THE SÆNGERFEST.

The Grand Concert Last Evening-The Prize Concert of This Evening, Etc. After the rehearsal yesterday morning at the Academy of Music, the members of the various societies amused themselves in every conceivable way. The German establishments in the different sections of the city were scenes of great activity and hearty enjoyment, the members of the visiting societies entertaining themselves and their friends with specimens of their singing. A number of excursions to the suberbs were also organized, Engel & Wolfe's Farm, Fairmount Park, the west bank of the Farm, Fairmount Park, the west bank of the Schuylkill, and other points being fairly overrun with visitors. At Sillberberg, on Coates street, near Fairmount, several thousand people were gethered singing choruses at these street, near Fairmount, several thousand peo-ple were gathered, singing choruses at times during the day, and wienessing a fine display of fireworks in the evening.

The grand concert came off last evening at the Academy, according to the programme as already published, and was pronounced a suc-cess by all who succeeded in their efforts to listen to it. Not every one that made the attempt, however, had such good for une, for seldom has the spacious Academy been so densely packed as it then was. Every seat was occupied, and not a square inch of available standing room

The performance opened with Weber's glorious "Oberon" overture, the execution of which, we must confess, somewhat disappointed Bix or eight first violins and four basses re quire no seven trombones, as was the case last night. The brass instruments were entirely too predominating, or rather there was a sad want of string instruments. A festival like the pre-sent one should have been assisted by an orchestra of at least twelve first violins, twelve orchestra of at least twelve first violins, twelve second, eight violas, and ten cellos and basses, with the usual number of wind instruments, We should also have preferred the musicians placed on the stage. The effect would have been greatly strengthened. As it was, the introduction greatly strengthened. As it was, the introduction of the overture (with the exception of the sad mistake of the violoncello) was, perhaps, its best played part. The "Allegro" wanted spirit and shading. The united New York singers next sang a hymn, "To Hertha," under the directorship of their "Bundisdirector." Mr. Paur. The gentlemen were most warmly greeted by the audience, and gave a fair interpretation of a most uninteresting composition. The grand Chorus, by Tschirch, "The Har-pretation of a most uninteresting composition. The grand Chorus, by Tschirch, "The Harmony," by all the singers, followed. The work is decidedly Mendelssohnian in its construction, reminding the listener forcibly of that great master's "Festgesang un die Kuenstler." Although well sung, it did not produce by far that effect we had anticipated. The chorus sounded weak to the extreme, considering it was composed of one thousand voices. The cavatina, for tenor solo, is doubtless the best part of the composition, and was exceedingly well sung by Mr. Graf, so well, indeed, as to elicit a most hearty emoors, The first part then closed with the 24th Pseim, The first part then closed with the 24th Psaim, set to music by Otto, and performed by the united singers of Baltimore. This we consider was the gem of the evening, and had it not been for its length, would have met with an encore. The andante movement was a fine specimen of the vertical and the second of the control of piano singing by a large chorus. Mr. Lenschow directed this morecau. The second part opened with a selection from the Huguenots, and though well construed, and well performed by the orchestra, was entirely out of place in a concert of this kind. The general chorus, by Krebs, is a decidedly imposing composition, but lacked spirit in its execution. Our Philadelphia singers next acquitted themselves most bendsomely in a chorus by Art. selves most handsomely in a chorus by Abt, under the leadership of the "Fest Director," Mr. Engelke, and the concert concluded with Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus," from the Messiah, but which, owing to its want of sopranos and altos, was not as effective as might have been desired. Altosether, was do not think the been desired. Altogether, we do not think the choice of the general choruses has been a very happy one.

Horticultural Hall was, during the evening, Horticultural Hall was, during the evening, the scene of a lively entertainment, in the way of a promenade concert. An efficient band was present, and during the evening a number of fine choruses were rendered by members of the singing societies. This evening the Horticultural Hall will again be open, for an entertainment similar to that of last evening.

At 10 o'clock this morning a meeting was held at the National Guards' Hall, to determine the place of helding the next general val and of the Honorary Committee have contributed a number of prizes, which will be duly awarded. The judges of the musical contest are Messars. Carl Gaertner, William Fischer, William Kuenzel, W. Hartman, and C. Heinemann. The Philadelphia Societies, as already stated, do not enter the competition for the prizes, being content with their position as hosts of the multi-tude of visitors from abroad. Fifteen different societies will compete for the honors of the occasion, their names, with the pieces which they are to sing, being as follows, arranged in the order in which they will appear this evening:-

Students' Night Song. A. Fischer Sung by the "Quartette Club," N. Y. Dir.: Langest

Dir.: T. Tillmann. 15. Light, More Light! (The last words of Gotthe.) F. Liezt

Sung by the "Quartette Club," Hoboken. Dir.: Wil-liam Tracer.

Sung by the "Sengeriust," N. Y. Dir.: Geiger.

In order that the exercises may not be impeded, it is announced that no encores will be permitted under any circumstances. If such a regulation were not adopted and enforced, it is probable that the concert would last till sunrise. The prizes will be presented to the successful societies to morrow morning, and carried in the procession to Washington Retreat, the programme of which we have already published.

report is said to have been sufficient cause to incite an assault by the Moyamensing members. Yesterday evening, a number of its members coming down to the Hope Engine quarters, in Sixth, above Fitzwater street, assaulted its ditaches, and broke themose of Mr. Phillips, a member. They attempted to force an entrance into the house by rushing in a body at the door, crying out, "We will take out the sewing machine," They would have succeeded had it not been for the presence and efforts of the Second District Police.

Fearing a renewal of the assault, a sommunication was sent to Lieutenant Hampton for a posse of men to guard the piace. This was done. About 1:30 this morning a body of men, in whom could be seen the previous assailants, numbering in all over two hundred, attacked the house of the Hope Fire Company.

The attacking party was divided into two bodies, and respectively led by the noted city official, Alderman William McMullen, and Councilman Barnes, from the Fourth Ward. The assaults were successfully repelled by the members.

The assaults were successfully repelled by the members attacked. Firearms were freely used. Stones, clubs, boulders, and like articles, were extemporized into weapons of war. Many were more or less injured by being struck with flying brickbats, or cadgellings, or by being shot.

All the men in Lieutenant Hampton's Police District were called into requisition, and Sergeant Broomali and seventeen men of the Third (Lieutenant Goldey's) District also aided in dispersing the rioters, which was soon effected by a systematic laying on of locust clubs. Two arrests wer; made, John McGahen being one. Alderman Tittermary committed officer Hammond was shot in the leg below the knee, and Officer Thompson was severely wounded in the forearm by being struck with a brick. A Mr. Smith was severely injured by being in the midst of the melos and receiving a full share of the blows. A full investigation into this disgraceful affair will at once be initiated by the authorities, when all those who were engaged in the ruffianly transaction will surely have justice meted out to them.

A NEW PHASE OF PHILADELPHIA HOSPITALITY. -For the reception of the nation's chief, the —For the reception of the nation's chief, the wisdom and saplence of our city municipality prepared nought. To publicly demonstrate the glories of "anniversary" day, with all that display resulting from immemorial practice, our wise legislators said "nay!" and against it the coffers of the city treasury were hermetrically sealed. But Philadelphia practically illustrates a new phase of hospitality, and seems to pertinaciously persist in wooing a most unwelcome visitor. She stretches out her arm to welcome visitor. She stretches out her arm to welcome an arrival that is dreaded by every human being, and which, by some strange infatuation is allowed to approach nearer with every suc-ceeding hour. A short time will clapse, no doubt, when from the reeking odors arising from some of our city localities, the "cholera" shall lift its hydra-head to destruction in our

Who can deny that the community stands in imminent danger at the present time? The boasted adage that Philadelphia is the neatest of American cities has gradually sunk into oblivion, where it will remain until our Coun-cilmen shall be resurrected from their listless slumbers. In the southern part of the city it would seem as if some of the inhabitants revelled in filtb. The gutters are overflowing revelled in fith. The gutters are overflowing with stagnant waters, fast breeding malarias. The streets are, of a truth, virtuous of cleanliness, while from early morning till dusk, boxes and pans and barrels of corruption stand enshrined in putrescent fumes upon the walks and curostones. Speak to the inhabitants of their uncleanliness, and they launch anathemas at delinquent "Street Commissioners," while the unlucky pates of the Board of Health and our municipal authorities are targets whereat denunciations are the Board of Health and our municipal authorities are targets whereat denunciations are hurled voluminously. They want to be stirred up by the chilly fingers of that "grim destroyer," and have a dreadful plague thin their midst, in order to learn of the danger to which they are exposed. The season has now come when "cholera morbus" stands have become popular institutions—especially to the youth— places where for the meagre sum of one cent the cholera morbus can be purchased, with all its attendant evils. Apples, knotty and half ripe, pears of the solidity of rocks, and other sour fruit dealt out at retail by superannuated men and aldermanic looking women, are doing well their part in forwarding the great choice's movement. In fact, everything is working har-moniously for the speedy advent of that dreaded

A SORROWFUL CASE-EFFECTS OF "VITRIOI THROWING." — About two months ago, as our readers will remember, a case of "vitriol our readers will remember, a case of "vitriol throwing" occurred in the neighborhood of Ninth and Coates streets. The sufferer by this outrage was a young girl of sixteen years, by the name of Kate Gamble, who resides with her parents, on Ninth street, above Coates, and is of a respectable and comfortably situated family. She had been sent to a neighboring shop on an errand, and just as she was entering the yard gate on her return, about 9 o'clock in the evening, an unknown man accosted her by name ing, an unknown man accosted her by name and threw in her face a quantity of vitriol. The result was a sad disfigurement of her countenance, which misfortune has so wrought upon her mind since, that she has entirely lost her reason, and is now a raving maniac. Her friends endeavor to confine her to the house, but every now and then she escapes from custody and wanders all over the city, without proper clothing. A few days since, she was found as far down town as South street, bareheaded and barefooted. She is continually lamenting her misfortune, and talking about replacing her disfigured face with another and a better one. The wretch who perpetrated this outrage has not yet been detected, but it is to be hoped that proper punishment meted out to him.

AN UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT AT BURGLARY .-About dusk last evening the Spring Garden Hose Company moved down Seventeenth street to join the firemen's parade in honor of their Connecticut visitors, and, as usual, following in its wake, came a crowd of hangers on common to such occurrences. When at Seventeenth and Wallace streets two young men named Michael Condy and George Ellis, alias Peter Wilson, left the mass and entered the yard of the dwelling of Mr. Childs, on the northwest corner of these streets, by means of an open back gate. The inmates being all out, these persons commenced their burglarious transactions by prying open the windows. A bricklayer then repairing a chimney directly above them, had a perfect of chimney creetly above them, had a perfect coup de'auil of their operations, and descending, crossed over the way and called upon one Mr. Brooks to aid him in their capture, and before the men bad successfully opened the barriers to their ingress they were nabbed and handed over to a police officer of the Ninth District. Alderman Beitler will hear the case this after-noon, at the Central Station.

ANOTHER ATTEMPTED OUTRAGE ON LITTLE GIRLS.—Yesterday two little girls, aged ten and twelve years respectively, entered a new building on Warnock street, below Columbia avenue, for the purpose of procuring some shavings. While so engaged a man by the name of Fleming came upon them, and commenced to take improper liberties with their persons. The children fled, and informed their parents of what had occurred, when a warrant was procured from Alderman Fitch, and was procured from Alderman Fitch, and Fleming was arrested and taken before that magistrate, by whom he was held in $800 bail for a further hearing on Thursday next. Fleming excused his conduct by disclaiming all evil purposes, maintaining that he merely desired to play with the children. Alderman Fitch informed him that his playful tendencies had carried him entirely too far, and administered a severe rebuke to the culprit. Such outrages as this are of too frequent occurrence, and it is quite time that an example was made of some one who is addleted to them.

F., comes off to-morrow (Wednesday). The last boat leaves Market street wharf at 6 o'clock A. M., precisely. The excursionists will arrive at the Capes about 10 o'clock, and can proceed at once to take a dip in old ocean. Dancing on the lawn will commence at 11 o'clock, and cease for an hour in order to allow the guests to dine. The delights of the day will be continued until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when the excursionists will return to the city. when the excursionists will return to the city, "doing" part of the trip by moonlight. This excursion is the only one arranged for this season that allows the patrons seven hours pleasure at the seaside. See advertisement

BEFORE UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER SAR-

Before United States Commissioner SanGrant.—John S. Hostetter and John Feinstermacher were charged with alding and abetting in removing distilled spirits to a place other than a bonded warehouse.

James B. Henderson sworn—I am a Revenue Inspector; Mr. Hostetter resides in Middletown, Pa.; know he is a distiller in Lancaster county, near Neifsville; on the 19th of September be shipped one pipe of whisky to A. D. Acheson, Philadelphia; the tax was paid on that; on September 24th, Samuel Hostetter shipped one pipe to Acheson; the tax was not paid on that; there is no account of it on the book of that district (Ninth); it (the pipe) would contain about four barrels; it was shipped by the Reading and Columbia Railroad; it was reported to me that there had been whisky shipped in the name of John K. Barr, in A. A. Cassel's car, from Landsville, Pa., leaded at Saliniga, and manifested as general merchandise at Landisville.

Cross-examined—I could not say whether it was Hostetter's whisky or not; it was manifested in the name of Barr; the only memorandum I have on which tax was not paid was that in the name of Samuel Hustetter; I can't tell when it was manwactured;
there was not account of Samuel Hostetter, Abishem Heistandt sworn—I reside at Lancaster;
am general inspector and gauger: I know Hostetter,
I was present when he had a conversation with Mr.
Wiley, in which he said he had shipped three barreis of whisky to C. Boucher, of Columbia, at night; he said it was old whisky: it was taken away about 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning.

Cross-examined—That was some time in June; he said it was old whisky; it was taken away about 2 or so o'clock in the morning.

Cross-examined—That was some time in June; he said it reached Criumbia before six o'clock in the morning; he said the person who handed it was going with him to Philadelphia; Boucher's place is in a business part of Columbia; he said he had sold it to Mr. Levi Ellmaker; that gentleman is a relation of the Marsha; he said he sent it to Mr. Ellmaker on an old account. The case was continued for a further hearing.

HEARING BEFORE UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER PHILLIPS.—This morning Barney Mulien was before Commissioner Phillips, charged with in-terfering with the revenue officers in the dis-charge of their duty.

charge of their duty.

Revenue Inspector Donnelly testified that on the sith of July, in company with Officers Ghegan and Groves, he visited defendant's place, No. 124 Elistworth attest, and found a still, which had been in operation the night previous; the mash was all set so as to proceed the night we visited the place; we went to the back part of the house; the still is in a little shed in the yard; looked through the crack in the fence and saw a man carrying off the head of the still; the same person had looked the door previously that communicates with the still from the house; I am confident the man was Barney Mullen; we entered the place, and found that the mash was kept under the cellar floor; holes had been dug in the ground, and hogsheads had been placed in them filled with mash, and the floor boards placed carefully over them, completely covering them; we broke up the still and carried the fragments to the bonded warehouse.

George Groves tratified that he was looking through the crack of the feuce, and thought a man named John Munce was the one who locked the door and carried off the head of the still.

John Ghegan testified that he didn't know who it was, as he went around to the front of the house.

Mullen was held for trial.

Munce wanted to enter security for him.

Groves informed the Commissioner that he was the individual whom he saw carrying off the still head.

The Cemmissioner—I will Issue a warrant for him, then.

The same acrs were testified to as above, and he was held for How THE BREE WILL FLOW To-DAY, and all the succeeding days throughout this great singing festival, is already a matter of much discussion. That all our Teutonic citizens will drink heavily of that cooling beverage in honor of their visitors, it is but right to suppose. From what can be learned, our city brewers have, by some means, almost trebled their stock; while it is a well-known fact that during Saturday, Sunday, and Monday evenings the beer-carts moved incessantly. A question of harmony is Sunday, and Monday evenings the beer-carts moved incessantly. A question of harmony is no doubt important, especially where a host of Teutons drink in a style commemorative of that customary in the "Fatherland," with its accompaniments of bassos profunds and hiccoughing tenors. One thing, however, is certain, that with the progressive flow of beer, harmony of spirit invariably prevails, and that brotherly kindness brought en by a call for "zwei" more, tends to bind our Teutonic friends more closely together.

To-night a rich banquet will be served up by our firemen, in honor of their visiting friends, at the Mechanics' Hall.

Magnolia Cottage, on Pennsylvania avenue Atlantic City, has become very popular this season, through the instrumentality of Mrs. season, through the instrumentality of Mrs. Cook, the proprietress. Its location is superior to any private boarding-house at this popular watering resort, and the table excels in the quantity and quality of food, prepared by the celebrated cook who superintended the dinner given to the Ledger employes on the 4th of July. We take pleasure in calling the attention of our friends to this house, which is, perhaps, better known as the "McNeely Cottage."

STEALING MONEY .- Philip O'Neil, a young man, optained $138 from a Mr. Freel, residing at the corner of Eleventh and Fitzwater, to pay bill then due. Instead of doing this, he wen to Walnut street wharf, purchased a ticket, and to all intents and purposes was about to decamp when he was seized. A greater portion of the money was found up his shirt sleeve. Alder-man Beitler committed him.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS.

Senate.

Washington, July 16.—The proceedings of the Senate to-day were entirely devoid of interest, and that body adjourned after a session of about an nour. House of Representatives.

Mr. Selye offered a resolution declaring that, in the opinion of Congress, no further issue of the bonds of the United States ought to be made for any purpose not aiready provided for, except on the distinct confilion that they shall be subject to taxation for State, county, and municipal expenses in the same manner and to the same extent as other property is now or may hereafter be assessed. Referred to the Coffmittee on Ways and Means.

On motion of Mr. Stevens (Pa.), two bills prepared by him in reference to reconstruction, and to enable the inhabitants of the Southern territories to form State Governments, were ordered to be printed and referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

ordered to be printed and referred to the Committee on Reconstruction,
On a like motion, a bill to establish a system of Common Schools in the District of Columbia was referred to a select committee of five.

Mr. Eldridge (Wis.) made a point of order in reference to a motion to suspend the rules, that when at the close of the last session, the; House resolved that motions to suspend the rules might be made any day during the remainder of the session, it was not intended to apply to this session.

The Speaker overrused the point of order, and suggested that the House could rescind the resolution if it thought proper, but until rescinded he was bound to enforce it.

Mr. Schenck (Ohio) moved to suspend the rules in order that he might have considered at this time the resolution offered by him yesterday, calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for information concerning the Metropolitan Board of Internal Revenue in New York.

The rules were suspended and the resolution was The rules were suspended and the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Robinson (N. Y.) moved to suspend the rules that he might offer the resolution suggested by him yesterday, for the appointment of a select committee to examine into the working of the detective system of the Internal Revenue Department. He expressed the desire that he should not be appointed chairman of the Committee, according to parliamentary custom, declaring that he was only actuated by a desire to prevent frands in the Revenue Department.

The House refused to suspend the rules. Ayes 25, and nose not counted, and so the resolution was not received.

Mr. Washburn (Wisconsin) asked leave to introduce a joint resolution declaring Rock Island Bridge

Mr. Washburn (Wisconsin) asked leave to introduce a joint resolution declaring Rock Island Bridge to be the bridge to the city of Rock Island, and made an explanation of his object. He said it was only explanatory of the law, and for the purpose of removing all ambiguity about it. The railroad company had no objection to it, and it was necessary that the work might go on.

Mr. Stevens (Pa.) thought that all this Rock Island bridge matter was a difficult and delicate question, and he would prefer not taking the proposed action until the House could hear from the secretary of War about it.

Mr. Alison objected to the introduction of the joist resolution.

Mr. Washburn (Wis.) moved to suspend the rules.

Mr. Alison objected to the introduction of the joist resolution.

Mr. Washburn (Wis.) moved to suspend the rules.

Mr. Washburn (Wis.) moved to suspend the rules.

The House refused to suspend the rules—yeas. 50; nays. 44—two-thirds not voting in the affirmative.

Mr. Benton introduced a bill to remove the term of the Circuit Court from Exeter to Concord, N. H. Referred to the Judiclary Committee.

Mr. Van Wyck, for the first time this adjourned session, was in his seat in the House.

Mr. Ridridge (Wis.) moved that when the House adjourn to-day, it adjourn to meet on Thursday.

The Speaker informed the House, in connection with the motion, that it is understood the President did not expect to be able to communicate to the House on the subject of the Reconstruction act until Thursday. The motion to adjourn over until Thursday. The motion to adjourn over until Thursday as lost—43 yeas, 60 mays.

Mr. Driggs offered a preamble and resolution reciting that the Washington Monument Association has been in existence twenty years without having a square column on the public grounds; that large sums of money have been collected, and that the collections are still continued in the Patent Office and other buildings; and directing the Secretary of the Interior to inform the House what became of the money collected for that purpose in the Patent Office as to the present condition of the Association, &c. Adopted.

Mr. Holman (Ind.) asked leave to offer a resolution Adopted.

Mr. Holman (Ind.) asked leave to offer a resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to inquire whether any farther legislation is necessary to define and limit the jurisdiction of the Court of Cialms, Mr. Woodbridge (Vt.) objected.
The House then, at 1 o'clock, adjourned till to-

FROM CAPE ISLAND.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE EVENING TELEGRAPS.] CAPE ISLAND, July 16.—The Stockholders and Board of Directors of the Diamond Beach Park Association held a meeting at the United States Hotel last night, the President, Francis Mclivain, Esq. in the chair. It was determined to open the Park to the public on the 24th inst. Several horses have already been entered to trot on the opening day, and an exciting time is anticipated. The second day a pacing match is anticipated. The second day a pacing match will take place between two well-known road-sters belonging to gentlemen of Philadelphia. This will be followed by a series of races about the 24th of August, at which heavy premiums will be offered to those entering the lists.

There were over two hundred arrivals yesterday. The thermometer this morning ranges at 70. A grand hop came off at the Columbia House last night. There were about four hundred persons present.

NEWS FROM NEW ORLEANS.

Probable Failure of the Cotton Crop-The Fillbuster Movement-Reported Suspension of a Private Banking House. New Orleans, July 15.—Considerable com-plaint comes from the rural districts to the effect that the recent heavy rains in the Southwest bave materially interfered with the prospects of the cotton crop this season, the rain having caused a growth of grass so rapid as in many cases to smother the cotton and render the dewhere it was planted quite late. The army worm has also made its appearance in the upper parishes, sweeping everything in its track, so that the present indications are that the crop will be a partial, if not a total, failure.

Late advices of a private nature from Texas assure me that, owing to the occasion made by the execution of Maximilian, a reorganization of the Order of the Knights of the Golden Circle has taken place, under the title of the "Order of Maximilian," and reliable information is in cle has taken place, under the title of the "Order of Maximilian," and reliable information is in possession of parties here as to the numbers and extent of the organization, which is stated to exceed ordinary supposable limits. Certain it is, that there are not it is than thirty thousand armed men in Texas a, we who are sworn to avenge the death of the Austrian Prince, and will, unless the military authorities are extremely vigilant, make their way into Mexico, to conquer, starve, or get hanged.

In this city a small organization has been effected, but alone it is not of sufficient numbers to effect anything. General Sheridan expresses the utmost confidence in the vigilance and activity of General Reynolds to prevent invasion in any numbers. The whole Mexican scheme to avenge Maximilian is in fact a concoction of ex-Confederates and fillbusters. Neither the officers nor soldiers of the United States army manifest any sympathy with the movement, and nearly without exception both justify Juarez in the execution of the ex-Emperor. The private banking house of Judson & Co. has to-day, it is stated, suspended payment, though with sufficient assets to cover at least ninety per cent. of all liabilities. City scrip is at twenty per cent. discount, and sinking.

FORGERY IN BROOKLYN.

FORGERY IN BROOKLYN.

Thirteen Thousand Dollars the Amount
-The Alleged Perpetrator Arrested.

On Saturday last a young man of genteel appearance and business manner called at the Long Island Bank, in Fulton street, and stated that he wished to make a deposit of about $15,000, and at the same time producing two checks purporting to be drawn by L. B. Hilton, One was for $6000 and the other for $5500. One was for $8000 and the other for $5500, and both were made payable at the Nassau National Bank, of Brooklyn.

As the checks had the appearance of being genuine, the cashier took them on deposit. A few heurs afterwards the young man appeared at the bank again, and drew $150 on account. The checks were subsequently sent to the Nassau Bank, where they were pronounced as worthless. The police were informed of the fact, and kept watch for the alleged forger. Yesterday he called at the bank, and stated that he wished to draw out the amount that he had deposited as he had entered into a business. deposited, as he had entered into a business transaction, and was desirous of using the money immediately.

Detective Denton, who was close at hand, took the accused into custody. He proved to be Lorenzo B. Shepard, son of a former District Attorney of the United States Court for the Southern District of New York, and it is said was left in comfortable circumstances by his father. After his arrest he stated that he had visited a gambling saloon in Ann street, New York, where he had been fleeced out of the sum of $46; and being without money, he resorted to this means to supply himself with funds. The accused was locked up to await examination.—

"E. H. SANBORN, U. S. COUSUL"

FROM WASHINGTON THIS P. M.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO EVENING TELEC'RAPH.] WASHINGTON, July 16.

The Cabinet Meeting To-day. The regular Cabinet meeting was held to-day to consider the Reconstruction veto message, but it will not be ready for Congress before to-morrow, and perhaps not until Thursday. The aclay causes much regret among Congressmen.

New Trial Denied. Judge Cartter, in the new term of the Criminal Court to-day, denied, for the fourth time, a mo-tion for a new trial for Sanford Conover, convicted of perjury.

Good News if True.

Important negotiations are in progress between our Government and England, looking to the settlement of the Alabama claims upon the basis of the purchase, by the United States, of the British possessions bordering on the Pacific Ocean, and intervening between the former territory and "Wairussia," but it is not believed that anything will result from them.

Sewing Machines. The application of Elias Howe, Jr., for an extension of his sewing machine patent, has brought here a number of sewing-machine men to opp-se the extension. The property interest involved is immense.

The Message.

The President told Speaker Colfax, this morning, that the veto would be sent in on Thursday. Ex-Attorney-General Black will give advice upon legal points of the veto, but it will be drawn up by Attorney-General Stanbery, who does not disguise his repugnance to being overslaughed in the preparation of Government legal continuous. Proceedings of Congress.

A resolution offered by Mr. Schenck, of Onlo, for information respecting the establishment of a Metropolitan Revenue Board in the city of New York has passed the House. Another by Mr. Robinson, of New York, calling for an investigation as to seizures, of whisky and to was lost.

The House has adjourned until to-morrow noon, to avoid entering upon the impeachment question, which some members were prepared to bring up this afternoon.

A Denial.

The story about the negotiation of a treaty for the acquisition of the British possessions bordering on the Pacific, as an offset to the Alabama ciaims, is put forward as a feeler by this Government. There is no probability that Great Britain will entertain any such proposi-tion, as that Government is jealous of relin-quishing territory on this continent.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] WASHINGTON, July 16.—It is reported in Congressional circles that the President's Veto Message on the Supplemental Reconstruction bill will not be transmitted to the House tilf

Thursday.

Nothing will be done with the several contested election cases till next session. Additional pages of the testimony are being printed. Owing to the departure for their homes of members of the House, scarcely a quorum of members are present.

THE TRIAL OF JOHN H. SURRATT.

Washington, July 16—The trial of John H. Surratt was resumed this morning.

Mr. Frederick O. Chamberlain was recalled and examined by Mr. Bradley—Witness said, I took possession of the Webster House in 1865, on the 2021 and the register was in daily use there until December 31, 1865; the first train from Albany arrived at Canandaigua about 10 30 o'clock A. Mr. the train that leaves Albany in the morning gets to Canandaigua at 10 30 A. Mr. another train strives at 4 50° do not know what time that train leaves Albany; the trains from Albany arrive at Canandaigua at 10 30 A. Mr. 450 P. Mr., and 10 30 P. Mr. do not know at what times the trains leave Albany. Cross-xamined by Mr. Pierrepont—I have his register of the Webster House for 1866 and 1867, here: (Register exhibited.) Mr. Pierrepont said he now proposed to show that when Mr. Bradley want to Canandaigua, last Spring, he committed an error in registering his own name; he offered this to show how easy it was to make an error of this kind, and to show that the register should not be offered in evidence.

Mr. Bradley could not see what bearing the offer had upon the case.

Mr. Merrick said the question was one for the jury. WASHINGTON, July 16 - The trial of John H. Sur-

Mr. Bradley could not see that had upon the case.

Mr. Merrick said the question was one for the jury, and Mr. Pierrepont's offer to introduce this register indicated that the register excepted to yesterday abould be offered in evidence.

Judge Fisher said the register was not admissible at the present time. Arrival of the Cuba: Boston, July 16.—The steamship Cuba, from Liverpool via Halifax, is signalled below, and will arrive up about 3 P. M.

ANOTHER BOND ROBBERY .- About 1 o'clock to-day three men entered the banking and broker establishment of Mr. Frederick Steeb, on Third street, three doors below Market. One of them entered into a conversation with the clerk regarding German exchange, and he went to the deak to make a calculation

Another one went around behind the counter, passed through a door, came through another back of the elerk's desk, and, reaching over, took a large bundle of bonds, including $520 of compound-interest notes. The other who remained behind the one get-ting information about the exchange walked out quietly, as did the others. The clerk, on looking around, noticed the bonds were missing and saw one of the men have a bundle in his hands. As soon as they gained the street they made off, and nothing has yet been seen of

One of them had on light clothing, another had dark clothing, with a light high nat. He is a tall man, with a smooth face, and is very good-looking. The other was a young man, with a light moustache. He had on light clothing and a summer hat.

The following is a list of the dates of the Seven-thirty bonds taken:-100 160 753. 14,60 August, 1864. October, 1864 A reward of $200 is offered for the recovery of HEARING AT THE CENTRAL STATION .- The two burglars named Michael Conly and George Ellison, a report of whose felonious transaction is recorded elsewhere, were heard before Alder-man Beitler this P. M., at the Central Station, and committed to answer at Court.
