cried out that a man had been allowed to the house and wasking quickly dawn the street. No attempt was made by any one to stop him, and he, who proved to be the murderer, kept out and making to the Central Guardhouse, delivered himself up to the officer in charge. Thomas Sinced saying that he had shot a man whom he had found in bed with his wife, in the windired. Drs. your paper (the Democrat) of May $1, 1867, are three deliberate falsehoods relating to myself, in just twice as many lines.

I I am not one of those "who encouraged the Rebellion, and there would be no war," etc., but just the reverse. I never expressed or held the opinion that Northern or Western Democrats would assist the South in a war for secession and independence. So far as the war was waged on the part of the South for this purpose, she never had my sympathy. As waged by the North, I was opposed to it at every point, from beginning to end, for reasons which Time is now vindicating every day.

2. I never said that the Northern troops should "march over my dead body."

3. The pretended incident related by Wilson, about an Ohio regiment passing my house, never had an existence, nor even a shadow of foundation.

My crime during the war was that I consistently and persistently leved and detended constitutional liberty and the old Federal Republic throughout.

I beg your pardon and my own for condescending to notice anything from this vulgar, itherent changling. My only apology is that he is the successor of Danlei Webster in what remains of the United States Senate—and has lately "experienced religion."

Trottman have been in occupancy and possession thereof, as lessees from the said Dunlap, the owner of the same.

3. The said Huston and Trottman are, by occupation, coppersmiths and manufacturers of kettles and other hollowware in copper, and during the last mentioned period have carried on that business at said No. 439, and still are doing so, with the express license of the defendant Dunlap, who receives reat or competsation from them therefor.

4. In conducting that business they employ a large number of men, who are engaged during most of the day, and frequently from early in the moraing until late at night, in hammering and pounding upon hollow-ware vessels of copper, thereby producing great and insupportable noise. This is generally so loud as to interfere with the class duties of the school of the German Congregation at No. 443, to prevent reading, the hearing of ordinary conversation, the usual repose, quiet, and sleep of the complainants and their lamilies living in the neighborhood. And the tenants of said premises owned by others of the complainants, by the said continued noise and did, boarders have been driven from the house of the complainants. ARRESTED UNDER SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES. ARRESTED UNDER SUSPICIOUS CHECUMSTANCES.

—During the morning of Thursday last, two young men, strangers apparently to the neighborhood, entered the Jewish Club-room, at the corner of Franklin and Coates streets. They desired to be shown around the building, asked all manner of questions of their youthful cicerone, and, it is alleged, made inquiries about the exact place and contents of the money-drawer.
They soon left. But about 12 o'clock Friday night they were seen lurking about the premises, apparently with evil intent. An officer gave chase and overhauled one, giving the name of Thomas Kerns. Alderman Massey held him in default of $1200 ball to answer.
