The Semi-Annual Commencement at Horticultural Hall this Morning-Lists of the Graduates and Distinguished Scholars-Address by Edward Shippen,

At 10 o'clock this morning the new Hortlenttural Hall, on Broad street, was filled to its greatest capacity, the occasion being the Semi-annual Commencement of the Girls' High and annual Commencement of the Girls' High and Normal School of this city. The audience was composed mostly of ladies, and presented an attractive and brilliant appearance. On the left of the stage were seated the members of the Board of School Control, and to the right and in front were the young ladies of the graduating class. In the rear of the spacious stage were the pupils of the school, seated on a series of benches, 11sing one above the other, so that they and the audience were in full view of each other. In the centre of the stage, in front, stood a table, on which were deposited the diplomas and a grand array of bouquets to be distributed among those who participated in the exercises.

THE EXERCISES.

At ten o'clock the exercises commenced being opened by a fervent prayer by the Rev. Robert G. Chase. The reading of the Scriptures in concert by

The reading of the Scriptures in concert by the graduating class followed. This exercise was marked by great proficiency, the voices of the young ladies participating mingling together in perfect time and harmony. No stronger proof of the thoroughness which marks the Girls High School could be asked.

An anthem—"Praise the Lord," composed by Mr. W. H. W. Darley—was then sung by the pujils of the school, reflecting credit on their musical education.

An essay on "Faces" followed. It was the emposition of Miss M. Bennett, and was read by Miss E, Pearson,
"Maude Muller" was then recited by Miss S.
Ferguson; after which the school sang, "Come where the Sunlight Sleepeth," composed by Compana, and arranged in two parts for this musical education.

A colloguy entitled "My Term Essay," written A colloquy entitled "My Term Essay," written by Misses F. Rean, M. W. Stevens, and L. W. Dickson, followed, and took the audience somewhat by surprise. The first young lady who took the floor announced that she had selected the subject of her "Term Essay," which, on inquiry by another young lady, proved to be the unheard of theme of "Woman's Rights." An earnest protest was forthwith made against this, and in the course of a few minutes every member of the graduting class was on the floor, expressing her peculiar view, on the subject. During the course of the colloquy many of the peculiar views and vices of the men and women of this day received sharp and telling hits, which were fully appreciated by the audience, as was evidenced by the laughter which interrupted the denced by the laughter which interrupted the discussion now and then. The colloquy ter-minated with a musical discourse on "Woman's minated with a musical discourse on "Woman's Rights," in which all the members of the class joined, and this was followed by a mock music lesson, composed by Professor C. Everest.

An essay on "Life," composed by Miss S. Charles, was then read by Miss M. Pritchard, after which Miss A. Close, of Section D, sang Abt's beautiful ballad, "When the Swallows Homeward Fly." An interesting diversion was occasioned during the singing of this by the motions of a pigeon which flew back and forth through the ball, after the manner of the swallows, as described in the ballad.

"Richard Rusty" was recited by Miss Stevens, and then the school sang "The Ricci Waltz," arranged in two parts.

"The Path of the Wolves," an essay, composed by Miss L. W. Dickson, was read by Miss Sallie D. Burke; after which Miss Emma Balliet, of Section E, sang "La Cascade de Roses," by Ascher.

"The Curse of Regulus" was recited by Miss Ascher.

"The Curse of Regulus" was recited by Miss E. W. Dicksen, and followed by "The Alpine Morning," a duet by F. Hucken, with chorus accompaniment, by Professor C. Everest.

The Diplomas were then delivered to the Graduating Class and the names of the Distinguished pupils announced as follows, by Profesor George W. Fetter, Principal of the School, who, in doing so, made some appropriate remarks to the young ladles:—

on one side and a manufactory of tinware of the other.

The present building, besides being entirely too small, is badly devised, imperfectly ventilated, and misseably adapted to its present use.

With a Normal school there should always be connected schools of practice, that pupils, before graduating, might grow entirely familiar with the practical duties of their profession.

In almost every section in the city, the Giris' Grammar Schools suffer at each semi-annual examination, from the fact that the labor of the teachers is not rewarded, and their usefulness is thereby impaired. No remedy can be applied until a building of sufficient capacity is provided.

In amply furnishing an institution of this kind, the public receive a remuneration for all expenditure in the intelligent, well-educated, and theroughly trained teachers furnished by the school. These assist in elevating and improving the standard of public lastroction. A sure safeguard to public virtue, and a security against the blasting influences of ignorance and prejudice, are thereby guaranteed. The diffusion of knowledge promotes the welfare of society, produces a wise system of social economy, insures life and property, and regulates, stimulates, and elevates the mind. Thus providing for the wants of the rising generation, the mental capacity is enlarged, skill in the art of teaching is cultivated, and the community is enriched by an ample, generous support of that which is eisential to municipal, State, and national growth and prosperity.

is essential to municipal, State, and instional growth and prosperity.

The Board of Control hopes to secure a lot upon which to erect a new school edifice commensurate with the present need. In this matter the Councils of the city will be asked to extend their helping hand. Hitherio there has been no rejuctance on the part of our City Fathers when an appeal was wisely made in the cause of education, and the success of our system in Fainselphia must in due degree be stributed to the liberal appropriations of public mobey made by Councils to our schools. And while we, as Controllers and School Directors, modestly ask for ourselves credit for economy, we must accord to Councils to hanks for their ready responses to our demands. And we feel well assured that our appeal for a new High and Normal School, suited to our needs and our age, will not pass by unheeded.

CONCLUDING EXERCISES,

CONCLUDING EXERCISES, 'Beware," a ballad by J. E. Perring, was then sung by Miss A. Campbell, of Section F.; an e-say on the "Mustering of the Troops," composed by Miss M. W. Stevens, was read by Miss L. Somers; and the exercises were brought to a close by the singing of Glover's duett, "Tell me where doth Fairies Dwell,"

Such were the interesting ceremonies which marked the close of the thirty-eighth term of the Giris' High and Normal School. The young ladies who this day finished their school life have enjoyed rare advantages for obtaining a have enjoyed rare advantages for obtaining a superior education, and we trust their future may be such as to reflect credit upon the noble system of free schools, to which they are in-debted for the training of their early years.

AN OCCURRENCE IN THE HONORABLE BODY OF SELECT COUNCIL — A MEMBER SUMMARILY EJECTED.—A somewhat unusual occurrence no doubt to vary the monotous routine of busi-ness in the honorable body of Select Council— yesterday afternoon transpired. It seems that Dr. Kamerly, member from the Second Ward, had in quick succession delivered many speeches, each of which was more or less per-sonal to the members of that branch of the speeches, each of which was more or less personal to the members of that branch of the municipal legislature.

Mr. King first excited his ire by demanding the enforcement of the rule limiting speeches to five minutes, and was consequently assailed with a series of harsh epithets. Another member gave notice that he too would insist upon the enforcement of the five-minute rule, as there was important business still to transact. The next time Dr. Kamerly addressed the Chamber, his attention was called to the fact that his limit had expired. He denied the fact, and again became abusive in his remarks. He was finally compelled to take his seat, still muttering his opinion of those who interfered with the continuance of his speech, remarking that "it is the nastiest and dirtiest business that any man was ever guilty of."

This was supposed to end the affair, but while Mr. McCutcheon was addressing the Chamber, Mr. Gillingham, whose desk is immediately in front of that occupied by Dr. Kamerly, rose and said:—

"Mr. President—I am sitting here, listening to a respeciable member of this body being called all sorts of names by a drunken ruffian, who is a member of this Council. I now call upon the President to enforce the rules, or I shall be compelled to leave the Chamber. I cannot submit to it any longer. Either the rule must be enforced, or I cannot consent to sli in the Chamber."

Mr. Sperlug (the President)—The Chair's attention being called to the fact, no is compelled to say that he

the rule must be enforced, or I cannot consent to sit in the Chamber."

Mr. Spering (the President)—The Chair's attention being called to the fact, he is compelled to say that he has frequently noticed the misconduct of the member on many former occasions. I find, by reference to rule No. 28, that we have a law applicable to the case, It declares that "Any person entitled to the privileges of the floor, who shall enter the chamber in a state of infoxication, shall forreit his right to that privilege, and it shall be the duty of the President to direct the Messenger to eject him. Any member of this body who shall be guilty of the same offense shall, upon the first occasion, be officially notified by the President that he has violated the rule, and if he behave in an unruly or indecorous manner, the President shall direct the messenger to eject him; and if he repeat the offense he shall be tried in the manner prescribed by law and impeached." The offense here has been repeated so often that we have justly laid ourselves open to the charge of cowardice in falling to notice it and enforcing the rule I have read. The Chair—now that the matter has been brought to his attention—officially gives notice to the member that he will be compelled to observe order, or the Messenger will be directed to eject him.

Dr. Kamerly—This is the most shameful exhibition eject h!m.

Dr. Kamerly—This is the most shameful exhibition Dr. Kamerly—This is the most shameful extinuous. I have seen in my life.

This was supposed to be the last of the difficulty, but no sooner had Mr. McCutcheon attempted to proceed with his remarks than Mr. Gulingham again addressed the President excitedly, and said:—

"Mr. President, I am again called a —, and the threat is made that I will have my ears cut off! This harceast is made that I will have my ears out off? This has ceased to be endurable."

1. For Kamerly—Who is talking to you?

1. Mr. Gillingham—Some are behind me who would not dare to utter the same language to my face.

1. Mr. Sperieg—The Chair can no lovger allow this to mass unnoticed. Mr. Fox-It the Chair desires support I will make a motion that the rule be enforced and Dr. Kamerly motion that the rule be enforced and Dr. Kamerly ejected.

Mr. Spering—There is no necessity for such a motion now. I call upon the Messenger to eject the member from the Chamber.

Dr. Kamerly—I ask to say one word.

Mr. Spering—The Messenger will put Mr. Kamerly out of the Chamber.

The messenger advanced towards the Doctor, but that gentleman relieved the officer from the necessity of complying literacy, with the President's order, as he walked out quietly, and the ended his participation in the business of the day.

Later in the afternoon, Dr. Kamerly returned to the Chamber, but took no active part in the legislation.

A TILL-TAPPER NICELY CAUGHT .- A young fellow named Gaffer, alias Couper, yesterday afternoon entered the store of Mr. Patten, baker, at Eleventh and Locust streets, and attempted to tap the till. But as a precaution sgainst any such operations, Mr. Patten had connected with this same drawer an alarm, so that when Gaffer tonched it a racket and ring. that when Gaffer touched it a racket and ring-ing ensued which startled the whole house, Mrs. Patten, who was sitting in a back room, ran out, caught the felonious party, and held him tight until Officer Moullie came up and took him in charge, Now Mr. Patten had been sleeping on a lounge in the same room, but was awakened by the racket of the alarm and the screams for help from his wife, but, to his dismay, found that his limbs had also gone into that somnolent condi-tion which entirely forbade their use. Mr. Pat-ten asserts that if a murder in the first degree ten asserts that if a murder in the first degree had been committed, a savage fight or a conflagration ensued, he would bave been unable to exert himself one whit. Gaffer being taken to the cells of the Fifth Station House, was committed for a further hearing. But since he damaged two cells, by kicking, hammering, etc., an additional $300 was added to his bail.

LARCENY OF $130 .- William Stocker, a black boy aged eleven years, residing at No. 813 Orchard street, yesterday afternoon saw a carter take off his vest, lay it on his cart at the corner of Fourth and Brown streets, piace his well-filled pocket-book in it, and then proceed to unload his wares. While the man was engaged in doing this, the boy pretended to be engaged in doing this, the boy pretended to be engaged in admiring the borse, but in reality had picked the pocket-book of $130, and was trying to make off in such a manner as not to attract attention. This he successfully did. The boy proceeded to No. 619 Middle alley, where he informed Lewis Craig, aged thirty-two, and also black, of what he had done. This at once aroused Craig's averice, and he desired two, and also black, of what he had done. This at once aroused Craig's avarice, and he desired to count the money over. In doing so, by some cunning conjuration he appropriated to his individual use $40, and convinced the boy he had lost it. The police were fast upon the track of the thieves, and they were soon taken into custony. Alderman Toland held the boy to swalt a further hearing in default of $800 ball, and committed the man. bail, and committed the man.

BURGLARS CAUGHT .- This morning Officers Groove and Hartly, of the Twelfth District, looking to the interests of the inhabitants on their beats, discovered the back gate of No. 1305 Girard avenue open. Going into the yard and up the walk, the kitchen door was standing open, and bearing all the indications of having been forced. Passing up stairs they ran against two burglars, John Williams and James Brown, two burglars, John Williams and James Brown, who, hearing the footsteps of the officers, were trying to escape. Williams hails from Harrisburg, while Brown says his residence is New York. Alderman Fitch committed them to answer at Court.

A large ounch of keys, of every variety, were found in the house, where they were dropped by the burglarious party.

Mr. Mehan, the owner of the dwelling, had taken up his residence at a boarding house, and his family being in the country, this opportunity was too good to be lost, but for Williams and Brown it proved an exceedingly unprofitable one all around.

PETTY LARCENIES .- Samuel Crane was ar rested in the Twenty-seventh Ward for stealing sundry horse-blankets. Alderman Maule committed him.

George Willis has been the attendant on a bar in a rum shop on Second street. He lately filched the contents of the money-drawer. Alderman Butler held him in $500 ball to

As Imposing Masonio Chremony.—A very interesting and imposing ceremony took place at the Masonic Hall, Chesnut street, on Thursday afternoon, when a new Masonic organization, entitled Vaux Lodge, No. 393, was constituted. Deputy Grand Master Richard Vaux officiated, assisted by the officers of the Grand Lodge of the State of Pennsylvania. The officers of the new Lodge are as follows.—Worshipful Master, James D, Campbell; Senior Warden, John Howland; Junior Warden, Lewis McAllister. A feature of the eeremony consisted in the excellent character of the music under Dr. William P. Cunnington. A fine orchestra was present, who performed admirably, and the responses, which were composed by Dr. Cunnington, were peculiarly appropriate and remarkably well rendered by a carefully selected quartette. A bass solo, sung by Mr. John J. Heisler, was greatly admired. After the ceremonies the company present sat down to a splendid collation. Vaux Lodge enters on its career of future usefulness under the most favorable auspices, and it numbers among its members many well-known and influential citizens.

DISTRESSING SUICIDE. - Charles Burns, aged 55 Districtsing Suicide.—Charles Burns, aged 55 years, residing at No. 2011 Alter street, committed suicide by hanging himself to a bedpost. From the little which could be gleaned from the distracted wife, we learn that Burns had of late been gloomy and morose; they both retired to rest last evening at their usual hoor, and Mrs. Burns knew nothing of the dreadful occurrence until her little girl coming into the room, and seeing the body of her father hanging by the neck to the old-fashioned bedpost, screamed and awakened her mother. A strap, which Burns had usually wore about his waist in lieu of suspenders, served as a means of committing the deed. The Coroner was notified, and will hold an inquest to-day.

ANOTHER SUICIDAL ACT-A MELANCHOLY MAN Blows His Brains Our—Yesterday morning a man named John Holdsworth, aged 45, and residing at the corner of Sellers and Leiper stiects, Frankford, ended his life by blowing his head to pieces, through the instrumentality of a loaded pistol. Before committing the deed to prepare the following.—"Farewell, dear wife he penned the following:—"Farewell, dear wife and children. I hope the Lord will provide for you, I am sorry to leave you, but I cannot live longer. Farewell! Farewell! God bless you." Holdsworth was a music teacher of some note, and for thirteen years had resided in this city. The incentive to this act was a brooding melantal was a music teacher. melancholy spirit, which his present circumstances in life had engendered. Having been brought up in affluence in England, his progress to the other extreme had depressed him.

THE POLYTECHNIC .- The following was inadvertently omitted in our account of the com-mencement of the Polytechnic Institute last evening, which will be found on the third

The degree of Master of Mechanical Engineering was conferred on Edward J. B. Howell, Germantown, Pa.

AN ASSAULT WITH EVIL INTENT .- Patrick Tiernan, aged 60 years, residing at Swanson and South streets, has a delicate wife, whom he beats most mercilessly. Yesterday he renacted this common scene, using a club, and striking his wife violently about the head. Alderman Tittermary committed him, in default of bail to answer. fault of bail, to answer.

AN OLD FRIEND .- For many years the Press of the country has chronicled the beneficial effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Editors, authors, physicians, merchants, officers of the army and navy, chemists, counsellors, ministers of the gospel-in short, a great cloud of witnesses of every profession, trade, and calling, havetestified to its efficacy as a tonic and regulating medicine, The names and statements of these witnesses have been published in the public prints, Many of them are well known to the whole public. Their testimony has never been challenged or impugned. This OLD FRIEND has been tried, and pronounced, on the authority of those whose lives and health it has preserved, a pure, harmless, and eminently salutary preparation. Attempts have been made to rival it. They have failed. There is nothing equal to the enjoyment experienced by the afflicted when using this valuable specific. Its mild tone, its sure and vigorous action upon a disordered stomach, and the cleansing of the entire human body, recommend it to the whole community as a RELIABLE FRIEND.

"WITH FOUR METALLIC QUALIFICATIONS & man may be pretty sure of earthly success. These are gold in his pocket, silver in his tongue, brass in his face, and iron in his heart." But for a tonic appetizer, and as a gentle stimulant, there is reliable virtue in PLANTATION BITTERS. No article has ever been so popular or done half so much good. Let all who have not already tried this great stomachic, at once test its quality. We understand that the druggists and grocers of this section are selling vast quantities, and that scarcely a family is without it.

THE TRIAL OF JOHN H. SURRATT.

Proceedings To-day.

Washington, June 2s.—The trial of John H. Surrati continues to be the topic of conversation, and the Court now continues to be the centre of interest here, and the applications for admission are increasing daily. Fearful of not getting an eligible position, crowds of indies and gentlemen hang about the Court House long before the hour of opening. As usual, this morning the room was crowded, and the day being sultry, the air was most oppressive. Among the spectators to day were several members of Congress and many of our most prominent citizens.

The business of the Court commenced at 10-15.
Lewis J. Weichman was recalled for the continuance of his examination in chief by Mr. Plerrepont.

The witness resumed, and testined as follows:—
Mrs. Surratt's manner, all the way down, on April 14, to Surratsville, was lively and cheerful; we arrives at Surrattsville, and I removed the package from the buggy and gave it to, Mrs. Surratt, and she went into Mr. Lloyd's parior, in a short time she call d me and desired me to write a letter for her to Mr. Nothey; she told me to write a letter for her to Mr. Nothey; she told me to write a letter for her to Mr. Nothey came forward and paid the bill at once, she would bring a suit against him: I wrote the letter in the house on that day, April 14, 1865; she desired me also to compute for her the interest on Mrs for thirteen years, and she gave it to Mr. Quipu to be delivered; I then went out and drove up and down the road, and at 20, as Mrs. Surratt got in the buggy to go to the city, I saw Mr. Lloyd, and he recognized me, and noticed that the front buggy spring was broken; he called Mrs. Surratt got in the buggy to go to the city, I saw Mr. Lloyd, and he recognized me, and noticed that the front buggy spring was broken; he called Mrs. Surratt got in the buggy to go to the city, I saw Mr. Lioyd, and he recognized me, and noticed that the front buggy spring was broken; he called Mrs. Surratt got in the buggy to go to the city of the city of the city, I and she told him to get a st

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Ludlow.—T. B. Dwight, Assistant District Attorney.—John Muldoun was charged with entering a store with intent to steal. It was alleged that the defendant, a little boy, entered a store, and accing no one inside walked to the cash drawer, and stempted to take out the money. He was detected by a young lady, and when accused of stealing he merely said, "If he were let off he would never do so again." But there was nothing but hearsay evidence against the boy, and therefore the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty. Henry T. Terry for defendant.

Michael Shoeobut was charged with the larceny of a bagatelle table and set of balls, belowing to Jacob Frenk. It was alleged that on the lat of June the defendant, with several men, went to the prosecutor's place, No. 440 Sericant street, and asked for the bagatelle table. It was shown to them, and they removed it and a set of balls into the street. But the prosecutor held his establishment of the defendant under an agreement as his employe for six months, at the end of which time, upon the payment of $250 to the defendant, the place should become his property. But at the time this offense was sileged to have been committed, the six months had passed and the money had not been paid; and the defendant, in removing these things, merely took property that belonged to himself. Verdict, not suilty.

Patrick Mahon pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny, and was sentenced to County Prison for six months.

The Commonwealth vs. Matthew J. Miller, charged with keeping a sambling bouse. The bill in this case was found more than two years ago, and has coue over until this time without trial. This morning Mr. Cassidy, for the defense, came into Court, and filed a plea id abatement, setting forth that the defendant and been improperly indicted as Matthew J. Miller, as his name, by which he has always been known, is J. Maoison Miller. To this the Commonwealth made replication, stating that the defendant's name was and is Matthew J. Miller, and they expected

GRAND JURY PRESENTMENT.

The Grand Jury made their final presentment to the Court to-day. As has been the case in the presentments made of late by our Grand Juries, the overflowing condition of our prisons is largely commented upon, and the necessity of erecting a House of Corrrection for juvenile offenders strongly recommended. The Judge said that the Court entirely concurred with the Grand Jury in their sentiments upon these matters. Thanking the genitemen for their prompt attention to their business, the Court discharged them from further attendance.

> THE INDIAN WAR. Satanta on the War-Path.

FORT SEDGWICK, June 20.—The Klowas are on the war-path under the bombastic Satanta, and have struck General Andrew Jackson Smith "a hard lick"—so he telegraphs to Sherman. IMPORTANT ORDER FROM GENERAL SHERMAN.

IMPORTANT ORDER FROM GENERAL SHERMAN,
HEADGEARTERS MILITARY DIVISION OF THE MIRSOURL.—ST. LOUIS, MO., June 21, 1887.—To accomplish, as far as pessible, a concert of action and uniformity of practice throughout this Military Division, embracing the great plains from the Mississippi to the Bocky Mcontains, with their tribes of nomadic Inolans, the following general rules are adopted:—
I. By the laws of Congress the management of Indian affairs is committed to the Interior Department, and by it delegated to a Commissioner of Indian Affairs, to General Superntendents, Special Commissioners, and Agents, to reside among the separate tribes or nations. And when the Indians actually reside on a reservation, or restrict themselves to territory guaranteed to them by treaty, the military are commanded and the civil authorities builfied that those treaty rights are the supreme law of the land, and must be respected; but when the Indians leave their reservations, and go beyond the country committed to them, and there commit a crime, they fall under military control, or subject themselves to acrest and punishment by the civil power.

II. For military control, or subject themselves to acrest and punishment by the civil power.

II. For military control, commanded by General Hanock. Each of these departments coincide, as near as may be, with the State and Territorial lines, and each Commanding General has a part of the Regular Army, as large as can be spared from other quarters, and has a general supervision of the military police of his department, and has also other special duties which cannot be made public.

III. All this extent of country is embraced in some public.

111. All this extent of country is embraced in some State or Territory, with civil officers acting under their own special codes; and, as a great diversity of opinion and practice exists as to how far the civil authority can apply, especially in cases such as have recently prevailed, where Indians in small bands have infested the travelled roads and exposed settlements, it is hereby made known that if each state and Territory will organize a battalion of mounted men, ready to be called into the service of the United States, it will be called for by the Department Commander, and used in connection with the regular troops, if an emergency should arise, in his judgment, to make it necessary. In that event, the restiment, or a part thereof, will be mustered in, according to the laws of Congress now existing—each mau to provide his own barse, for which the allowance of forty cents a day will be slipulated, and the same pay, clothing, food, and allowances as are now or may be hereafter provided by law. But it must be clearly understood that it will require an appropriation by Congress to make the actual payment of everything, except rations, forage, and supplies needed by such volunteers, during the time they are in the service of the United States; but that Congress will so appropriate there is, little doubt, provided the necessity for the call be manifest, as evidenced by the judgment of the Department Commander, ratified by myself and the General-in-Chief. Whenever such a battalion is organized, the Governor of the State or Territory should notify the Department Commander of the fact, with such report of numbers, location of companies, etc. etc., as will enable him to judge of their availability.

IV. The civil authorities of said States and Territories abould, by their advantage of a counties and the cores abould, by their advantage of a counties and the cores abould by the payer of a counties and the cores abould. public.
111. All this extent of country is embraced in some panes, etc., as will ensole him to judge of their availability.

TV. The civil authorities of said fittles and Territories should, by their sheriffs of counties and by their deputies, have small posses armed and prepared at all times, to pursue and hunt down the small horse-thieving bands of Indians who, by dispersing, avoid the military forces. When they have made captures clearly within the county, or within their official jurisdiction, the thieves should be confined in the county jail, and proceeded against according to law; but it traced to any Indian reservation, the came should be reported to the United States Marshal by whom the property stolen should be demanded through the Resident Agent, and a demand made for the surrender of the thief or thieves. Should there be any doubts, the captured Indians should, if possible, be delivered to the commanding officers of some military post, who will receipt for them, and hold them subject to the supreme authority of the Government, Sheriff's parties, in pursuit of Indians who have committed theits, will be justified in using their arms, unless they promptly surrender on demand.

V. When horses, mules, or stock of any kind are stolen by Indians, and can be traced to a reservation, a demand should be made at once of the Agent, and if the tribs be entitled to annuities, it is understood that such annuities are chargeable with the value of the stolen property; but if the theft is committed, as is usual, by the small bands of warlike tribes, who have come from a great distance and do not belong to any reservation, it is almost impossible to recover the value. The United States is not Hable for such theft any more than for a highway roobery committed in one of the more settled states.

The Governors of States and Territories interested in the foregoing are requested to communicate freely with department commanders on all these subjects. IV. The civil authorities of said States and Terri-in the foregoing are requested to communicate freely with department commanders on all these subjects—and by way of appeal, only, to me or to higher authority.

Trial of John H. Surratt.

Washington, June 28.—I do not remember seeing Mr. Offut that day; I left hurrativille to return home at a 18.20 on the way home Mrs. Surrat said alle was anxious to the home at 3 o'clock, line where a sentenna there it and a consething about Booth and a sentenna there it and a consething about Booth and acting, and she replied Booth is done acting, and she done of the consething about Booth mot acting, and she do not state the said of id not know that Booth was crazy on one subject; I said I did not, and she did not state the said of the consething and the consething and a service of the consething and all this rejoicing will be turned to mourning, and all this gladness to sorrow." I turned to here said asked what she meant; and she said, "After sunshine there is always a stocm." She said asked what she meant; and she said. "After sunshine there is always a stocm." She said also "the period of the consething and a she said. "After sunshine there is always a stocm." She said allow "the period of the consething and we turned up Second stress, and serviced home at 9 o'clock or a few mountenast before, and I held Mrs. Surrati out, and returned the buggy to Howard's stables, and returned the buggy to Howar in Booth's company, and bring the guilty parties to justice.

Q. Did you go to the Government and give information? A. Yes, sir.
Mr. Bradley objected, and noted an exception.
The witness resumed—Mr. Hollahan was in the house, and he went with me and told all he knew, and we went to Maryland; those who went were Mr. McDevitt, Mr. Clarvoe, Mr. Bigley, Mr. Hollahan, myself, and others: we went first to Harold's house and asked Mrs. Harold where her son was? Her house is at the Navy Yard; before that we went to the stable and I met a man named Fletcher, and I asked him to give a description of the party who hired a borse from him; from the Harold house, we went down into Maryland, into Piscataway, and returned in the evening, and searched the Pennsylvanis House for Atserott, Hollahan, Clarvoe, McDevitt, and myself went to Baltimore to search for Atserott on Friday, April 16, and stayed there until Monday morning and returned here arrivers at 5 o'clork. more to search for Atserott on Friday, April 16, and stayed there until Monday morning and returned here, arriving at 6 o'clock A. M.; at 3 o'clock on Mcnday afternoon we decided to go to Canada in pursuit of John Surratt; at 3 o'clock Bigley, McDevitt, Hollohan, Clarvoe, Kneece, and myself left for Canada; we reached Philadelphia at 11 o'clock that night; Clarvoe left us at Philadelphia and there arrested a man named Celestino, and returned to Washington; the rest of us reached New York on the morning of April 19th; we got breakfrst at a hotel, and at 6 A. M. took the cars on the Hudson River road for Canada; we reached Burlington. Vt., on the evening of April 19th; we registered false names at the American Hotel in Burlington, and left on the morning of the 20th; my false name was Thompson; Bigley assumed the name of Porter; I don't remember McDevitt's or Hollahan's assumed names.
